Louisville

(From the Courier.)

Quite a number of farmers in this vicinity have finished gathering their corn.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Diers, sr., returned home Thursday evening from a visit with their sons in the western part of the state.

M. L. Williams returned Tuesday morning from Beatrice where he went to visit his little daughter, who is in school there.

Olof Johnson arrived Monday from Jemshog, Sweden. He is a brother of Alford Peterson and expects to make his home in this country.

Blanche Rathbun left Wednesday to take charge of a school at Mullen, Neb. Another laurel for the class of '07. Blanche will receive $45 per month.

Our old friend M. P. Williams and wife moved to town last week and are now located in their new residence in the south part of town, where the Courier trusts they may live to enjoy life for many years.

On Tuesday of this week, Mrs. Geo. Delezene entertained twelve of her friends at an old fashion quilting party. At 12:30 p. m., a prettily appointed three course dinner was served. Late in the afternoon the guests departed, each declaring their hosts an excellent entertainer.

A Good Liniment

When you need a good reliable liniment try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It has no superior for pains and swellings. A piece of flannel slightly dampened with Pain Balm is superior to a plaster for lame back or pains in the side or chest. It also relieves rheumatic pains and makes sleep and rest possible. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Elmwood

(From the Leader-Echo.)

Dr. W. A. Alton and family left Tuesday for New York City, from which city they sail tomorrow for Bayamon, Porto Rico, to resume their missionary work.

George Wilcockson, of New York City, in the employment of the National Biscuit Co., another Elmwood boy who has made good, visited relatives and his many friends here the first of the week.

H. W. Miller received a telegram Saturday announcing the death of his niece, Miss Allie Shaffer, at her home in Beaver City, from typhoid fever. Owing to an extra rush of work Mr. Miller was unable to attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Unkel, of Shreve, Ohio, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Shreve, Mrs. Unkel being a sister of Mrs. Shreve. This is their first visit to the west, and they are very much pleased with the country.

Ted Jeary returned Wednesday from Philadelphia, where he met his parents upon their arrival from their home at Statham, England, accompanied them to Lincoln, where they are visiting at the home of Edwin Jeary. Mr. and Mrs. Jeary will likely locate in Cass county.

I. F. Langhorst has moved his stock of goods into the opera house block, which he recently purchased. He has had the partition between the two rooms removed, shelving added and the interior painted, and now has one of the largest and best arranged store rooms, well filled with one of the largest stocks of general merchandise in Cass county.

A Reliable Remedy for Croup.

Mrs. S. Rosenthal, of Turner, Michigan, says: "We have used Chamberlain's Cough Medicine for ourselves and children for several years and like it very much. I think it is the only remedy for croup and can highly recommend it." For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Nehawka

(From the Register.)

E. H. Norris is having a new residence erected on his farm southwest of town. B. F. Moore and a force of carpenters are doing the work.

John C. Knabe shipped a carload of fat hogs to South Omaha Wednesday. The average 343, and were consigned to John D. McBride's firm.

Z. W. Shrader was a visitor at this office last Tuesday. He brought the cheering that his new grand-daughter, at Holbrook, Neb., who was reported as being dangerously ill last week, is convalescent.

"Uncle" Reuben Foster of Union, was in Nehawka Saturday and was a welcome caller at this office. There has been a warm friendship between him and the editor for nearly twenty years. He was much elated over the result of election.

Gus Hollenberg was in town Wednesday. He informed the editor that the Kamm farm on which he resides has been sold to Bennet Chriswiser for $16,000 or $100 per acre. Gus will remain on the farm this year; but after that Ray Chriswiser will live there.

Dr. Pollard received an invitation from Vermont last Tuesday inviting him to his father's 90th birthday celebration which occurs next Tuesday. The letter stated that he was enjoying good health and was looking forward to the event with much expectation.

Congressman Pollard left last Sunday evening for the east. He will go first to Hayti, West Indies, on a business trip and from there he will go to Washington about the time congress convenes. He does not expect to see much other than routine work done before the holidays, but after that he will settle down to business. Mrs. Pollard will leave for Omaha in a few days for a visit of a couple of weeks with her mother and then she will join Mr. Pollard in Washington.

A Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

We have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home for seven years, and it has always proved to be a reliable remedy. We have found that it would do more than the manufacturers claim for it. It is especially good for croup and whooping cough.

REV. JAMES A. LEWIS,

Pastor Milaca, Minn., M. E. Church. Chamberlain's Cough Medicine is sold by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Union

(From the Ledger.)

E. E. Hyde and children departed Wednesday evening for Glenwood, Iowa, intending to make that his permanent home.

Millon Ervin, who has been out on the Pacific coast for some time, came back last week, still having a good opinion of Nebraska.

Miss Tillie Trow arrived yesterday from Kingfish, Okla., to make an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Frank Bates, and other relatives in this vicinity.

W. B. Banning and J. R. Pierson made a good killing on their hunting expedition over on the river, bagging a nice bunch of the ducks. They pulled in here Tuesday, and Mr. Pierson left that evening for his home at Tecumseh.

Chas. S. Stone of Murray passed here on the Tuesday afternoon train going to Nebraska City to visit his mother, Mrs. James Stone of Nehawka, who has been under treatment in a hospital in that city.

The marriage of Charles Dysart and Miss Ogareta McNamee took place Wednesday evening at eight o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents.

For Woman's Eye

J-18

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. McNamee, near this village, Rev. A. J. Falden of Neb. City officiating.

Geo. Thacker of Jackson county, Iowa, arrived here Tuesday to visit several days with his parents and other relatives northeast of town. He informed us that he has sold his land in Iowa and is now "on the wing" and don't know at present just where he will light.

Louis Anderson was able to come down town Tuesday afternoon, his first trip out since typhoid fever got him a few weeks ago. He does not feel very gay yet, but thinks a few weeks on full rations will put him up to his base-ball weight. It was a tough seige for him, and his many friends are pleased to meet him down town again.

THE PLAIN TRUTH

What More Can Plattsmouth People Ask?

When well-known residents and highly respected people of Plattsmouth make such statements as the following, it must carry conviction to every reader: W. T. Cole, of 608 Locust street, Plattsmouth, says: "I contracted kidney complaint in the army and have felt the effect of the trouble off and on ever since. My back never caused me any acute suffering but there was at times a dull heavy aching and lameness across the loins that annoyed me considerably. Retention and scantiness were evident with the kidney secretions and they were occasionally accompanied with pain. An advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice and being favorably impressed with the claims made for the medicine, I procured a box at Gering & Co.'s drug store. I did not take them regularly and used only about one-half of a box, but I can say they made a marked improvement in my condition, every difficulty being relieved. I can vouch for Doan's Kidney Pills being a valuable remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Weeping Water

(From The Republican.)

Mrs. Henry Kuhnenn died at her home in Avoca on Wednesday, November 7. Funeral services were held Friday and the remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery southeast of town.

Ralph Graham of Avoca, sold his hardware and furniture store last week to George Maseman and Louis Dunkak. Ralph will stay with them until spring, and we hear will begin the study of electrical engineering.

Troy Davis sold his residence property on the south side last Saturday to Dr. J. B. Hungate, consideration $4,500. Mr. Davis takes in trade the Hungate property now occupied by D. Dudley at a consideration of $2,000. The Doctor's family will occupy their new purchase which is one of the nicest in town.

Supt. I. N. Clark was exercising on the wood pile Saturday morning, and the clothes line and axe came together, causing the axe to rebound, striking Mr. Clark on the back of the head, cutting an ugly gash which required stitching to close. It is a mistake for a married man to chop wood if his wife is in good health.

J. D. Rough, living south of town came out second best last Friday in a round with an ill-tempered boar that was in the feeding lot when Mr. Rough went down to cast some corn before the swine. The boar chased Mr. Rough and before the latter could make good his escape his trousers were grabbed and a part of the flesh, making a wound about two inches long in his right leg. Mr. Rough came to town Saturday to have the doctor's opinion of what was best to ease the pain.

"C. E. Tefft, Weeping Water's only attorney, came in last evening and is looking into some legal business in the county court."—Plattsmouth Journal.

Of course we are not ashamed of the above item, and will acknowledge that he is the only real attorney in town, yet we have in Weeping Water possibly fifty curb stone lawyers, every one of them orators, and capable of conducting a cross examination.

"Doan's Ointment cured me of eczema that had annoyed me a long time. The cure was permanent."—Hon. S. W. Matthews, Commissioner Labor Statistics, Augusta, Me.

Women's troubles very often occur regularly at a certain time every month. Because this may have been so all your life, is no reason why it should continue. Many thousands of women, who had previously suffered from troubles similar to yours, due to disorder of the womanly organs, have found welcome relief or cure in that wonderfully successful medicine for women,

Wine of Cardui

Mrs. Leota Forte, of Toledo, Ill., writes: "I am well pleased with the results of using Cardui. I have taken three bottles and am now perfectly well, free from pain and have gained 25 pounds in weight."

INDIAN WOMAN PRACTICES LAW

Julia St. Cyr, a member of the Winnebago Tribe, Handles Cases in Court.

A special from Omaha says the only woman lawyer in the United States, Julia St. Cyr, a member of the Winnebago tribe, was before the United States court in Omaha this week, where, through a white attorney, she defended herself against a charge of having accepted too large a fee as a pension attorney from an aged squaw, whose husband had been a scout under Sheridan. So well did she direct her attorney in her defense that the jury found for her on the first ballot.

During the trial Miss St. Cyr shed a few tears at a critical moment. But having departed from the customary stolidity of the Indian character long enough to make her impression on the jury, she returned to the impassive mask of the red man, and when the verdict of "not guilty" was announced, she said with the greatest indifference: "Well, I knew it would be that way."

Miss St. Cyr did not attempt to thank the jury for its verdict, but with head erect stalked out of the court room.

She is a woman of intellectual attainments and is well known among the Winnebago and Omaha tribes. When an Indian of either of those tribes gets into trouble he runs to Miss St. Cyr for advice, and so much influence has she over them that very few of the cases ever reach a court of law, but are settled by her out of court. Her word is very near law on the reservation.

Although educated at Hampton, Va., and later placed in charge of an Indian school on the Kickapoo reservation, Miss St. Cyr has persistently refused to adopt the customs of the white people, and at the tribal ceremonies she always takes an active part, dressed in beads and moccasins, as her people have always dressed.

She has never been licensed to practice before the United States court, and in the present case was compelled to employ a white lawyer to do her talking, but all during her trial she sat with her attorney, whom she coached, directing the case herself in every way.

Miss St. Cyr gets her French name from her father, a half-breed French-Indian, who in turn inherited it from his ancestor, Louis St. Cyr, a French nobleman who was banished by the first Napoleon and who came to New Orleans. Then he came north along the Mississippi and Missouri, together with other Frenchmen, and married into the Winnebago tribe. The descendants of those old Frenchmen have kept the language pure, and probably the French of those red Indians is as near the court language of the French monarchs as can be found in Paris at the present time.

When Miss St. Cyr was placed on trial several Indians were in the court room as witnesses. When she so transcended Indian customs as to shed tears these Indians, in disgust, put on their broad-brimmed hats and left the court room.

Miss St. Cyr is the only Indian woman in the country who has entered upon the practice of law, and is one of the very few who has taken up any professional or business life.

Supposed to Be Dying.

This morning R. B. Moffit, who clerks at Zuckweiler & Lutz's store, received a telephone message from Red Oak, stating that his brother-in-law, Claude Rice, a baker at that place, having a business of his own, was probably dying and for him to come at once. Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Moffit are sisters. It seems that about a week ago some one in Red Oak got into trouble with Mr. Rice and that during the heated conversation the person picked up a scale weight, throwing it and striking Mr. Rice somewhere upon his head, from which he has not recovered. From this wound Mr. Rice is now supposed to be dying. Mrs. Moffit has been sick for some days past and it is feared she will not be able to go, though it is hoped she will.

New Pure Food and Drug Law.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the national pure food and drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. F. G. Fricke & Co.

His Smile Would Not Come Off.

Last Saturday evening, after the turmoil of the week's business had ceased and the printer sat in his office perusing an exchange, he heard a hum as though of bees in clover, and a gentle footfall on the stair, and a gentle rap on the door. At his bidding in came our old friend, Reno Moore, wanting to borrow a pail of water, as he did not care to go plugging down the dark street where he usually secured his water. Oh, what a smile he was wearing; we asked the cause of it, and were informed that the stork had made him and his wife a present of a little girl, the third to bless their home. No wonder he wore a smile, with three little girls to beguile the weary hours.

Dancing Proves Fatal

Many men and women catch cold at dances which terminate in pneumonia and consumption. After exposure, if Foley's Honey and Tar is taken it will break up a cold and no serious results need be feared. Refuse any but the genuine in a yellow package. F. G. Fricke & Co.

Will Attend Golden Wedding.

Mrs. Oliver Edmonds departed this afternoon for Schuyler, where she will be present at the golden wedding of her parents, Henry W. Smith and wife. They were married just fifty years ago, tomorrow, November 19, 1857, and are now respectively 71 and 68 years of age. There are eleven children living, and married but one, and twenty-six grand children. Mrs. Smith's name was formerly Miss Betsie Gern.

Foley's Kidney Cure will cure any case of kidney trouble that is not beyond medical aid. F. G. Fricke & Co.

Remembered on Her Birthday.

Marking the passing of a milestone of Mrs. Peter Mumm, a large number of her friends gathered at her home Saturday afternoon, and made merry with her. They came like the spring-time with its flowers, its song of birds and its balmy breezes, bringing showers sunshine and rippling laughter, and with music and social conversation, filled the afternoon hours, making their coming an occasion one long to remember. As tokens of the love which they bore to Mrs. Mumm, they brought nice presents, which should be a remembrance of the good times which they had enjoyed together. At the proper time light refreshments were served and in departing the forty odd friends of the lady wished her the return of many more such happy events.

Killed by the Cars.

George Glover, a former Louisville boy, met his death by falling under his train at Alliance last Saturday. He lived until Tuesday night at 12 o'clock. He was a son of the late J. V. Glover one of the pioneer merchants of this place, who also lost his life by accident being killed a few years ago by a street car in a western city. The unfortunate young man was a brother of Mrs. C. E. Noyes, who in company with Mr. Noyes left at once for Chadron to attend the funeral. Particulars of the accident could not be learned.—Louisville Courier.

They Will Marry Wednesday.

License were issued today, permitting the uniting in marriage of William A. Jones, aged 24, and Miss Etta F. Miller, aged 21, both of Alvo. They will be married on Wednesday by Rev. Snavely of the Dunkard church.
