Called to Watson, Missouri
Last Saturday evening T. E. Steuklin and wife received two messages, one from their former home at Watson, Missouri, and the other from Farnham, this state, telling of the taking of Mrs. Steuklin's brother, John Hoye, from his home at Farnham to the old home, of his parents at Watson, Mo., where he is not expected to survive long. Mr. Hoye is afflicted with the white plague in its last stages, and it was feared that he might not be able to reach his parents' home before death should overtake him. His desire to return to the home of his childhood before his death, though, was granted, and the journey was begun last Saturday. With what success is not known here, as no word has been received since the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Steuklin for Watson last Saturday.

Leaves for Paris Unknown
A special from Nebraska City to the Lincoln Journal under date of January 5 says:

"A. L. Cox, who has owned and operated a five and ten cent store here for the past eight months, left last Wednesday to visit with relatives and has not since returned. That he has left his family is indicated by a letter which his wife received. She has taken charge of the stock and will endeavor to pay all creditors. Cox made good money here, but is said to have lost heavily on the grain market."

Previous to embarking in business at Nebraska City, Cox was in business at Mynard, where he was also postmaster for several years.

Special Announcement Regarding the National Pure Food and Drug Law.
We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Ask any fair-minded doctor and he will tell you that golden seal, cubeb and oil of copalba (contained in Pe-ru-na) are valuable remedies in the treatment of catarrhal diseases. And every honest doctor will concede that collinsonia canadensis, corydalis formosa and cedron seed (contained in Pe-ru-na) are tonic remedies of high value. With this opinion all the leading medical text books agree.

Fred Whistled and Smiled.

A merry little fellow of about thirty years of age, got off the train this morning, wearing a smile that would thaw a hole in a cake of ice, and whistling the merriest of tunes, as he sauntered around the Burlington station, but he would not so much as tell where he was from or what was his business, but whistled away. He went up town and glancing at the building as he went, noticed the court house and in less time than it takes to tell it, he was in the county judge's office and had made application for a marriage license. It was granted and he gave his name as Fred L. Blair, from Fremont, and permission was given for him to wed Miss Mable C. Dickenson, of Elmwood, not so old as he by two years. He was seen later at the Riley Hotel still whistling and wearing the same smile, seemingly very happy.

Made Way With Razors.

This morning while W. P. Cook, the barber, had momentarily stepped out of his shop, in popped a specimen of the genus hobo and lost no time in appropriating all of Mr. Cook's tools, taking razors, shears and clippers, and decamped as swiftly as he had come. As he was leaving Mr. Cook returned and spying his hobobish departing called the police and sent him after the miscreant.

The officer, Mr. Ben Rainey, of the night force, soon overhauled his trampship and made his disgorge. In order to save the county costs, Ben administered the judgment hanging over the thief, in a way which will compel him to eat standing up, and fired him out of town.

Louis is looking very well though a trifle thin, but a few weeks will again give him the flesh and strength of former days. He was troubled with the disease for a long time, and to be free from it now, with the certain knowledge that it cannot return, is a great relief.

MRS. GRACE MONTGOMERY-HORN DIES

At Her Home in Oaks, Neb., Saturday
—Cause of Death Not Learned.

Mrs. Grace Horn, nee Montgomery, who for a number of years was a teacher in the city schools at this place, and who a short time since married Banker Horn, of Syracuse, died at the home her mother in Oaks, Saturday. Her death was very sudden, and occurred at about 9 o'clock. The cause of death was not given in the message communicating the intelligence to friends in this city.

While living in this city she made many friends, and was loved and respected alike by all who knew her. Her winsome ways and genial disposition made her a favorite with the students and all her many friends and acquaintance will be grieved to know of her untimely death. The funeral will occur at Syracuse tomorrow.

Are Visiting in Plattsmouth

Nicholas Simons, wife and daughter, Mary, of Chicago, came Saturday evening and are guests of E. B. Thrall and wife in the city. At that time Mr. Simons had charge of a hoisting machine used in handling the materials in the construction of the bridge. He had charge of one machine, while Will Edgerton, who died in Mexico last summer, was in charge of another. The Simonses will visit in the city for a few days.

It Does the Business.

Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25c. at F. C. Fricke & Co.'s drug store.

TUMBLING INTO HOLE IN THE NIGHT

While Endeavoring to Find the Hobo Shanty, Steps Over High Bank.

Last Saturday night, L. Johnson, an old man, some sixty-four years of age, after securing some coffee made an effort to find his way to the shanty which the city provides for the tramps that happen along this way in the winter and walked off the high embankment just across the track from the Burlington station, and falling some ten or twelve feet was bruised up considerably. The left ankle was very badly sprained, together with the scraping of skin and some flesh from various parts of the body, especially the left knee, the shoulder and head being bruised. Mr. Johnson has lain in the shanty since, and as we go to press it is not known what he will do, but it is supposed he will start for Council Bluffs, with the aid of the county, where he claims he has a friend by the name of John Peterson. Mr. Johnson is a man of nearly sixty-five years of age and shows evidence of having been a hard worker.

Sudden Death at Russell, Iowa

Yesterday H. J. Schlutz received a message telling of the sudden death of Willie O'Donnell, a nephew of Mrs. Schlutz. The young man was about sixteen years of age, and was the son of James O'Donnell, a farmer, at Russell, Iowa, who is a brother of Mrs. Schlutz and Mrs. J. M. Green. Mr. Green and Mrs. Schlutz departed last evening for Russell to attend the funeral which occurs today. The death was sudden and the relatives at this place were not aware of the sickness of the young man until they received the message apprising them of his death.

Seventy-One Years Old.

A. C. Loder, of Greenwood, celebrated his seventy-first birthday on New Year's day, by giving a dinner to a number of his friends. Mr. Loder was county commissioner at the time the present court house was built, and is an awful good citizen and democrat. He has been a reader of the Journal from its incipency, and while he came very near dying a year or two ago, we hope the veteran in democratic harness may live to reach the one hundred year mark and then some.
