The Latter Named at Conference in Both Lincoln and Chicago.

A special from Chicago, under date his home this morning, having visited of June 16 says: A conference of Demoin the city over Sunday at the home of cratic politicians in this city to-day, following several conferences held at the home of W. J. Bryan, in Lincoln, Neb., last week, resulting in the announcement that Charles A. Towne, of New York, is to be Bryan's running-mate on the Democratic ticket.

W. F. Gillespie, of Mynard, was a Farly last week Colonel Henry Watterson, the veteran Democratic editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, went to Lincoln for a conference with Bryan. On his way out he stopped at Chicago for a day to study the Republican situation. Before he left Lincoln he said in an interview that Bryan would be nominated at Denver of the first ballot. Mr. Towne was a day behind Colonel Watterson. He, too, stopped over a day in this city to study the Republican situation. The two met in Lincoln. Mr. Towne arrived here last night on his way to New York and immediately sent for some of his friends, who are prominent in Democratic politics in Illinois. After the conference, one of his friends

"Former Senator Towne, of Minnesota, now of New York, will be named announcement of his candidacy will be made within three or four days, either from New York or Lincoln."

The New York delegates to the Democratic National Convention are unin-Chairman Conners and Tammany Leader Murphy. For some time there has been a general impression among Democrats throughout the country that the votes of the New York delegation would be thrown to Bryan in the Denver convention if Conners and Murphy could name the man for second place. The seventy-eight votes of New York would give Bryan more than the necessary two-thirds to nominate. Mr. Towne left for New York early this morning.
