Last Saturday evening about eleven o'clock, Miss Stella Opp walked off the stair landing on the outside, striking her head and rendering her unconscious. She remained in a state of unconsciousness for some time, but other than a badly bruised head she is all right at this writing. It is almost a miracle that her neck was not broken as she fell on her head.

His Dear Old Mother

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on electric Bitters," writes W. B. Burnson, of Dublin, Ga. They Got a License.

How nice to have a friend to stay with you, and when you have a difficult task to perform, to have that friend help you out. Well do we remember how we longed to have someone go with us through the dark woods when we were a little shaver and how eagerly we watched every shadow or clump of bushes, thinking something would spring out and catch us. Well, we thought of that this afternoon when three great big strong fellows went together to get a marriage license, and like "Muide Muller," blushed as they asked for it. When granted, it read, Daniel Ray McCleery, aged 27, and Miss Leona Alice Pollard, aged 25, and they will be married tomorrow at Nehawka.

A Fight on Pollard.

It is now leaked out that the selection of Will Hayward of Nebraska City as chairman of the republican state committee is virtually the opening of a warm fight on Congressman Pollard for re-nomination. Hayward, and the fellows he trains with in Otoe county, notably Paul Jensen, have a knife out for Pollard as long as your arm, and they think this campaign is the time to whet it and get it in action for next year. Their work is very smooth if they can only deliver the goods—and nominate Jensen in place of Pollard.—Lincoln Herald.

DEATH OF WILL

EDGERTON

He Passes Away in a Hospital at Guaymas, Mexico From Supposed Injuries.

A. J. Edgerton yesterday received a message from Guaymas, Mexico, stating that Will Edgerton, his brother, had died in a hospital at that place Saturday. The message which was short and did not state the cause of death, but it is supposed that it was due from some accident. Will was in the employ of the Simplex Foundation company, in whose interests he had gone to Mexico but a short time since. He was last here during July, going from Philadelphia, which is the home of the concern which he worked for.

William Henry Edgerton was born in this city forty years ago, and during the most of his life lived here. He was married and here lost his wife a number of years ago. He has one child, a daughter, Leona, about thirteen years of age, who lives with her grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Edgerton sr., who lived in the property of her son who was killed.

Some years since Will built a feed mill on Chicago avenue, and was unable to get grain hauled in here past Monday for less than four or five cents above the market price, and discontinued the running of it, accepting a position with the people for which he was working at the time of his death. Mr. Edgerton ran the air compressors at the time the bridge over the river was rebuilt a few years since. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge at this place, having just completed his degree a short time before going to Mexico. Besides his daughter, he leaves a mother, Mrs. Wm. Edgerton Sr., living here, a brother, A. J. Edgerton, and an uncle, Geo. Edgerton, also living here, with a brother, George Edgerton jr., living at Sherman, Texas, and another brother, Gilbert Edgerton, living in Wyoming. Mr. A. J. Edgerton has telegraphed for the remains to be forwarded to this place for burial, but it is not known how soon they will be here, as the distance is considerable.

BURLINGTON BUYS

MORE CARS

Gives Out Immense Order for New Rolling Stock.

A special from Davenport, Iowa, under date of October, 6, says: The contract of the Bettendorf Axle company of this city, to build 1,000 gondola cars for the Burlington road, is a portion of the largest single order for cars ever given by the Burlington road. It is for 6,000 freight cars, and the order is distributed among four large concerns. If the cars were stretched in one long line they would reach from Aurora to Menasha. More than 150 of the largest locomotives would be necessary to pull the cars when loaded. At the rate of 50 cars in a train, the order represents 120 trains.

The order strikingly emphasizes James J. Hill's statement that the railroads of the country are sadly lacking in equipment necessary to handle the volume of business available.

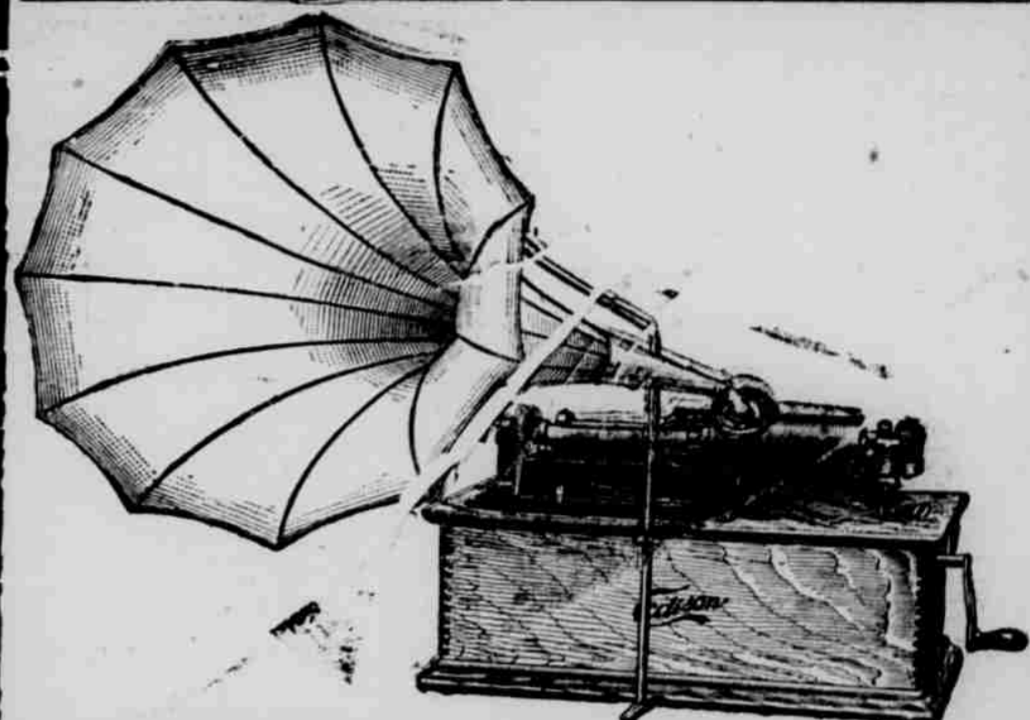

The contracts for the big order have been awarded to the following companies: Standard Car company, 2,000 gondola cars; Barney & Smith Car company, 1,000 cars; Bettendorf Axle company, 1,000 gondola cars; and the Pullman company, 2,000 box cars.

At the Methodist Church.

Last evening at the Methodist church, the membership gave a reception to the new minister, A. A. Randall and his wife. The crowd was large and made the first appearance of the new minister a very pleasant affair. Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Houlgate were there, and were the recipients of each a very nice rocking chair, as a token of the good feelings which the congregation entertained for them. They departed this afternoon for their new home at Nebraska City, with the best wishes of the congregation at this place for their success and welfare in their work at that place.
