As we were returning from dinner yesterday we noticed Jim Sage and Frank Anderson, from Pacific Junction setting in front of the furniture store. Frank had his hat off, his ball-head was shining like a full moon, and his mouth was stretched about double its usual size, and we knew that Jim was telling him a story about some horse trade. Jim and Frank make a good team and pull together nicely.

HOW TO SECURE ENGLISH ESTATES

Some Desirable Information Regarding Such Cases

Consul Church Howe of Manchester, England, has forwarded to the state library a copy of the London Gazette, containing information in regard to how claimants may ascertain whether dormant funds are lying in chancery for them and warning them against fraudulent claim agents who pretend to represent the courts of England and who promise to recover funds in chancery or unclaimed estates for fees or upon a percentage.

Church Howe's letter to H. C. Lindsey accompanying the publication, is as follows:

On account of the erroneous impression that there is in the keeping of the government of Great Britain estates covering millions upon millions of dollars awaiting legal heirs, and from the fact that many letters are received at this consulate from Nebraska parties every year, making inquiries regarding estates in which they are under the impression they are heirs to, I have mailed you, for filling in the state library, a copy of the last edition of the London Gazette, dated March 5, 1908, published officially by the authority of the British government, giving a list of the dormant funds now in the chancery division of the high court of justice.

Attached to and made part of said publication, is an extract of report of Secretary White of the American embassy, London, dated November 5, 1884, regarding unclaimed estates in England.

That the members of the bar and interested parties may know that this official Gazette is on file in the state library, will you kindly give said information through the newspapers? I am, sir, your obedient servant.

CHURCH HOWE

Will Graduate This Evening.

Dr. E. W. Cook, wife and son, Harris departed for Malvern, Iowa, this afternoon, where they go to visit with the Dr. twin brother, A. E. Cook and family, and to attend the commencement exercises at the Malvern High school for this year. At the closing exercises, two of Dr. Cook's nephews will graduate, Carl and Kenneth. They are acquainted with many of our young men, having played in the city with the Malvern base ball, foot ball and basketball teams. They are both young men of more than ordinary ability, and have a good promise of success before them. They are hard workers, and this coupled with their natural ability, insures for them success in whatever avenues they may choose to travel.

Will Take School Censuses.

Beginning next Monday the school censuses for the city district will be taken. Miss Anna Kanka has been selected as the one to take the census for the Second and Third wards; Miss Nellie Whalen for the Fourth and Fifth wards, while Miss Gertrude Morgan will take the census of the first ward.

J. W. Amick Injured.

J. W. Amick was injured last week, but not seriously. He was turning some horses out to pasture, when he was thrown down and struck on the back of his head, also bruising his back. He lay unconscious for about an hour when discovered and taken into the house. Dr. Richard was called to attend his injuries, and his patient was able to come to town Friday.—Weeping Water Republican.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

BURGLARS IN TOWN AGAIN

They Enter the Home of Mrs. Beeson But Were Scared Away.

At about midnight last night the house of Mrs. Allen Beeson was entered and an attempt made to burglarize the place, and but for the calling of Mr. John Beeson, by his mother, would have succeeded. The family consisting of Mrs. Allen Beeson and daughter, Miss Gertrude, and son, John Beeson and wife, slept in the upper portion of the house. The lower portion which is a basement, was entered through one of the windows, the entrance being gained into the dining room. Here they ransacked a sideboard and a dresser throughout, but the upper drawer, which was locked, the dresser was an old one, just been painted, and had not dried sufficiently, and the fingers prints of the burglar were left on the new painted wood. In the top drawer was all the silverware, and some jewelry, and a watch or two. This being locked they did not get into it. When he tried to force a door open which led into an adjoining room, he awakened Mrs. Beeson, who called to her son, and frightened off the burglar. No investigations were made in the basement until this morning, when the door leading outside and the window through which he entered, was partly raised. Nothing was missed, but it is evident that the man left in a hurry, from the fact that he left the door standing wide open.

Burlington Crop Report.

A fine prospect of a big wheat crop on the Wymore and Lincoln divisions and a very fair one on the McCook division is the report of the Burlington crop expert for the past week.

On the McCook division the straw will be short. On the two eastern divisions wheat has headed out and is in prime shape. No damage from insects is reported.

Corn is out of the ground and growing nicely, the stand being good except on some of the bottom lands on the Wymore division, which has been washed out somewhat by recent floods. Spring grain is progressing well.

There will be considerable more fruit in the eastern district than was supposed there would be after the heavy frosts of the early part of the month. Sugar beets are growing well, pastures are excellent and stock is likewise.

The rain of Saturday and Sunday extended over the McCook division which was needing moisture badly. On the eastern divisions the rains were heavier.

A Deserved Promotion

The Journal is pleased to learn that Miss Rebecca Haines has been employed in one of the departments of the Plattsmouth public schools for next year. Miss Haines has been teaching in the rural districts for several years and is at present in charge of the Becker school. Being a very close student in her profession, she has always given general satisfaction everywhere she has taught, and we are satisfied the board of education made no mistake in employing Miss Haines.

Bugs Destroying Peach Trees.

A little green bug of the winged variety is busy on the peach trees, are destroying the fruit and causing the leaves and fruit to drop. The little bugs are known as "ant cows" and a tree that is "lousy" with them is sure to be the favorite resort of a million little red and black ants. These ants do not destroy the bugs, but milk them and live on the milk thus obtained. The rose bushes are afflicted the same way and they also are swarming with little green worms, which destroy the leaves as well as the blossoms. This is caused by the fact that we have had so much wet and cloudy weather. However use a sprayer and dry powdered hellebore.—Nebraska City News.

Three Acres Short.

Surveyor E. E. Hilton of Plattsmouth was in town last Thursday. He had been out to Peter Spangler's place, adjoining A. A. Larsch, to survey. It was a rather near trip for Mr. Spangler if we are rightly informed, in that the survey shows Mr. Spangler about three acres of land short. The government survey it appears was not correct insofar as the corner stones do not enclose full sections, but as deeds given call for so many acres more or less, each purchaser has no recourse. Mr. Lasch may conclude to move his line over on to that now occupied by Mr. Spangler, and if he does the latter may claim peaceable possession for ten years and have him restrained by injunction. And again they may settle their difference in a friendly way.—Weeping Water Republican.

Death at Union.

A special from Nebraska City says: "Mrs. Sarah P. Clinkensbeard who was taken ill and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lynde, at Union, was brought to this city Tuesday and the remains placed to rest in the cemetery by the side of her husband who died years ago. The deceased was born December 8, 1829, and came to this city some thirty-five years ago, where she since made her home. She is survived by Mrs. Louie Lynde, of Beatrice; Mrs. Isaiah Lynde, of Union; T. B. Clinkensbeard, of Kansas, Miss Mea, John and William of this city."

Honesty is the Best Policy.

This saying is good as it is old. Bringing it into connection with advertising Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine has the purpose of calling the attention of our readers to the fact that this honestly prepared remedy, consisting of the best red wine and carefully selected herbs, occupies the first place among similar preparations. Our people found out that it is a very valuable remedy in all maladies of the stomach and the intestines. If you have lost your appetite, if you are weak, tired, pale, indifferent, if your complexion is poor, your eyes dull, if you have constant headache, pains or cramp, constipation, Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine will help you. At drug stores. Jos. Triner, 616 622 So. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Man Injured at Louisville.

A special from Louisville under date of yesterday, says: "V. Hardy was seriously injured at the National Stone company quarry last evening. Mr. Hardy is time-keeper for the company and he rode in from the quarry, which is a short distance from the office, on the pony engine used to draw the dirt cars to and from the quarry. The engine was backing and he slipped when preparing to dismount while the engine was in motion, falling in the center of the track. The engine passed over him, and he was struck by the ash pan, which severely cut and bruised his body. One of the doctors was soon at the quarry and dressed the wound, and reports no bones broken."

John Crabill Uncle Again.

As we stepped into the well appointed jewelry emporium of John W. Crabill this morning we perceived an unusually happy expression on his face, not that he is not good-natured at all times, but this morning it was pronounced, and when we asked the cause, he said: "The stork had been gracious, and last evening had seen fit to leave the sweetest mite of humanity in the shape of a boy at the home of Harry Northcutt, of Omaha." The mother and son are doing well, while Harry is still able to pursue his daily avocation. Here at Plattsmouth, John sees a pair of smiling eyes looking at him out of every watch he works on.
