Murray State Bank

Murray, Nebraska.

Mr. Archie Holmes has been under the weather since his return from New York.

Claude Everett from near Union was attending to business in Murray Friday.

Mr. Chas. Carrol left last week for Plainview, where he went to buy a farm.

Oil your harness now. John Cook is the man that knows how to do it. See him at once.

The people of Murray are trying to make love to the ice maker, Jack Frost, these days.

Miss Margie Walker went to Plattsmouth Saturday, where she will spend the week with friends.

Our cognial friend Mr. John Thayer from Liberty precinct was calling on friends last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown accompanied by Miss Allison, attended the play in Plattsmouth, Saturday evening.

Lee Kniss who has been suffering for the past ten days with appendicitis, is much better at the last reports.

Mrs. Alber Lillie of Plattsmouth has been spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Hendricks.

Now is the time to oil your harness. Take them to John Cook and he will guarantee the job to be done right.

Chas. Stone, our former cashier, returned from Spaulding Monday, where he went to look over a business proposition.

The West Rock Bluffs republican primary meeting last week unanimously endorsed Taft for candidate for president.

Mrs. Tony Augustine, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Beckman returned to her home in South Omaha Monday.

Mrs. Laura Kennedy will entertain the ladies of Oak Leaf camp 4842 Monday afternoon, February 24th. Please bring thimbles.

Phil Lambert has just about completed his home in east Murray, and will soon move in his family. He will have a nice cozy home.

Miss Ina Davis of Union was a visitor with her friend, Miss Margery Walker, south of the city during the first part of the week.

Earl Jenkins is moving his household goods to Murray, where he will make his home, being employed by W. E. Jenkins & Co. as clerk.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church of Murray, will give an oyster supper at the Woodman hall Saturday night, February 22, 1908. All are invited to attend.

The deep snow blocked all roads leading to Murray. A good many farmers sold their corn for fifty cents on a short delivery and are afraid that the roads will prevent delivery on time.

Ham Chalfant, son of Wm. Chalfant, living five miles southeast of town is seriously sick with pneumonia at the home of George Ray. Miss Elmer, a trained nurse from the Nurses Club of Omaha came in Wednesday to attend him.

There is a reason for everything, even stories. The corn plowing story comes in its season, the harvesting story in the hot days of summer, the corn husking story in the late fall and winter, but now is the supreme time for the man with a snow-drift story.

He has tripped over the tip-top point of some tall church steeple as he was coming along onto one of his snow-drifts and later come to where the snow is not so deep and fall through the chimney of a three story building and crawls out through the grate like Santa Claus to the gleeful welcome of the children. Vesuvius is a mole hill to the snow-drifts he has seen.

A Tin Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spangler, who reside three and one half miles east of Manley, celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary on last Sunday, February 16th. The affair was one of great pleasure to all in attendance, and the genuine shower of tin brought by the many visiting friends and relatives was much in evidence, and many useful articles were left as a remembrance of the most pleasant occasion. An excellent dinner was served at the noon hour, and the entire day spent in a most enjoyable manner. Following were those in attendance: Chas. Spangler and wife, sr., Peter Spangler and wife and family, Fred Spangler, wife and family, Chas. Spangler jr., and wife, Lewis Stander, wife and family, John Murray, wife and family, David Murray, wife and family, I. C. W. Murray and wife, Jesse Livingston and wife, Cyrus Livingston and wife, Will Spangler, John Spangler, Miss Lizzie Edward and Christopher Murray, Guy and Albert Murray, and Mrs. Parker, of Dorchester.

Birthday Surprise

At the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos Cook, a merry crowd gathered on the 16th, last Sunday, to spend the day in a genuine good old fashioned way, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mr. Cook, and the celebration was given in his and Mrs. A. H. Weichel's honor, who resides in Elmwood. The affair was planned by the relatives and was carried to a most successful end in every particular. The merry visitors with well filled baskets gathered early in the day, and at the customary hour an excellent dinner was served to which all did ample justice. The afternoon was spent in various lines of music and social conversation.

The present were: Mrs. A. H. Weichel and two daughters, Miss Pearl and Fern, of Elmwood; Mrs. W. D. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Vallery and daughter, Marjory. Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Cole and Opal, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cook and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl V. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wiles and little Delores, Percy Wheeler, Harry Cook, of Ord; Carl and Ray Cole, Charlie Morning and Joe Wheeler.

Another Wedding

Mr. Roy Shrader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Shrader of Nehawka, and Miss Dortha Feneker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Reneker of Beaver City, Nebraska, were united in marriage Sunday evening, February 16. Mr. Shrader is well known here and highly respected. Miss Dortha is one of the most highly respected young ladies in Beaver City. Rev. Russel said the words that joined the happy hearts together. The Tribune extends congratulations to Mr. Shrader and his bride and wishes them happiness and prosperity through life.—Beaver City Tribune.

Death of Mrs. Chas. Lyman

It was a great surprise to the people of Weeping Water when the news came last Sunday afternoon that Mrs. Joyce Davis Lyman was dead. Her illness was of short duration, except that she has been afflicted with lung trouble for about three years contracted while on her claim in South Dakota. A few days previous to her death she was bedfast from a hard cold. Her husband who was at Venango, making preparation to go to house keeping, was sent for and arrived Saturday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lyman were married in Omaha, December 26, 1907, and they came back to Mrs. Lyman's parents near Nehawka the following day. She did not leave the home place except for a visit with relatives here until her death, but they expected to get located in Venango as soon as possible.

The funeral was set for this Wednesday, at one o'clock p. m. at the home, and as deceased was a believer in Christian Science it was expected that she would be buried with that service, and interment made in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

On account of the storm the funeral was latter postponed until Thursday. The many friends of the husband, and family of deceased, deeply sympathize with them, knowing that words fail to comfort only as expressing their love for the dear departed, and those bereaved.—Weeping Water Republican.

James W. Smith Dies at Ong.

Will S. Smith of Murray returned home last evening from Ong, this state, where he was called by the death of his father, James W. Smith, who died a few days ago at that place. Mr. Smith sr., was well along in the seventies, and has been in poor health for some time. His wife died about two years ago. He leaves six children to mourn his death, four girls and two boys. The younger son and youngest daughter were living at home caring for the aged parent, while two daughters are married and living in Ong, and the remaining one is married to a man named Bankson, living in Illinois. The other son, Will S. Smith, of Murray, is engaged in the mercantile business in company with J. W. Holmes.

Obituary.

George Gilbert Mason was born in Tama county, Iowa, April 19, 1870, and died in Mynard, Nebraska, February 13, 1908. His parents moved from Iowa to Nebraska when George was about fifteen years of age. He has live in Fillmore county and in York the greater part of the time since. When about twenty years of age he united with the Fairview Methodist Episcopal church. He was married to Miss Maggie Marler July 16, 1903. The funeral services were conducted by the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Mynard at 2 p. m. Saturday, February 15. His wife, one little son, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mason of York, and three sisters survive him.

Buys Two Good Dogs

Wm. Kitzel and Chas. Johnson, jr., from Alvo, who have been visiting at the home of Wade Porter for the past few days, returned home today. Mr. Porter took them to Plattsmouth, and there they took the train for home. While here they formed an attachment for a couple of Wade's fine dogs, and consequently both canines will find a new home out at Alvo.

Depart for Mexico.

A program is being prepared for the box social to be given at Oxford school, February 22nd. All are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Vesta Eaton, teacher of the Oxford school, spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Plattsmouth.

Adam Schafer attended to some business in the county seat Saturday.

Mrs. F. Spriegel and son visited in Murray Friday afternoon.

August Engelkemeier made a trip to Weeping Water Saturday. He attended sale at Mr. Dunn's while there.

We are glad to be able to say that Misses Rosa Schafer and Lena Engelkemeier who were sick with the gripple, are able to be out again.

Don't forget the "Washington Box Social" February 22nd, at Oxford school house.

Omaha Indians Will be Upon Us

John C. York returned last evening from Omaha, where he visited the Indians of that place. Mr. York went as a special representative, bearing good tidings to the Improved Order of Redmen at both Omaha and South Omaha, giving them a special personal invitation to come to Plattsmouth on the 28th of February, when there will be a social dance given by the Missouri Tribe, No 69, at Coates' Hall. Mr. York has the promise of many of the members of Tribes No 18 at North Omaha and 39, at South Omaha, that they will be here in great numbers, and at the appointed time will have a grand time.

For sale—A number of registered rthorn bulis. H. G. Todd, Murray.

Perplexing Problem Threatens

The railway commission has received a letter from a prominent railroad man in which the statement is made that T. E. Spens, of the Burlington, is going about over the state working up sentiment in favor of a bill which he intends to have introduced in the next legislature. Mr. Spens is placed in the attitude of representing that all of the railroads in Nebraska will support the bill. The writer of the letter desires the commission to understand that his road has taken no such stand on the proposed measure, but if the commission desires the bill passed he will give the matter due consideration and perhaps do all in his power to get the bill passed. He says the measure which Mr. Spens is pushing is copied from an old English statute which provides that if any woman obtains a promise of marriage by the use of paint, powder, false hair, manufactured smiles or the use of padding of the figure, in such cases the promise and the marriage, if any marriage has been performed, shall be null and void. Secretary Clark Perkins will submit the matter to the members of the commission.—Lincoln News.

Deutsche Kranzchen Meet

The Deutschen Kranzchen met in regular session yesterday afternoon at the home of Rev. J. F. Langhorst, the guest of Miss Marie Langhorst, who is a member of the society. They pursued their regular studies in German, and devoted a portion of the time to a discussion in German, after which delightful refreshments were served, and all departed for home having thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon.
