Young Vance Burton, the eight year old son of Jos. Burton, and wife, created considerable excitement in the family home few days ago, and at which time the pet dog lost his life, from the accidental shot of a pistol. The lad found the pistol about the house, and dog being close by at the same time, he took what was thought an empty weapon, and pointing it at the dog's head, he snapped the trigger on the empty chamber, with a "ping" "ping" "ping" and "boom" when the loaded chamber was reached, and the pet dog fell over a dead one. The screams from the boy called the neighbors, and he at first said the dog was killed from some one outside, but the discovery of the old pistol told the story, and of course the lad did not know it was loaded. It might have been worse.

Agress With the Journal

ANOTHER FARMERS' ELEVATOR COMPANY

Farmer's in the Vicinity of Nehawka, Proceed to Organize and Elect Officers For Their Company, at Meeting Yesterday-- Are Very Enthusiastic.

Yesterday the farmers to seventy-five in number met at the village of Nehawka and completed an organization for the operation of a grain elevator. The meeting was called to order, with J. S. Routh occupying the chair, and R. C. Pollard as secretary. The sum of $5,150 was reported subscribed by the solicitation committee and the capital stock was increased from $6,000 to $10,000. A board of directors was elected, consisting of J. S. Routh, Wm. Ost, R. C. Pollard, J. J. Pollard, S. C. Shumaker, Louis C. Todd and J. W. Murdock, seven in all, for which there were seventeen candidates. The farmers are very enthusiastic in the making of the organization. From the board of directors the following officers were chosen: J. S. Routh, president; R. C. Pollard, secretary; Wm. Ost, vice-president; S. C. Shumaker, treasurer. A proposition was received for the sale of the elevator of H. M. Pollard, which was passed to the board of directors, who have the matter under consideration, and who will meet tomorrow for deciding upon the proposition. It is more than probable that the company will buy one of the elevators which are at that point, rather than erect another and a third one.

The matter of the farmers entering the grain handling business seems to be gaining very rapidly. There are farmers elevator companies now at South Bend, Wabash, Murray, Cedar Creek, Manley and this one being organized at Nehawka, makes six and with a promise of more to follow. The by-laws and constitution was adopted yesterday at Nehawka similar to those in vogue at Murray and Cedar Creek.

In the attempt to purchase the elevator at Nehawka, it seems the farmers are doing the right thing, for it would seem that two institutions of that kind would be enough and it is not the intention or should not be, to cause an injury to any one.

GEORGE MASON DIED THIS MORNING

Small Scratch on the Finger Causes Blood Poisoning

This morning at about 10:30, George Mason, of Mynard, died of blood poisoning, as a result of getting his hand scratched some time since, with a knife while butchering. The hand was so slightly wounded that it was not thought necessary to treat it at first, until it became affected, when it grew serious rapidly, and was one of the most difficult cases to care for that has appeared for some time.

The skill of the physician was taxed to the utmost, and it was with little hope that anything could be done to effect a cure, as the case was one of such virulence. Mr. Mason is a brother-in-law of Frank Marler, the Blacksmith, at that place, and leaves a wife and one child, a boy of about five years of age. The Mason family came to Mynard about a year ago, from Bradshaw, succeeding Holmes & Smith in the general merchandise business, and selling to W. T. Richardson some three months. After disposing of his store, Mr. Mason has been doing odd jobs, such as helping thresh, and things of a similar nature. Announcement relative to the funeral will appear later.
