THE CITY ELECTION TUESDAY

The Result Badly Mixed Up in the Second Ward.

While the election created but little interest on the part of the voters, the result in some of the wards was a surprise to some. There was a big effort made to defeat Henry Schlutz, in the First ward, but he succeeded in getting away with his opponent, A. E. Gass, by a majority of fifteen. In the Second it is reported that William Weber, republican, has a majority of six, but it is more than likely, on a recount of the votes, that W. C. Tippens, democrat, will overcome this and be declared the choice of the people. In the Third, F. H. Steimker had no opposition. Frank Neuman, independent, in the Fourth, was elected by a majority of twenty-six, over George Dodge, democrat. The Fifth rolled up a majority of thirty-eight for W. A. Mendenhall, democrat, as against Ira B. Green, republican. On the face of the returns the council will stand five democrats and four republicans and one independent.
As regards the returns on members of the school board, of course D. C. Morgan and Dr. E. D. Cummins, democrats, were elected by large majorities. In fact this was the only instance where a test vote of the city can be taken.
In regard to the defeat of Mr. Dodge, in the Fourth, local matters had much to do in his defeat. He is a good man, and while his defeat is regretted by his friends, his successor is also a good man and has represented the ward several times in the council.

Has Hand Badly Torn

August Beins, who lives south of the city has a badly torn hand which is keeping him from work for the present, and will for some time to come, caused by a windmill, upon which he was working. A broken piece of casting caught the left hand, tearing the flesh from the ball of the thumb and lacerating the hand in a very severe manner.

BORROWED A

PAIR OF PANTS

He Had Plenty of Booze But Thought He Needed Another Pair of Trousers—Now in Jail

Harry Jones, a traveler of the species hobo, was a voluntary visitor in the city this morning, and rounded up the city, getting a few to many drink in his hide, and thought the pants hanging along the different stores looked nice, and appropriated two pair, the last one at the store of H. Waintroub, but being unsteady on his feet, dropped one pair after he had gotten in front of John Gebhart, and they were picked up by Giles Roman, of the News office, and handed to Mr. Waintroub who was following, who sought the police.

The man Jones who says he hails from Manatowac, Wisconsin, continued down the street, and made for the bum shanty, where, upon invitation from Officer Cory, he returned to town and at the Burlington station was turned over to Officer Rainey, who took him to the city bastille while Mr. Waintroub went to the Bum Shanty for another man who was also along.

When the police got to the shanty the other man was gone, and walking up Main street succeeded in getting away but upon searching, Officer Cory and Mr. Waintroub found a gunny sack stuffed in a small tile sewer that comes out from near Vine street under the railway track, and upon pulling in out found therein eight new pair of pants, five of which Mr. Waintroub identified and the other three, which had the tags torn off, could not be distinguished. For the present the "Man Who Pays the freight," Mr. Jones languishes in the city bastille. The search for the missing man is still being prosecuted.

VISITS SCENES OF OTHER TIMES

A Former Plattsmouth Citizen, Now a Californian, Located at Los Angeles, Visiting Here.

H. DeGarmo, a cousin of Peter D. Bates, is visiting in the city with Mr. Bates, and is on his way from his home in Los Angeles to Europe, where he with his wife, who stopped in Omaha for a short visit, will spend the summer on the continent. Mr. DeGarmo came to Plattsmouth for the first time in 1883, and worked as a plasterer and contractor in this city for three years. When he first came here the Coates block (the Fitzgerald block for many years) was being built and he was to plaster it. During the time which intervened from his arrival until it was ready, he put in on the plastering of the

ARE YOU NUMBER THIRTEEN? PARENTS OBEY YOUR CHILDREN!

This is not scripture by any means, but it is fashionable. Some time ago in a millinery department of a large store, a devoted mother was trying her level best to purchase a hat for her daughter, a little girl of seven years of age. Their was a particular hat the girl wanted, but her mother's pocketbook had picked another which this daughter of hers did not like, and she declared to her mother that she would not wear it, so there you are. Her mother simply had to buy the other hat. In Plattsmouth, however, it is different. A little boy was needing a pair of good shoes; he told it this way to his mother: "Mother! You know that I am needing a pair of shoes, you and papa of course pays for my shoes, and can buy them wherever you want to, but do you know if you would buy a pair of Dovey's shoes for me, it would be cheaper for you. I know Johnnie Smith says he always gets his shoes there, and they last longer than my shoes, and then besides, if you should happen to be the thirteenth shoe customer, they don't cost you a cent. See! That is the way a Plattsmouth boy talks to his parents, and in that case it is wise to act according to the wish of the child. See the ladies' shoes we are selling this week for $1.90.

house, which but a few years since was torn down, just opposite the postoffice, and which until recently was used for a plumbing shop by the water company, and was condemned as unsafe and was torn down. Afterwards when the big block was finished, he plastered that. He departed for the west in 1871, and located at Los Angeles, where he has made his home since, and is now the president of the Los Angeles Lime and Cement Company, a corporation doing an immense business and having a large amount of capital invested.
Mr. DeGarmo will depart for Omaha tomorrow, where he will join his wife and they will depart for the east, and after visiting for a while in their childhood homes, will sail for Europe, to be absent until about the first of next year.
J. W. Murdock, from near Nehawka was looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth Monday and found time to pay the Journal office a short call.
A. J. Hansell, from near Union, was a Plattsmouth visitor today. Mr. Hansell is another one of the Journal readers who always calls about once a year at least, and of course paid us a brief visit today. Such readers are the kind that help the printer buy paper.

Wall Paper

Why buy your paper from a peddler, who will turn around and give you order to a catalogue house on the Sears-Roebuck plan? You must pay him in advance, so that he can get the goods. Suppose you have some left over or the paper is not what it was represented by the peddler's sample book? You would have to pay return express or accept the paper, for he has your money. We give you the privilege of returning unused paper, for we carry our paper IN STOCK.
