Shall We Drink Water?

Medical authorities found that many grave diseases can be traced to drinking impure water and that many epidemics resulted from it. We are "a nation of extremes" and it is no wonder that someone proposed to quit using water for drinking. He failed to offer a substitute for it. Cautious people boil drinking water before using it, but in many instances this procedure is quite impossible. It becomes necessary for everybody to match the fumation of his body; as long as they are natural he is healthy. Should he notice, after drinking water, some difficulties, like loss of appetite, belching, disturbances in the intestines, he should at once try Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. This remedy will quickly remove all obstruction of a healthy digestion and will bring all organs of the body into a harmonious activity. It will make the assimilation of food perfect, the blood pure, the body vigorous. You can rely on this remedy in all cases of loss of appetite and of strength. At drug stores. Jos Triner, 616-622 So. Neglected Colds Threaten Life.

(Chicago Tribune)

"Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry warm clothing are the safe guards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to a bee. The greatest menace to a child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold. Whether it is a child or adult, the colds light over, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Falls Into a Hole.

Tuesday evening while B. J. Reynolds was coming to work from his home in South Park, during the blizzard, thinking to avoid the drifts, and seeing the roads better broken than the walk, took to the street. In doing so he passed near the corner, where a large sewer pipe made a culvert crossing the street. This place he thought he had passed to the left, but instead, in the blinding storm he got into the very place he was trying to avoid, and going down in the soft snow scraped his shin bone over the end of the sewer pipe, raking, he says, about "that much" of the skin and flesh from his left leg. Charlie is nursing a very sore shin, at any event, and no doubt will look two or three times hereafter when in that vicinity.

YOUNG PEOPLE WED NEAR ELMWOOD

Mr. Charles J. Fleischman and Miss Pearl Mable Fentiman Happily United

The following is taken from the Elmwood Leader-Echo:

Wednesday, February 12th, at high noon, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Fentiman in which their daughter, Miss Pearl Mabel, and Mr. Charles J. Fleischman formed the contracting parties.

Promptly at the stroke of the hour strains of the beautiful wedding march, "De Tannhauser," were heard through the rooms, rendered in a delightful manner by Mrs. L. G. Nash, sister of the bride. The unattended bridal party entered the parlor and took their places near the decorated west window where Rev. J. B. White of the Christian church of this place performed the sacred ceremony, witnessed by only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. After the sincere congratulations that were informally showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Fleischman, the guests were seated in the dining room and served to a delicious wedding dinner.

The bride's costume was an elegant Landsdowne decorated with tinsel bands of taffeta ribbon in a conventional design. The groom was neatly attired in an appropriate black suit.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fentiman and the twin sister to Ray. Her girlhood has been passed in this vicinity, having lived here all her life. She attended our high school and formed lasting ties of friendship among her school mates. She has taught for one year in Otoe county.

The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fleischman, well-to-do farmers living just west of town. He has grown to manhood in our midst and is known as a young man of sterling character. He is a prosperous young farmer. Through his business, which has brought him in contact with so many farmers, he has won a wide circle of valued friends.

A number of beautiful and useful gifts will remind Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fleischman of the happy occasion.

They left on the 3:28 train that afternoon for St. Paul, Minnesota, where they will visit the bride's aunt, Mrs. G. H. Root and family. They will be at home to their many friends on a farm, southwest of Elmwood, belonging to the groom's father, after March 15.

PLATTSMOUTH TELEPHONE COMPANY

At Their Annual Meeting Declared for Quarterly Instead of Annual Dividends.

The Plattsmouth Telephone Company held their annual meeting on the third of this month and declared their eighth annual 10 per cent cash dividend and voted unanimously to pay the dividends quarterly hereafter, beginning on April 1st, 1908.

This new plan of paying the dividends every three months will please many of the stockholders and will be a great inducement for others to invest.

Instead of having to wait till the end of each year to receive dividends on the stock, the company will distribute to the stockholders the profits on January 1, April 1, July 1 and October 1, of each year, thus making the stock a much more desirable investment.

There is a limited amount of stock for sale, which can be bought at par value of $100.00 per share.

Don't wait, but call on or write to T. H. Pollock, general manager and treasurer, Plattsmouth, and secure a few shares of the Plattsmouth Telephone Company stock.

Old Settler Died in Washington

Melville Case, for a number of years living near Rock Bluffs, and in 1891 going to Life, Washington, dies in White Salmon, Washington, February 9th. Mr. Case was born at Glenwood, Iowa, in 1855, coming to this state with his parents, settling at Kenosha, when he was one year old. He and Wm. Case were brothers, and were well known by all the older settlers in that neighborhood, where he lived for many years.

Indians Will Have a Great Time.

John C. York departed for Omaha this morning, where he will meet with the Improved Order of Redman, and will extend a personal invitation to them to meet with the Missouri Tribe, No. 69, when they have their dance at Coates' hall, on the 28th of the present month. The Indians expect to have a great pow-wow at that time and it is their intention to have a few more scalps dangling at their belts before that time.

THE PEERLESS NEBRASKAN WILLIAM J. BRYAN

What One of the Leading Papers in the Great City of New York Has to Say Regarding the Great Favorite of the People.

The New York Post, one of the leading papers in New York City, speaks its piece regarding William Jennings Bryan's candidacy for the presidency as follows. The Post is an independent republican paper:

That Mr. Bryan will be the Democratic candidate for the presidency this year, if he choose to be, may now be set down as among the political certainties. And those Republican managers are living in a fool's paradise who think that it will be a holiday task to beat him. The forces which make Mr. Bryan's candidacy formidable are not hidden. He has a vast and idolizing personal following. Its vote can be transferred to no other. As a campaigner he has inexhaustible physical energy, and endless resources of agitation. And on what willing ears his appeals would fall in present circumstances. Are the Republicans not aware how he retort all their own favorite argument, upon them with terrific force? The Republican platform of 1896 could be read as an indictment of the Republican party of 1908. All the dire consequences of misgovernment therein set forth are now swarming home to condemn Republican politics.

A panic has come under Republican rule. Business has suffered deep hurt; mills have shut down, thousands of men are out of work, the unemployed through the cities; the resources of charity are trained to provide for those in want by no fault of their own. Does any Republican leader in his senses doubt that Mr. Bryan could make great play with these undeniable facts? Bearing in mind his extraordinary gifts as an agitator, and remembering how invariably the party in power loses popular support when depression overtakes industry and cripples enterprise, no one but a Republican drunk with complacency could deny that coming campaign will test his party to the utmost.

It is no time for the boastful cry that any good Republican can beat Bryan. Some good Republicans, even among those now mentioned for the Presidency, would be overwhelmed by him. We believe that the seriousness of the crisis which confronts the Republican party in the candidacy of Mr. Bryan will more and more impress itself upon its shrewder leaders, and will lead them to cast about to find the very best men they have got to pit against Bryan.

RETURNS FROM THE NORTH

Leonard Born Is Back From Pierce, Knox and Other Northern Counties of This State.

Leonard Born returned home last evening from the northern part of the state where he has been for a number of days. Last Friday he departed for Plainview, where he attended the funeral of his old friend, Henry G. Falter, which occurred at that place on last Saturday. Here Mr. Born visited with friends, and later in Knox county, with other friends, visiting at the home of August Gustafson, at Oakland. He found the folks all glad to see him at all the places he visited. At Oakland he visited at the home of H. P. Sundale, where in order to get to the house he had to shovel through snow four feet deep on the level, and after he had gotten to the porch, sweep the snow off with a broom. The folks were overjoyed to see him, and treated him like a prince. Mr. Born says that the people are situated nicely at these points and at Oakland they are doing exceptionally well, being finely situated.

GRAND OPERA AT OMAHA

Return Engagement of the Italian Opera Company.

Omaha is to have a return engagement of the Italian grand opera company, which made such a sensation in that city a few weeks ago. The company is one of the largest and most perfectly equipped of any that has toured this country. It numbers 110 people, has a large and efficient orchestra, and a chorus that is already noted throughout the land. For the return engagement, four of the most popular operas ever written have been selected. The season opens on Monday, February 23rd with "Aida"; Tuesday night "Traviata;" Wednesday night "Carmen" will be sung at the Wednesday matinee; and the engagement will close with "Faust" on Wednesday evening. These operas serve to present all of the great principals in their best parts, and besides, are operas that have long since become classics. There is a momentary charm and pleasure derived from hearing the modern operas, but only in these works of the masters do we find music that is so sublime character which makes its life immortal. It is indeed fortunate that such works are to be presented so near us by such a splendid organization and it is probable that a large patronage will be in attendance.

In Justice Court.

Henry James Lambert of Nehawka is bringing suit against Oscar Samson, for an accounting, claiming to have given him a sum of money amounting to near thirty-five dollars to take care of for him, and now refuses to account for it. There being no appearance on the part of the defendant, judgment was rendered against him for the amount with interest from the first of last November. From the testimony offered, it appears that the plaintiff gave the money to his foreman while working on the rip-rap for safe keeping, and when he desired it he could not regain possession of it. Judgment was rendered accordingly.

Depart for Republican Convention.

This morning a number of the Plattsmouth citizens departed for Weeping Water, where they will mix medicine and do other things with the hope that they will bring results. Judge A. N. Sullivan said, as he departed, that they were going to save the country, and that the "Saving Process" would be in operation as soon as the convention was called to order. Those who went from this place were in charge of Sheriff Quinton and were H. A. Schneider, A. J. Beeson, A. N. Sullivan, W. H. Newell, John H. Becker, J. M. Robertson, George L. Farley and Henry C. McMaken.

The Governor Will Attend

A special from Lincoln, under date of yesterday, says: "Governor Sheldon will attend the Cass county republican convention tomorrow. The governor is deeply interested in securing a delegation to Chicago pledged to the support of Secretary Taft and he will make a speech at the meeting tomorrow."

Plattsmouth Telephone Company stock pays dividends in cash every three months.

Drops Dead White Shoveling Snow

A special from Tabor, Iowa, under date of yesterday, says: "A severe storm raged all day yesterday and last night, practically stopping travel and traffic. The public schools and colleges closed yesterday and this forenoon a large force was employed all day shoveling snow to get the Tabor & Northern trains through. A. G. West, a jeweler and life-long resident, fell dead this morning from heart trouble. He went out cleaning walks and was found about half an hour later. He leaves a widow, a married daughter and one son." The deceased was known to several residents of Plattsmouth.

Say It Was Suicide

Justice F. G. Day was at Pacific Junction Friday and concluded the inquest on the Italian that was killed there last Tuesday. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the deceased came to his death by suicide. It is supposed that he was killed by No. 4, but the crew of that train testify that no such man rode on the train that morning from Henton to the Junction. From the manner in which the Italians are turning up dead in various parts of the country these days, it is just possible that the "Black Hand" may have had something to do with this death.—Glenwood Tribune.
