NO LOCAL CALL FOR LABORERS.

Neither Manufacturers Nor Officials Answer Circulars Sent Out.

Lincoln—Something of a curiosity from the sociological viewpoint is this recent flurry in the metropolitan papers about the new 'bureau of information' of the Department of Commerce and Labor," said Deputy Labor Commissioner Ryder. "Judging from some articles recently carried by the Associated Press, Nebraska and other states where laborers and domestic help are reported to be scarce are at once be supplied with all the help they need from among the aliens who are arriving at New York and other depots for immigrants.

"Some two months ago the Nebraska bureau of labor took up this matter with T. V. Powderly, head of the bureau of information, to ascertain just what his bureau contemplates doing. We received a bunch of blanks which were self-explanatory, and the idea looked so feasible that a circular was at once prepared and sent to every county clerk in Nebraska. A copy was sent to 500 editors of the state also, accompanied by a second letter addressed directly to the editors. These letters of the Nebraska bureau set out that information was wanted as to scarcity of labor, the kind of workers needed, business chances, etc., and we promised, if such information came to hand, to collate it and forward it to the bureau of information at Washington.

"Up to date no notice has been taken of the circular to editors, and but two county clerks have taken the trouble to write this department relative to the matter. We have had one call from a Lancaster county manufacturing firm, for Mr. Powderly's blanks. That firm wanted a bunch of workers, married and single, at good pay, and with cheap house rent as another inducement. I have not heard that the required workers have been secured as yet.

"These facts taken together, especially the lack of interest among county officials and editors, indicate to me that the shortage of labor is generally acute and not chronic. That is, there are certain times when there is a demand in specific sections for a certain kind of labor, as at harvest time and corn smelting time. Taken the year round, however, the shortage is more apparent than real.

Beatrice—With the aid of several bloodhounds, Sheriff Trule succeeded in recovering a number of articles that had been stolen from the farm of F. H. Wandersow, southeast of this city. The property consisted of several overcoats and whips which had been taken from carriages at different times. The dogs followed the scent to a farm where a number of men were at work shearing corn, and by a little questioning a man named Caci is said to have admitted taking the goods while intoxicated.

ARE YOU WRETCHED IN BAD WEATHER

Keeping the Kidneys Well Has Kept Many Plattsmouth People Well

Many Plattsmouth people find that bad weather brings on a dull pain in the back or rheumatic aching, neuralgia, nervousness, irritability and weakness. If, when you get wet or take cold, it "settles on the kidneys," and there is a shivery, chilly sensation in the back, it shows kidney weakness, which is often the beginning of disease. Doan's Kidney Pills should be used persistently until the chilly feeling is gone, and the flow of urine is natural. Doan's Kidney Pills have saved Plattsmouth people much suffering.

Mrs. M. E. Hartman, living at 780 Rock street, Plattsmouth, says: "My father was greatly benefited by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. For years he did not have good health. Pain in the back owing to kidney trouble caused him considerable suffering and particularly so when on his feet. Learning about Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box for him at Gering & Co.'s drug store. He used them as directed and the pain was relieved, his back and kidneys strengthened and there was noticeable improvement in his general health. It is needless to say that the results which he obtained gave him cause to value Doan's Kidney Pills very highly."

CUPID CUTS MORE CAPERS

Marriage of John R. Beeson of this City and Miss Pearl Huffer.

The cutest of the cute cannot always keep the secret which they wish, but for the successful eluding of the public's gaze and inquiries, John Beeson and his new bride have been very successful. Late last evening John slipped over to the court house after the papers had gone to press, to get the necessary papers which would allow him and his winsome bride to marry.

At the pleasant home of the parents of Miss Pearl Huffer last evening, were gathered only the immediate relatives of the families of the contracting parties, and proceeding into the parlor, which had been decorated with pink and white, the color scheme, and followed by the maid of honor, Miss Lillian Wheeler, came John R. Beeson bearing on his arm Miss Pearl Huffer, and pausing before a canopy of pink and white chrysanthemums, were united in marriage by the Rev. F. W. Brink, of the United Brethren' church, south of the city.

After the congratulations and good wishes had been offered, and the many presents, tokens of the love which the friends held for the contracting parties, they all adjourned to the dining room, where every preparation had been made for the whole party's delectation in the way of a sumptuous supper. Here, as in the other room, the color scheme was presented, pink and white, with four streamers of white ribbons decorated with pink chrysanthemums, and as Judge Beeson aptly said, reminded one of a may-pole all ready for the dance to begin. The ice-cream and cake marked the same colors, pink and white. It is reported that during the celebration that 79 boys and 13 girls, all friends of the young people, came and serenaded the party, extending good wishes, and were called, and John in an outburst of eloquence, responded, in the greatest oration he had delivered this year.

Those present and to partake in the joys of the occasion, were, the family of the bride, her brother, Harry Huffer and wife, of Havelock; the groom's mother, Mrs. Allen Beeson, and his sister, Miss Gertrude Beeson, who lent zest and added joy to the occasion by her rendition at the piano, the inspiring strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march; A. J. Beeson and family, N. H. Isabel and wife, Chas. Jean and wife and daughter, Edith; Miss Lillian Wheeler, Ed Spangler and wife, M. Fanger and family, and August Richter and family. The newly married couple will not take a wedding trip, but will remain in the city and will live at the Latham place on North Sixth street.

The Journal with the many friends of the contracting parties, who have grown up in our city, and who every one knows but to love, extends the warmest wishes for their future welfare and happiness. It is the desire of this paper to see the acquiring by the happy pair the acme of their desires and the consummation of their most cherished wishes.

Biliousness and Constipation.
For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feelings at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

A Sweet Faced Girl This Time

During the married life of John R. Denson he has received many visits from his majesty, the stork, but on each occasion heretofore the kindly bird has never had a little girl baby to spare until last evening. The Densons have waited long and patiently on the queer capers of his storkship, but were abundantly rewarded when they were presented last night with a sweet faced little girl weighing about eight pounds, bringing joy to the household, and promises to be an abiding cause of good feeling within the sacred precincts of their home. You may easily guess what makes Mr. Denson look so pleased, you may see his smile half a block away, and it seems to stay with him.

A MILD WINTER IS IN SIGHT

Old Reliable Prophet Gives an Assurance that Goes.

Weather prophets are entitled to public praise for their consideration and courtesy in predicting a mild winter. Whether they are right or not, it is comforting to know that they agree in the prognostication that nature will be bland during the coming months when the warm sun will be far away. How do they know? By a thousand signs. Any one of the weather signs of the genuine prophet is a sure sign. Added together they make proof as strong as Holy Writ, says the Washington Post.

Muskrats have not even begun to build their winter quarters. This is a sign that has never failed, from the time that Adam first observed that muskrats were weather sharps. Ducks have been slow in migrating. Is not this convincing to anyone but a calloused skeptic? Deer have their thin fall suits on; the beavers have not begun cutting their winter wood supply; the owls have not yet withdrawn to the forest deeps; the songbirds have not all sailed southward; toadstools have few or no wrinkles; cornhusks are not thick; the 'possum has not one curl in his tail this fall; the swamps and bogs are low; the wild geese are still sojourning on northern lakes; jack-rabbits have not yet begun to drum on hollow logs; there is no thick down under the chicken's feathers, nor any bony growth on its feet; the whickers of Jersey farmers are straggling and of slow growth; black cats have no whites under their eyes; the goosebone is fair and unspotted; vermin under logs and old planks are more numerous and lively than ever before; fishworms are near the surface; in fact, nature, with myriad voices unanimously attuned declares that the winter of 1907-1908 will not amount to shucks.

New Baggage Rules

New baggage rules and regulations will go into effect on western roads December 1. The new rules provide that no single pieces of baggage exceeding forty cubic feet in measurement or weighing more than 50 pounds will be accepted for checking. For each full ticket 150 pounds of baggage will be checked, and half that amount on each half ticket. Explosives will not be carried in baggage cars. The changes in the rules are not radical in any instance.

Rev. W. F. Bradley departed this afternoon for Howells, this state, where he goes on some business connected with the church at that point.
