Ed. Brantner kindly remembered the office force of The Journal with a sack of fine Duchess apples today. Eddie has quite a crop of this kind of apples, as well as several hundred bushels of other kinds, and they are worth a small fortune to him. He has our thanks for his kindly remembrance.

George Falter, the popular clerk at Wescott's, is at home with an attack of fever. He went to Omaha Monday afternoon and returned home that night. The next morning he was taken ill and has since been compelled to take to his bed. His illness it is to be hoped is not serious or of long duration and his many friends will be pleased to note his early recovery.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest of its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You can have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Mrs. John Lutz and daughter, are spending the day in Omaha, having been passengers on No. 19 this morning for that point.

W. F. Ransel of Seward, and his uncle, R. H. Ransel of Edgemont, S. D., arrived in this city Wednesday for a visit with friends.

Mrs. Lee Cotner and sister, Laura Tower, are spending the afternoon in Omaha today visiting and seeing the sights of the metropolis.

Mrs. John Geiser and two grandchildren were passengers this noon for Omaha where Mrs. Geiser expects to remain for several days.

The ladies of the Christian church will hold an apron bazaar Saturday afternoon and evening, and serve ice cream and cake, in Van Horn's music store.

Rev. S. E. Lloyd and family of Lincoln, and C. W. Lloyd who were present at the Lloyd-Jeans wedding last evening were passengers for their homes in Lincoln this morning.

John Hiber, jr., was among those transacting business at Omaha today being a passenger on the fast mail. He expects to soon depart for O'Neil, Neb., where he contemplates accepting a position.

Our old democratic friend Henry Meisinger came in from his farm south of Cedar Creek to meet his sister-in-law, Mrs. Maggie Bloomport and her son Will, who came in from Illinois for a visit with the genial Henry and his accomplished wife. They expect to make a visit of some time and are assured of a good time. Mr. Meisinger's son also accompanied him to the city, the entire party returning to his home this afternoon.

A Six O'clock Train.

Plattsmouth people who attend the old settlers reunion at Union tomorrow and next day can stay there until 6 o'clock each evening, at which time the Missouri Pacific will have a train in waiting to bring them home. This arrangement will be good news to those who wish to spend the entire day at the big annual picnic in Union.

BOSTON'S BIGGEST TAXPAYER KILLED

J. MONTGOMERY SEARS DIES IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

CAR PLUNGES OVER BANK

Young Millionaire was Prominent in City Politics and was a Candidate for the Massachusetts Senate.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 13.—J. Montgomery Sears, the young Boston millionaire who was hurt in an automobile accident Wednesday between Apponaug and Norwood, died at the Rhode Island hospital late in the day. He did not recover consciousness from the time of the accident until death came. The body was taken in charge by a local undertaking firm pending advices from the young man's relatives, who are abroad, but who have been notified of his demise.

Mr. Sears was one of the richest men of Boston. He came into an estate three years ago upon the death of his father.

Mr. Sears was 33 years of age and was a graduate of Harvard university. He was fond of all outdoor sports and was an enthusiastic automobilist. He was last year the largest individual taxpayer in Boston. Nearly all of the property is located in the business district and in the fashionable section of Back Bay.

Candidate for Senate. Mr. Sears was a member of many clubs and he had figured in city politics. He had announced his candidacy for the Massachusetts senate the coming election. He was not married.

George Saunders, his chauffeur, was seriously hurt in the automobile accident on the Apponaug road, about five miles from here. The car was being driven at a speed of about 50 miles an hour. At the point where the accident occurred there is a sharp curve. As the road is a lonely one, and the men had to rely wholly on their own lights, it is presumed they came upon it unexpectedly, and in an attempt to round it at high speed one of the front wheels of the machine broke and the car plunged over an embankment.

Another automobile, containing A. Albert Sack, Jr., and Charles Webster of Providence, happened to be in the vicinity at the time, and, hearing the crash and the groans of the men, they rushed their cars to the scene of the accident, where they found Sears and Saunders unconscious on the ground, with their automobile in flames.

Sears Terribly Hurt. They took the injured men to the Norwood house, and from there they were taken in an ambulance to the Rhode Island hospital in this city.

It was found at the hospital that Mr. Sears was suffering from a fracture of the skull, a fractured trachea and internal injuries. An operation was immediately performed, but the doctors held forth only slight hopes of his recovery. Saunders sustained two fractures of the leg and will recover.

THE CLOSE OF AN EXEMPLARY LIFE

Mahlon A. Dickson Received the Great Summons this Morning.

DIED—Dickson, Mahlon A., aged sixty-four years, three months and twenty-nine days, at his home in Plattsmouth, Neb., on August 13, 1908, at 7 a. m., of heart disease. Funeral Saturday afternoon, 3.30 Aug. 15, 1908, under auspices of G. A. R.

After a long siege of illness, dating back some ten years, death this morning closed the eyes of Mahlon A. Dickson, one of the most exemplary men in this community. A man universally beloved and without an enemy in the world, a kind and loving husband and brother, whose loss is felt most keenly by not alone his immediate family, but all who had the good fortune to know him.

Born in the good old county of Shelby, Ind., on April 14, 1844, the boy Dickson grew to manhood just in time to hear the call of his country for defenders, and like the faithful lover of his country that he was, he responded, joining the 30th Iowa Infantry and serving through three years of the greatest war the earth has ever witnessed. He was a gallant soldier under that fearless and brave general, Wm. T. Sherman, and was with him on his famous march to the sea. Those familiar with history know well the metal that the men of Sherman's army were made of and Mahlon Dickson was a worthy soldier in that great body of brave men. His military record shines resplendent with his brave deeds, and his devotion to the G. A. R. is but in keeping with that great record.

With the close of the war Mr. Dickson returned to the pursuits of civil life, locating at Burlington, Ia., where he was married to his wife Emily, on December 12, 1882. The following May he moved to this city and entered the employ of the Burlington road as watchman at the big bridge, a position he has occupied ever since. It is a splendid tribute to this man's steadfastness to say that he has been an employe of the Burlington for the long period of thirty-eight years. For twenty-five years he had watched from the lonely tower at the end of the bridge, high upon the bluffs above the river, the coming and passing of the winter storms of snow and the summer showers of rain, and his life was peaceful and calm in the midst of the turmoil and tumult of busy lives.

Deceased left surviving him his widow, and two sisters, viz: Mrs. Rozell Davis, Grand Rapids, Mich; and Mrs. Mary M. Cress of Indianapolis, Ind., and one brother Chilon L. Dickson of Portland, O. He was a charter member of the Knights and Ladies of Security and of John McConihie post G. A. R. In both these organizations he had manifested great interest and largely aided them in all their material interests.

The illness which closed the career of this good man followed an attack of La Grippe some ten years ago. The passing of the attack left him with a weakened heart and in the end closed his life. In the darkest hours of his suffering when he knew the battle was drawing to a close he bore his pains and ills with the fortitude of the brave soldier he was. As the shadows deepened and death approached this noble man retained his consciousness to the end and discussed without fear the future.

It is a noble and inspiring lesson to observe with what serenity this grand character met the end—a lesson that teaches the value of a true good life and one which should sink deep into the hearts of all. In his passing this community loses one of its best citizens and one whom all will mourn alike.

Andy Snyder formerly of this county but now of Ulysses, Butler county, is in the city visiting relatives and friends. Andy reports things in Butler county as flourishing and in a prosperous condition. In common with this county they badly need rain but can stand the dry weather for some time longer. He expects to be here for about a week.

The many friends of H. J. Streight will be glad to hear that the gentleman is now able to be up and around the house and to take his meals regularly with his family. He is progressing nicely toward recovery and will soon be himself again.

Aug. Bradley and John J. Clodt were passengers this noon on the fast mail for Denver, Col., and possibly other western points going out to spend a few days of pleasure.
