In sauntering down the street, we spied a gentleman sitting out on the sidewalk sunning himself, and when we approached him we soon noted that it was D. C. West, the cashier of the bank, who invited us on the inside, where he showed us what no other bank in Cass county possesses-a safety deposit vault for the use of those who desire to rent a drawer in which to place their valuables for safe keeping. We also met our young friend, A. F. Boedeker, the genial assistant cashier, who has made himself very popular with the patrons of the bank by his cleverness and qualities to please. D. C. West and A. F. Boedecker are a whole host within themselves, and Nehawka is fortunate to possess two such excellent bankers.

The hotel, which has been an eye-sore to Nehawka for several years, recently changed hands, and from the manner in which it is conducted by the present proprietor, the people seem to be pleased that it has been done for the better. Now they are in hopes that some firstclass barber would come along and take charge of the shop here. Then the average patron of the barber shop of Nehawka would be supremely happy.

Nehawka can boast of one of the best livery barns in Cass county, and moreover, is conducted by the Cunningham and are highly respected by the people generally as first-class gentlemen and business men.
