CHRISTMAS DOINGS

IN PLATTS MOUTH WEEK FRIDAY

Interesting Exercises--How the Churches Entertained the Little Folks--Exercises at the Masonic Home

At the Christian Church

The Christmas exercises at the Christian church consisted of a very interesting program, the recitations of which were being one of the pleasures of the children being of the program, and while three musical numbers, as presented by the entire school, under the leadership of Mrs. Mae Morgan, were especially well received and given with a vim which spoke well for the work of the instructors, and the spirit of the scholars, gathered for the Christmas season. The treat pleased all, both old and young.

At the Presbyterian Church

The time honored Christmas tree was much in evidence, as was the Santa Claus, a typical old man with white flowing beard, who appeared after the program had been enjoyed, and was listened to by the younger ones with somewhat of eager haste for the time when the gifts should be dispensed. The program furnished was one of much merit, consisting of recitations, readings and musical numbers. When Santa Claus asked for all the good little boys to hold up their hands, the whole assemblage seemed a wriggling, writhing mass of fingers. A few who had not attended Sunday school for years felt like going out, but fearing they would attract attention remained during the entire program.

At the Methodist Church

With the spacious auditorium of the Methodist church filled to overflowing with the little ones, and the larger ones too, on Christmas eve, to render homage to King Santa Claus, were the exercises of the evening opened by a song and prayer, one of thankfulness for the lavish hand that has dispensed gifts to both old and young. An excellent program was rendered, consisting of dia-

DIED IN STATE OF WASHINGTON

An Old Citizen of Plattsmouth Passes Away in the Far West

Mr. Jos. Triner, the well-known manufacturer of Triner's American Elixer of Bitter Wine, wishes to announce to all his business friends that his new building has been completed. It is a beautiful, perfectly modern structure, of large dimensions. The wine vaults are, without exaggeration, the best in the city of Chicago, the laboratories, and offices, very light, well ventilated, sanitary, and very comfortable. Mr. Triner's suggestions, without doubt, due to his long experience, are to supply the people with genuine goods only, the underground side of Triner's American Elixer of Bitter Wine is certainly the best proof of its quality and value. A very interesting feature of the building is the digestive organs. It creates a healthy appetite, makes the digestion complete, and the whole system strong. As long as your digestive organs are in perfect working order, there will be no room for sickness in your body. This remedy is highly beneficial, and is a most delicious beverage. At our stores, the new address here, Jos. Triner, 1114 Broadway, Omaha, Neb., Chicago, Ill.

James Jessup Reported Sick

James Jessup, who lives near the "bridge switch," is reported as being in bed, having been confined for the past few days. His brother, Will Jessup, and Harry Gochenour, were over last evening to visit him, and cheer him up a bit.
