

Fourteenth Anniversary.

It was a jolly crowd of people that gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Inhelder, of Cedar Creek, last Saturday evening, October 26, to celebrate their daughter's fourteenth anniversary, Miss Elsie. The old violin sang forth, accompanied by the piano, made the best music, and the evening was spent in social chat and dancing. At the hour of twelve a sumptuous supper was served, all returning home at a late hour wishing Miss Elsie many more such happy birthdays. Those present to enjoy the occasion were: Con Sears and family; Mayme and Adelia Heil; Olga Keil; Hellen Horn; Violet Baker; Clara Gabelman; Mary and Maggie Albert; Jessie Gilmore; Ruth Sayles; Anna, Emma and Louisa Gauer; Lulu Stoehr; Vera and Hellen Schneider; Josie Muddock; Marie Kaufmann; Cora Riggle; George Luce; Harry Medler; Walter Hesselntow; Ray Horn; Charlie and August Keil; Jim Hesselntow; Eddie and Willie Gabelman; Pete and Hans Schroeder; George and Harry Horn; Philip and Harry Albert; Henry Fornoff; Willie Meisinger; Henry Heil; Ed Kelly; Louie Kuzer; Emil and Louie Meisinger; Harry Meisinger; Walter Schneider; George Thieroff; Jean and Jerry Frey; Grover Debot; Jeff Salsbury. The music was furnished by Willie Volk, violinist, while Mrs. Emma Sears played the piano.

ONE WHO WAS THERE.

TO MANAGE LIGHTING PLANT

Change is to Take Effect the First of November.

We are reliably informed that Earl C. Westcott has obtained the controlling interest in the Nebraska Lighting Company, and that he has been chosen as the manager for the concern, his term of office to begin on the first of the next month. In conversation with Mr. Westcott this morning, he said that work on the extension of the line from Omaha was being pushed as rapidly as possible, and that he was anxious to get the line here and the service going as any in the city. He says that just as soon as it is possible to get the light installed and going the better it will suit him. It is a business proposition with him and he will not be doing any business which will be remunerative until he shall have gotten the system working.

Not Laying Off Men.

The Lincoln Journal in referring to the laying off of several thousand men by the Union Pacific railroad, has the following to say regarding the Burlington: "The Burlington has not begun to lay off men because of the financial stringency, so far as the reports from local headquarters show. Such an order may be received, bringing with it sweeping reductions, but it is not looked for. For several weeks the company has been reducing forces in its construction department, but that is the usual course at this time of the year. The company has been closing up work under way as rapidly as possible, and where work is closed and gotten out of the way the men employed on that work are either moved to some other job where it is necessary to increase the force to secure completion before winter time, or they are laid off. A number of gangs need in construction were laid off before the financial flurry came upon the west, and it is probable that during the weeks to come other gangs will be laid off as rapidly as work is completed.

"In other departments a force equal to handling the business offered is maintained, and should business drop off decidedly it would make less work for trainmen and men in other departments. In this way the force may be reduced eventually, but no such sweeping order for reductions as it is reported the Union Pacific has made is anticipated."

The Omaha Mayor Orders All Saloon Screens Removed

In conformance to the demands served on Mayor Dahlman, by Elmer E. Thomas, the saloons have been ordered to remove all screens in front of their doors. In so ordering, Mayor Dahlman takes the same view that the Journal did when the same thing occurred here several months ago. The Mayor says: "I cannot see what good this law can possibly subserve. Therefore I think the law is vicious. The government of this state and nation has legalized the saloon business, placing it upon the same basis commercially and legally as the grocery store or a dry goods store. It has imposed upon the men engaged in the liquor business heavy expense in the form of licenses, taxes and other exactions. Now, then, we come along and propose by this and other devices to take away from these men every opportunity of making a fair return on their money. If we want to out-law this business we should do so rather than legalize it and surround the men engaged in it by restrictions calculated to destroy their profits. But even if this law had a good moral effect, we might stand for its seeming injustice, but it has not. Broad-minded men have always taken the view that I have expressed, that it is bad to expose to the view of children the sight of men drinking at the bar."

DEATH OF MRS. OSBORN AT LINCOLN

A Sister of Mrs. C. H. Parmele and a Pioneer of Cass County.

The following account of the death of Mrs. Osborn, who passed away in Lincoln on Saturday last, is taken from the Sunday's issue of the Lincoln Journal: "Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Osborn, one of the pioneers of eastern Nebraska, passed away at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. O. Salsbury, 1919 G. street. She had been ill for about two months. Feeling that the end was approaching, she asked that her five sons be summoned. This was done, and all of the five came as speedily as possible, two from South Dakota and three from California. The last of the five arrived from Sacramento in time to see his mother alive for only about an hour. She had remained alive almost by the strength of her will in order to see her sons together again, and after this was accomplished passed quietly to rest. Her two sisters, Miss Sarah Baker and Mrs. C. H. Parmele, of Plattsmouth, were present, and also her brother, D. D. Baker, of Ottumwa, Ia., in spite of his eighty years. The funeral will be held at Ashland on Monday. Short services will be held at the home here at noon. Those who wish to take a last look at their friend may do between 2 and 4 o'clock this afternoon at 1619 G. street.

"Mrs. Osborn was 77 years of age. She came to Cass county, Nebraska, thirty-nine years ago. In 1879 her husband died at Ashland. She was a member of the Methodist church and of General Custer circle Ladies of the G. A. R."

As will be seen from the foregoing, the deceased was one of the pioneer citizens of Cass county, and a sister of Mrs. C. H. Parmele, and an aunt of C. C. and T. E. Parmele of this city. The funeral proper will occur at Ashland at 4 o'clock this (Monday) afternoon, and which was attended by all the Plattsmouth relatives. The services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Salsbury, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city, where interment was made. A large number of relatives attending the last sad rites, as well did the old residents near Ashland, who knew the deceased in early days of Cass county.

Hard Times in Kansas

The old days of grasshoppers and drought are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codell, Earl Shamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. A Bad Sign

J-23

Irregularity is bad in every department of life, in meals, in sleeping hours, but especially when it is a question of womanly habit. Not only is it a sign of female disease, but, unless cured, it will cause dangerous troubles, because of the poisons thus allowed to remain in the system.

If you suffer in this way, get a bottle of

Wine of Cardui

Mrs. Lucinda Johnson, of Fish Creek, Wis., writes: "I suffered for fourteen (14) years with irregularity, causing great pain. At last I tried Cardui, and now I am cured." At all druggists, in $1 bottles. Write today for a free copy of valuable 64-page illustrated book for women. If you need medical advice, describe your symptoms, stating age, and reply will be sent in plain sealed envelope. Address: Ladies Advisory Dept., The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THE LABOR PROBLEM SOLVED

The Stork Comes in for His Share of the Credit.

The question of maintaining sufficient and reliable help, to properly care for one's business and to provide for the increasing demands of a business which is prospering and growing with the increasing demands of the times, is a question which is concerning the minds of all the great business firms of our country. Not alone does the great corporations have to deal with the labor questions, but individuals as well, especially when they have a number of persons employed.

One of the men which has been in the employ of the Bauer Hardware Co., has seen fit to prefer to shuck corn to the staying in the store, and thinks seriously of farming the coming season, as his father, Mr. Herman Bester, has a good farm. And with the probable loss of Frank Bester as one of his force of help at the store, the question of supplying his place is one which has concerned John Bauer, jr. A good deal of time has been consumed in looking around for a suitable man for the place and he has not been able to supply it as he would desire.

These concerns with the other worries of business in detail keeps one thinking, and add a little to the weight of care and make life not all gaiety, but even with the multitude of cares which surrounds one, there occasionally comes a rift in the surroundings, which makes one smile and that, too, a smile that "will not wear off." One of these occasions came only last evening, when at the pleasant home of our friend, John Bauer, jr., came a long legged bird, with a not unpleasant voice, and rapped at their door, asking for Mr. and Mrs. Bauer, and presenting them with a nice little package, containing the sweetest little present, which on investigation, proved to be a little boy who evinced a desire to make his home with them and to learn the hardware business, and being willing to begin at the beginning, and master it in all its details. Well, now you would have shouted if you had seen the smile which broke out over the faces of those happy parents; why, it was wonderful, and John is still wearing that same smile yet. This morning the cigars were plentiful, as he wanted his friends to rejoice with him. Now the labor problem is solved.

Afflicted with Sore Eyes for 33 Years.

I have been afflicted with sore eyes for thirty-three years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. One of my neighbors insisted upon my trying Chamberlain's Salve and gave me half a box of it. To my surprise it healed my eyes and my sight came back to me.—P. E. Earls, Cynthia, Ky. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co., and Plattsmouth Drug Co.

Tragic Death of Child.

Amel, the little son of Walter A. Johnson and wife, who reside three miles southwest of town died at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon from being kicked by a horse Tuesday evening. Mr. Johnson had driven in from the field about 5 o'clock in the evening, and little Amel, less than three years of age, came out to meet him. The child playfully ran near a horse that had always been known to be gentle, and before the father could come to the rescue the animal kicked and struck the child on the abdomen. The child was immediately carried into the house, and at that time there was no indication of any serious injury, but Wednesday morning a physician was called and found the injuries much worse than they had appeared to be. The child suffered intense pain the last few hours until death came to his relief at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon.—Union Ledger.

Will Spend Winter in California.

Mrs. S. L. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Todd departed this afternoon for Sacramento, California, where they will remain for the winter, and visit with Lewis S. Thomas, Mrs. Thomas' son, who is cashier for the Midland Fruit Growers' association. This party also go to the west in hopes of receiving some beneficial effects for their health. The Journal will tell them the news weekly of what happens at home.

PREPARING FOR RIVER TRAFFIC

Up-River Towns Are Preparing to Make Use of the River in the Spring.

The Kansas City Star says that the up-river towns are talking boat line now and St. Joseph may have a line of its own in operation next year. Omaha is talking it, too, and the Commercial Club of that city has invited Lawrence M. Jones to come there next month and tell them how to do it. Sioux City also desires to get into the business, and a big meeting is being planned to stir up enthusiasm for the improvement of the river. Mr. Jones has been invited to make an address there. All the congressmen whose districts are along the upper river also have been invited to the meeting.

The success of the Kansas City line has stirred up the St. Joseph business men and a committee is coming to Kansas City Tuesday to investigate the workings of the Kansas City line, and L. M. Jones has been invited to speak at the meeting when the committee reports. The committee is headed by H. L. George and F. W. Maxwell, president and secretary of the Commercial Club of St. Joseph, both of whom were delegates to the Memphis convention. The other members of the convention are John D. Richardson, Harry M. Hundley, Louis Motter, John C. Letts, Huston Wyeth, Louis M. Smith, M. S. Davis, Minety Jones, all wealthy business men.

It is probable that the line will be organized by the wholesale dealers as a co-operative company. It was pointed out at the meeting at which the committee was appointed that if St. Joseph desires to have the river improved as far up as that city it is expedient to have a boat line in operation. It is believed also that a St. Joseph line would pick up a good local business between Kansas City, Leavenworth, Atchinson and St. Joseph.

The directors of the Kansas City Transportation and Steamship Company are to meet next week to consider the plans for the new boats. Changes ordered in the first designs have caused a further delay in completing the plans and Jerome Twichell, chairman of the committee, may not be able to exhibit the final plans and estimates.

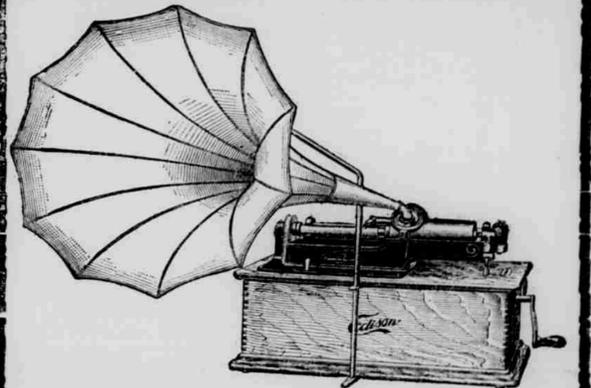

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years Without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by F. G. Fricke and Co., and Plattsmouth Drug company.

None Looks So Good as Nebraska.

Our old friend, Herman Dreese, dropped in on us last Saturday evening and visited over Sunday, and now is husking corn for the thrifty farmers west of the city. While away Herman has not been around the world, but over a good deal of it. Starting from Lincoln on the 6th of August, he went to South Dakota and worked in the harvest fields for two weeks, from thence he traversed to Minneapolis and after a short time departed for the Pacific coast stopping on the way at North Yakima and visiting for a day or so. While on the coast he visited at Tacoma, Portland and San Francisco, returning via Denver, and getting in here Saturday. Herman says that while he has seen a good deal of country, none looks quite as good as Nebraska.
