FRED RANKE

BADLY HURT

Injured While Visiting in Council Bluffs, on Sunday Last.

Fred Ranke yesterday was seriously injured at Council Bluffs by a hard fall received at the hide house of W. R. Lindsey & Co. Mr. Ranke, in company with Carl Kunsman, his partner, and W. A. Lindsey, were going through the hide house on a tour of inspection, when Mr. Ranke, in crossing over a catch basin slipped and fell into the basin, a distance of some five feet. He struck upon his left side on a piece of two by six, striking just below the first rib and badly bruising the left side. Several ribs were forced up and out of place. Mr. Kunsman and Mr. Lindsey at once went to the unfortunate man's assistance, and picking him up laid him upon an improvised stretcher. When Mr. Ranke struck the timber he cried out: "Oh! God, I'm hurt," and fainted away. As soon as he had been placed upon the stretcher efforts were made to obtain medical assistance, but this took some time, as almost all the physicians were absent from home enjoying the breezes of Lake Manawa. Finally, Dr. Matt Tinley was secured, and upon his arrival he gave Mr. Ranke a hypodermic injection to allay the fearful pain he was suffering, and ordered ice placed upon the injured part. Mr. Ranke's ribs were badly swollen and the physician was afraid they were broken. He also feared that the stomach was ruptured. Owing to Mr. Ranke's serious condition Dr. Tinley thought a surgical examination advisable and wanted him removed to a hospital. Mr. Ranke objected vigorously, as he did not consider himself so badly injured and insisted that he be taken home.

After a supper of soft boiled eggs, toast and coffee, Messrs. Kunsman and Lindsey carried Mr. Ranke to a car on which he was conveyed to Omaha and taken to the Missouri Pacific train which brought him to this city at midnight last night. He was taken to his home in a hack and this morning he had medical attendance, Dr. Cook being summoned. He made an examination and found that Mr. Ranke had suffered a severe bruise upon the left side, and the entire region of his ribs being badly pounded up. He found that no ribs had been broken and the stomach was not ruptured. He applied the necessary remedies and this morning Mr. Ranke was resting easier.

While the injury is not dangerous it is decidedly painful and will occasion Mr. Ranke a great deal of trouble. It will likely confine him to his bed for some time to come and prevent his looking after his duties at the meat market. Mr. W. A. Lindsey came down with him from Council Bluffs and today is assisting Mr. Kunsman in attending to the wants of the customers at the market.
