

The Plattsmouth Journal

PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT
PLATTSMOUTH, NEBRASKA

R. A. BATES, PUBLISHER.

Entered at the postoffice at Plattsmouth, Nebr., as second-class matter.

AS A republican antimonopolist in Ohio, former Attorney General Monnett is now proceeding on the theory that the bark of republican antimonopoly ought to be followed by a bite of some kind.

THE time for filing for places on the primary ticket is rapidly drawing to a close. Those wanting the people to pass on their candidature should take heed and get their names on the ticket.

THE plan of fining trusts got a severe jolt when the Standard Oil Company escaped that twenty-nine million dollar fine. The best plan is to put some trust magnates in jail, good democratic doctrine.

BRYAN and Kern are names to conjure with. The mere announcement that either of them will make a little journey makes the people set up and take notice, and big crowds greet them everywhere.

THE way new subscribers are pouring into the Journal office serves to show that it is furnishing a fairly decent paper. For that reason it cannot afford to notice slurs from a prurient sheet with no circulation.

WELL, the Standard Oil did it. The federal court of appeals found out that Judge Landis had been guilty of the most reprehensible conduct in fining that corporation. It is a wonder the Judge escaped going to jail himself.

ONE of the most commendable reforms in the country would be to squeeze some water out of corporation stocks. If that were done dividends would be paid and wages remain where they are, without any hubbub over higher freight rates.

OLD Cass county will be democratic this year sure. It is in the air. Everyone is tired of the misrule under which they have been the past twelve years, and especially the last four. Fuss, fury and noise have had their day, and sound business must prevail.

THE most unscrupulously unreliable political dispenser of news and party affairs, is that sheet called the Bee. There is hardly an item of news not edited in such a way, that it will reflect credit upon the dirty old machine which dispenses trust funds to win votes for its candidates.

JUDGE TAFT will accept no contributions from corporations, so he says. When the republican national committee goes as far as the democrats and make their contributions public before election, we will all come nearer seeing how close Treasurer Sheldon follows the instructions of his chief.

THIS is evidently to be a good year for the democrats. With three strong candidates for governor in the field, it shows the boys have hopes, and good ones. Shallenberger, Berge and Dahman are all good candidates and no matter which wins he will carry the election. There ought to be some hot times before the primary, as they are all good fighters.

THE increase of $26,000,000 in our exports to Canada for a year is reported from Washington with pride, which might be justifiable if our own imports had not been forced down during the same time. On the record as it stands the Canadians have a right to be proud that they could afford an increase of trade with us in a year when our trade in outside goods was heavily decreased.

It would seem from an editorial in last evening's issue of the News, that the editor of that sheet is not experiencing enough troubles of his own just now, and instead of endeavoring to adjust his own, is allowing some illegitimate editorial bantling to saddle more upon his shoulders. The evidence of this fact being plain in what was said regarding the Elmwood Leader-Echo and Journal. The Journal has troubles enough of its own without unnecessarily saddling the troubles of others upon our shoulders, and have prospered fairly well by endeavoring to strictly attend to our own business.

THE interests of the business man, the farmer and the workingman are identical. If one prospers the other does. Is it then advisable to array them against one another?

In 1896 the republican slogan was "A full dinner pail and a chance to earn it." In 1908 the railway men, after twelve years of republican rule in the state and nation, have adopted as their motto "A full dinner pail and a chance to earn it." The people demand a change.

While railwaymen's protective associations are being formed all over the doubtful states, it might be well for the thinking railway men to remember that there is no cut in the dividends being paid on enormously watered stock of the railroads which talk of cutting his wages.

One of the speakers at the railwaymen's meeting last night called his auditors attention to the fact that in 1904 after the Cleveland panic there were 94,000 idle railroad men in the country, and today after the Roosevelt panic there were 350,000. This is why the people demand a change.

EVERY day brings additions to the rising tide for Bryan and Kern. Eastern correspondents who have invaded the west report everywhere the sentiment for the great Commoner sweeping the prairies like a wild fire. The west is for an honest government and it knows Bryan and Kern will give it one.

THE fight within the republican ranks on county option to which the Journal called attention seems to have stirred up the animals. The democratic party will take the right stand on this issue as on all others and the thing to do is to elect its representatives. This is another bid for every man's vote if he believes in good government—not an appeal to any class of voters.

THE "insiders" of a corporation who contribute its money for the control of elections must either say nothing about it on the books for information of its outside stockholders or they must open an account with "yellow dogs," as was done when things were hot in New York. When the men who pay out corporation money to control politics called it a "yellow dog fund" they recorded the answer to this year's questions of its taint.

NOW it is being explained that Mr. Taft is in favor of an employers' liability bill, currency reform, a bill requiring political parties to publish reports of the sources and manner expenditure of campaign, tariff revision—in fact, about every thing the republican congress has failed or refused to do. It becomes very evident that Mr. Taft and the republican congressmen who are candidates for re-election will be found standing on opposing platforms. Whatever may be the declaration of principles set forth by the national convention the records of republican congressmen furnish a platform as far as they are concerned. No republican can cast a consistent ballot, on which are the names of both Taft and present republican congressmen.

IT is amusing to see the republicans prod each other up to the fact that they should support Taft and not pay any attention to the platform that was adopted by the "interests" in their convention at Chicago. Some of the leading republicans are having hard work in trying to keep their party members in line. It is also surprising to see some of the fellows swallow the dose, those that have been parading as reform republicans in the past few years. One old republican was heard to remark the other day that he could not see why any Nebraska republican should support Taft in the face of the platform his party has. He said he considered he belonged to the reform and liberal element of the republican party and in order to come nearer supporting those principles he was going to support Bryan for president. Every honest republican should make the same declaration.

Joe Klein, the popular agent for the Equitable insurance company, accompanied Tom Parmele to this city yesterday, coming in Mr. Parmele's automobile. He expects to visit Manley and Elmwood today, returning to his home in Lincoln tonight.

Bernard Wurl, who has been absent for a few days in the interest of Wurl Bros. fine cigars, returned last evening. He was quite a sport while away, tearing around over the country in automobiles and showing the country folks what a real live cigar manufacturer was.

V. C. Ahlstrand, wife and family returned last evening from Logan and Lake Okoboji, Ia., where they have been for some time enjoying a vacation and having a fine time generally. They all look fine and hearty and it is plain to be seen the outing did them a world of good.

The body of the late Henry Decatur Barr was taken to Weeping Water this morning by Undertaker John P. Sattler, he driving overland. Wm. Wynn and family accompanied the remains to be present at the interment, which will be at Weeping Water today, he being buried beside his mother in the cemetery there.

Warning!

The day has passed when the use of gelatine, starch, vanilla and other delerious adulterations were allowed in the manufacture of ice cream. The pure food laws have placed a penalty on anyone using these ingredients, but unscrupulous dealers will continue to use them in order to cheapen their product. In buying ice cream you should demand if same contains starch, gelatine or substitute vanilla, the latter generally containing vanillins, a coal tar product which is injurious to the digestion, especially in the case of children. Better still, always ask for "Fairy Ice Cream," and it the dealer suggests that he has something just as good, don't believe it, as the imitation is never as good as the original. Make it a point to buy "Fairy Ice Cream" made by Nemetz & Co., and you will get the full value of you money in the best product in this city.

Mr. Gering's Vindication.

In a scurrilous editorial last night the News endeavors to saddle upon Mayor Gering the odium of a complete back-down on the matter of vindicating his character from the malevolent and indecent attacks which have lately been made upon him.

This editorial can fool only those unfamiliar with the facts in the matter. Mr. Gering has been amply vindicated in several ways:

First, He was discharged from the charge brought against him by a republican court thoroughly familiar with the facts. This court found that he had committed no offense and it gave him such a certificate of character as would be impervious to attacks such as the News made last night. It is true that Judge Beeson has brought down the wrath of the republican press on his head by his bold stand for honesty and decency, but every thinking man knows he did the honest thing in this case.

Second, Mr. Gering, by exposing the corrupt nature of the case against him, was again vindicated. The people of Cass county are now amply informed as to the true inwardness of the attack upon him and they have determined in their minds that the due punishment for such a method of capturing offenders (?) will be meted out.

Mr. Gering had confidence in the people of Cass county and especially of this city. After due deliberation he had determined to let matters take their course and drop some contemplated prosecutions. Satisfied that the people understood the dirty deal which he had been called upon to face, he was content to rest his case. For the welfare of all concerned, it was hoped no more would be said of the matter. The News in the interest of the public should have taken a similar stand, but in its malignancy seems to be unable to know a good thing when it sees it.
