

MISS MILDRED KELLER.

RESTORED TO HEALTH. THANKS TO PE-RU-NA

Friends Were Alarmed—Advised Change of Climate.

Miss Mildred Keller, 718 13th street, N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I can safely recommend Peruna for catarrh. I had it for years and it would respond to no kind of treatment, or if it did it was only temporary, and on the slightest provocation the trouble would come back."

"I was in such a state that my friends were alarmed about me, and I was advised to leave this climate. Then I tried Peruna, and to my great joy found it helped me from the first dose I took, and a few bottles cured me."

"It built up my constitution, I regained my appetite, and I feel that I am perfectly well and strong."—Mildred Keller.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the above. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements Dr. Hartman is receiving.

He Is Now On the Top Notch.

Willie Wiles just turned twenty-one years of age, and feeling pretty well. "Thank you." Last week he worked at the home of Luke L. Wiles, husking corn, and in that area too which was visited by the hail storm last summer. He, for a matter of trying to see what he could do, husked and cribbed during the week 660 bushels of corn, which makes his daily average for the week just 119 bushels. This young man now occupies the top notch as a husker. Who will push him off this pinnacle of success and occupy it, by husking more corn? We await the report of the man or boy who can do it, or any other body as to that. Come along, boys.

Biliousness and Constipation

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feelings at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. These tablets are for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Governor Folk in Lincoln

A special from Lincoln says: "Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri was in Lincoln today as a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryan. He arrived on the morning train, going direct to the Bryan home at Fairview, where he remained during the day, and left this evening for the east. The statement was made that Governor Folk's visit was of a social nature and had no political significance."

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY FALLING TREE

Dick Wilmuth, Formerly of This County Meets His Fate While in Woods

Dick Wilmuth, formerly of this place and well known to many of our citizens, while at work last Saturday afternoon, at Sturgeon Lake, Minn., was accidentally killed by falling timber while he was working in the woods. Chief of Police Joseph Fitzgerald yesterday received a letter from Dr. W. A. McEachern, of Sandstone, Minn., telling of his death and asking for his relatives. It will be remembered that Mr. Wilmuth worked at and around this place for a number of years, working on the farm of A. S. Will. Mr. Wilmuth came here from Grafton or Pruntytown, West Virginia, where his folks live. While here he was employed with James Sage and also working for Henry Creamer, near Murray, for sometime. He and W. E. Copeland, a carpenter, who formerly worked here, were from the same place in the east.

Masons Have a Good Time.

At a special called meeting of the Masons last evening to raise Oliver Hudson to the Third degree, a full attendance was had, and a good time enjoyed by all present. Many speeches were made by the oratorical department of the lodge. Those out of the city at the meeting were: W. H. McDaniel, D. C. Rhoden, James Loughridge, W. C. Brown and C. S. Stone of Murray, and S. H. Morrison of Nebraska City.

RESULTS TELL

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results in Plattsmouth

Results tell the tale, all doubt is removed, the testimony of a Plattsmouth citizen can be easily investigated. What better proof can be had?

P. M. Lindsay, living on Marble street, between Sixth and Seventh streets, Plattsmouth, says: "Off and on for about two years I have had pain in my back and at times was much annoyed on account of it. While at work being on my feet most of the time, it was then that the dull persistent aching distressed me. I had reason to believe that the trouble was owing to a disturbed condition of the kidneys and though I tried several kidney remedies, I derived no benefit until I was told of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Gering & Co.'s drug store. The results obtained from its use proved to me that it was just the remedy and I got a second box. Improvement followed its use and to the extent that I can unhesitatingly and with pleasure endorse the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills."

Rapid Transformation.

For rapid transformation, W. W. Coates is a wonder worker. One week ago yesterday the drugstore was in full blast and at that time the packing of it for shipment to Missouri was begun. Now he is running his clothing store in the same room, with a half dozen clerks. This looks like enterprise, in the face of the financial stringency, which we are glad to recognize. He has a very gentlemanly coterie of clerks, consisting of Geo. Weidman, C. M. Hiatt, Frank Ballance, George Tartsch and R. J. Rummerfiel.

This Man Can Husk Corn

On the farm of Frank Wiles a short distance south of the city Curt Brendell a young lad made an average of about one hundred bushels per day for about a week. Each day was a close run, as 98 was the smallest and 101 the largest. This is a good record on what is known as hail corn.

In the County Court.

This afternoon there is being tried a case on the non-delivery of corn on contract, which was supposed to have been made between S. C. Keekler and the J. H. Teasdale Grain company of St. Louis. Matthew Gering represented Mr. Keekler and C. S. Rawles the grain company. Thomas Keekler and W. F. Gillespie are the witnesses.

BURGLARS SEEM TO HAVE BEGUN WORK

One Entered the Home of Mrs. Vroman in South Part of the City

Mrs. C. E. Vroman recently purchased the Joseph Bruhl place, in the south part of the city, and moved there with her mother, Mrs. Schermerhorn, and her brother, Abner Schermerhorn, when in town, but who is at present working in the country. Last night, Mrs. Vroman was awakened by one of the children saying she heard something making a noise, as though lighting a match. Mrs. Vroman told the child to go to sleep, that it was nothing, and went to sleep herself. Soon after, she was awakened by some one having grasped her arms and holding them tightly. When she awoke, she called to another child, who was sleeping in an adjoining bed, who answered back, asking what was the matter. Mrs. Vroman called to the child that someone was holding her arms, whereupon the person loosened his hold and fled, running against the children's bed in the dark, and falling, got up and got away, and no light burning, the person could not be seen.

During the early part of the night Mrs. Vroman had heard someone come in the house, and thinking it was her brother coming home, she paid no attention to them although she heard them strike a match, which confirmed the idea of it being her brother.

Mrs. Vroman's mother, Mrs. Schermerhorn, says she saw someone come from the lower part of the house, and go through her bureau and then go into another room and go through a dresser there, coming out and entering the room occupied by Mrs. Vroman, and almost immediately heard her daughter call, when she was awakened. Mrs. Schermerhorn says that the person appeared to be a woman. Mrs. Vroman says that if the person will only let her know when they want to burglarize the place she will help them make the search providing they will divide the spoil.

BRYAN SAYS

"BE PATIENT."

Will Discuss Bank Situation in the Commoner This Week

W. J. Bryan will discuss the banking situation in the coming issue of his Commoner. The following editorial will be printed under the heading, "Be Patient, Depositors."

"In other editorials the Commoner has pointed out certain remedies that ought to be invoked for the relieving of the present panic and the protection of the public for the future, but it begs to urge patience and confidence upon its readers. The banks are, as a rule, perfectly sound. They are not loaded up with bad paper. Examination will show that prices have been rising and that men are better able to pay their debts now than they were ten or even five years ago, but the depositors can precipitate a panic if they are unreasonable enough to do so. The withdrawal of a few dollars a day by each depositor if he deposits none, will soon cripple the strongest institution, while an agreement among the depositors to exercise a little more faith, will soon relieve the situation. While the local banks may find it impossible to withdraw the deposits which they have made in the eastern banks, those deposits will ultimately be paid, and there is practically no danger of loss to the various communities, unless depositors are foolish enough to expect the impossible.

"When a depositor puts his money in the bank he knows that his ability to withdraw it on demand depends entirely upon the probability that but a few will want to withdraw the money at one time. He has no right to expect, therefore, that he can call for his money at once if all the other depositors do the same thing—still less should he expect it if his timidity makes others timid. This is a time when depositors should recognize the service of the bank to the community—tor the bank would not exist but for the local demand for it—and the depositor who thinks only of himself at a time like this is as much to be criticized as the citizen who refuses to bear any of the risks or dangers necessary for his country's protection."

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain cannot stay where it is used.

DANIEL MASON ARRESTED FOR THEFT

Articles Stolen Recovered in This City, Where They Were Disposed Of.

Daniel Mason, formerly of this city, where he was employed in the Burlington shops, a young man about twenty-one years of age, but since last June has been living on the farm of J. H. Williams, about a mile south of Percival, Ia., left there yesterday, taking a quantity of goods belonging to his employer. Young Mason had been working on the farm for Mr. Williams since last June and enjoyed the full confidence of his employer, who trusted him with everything about the place. Yesterday, the Williams family, having business at Sidney, the county seat, where court was in session, left the place in his charge, with his dinner fixed on the table for him, giving him the key to enter the house. Mason was left husking corn, and having gotten his load, he came to the house, and after having ate his dinner, proceeded to help himself to a number of things and took his departure. When the folks arrived at home in the evening, Mr. Williams and his son-in-law, E. W. Boyd, after finding the man gone and the things missing, started to look for the missing man.

Not finding him around the home they went to Percival, which is less than a mile away, and found that he had taken the train for the north. They immediately started after him, and were driving a span of mules which were young and when they arrived at Bartlett, put up their team and took the train to Pacific Junction, where they got another team and came here; and arriving here they thought to get their breakfast and found the young man sitting behind the stove in the office of the Plattsmouth Hotel. When asked about the missing goods, which consisted of a violin, a guitar, a razor, a set of silver knives, a revolver and a dog he said that he would tell them where they could find the goods and he immediately did so. The razor and violin he had disposed of to W. P. Cook, the barber, who delivered them to the owner on the payment of $2.00, which he had paid for them. The other goods were recovered and the dog he had left at a place in the west part of the city, which with the owner, Mr. Williams, he went after it. Having secured the dog and the other property, Young Mason was induced to return to Iowa with the people for whom he worked. What promise was extended to him to get him to go without a requisition is not known, but it is supposed that no arrests will be made if he should return to work and refrain from a repetition of the former act.

Eighty-two Suicides in Nebraska.

To learn that there were eighty-two suicides in Nebraska in the first nine months of the present year is almost like having one's dream of Santa Claus shattered in childhood. That so large a number of people should find life not worth living in this fair state seems incredible; yet there are the official figures of the vital statistics bureau to show for it. An average guess would have been that not to exceed twenty-five suicides occur annually in the state, but if the record for 1907 so far is a fair criterion the total comes to four times as many. As frequent as railroad fatalities are, the number of these was only eighty-one in the same period of time, or one short of the suicide list. Guns that "were not loaded" claimed only about half as many victims as died by their own hands, and the number of drownings was relatively but little larger. Only one conclusion can be reached from the showing, and this is that a good many cases of suicide do not find their way into the public prints, either because they happen in remote localities or because the fact of self-destruction is concealed by the relatives.—Lincoln News.

International Will Contest.

A Lincoln special says that an international will contest, involving a modest fortune of $37,000, was brought to the supreme court from Boone county. The suit involves the estate of Nils O. Nilson, who died near Albion two years ago leaving no wife or children. A few relatives in Norway were left small bequests but the bulk of the property was left to a couple of church parishes in Norway as trustees for charitable purposes. Relatives of Nilson contested the will and the county and district courts decided in their favor as against the church trustees. It is an appeal from these findings that the case is brought to the supreme court.

Sunday Drunks

A sight to make angels weep was witnessed here Sunday evening. It was four boys that were drinking lemon extract and were intoxicated from the alcohol it contained. They are boys from the country and we suggest that some parents keep "tab" on their boys who spend their time in town. These same boys were making a disturbance at the Methodist church, and ran a young fellow that came out of the church over half a mile.—Nehawka Register.

Has a Badly Sprained Ankle.

Last Friday while at his work at the Institute at Glenwood, Ia., Frans Ballance stepped into a hole in the ground at the institute, and so badly sprained his ankle that he was compelled to lay off from his duties, until it should have gotten well again. He is at his parents' home in this city nursing back to its normal condition the lame member, which we hope will soon be as strong as formerly.

Very Much Improved

C. H. Peterson, formerly of this place, but now farming at Tilden, this state, came in last Friday and stayed over Sunday with his brothers here, the guest of J. C. Peterson, and departed this morning for his home. He has been afflicted for some time with rheumatism and has spent about six weeks at the baths at Excelsior Springs, Missouri. Mr. Peterson says he is much improved in health but is still feeling the effects of his tussle with the malady.
