IN FAVOR OF FUSION

The Supreme Court of Nebraska So Declares

Lincoln, Ne., July 24.—The supreme court today granted the writ of mandamus asked for by T. S. Allen on behalf of J. L. Sundean, fusion candidate for state regent, to compel the secretary of state to place Sundean's name on the primary ballot under the two separate party designations.

The decision of the court is a victory for the fusionists, and a rebuke to Attorney General Tompson who decided offhand against the contention of the fusionists.

The decision means that fusion will be permitted in the state-wide primary and that fusion candidates' names may appear on the ballot under both party designations.

The Bird Had Flown

The case of assault and battery at Cedar Creek, which was complained of before the county attorney a few days ago, and on which complaint a warrant for the arrest of Herman Vogt, was issued, seems to have spread out in thin air. The bird had flown when the sheriff made his appearance at his former abiding place. The neighbors describe it as a friendly fight, but it seems as though the one who gets the worst of the matter has another recourse.

It is not fair to pull hair, not unless you are doing the pulling; so while it is all right to fight, it is not all right to get licked. If you can lick the other fellow all right, but it is different when the shoe pinches your foot.

Yesterday afternoon D. K. Barr sold at the south door of the court house the eighty acre farm of the R. A. Chaplin estate which is the north half of the northeast quarter section 33, township 12, range 9. The same being $6,051.00, and was bought by James M. Dyer.

This sale was made in the settlement of debts and the settlement of the estate.

EARLY DAYS IN CASS COUNTY

Hardships Endured by Those Who Broke the Way for Others

(Communicated.)

None but those who went through the many hardships of pioneer days in Cass county, know what they had to undergo. I speak only of those with whom I became acquainted in the spring of 1859. Some of these men came to Nebraska from Wisconsin on their way to Colorado during Pike's Peak flurry. Most of them arrived here with ox teams and brought their outfits in Plattsmouth and going as far as Elm creek, about 150 miles west of the Missouri river, they met there a stampede and returned with them—most of them stranded financially, as they had spent almost all their means in buying an outfit. But some of them liking the country and the beautiful land, concluded to stay and take some of it for a home. They chose a quarter section each and filed on same at the land office of Nebraska City. The land chosen was near Louisville. Those who were fortunate enough to have a team commenced forthwith to break some of the land and plant the same in sod corn. They next prepared to build a house and came to Plattsmouth to buy some cottonwood lumber which was very plentiful here. They also gave a glowing account of the fine land to their friends in Wisconsin, and advised them to also come to Nebraska and get a quarter section of this fine land from the government. Their advice was heeded and there was quite a large emigration to Cass county. They also settled in the neighborhood of their friends near Louisville, and forthwith commenced to break prairie for the next year's crop.

After they had built their houses their money was gone but determined to prepare a home for their wives and children, they gathered what sod corn they had from their land and those who had left their families in the east, left for their homes and returned in the spring. Others hired out to John Holshuh to chop cord wood for him at the rate of fifty cents per cord in order to have some money to support their families and to buy seed wheat for the coming spring. I mention some of the prominent men who came here in 1859: Fred and Henry Lehnhof, Chas. Gaebel, Henry Beuma, Fred Bruno, Mr. Panka, Andrew Shoeman, Friedrich Stohler, Louis Elkoff, Theodore Boedeker, John Ferguson, John Erhard, (Patrick Blessington, first settler near Louisville) William and Hugh Schiefert, William and Fredrich Lau, Peter and Fred Stander, Henry Oehking, Chas. and William Pankonin, Geo. Shoeman, G. W. Berger, John Bauer and others I do not remember.

Most of these mentioned have left us for the unknown world and the few of us left will soon follow. All we ask of the children of these names mentioned who are in their graves, is to keep their graves green, for they deserve it for their hardships they had to endure for your sake.

CONRAD SCHLATER.

It may be possible that Judge Travis can be prevailed upon to run again although his friends in both Otoe and Cass counties, are eager for him to make the race for district judge. The Journal is for Judge Travis for anything but he has made such an excellent record as county judge that the people are loath to part with him. There is a bright young lawyer over at Avoca who is also mentioned throughout the county for county judge. His name is H. G. Wellenseick. He is a graduate from one of the leading law schools of the country.

There are several names mentioned for clerk of the district court, among whom are J. I. Corley of Weeping Water, and Christie Metzger of Cedar Creek, either of whom could fill the bill to the letter. Joe Corley is well known on the west side of the county as a most excellent man, while Christie is one of the finest young men in the country.

These so far, are all the names suggested but there are others who might like to run. If there are, we would like to hear from them.

Avoca (Special Correspondence)

T. H. Straub made a trip to Lincoln Saturday.

H. G. Wellenseick visited at Lorton Sunday.

Governor Sheldon will speak picnic day.

C. E. Tefft and family were down from Weeping Water Sunday.

A number of our base ball sports attended the ball game at Omaha Sunday. If you want to be with the crowd come to Avoca on August 6th.

A young daughter of W. I. Smoots was seriously ill the first of the week.

The Bennet merry-go-round has been secured for picnic day.

C. H. Taylor was over from Union Tuesday.

Schmidt & Nutzman had a carload of cattle on the Omaha market Wednesday.

E. G. Spencer and wife were north-bound passengers Tuesday.

John H. Schmidt was a Berlin visitor Sunday.

Making Good Progress.

The workmen on the Boeck building are making fine progress in the rebuilding of the walls which were torn down at the fire, and from the way the things are being pushed, it will be only a short time when the building will be as good as ever. It is not expected that they can have it ready for occupancy before the middle of September or the first of October. Even at that they will have done rapid work.

A FEW POSSIBLE CANDIDATES

The Names That Are Frequently Mentioned.

While the republicans are pushing to the front the names of many candidates for the various positions to be filled in Cass county to be voted upon at the general primary on the 3d of September, the Journal does not think it out of place to mention the names of a few democrats that have been favorably mentioned for the several positions to be filled this fall.

Of course there will be no opposition to the nomination of W. E. Rosencrans for he has made such an excellent record as county clerk that you can't insult his friends more than even mention opposition to him for the re-nomination. His friends in Cass county are simply legion.

Frank E. Schlater, than whom no better man exists, will undoubtedly be the democratic nominee for treasurer. He has served in the capacity of deputy in the office of Treasurer Wheeler during his term and it is well known to all who have had business with that office, that he is one of the most efficient men for the position in Cass county.

For county commissioner in the Third district, the name of Walter E. Pailing of Greenwood, has been frequently mentioned. He is a man that is eminently well fitted for the position and if he will consent to make the effort for the office the Journal believes he can be elected.

The name of Jacob Trietsch of this city, has been mentioned time and time again for assessor. Those who know Mr. Trietsch (and nearly every one in Cass county does know him) are satisfied that he is one of the most competent men in the county for the place. His past experience qualifies him abundantly.

For sheriff the name of W. C. Tippens, the present efficient councilman from the Second ward of Plattsmouth, is mentioned very often among his friends. He is a good man for the place, and his friends wherever known are more than legion.

There have been several lady school teachers mentioned for the office of county superintendent, but we have been requested not to mention their names just yet. In a county that can boast of nearly one hundred school ma'ams out of a small margin over a hundred, it seems that it would be no more than proper to install one of the best qualified in the office. We have a few of them whom no doubt there is one among them who will consent to make the race.

It may be possible that Judge Travis can be prevailed upon to run again although his friends in both Otoe and Cass counties, are eager for him to make the race for district judge. The Journal is for Judge Travis for anything but he has made such an excellent record as county judge that the people are loath to part with him. There is a bright young lawyer over at Avoca who is also mentioned throughout the county for county judge. His name is H. G. Wellenseick. Joe Corley is well known on the west side of the county as a most excellent man, while Christie is one of the finest young men in the country.

These so far, are all the names suggested but there are others who might like to run. If there are, we would like to hear from them.

Big Woodmen Meeting

Coates' hall was the scene of much merriment last night at which time the M. W. A. of Cass camp No. 332, with their jolly foresters put a few candidates through the beautiful and mysterious scenes of woodcraft. Ice cold lemonade, fruit and cigars were served. A very exciting and interesting trip through the forest between Neighbors Burrows and Bilstein and Carmack and Wilcox, much to the amusement and entertainment of the big number of Woodmen present. This camp has a membership of nearly 400, and initiating new members each meeting, a feature of which is the enthusiasm and splendid work of the team and their Chief Forester and Captain.
