SHALLENBERGER BREAKS ANKLE

Governor-Elect Injured at the Shriner Initiation at Lincoln.

From Friday's Daily—
Lincoln, Neb., 19.—With his left leg cushioned in a chair, Governor-elect Ashton B. Shallenberger today received scores of callers at his room in the Lincoln hotel. Many came just to pay their respects and condole with him over the accident which will put him out of active commission for a short time, probably. In spite of the inconvenience caused by a broken bone the new governor spent the entire day consulting with prominent men from all over the state with respect to the program for the coming administration.

He was injured at the close of an initiation into the Shriners last night. He had traversed the burning sands without mishap, but wound up by twisting his ankle. He is a heavy man and the result was that one of the small ankle bones broke, at least that is the diagnosis of Dr. Fitzsimmons, who attended him. It was thought that nothing worse than a slight strain had been suffered for some time.

The injury will make it impossible for Mr. Shallenberger to fill his appointments in Omaha. He announced definitely this afternoon that he will not be able to go to Omaha Friday night and will probably return to Alama to rest and recuperate for a few days. He hopes to be able to carry out his intention of making the trip to Oklahoma later.

The governor-elect stated that he would probably have an announcement to make tomorrow with respect to the policy of his administration on certain specific matters. He may also have some more appointments to make public. It is the intention of the new governor to take the people of the state into his confidence just as fast as he arrives at definite plan.

Among those with whom he has been in conference are J. H. Morehead of Fall City, C. E. Harmon of Holdrege, C. P. Fall of Beatrice, Representative M. A. Bates of Plattsmouth, Dr. A. P. Fitzsimmons of Tecumseh, B. Koedler of Geneva, C. M. Gruenther of Columbus, Arthur F. Mullen of O'Neill.

The governor-elect has been besieged by the applicants of the appointments of which he may dispose, and by friends and indorsers of applicants. It is likely that he will have all the new appointments of his hands before the new term begins, however, and will not be buffeted around by office seekers while he is getting the new administration under way.

BIG BAZAAR NOW OVER Ladies Make Glorious Success Out of Affair.

From Friday's Daily—
The bazaar given last night for the second time by the ladies of St. Mary's Guild of the Episcopal church was the close of two of the finest performances of the kind ever given or attempted in this city. Throughout the performances the Journal has reviewed them so thoroughly little remains to be said. It is a pleasure to remark that the performance last evening was up to that of the previous night and that the attendance was again excellent.

The marvelous work of the ladies in preparing the several booths has been commented upon at length and little additional can be said upon that line except to note the heavy expense to which a number of them have been placed. That it was heavy one need only look at the work on the booths to tell.

The vaudeville performance, which was under the direction of Mr. H. S. Austin, was again a glittering success, every number earning well merited applause and encores in profusion. This performance is generally spoken of as the very finest of the kind ever given here although many other excellent attractions have been given by Prof. Austin which won the people. He was assisted in this entertainment by the very best talent the city could produce and everyone knows what it is. Those assisting in the program included in addition to Prof. Austin, Mrs. Austin, Miss Edna Peterson, Mr. Guy McMaken and Misses Catherine and Edith Dovey, an array of talent which in itself guaranteed a fine evening's entertainment.

The general direction of the entertainment was given by Mrs. Eva Reese and the credit for its success is in a large measure due to her indomitable persistence and perseverance in getting it lined up and in shape. Throughout the preliminaries and during the progress of the entertainment she was constantly at work lining the attractions up.

She had many worthy assistants, including Miss Ella Margaret Dovey, Mrs. A. L. Tidd, Misses Barbara and Mia Gering, Mrs. J. E. McDaniel, Mrs. H. N. Dovey, Mrs. E. S. Austin, Mrs. L. A. Moore, Mrs. C. W. Baylor, Mrs. Geo. Dodge, Mrs. T. P. Livingston, Miss Lucille Bates, Miss Verna Leonard, Mrs. A. L. Anderson, Mrs. Cook, Miss Alice Eaton, Miss Reinbeck, Miss Lena Fricke, Misses Verna and Ina Hatt, Miss Stanfield Jones, Mrs. Anna Britt, Miss Kittie Cummins, Miss Florence Dovey, Miss Violet Dodge, Mrs. W. L. Pickett, Miss Maud Mason, Miss Anna Egenberger, Mrs. D. O. Dwyer, Mrs. Henry Herold, Mrs. W. C. Clements, Miss Delia Tartsch, Mrs. Petersen, Miss Robinson, Miss Thompson and a host of others, all of whom are entitled to great credit for their activities and expenditures toward making the bazaar the great success it was. To the several ladies in charge of the booths and their erection too much praise cannot be bestowed, those having charge of the booths being, Japan, Miss Ella Margaret Dovey, Italy, Mrs. A. L. Tidd, Ireland, Miss Barbara Gering, England, Mrs. Geo. Dodge, United States, Mrs. T. P. Livingston, Spain, Mrs. J. E. McDaniel, Holland Miss Verna Leonard.

One of the best features of the entertainment was the disposition of all asked to make substantial donations for it. Those foreign manufacturers of food products who were asked to donate to the affair did so with commendable generosity and the United States booth was a veritable pure food show in itself while each of the other booths had many fine donations in evidence, particularly that of Ireland which was as fine an exhibit of needle work as is seen in many larger exhibitions.

The several booths which served refreshments are to be highly commended as they had most excellent and toothsome delicacies in abundance. There was a delicious and soothing tea at Japan, Italy furnished nearly every delicacy the palate could ask while the Spanish booth served Pinos, a toothsome pineapple drink which went to the spot, and Chile con carne, that southern dish which has warmed its way into our hearts, most deliciously made and highly appetizing. Holland had coffee and cake of par excellence.

The success of the bazaar netted the Guild a handsome sum and marks an epoch in the arrangement of such affairs in the future. It shows that a meritorious attraction in this city gets patronage and leads the way for the future.

Making a Short Trip.

From Friday's Daily—
Former Senator S. L. Thomas and Walter L. Thomas, agent for the famous Jackson automobile, this afternoon made a trip to Weeping Water in their new machine taking with them A. W. Atwood, the Omaha Bee correspondent in this city. The purpose of the trip was to give Mr. Atwood the opportunity to see the country in its fall dress and also to demonstrate the smooth running qualities of the new machine. Wherever good roads are encountered it is likely a test of the machine's speed and qualities will be made. The party will return this afternoon also.

Returns Her Thanks.

Mrs. E. Shubeck, the woman for whom the Journal several weeks ago made an appeal for help, and who at the time had diphtheria in the family preventing her from attending to her work, was a caller at the Journal office and asks that her sincere thanks be extended to a number of ladies in the city who came to her assistance in response to the Journal's appeal. She reports that she received substantial aid which enabled her to tide over the bad spell she was having. This was the case which the commissioners investigated and found that they were without legal authority to aid her but which was a genuine case where help was needed. The woman is now able to again take up her work, the family being well, out of quarantine and any work given her will be appreciated.

Settled the Case.

The case of Micek vs. Svehla, mentioned of which was made in the Journal several days ago has been settled and dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff. The garnishee William Holly was ordered to pay over the money in his hands to the defendant. The terms of settlement were not filed with Judge Beeson, so they are not made public. This is the case wherein Matthew Gering as the attorney for Carl Micek sought to garnishee the insurance money of the late Frank Svehla in the hands of William Holly, payable to Marie Svehla, the widow. The case promised to raise some nice law points but it did not reach the trial.

FOUR YOUNG PEOPLE MARRY

License to Wed Issued to Two Popular Couples Yesterday.

From Friday's Daily—
Judge Beeson in county court yesterday issued two marriage licenses to prominent young people of Cass county. One was to Jerry McHugh, aged 26 of South Bend and Miss Emma Esther Towle aged 29, of Wabash, and the other license was to Conrad Crabtree, aged 22, and Essie Place aged 22, both of Eagle. All the parties belong to old and well known families in the county and are very prominent and popular young people in their several communities. Mr. McHugh has long been a resident of South Bend and is a young man of most exemplary life and character and his many friends wish him a very long and happy married life. Miss Towle is a daughter of George Towle of Wabash, a most estimable and accomplished young lady with a wide circle of friends whose best wishes will follow her in her matrimonial venture. Mr. Crabtree is one of the best known of the younger gentlemen near Eagle, a fine young man with an excellent record as an industrious and energetic citizen, who enjoys a large number of friends whose congratulations he receives. Miss Place is also well known in her vicinity as an accomplished and popular young lady and one with a great host of friends, all of whom extend to her their best wishes for future happiness.

Pleased With His Work.

M. S. Briggs has just completed the painting of the exterior of a new house at Murray which was built by Jas. A. Walker, W. W. Hamilton having had the contract for the erection of the structure. Mr. Briggs is now engaged in doing some painting for Miss Mae Patterson upon her residence on High School Hill. He has found work in his line very plentiful of late and now has many jobs in sight which he must get to during the coming winter. His work has earned him a reputation as an excellent painter and stands as a guarantee of good service. Mr. Walker is quite well pleased with his work at Murray and as all his other customers stand, he is willing to cheerfully recommend him.

A Great Convenience.

An exchange advocates a plan whereby young ladies attending church in the evening can register their names in the church vestibule so that the young men who are in the habit of lingering around the church door can see whether or not their best girl is present and thus set a troubled brain at rest, without bothering the audience. The plan would undoubtedly be a great convenience for a certain class of young men and would work well in Plattsmouth.

Hicks Says Thanksgiving Clear.

For the benefit of those of the Journal readers who pin their faith on the weather predictions of Prof. Irl R. Hicks, the Journal was permitted to examine a copy of his almanac which is the property of R. Sherwood. From this it appears that Thanksgiving day will be clear and fair with no sleet or snow but that the following three days or rather he says the 26th, which is Thanksgiving Day, the 27th and 28th will have sleet, snow and cold November rains. In the preceding sentence Prof. Hicks says that "Thanksgiving day will miss the usual sleet and snow" which makes his predictions somewhat conflict and makes the professor sure to connect. He further predicts the month will end with storms with sleet and snow and that we must be prepared for heavy storms during December.

FORMER CITIZEN MAKES VISIT

Henry DeGarmo of Los Angeles, California, in City.

From Friday's Daily—
P. D. Bates yesterday had a visit from an old time friend of his in the person of Henry DeGarmo, of Los Angeles, Cal. Mr. DeGarmo was formerly a resident of this city having come here in the early days as a plasterer and having done a large number of jobs upon the older buildings of the city. He is a man who plastered Fitzgerald's hall, now Coates' ball room. He married Miss Emma Geiger, then one of the belles of the city. He and his wife are now on their road home after an extended visit in Europe having been absent on their tour since April of this year. Mr. DeGarmo is connected with the Los Angeles Cement & Lime Co., a large plaster and cement corporation and is financially considered as one of that city's biggest men. He has suffered the usual ups and downs of life since his departure for the coast city, having several times lost his entire fortune only to regain it with much added. Mrs. DeGarmo is expected in the city within a few days for a visit with Henry Boeck and wife.

For His Family's Sake.

The Beatrice Sun says: It is the business of a newspaper to chronicle the events of the day, and among them are the court findings and doings of the courts.

Sometimes in the course of gathering the news, the reporter finds something that does not reflect particular credit upon a party in the case. The culprit or someone sent by him comes to the editor and requests that no mention be made of the matter "for the sake of his family."

If it is a court finding it is a matter of public record and it is the duty of the newspaper to keep the public posted upon such matters. If an exception be made, why not an exception be made in the next case? If a part of the news is suppressed why should it not all be kept in the dark.

The smallest part of the whole business for the culprit to try to hide behind his family. Why doesn't he admit that it is his own cowardice that causes him to seek immunity from what he deserves? Why does he try to drag his grey haired mother or his wife and children to shield him. It is not because of his love for them, but it is his own low-down cowardice. For if he really thought so highly of his family, and was so considerate of their feelings, he would have kept out of the court records. People who conduct themselves as they should, keep out of trouble with courts. If they have any business in court it will not reflect discredit upon them, unless it should.

An offender asking that his misdeeds be covered up should not plead the cause of "his family," but he should admit that he had no respect for his family or himself at the time the thing was done, and ask the editor to have more respect for him than he had for himself.

Potatoes For Sale.

OSSENKOP IS HELD IN BONDS

Ten Thousand Dollars Amount of Bond to the District Court.

From Friday's Daily—
The examination of Fred Ossenkop before Justice Archer yesterday resulted in his being held for trial in the district court in $10,000 bonds which he gave with the same sureties as had appeared for him in the lower court, viz: John Ossenkop.

The evidence which took the greater part of the day was practically the same that was given in the Journal at the time the unfortunate affair occurred. From this it appeared that the murder occurred about 8:30 or 9 o'clock p. m. on the 16th day of September of this year. It was at the close of a picnic at Eagle and Ossenkop had been drinking more or less during the day. He met Byrnes, who lived near him in Lancaster county near the village of Walton, on the street in Eagle, the two men being walking in the same direction and Ossenkop grabbed Byrnes about the neck. Byrnes twisted partially about and the two men fell from the sidewalk some two feet above the ground. After a moment or so of wrestling on the ground Ossenkop leaped to his feet and kicked Byrnes several times about the head and face. He had previously struck him several times with his fist while they were on the ground. Byrnes gasped a few times and then died. Medical examination disclosed that Byrnes' neck had been broken in the fall or by the blows or kicks.

This was the substance of the testimony before Justice Archer yesterday. The complaint against Ossenkop filed by County Attorney Rawls charged murder in the second degree. The preliminary yesterday was conducted by County Attorney Rawls assisted by Attorneys Doyle and Delacy of Lincoln, who had been retained by the dead man's family to assist in the prosecution while the defense was conducted by Matthew Gering. The case will be for trial next spring at the first session of the district court. County-Attorney-elect W. C. Ramsey was present at the court, an interested spectator as he will have the prosecution to look after next year.

Justice Archer this morning prepared a transcript in the case and delivered the same to Clerk of the Court Jas. Robertson during the day.

GLABAUGH VISITS GLENWOOD

Finds Citizens Dissatisfied With the Lights and Quotes Figures.

Supt. A. Clabaugh of the Nebraska Light company has returned from a trip to Glenwood, Ia., where he went for the purpose of investigating the lighting situation. Mr. Clabaugh found the greatest dissatisfaction existing in that city because of the poor quality of the service furnished by the Glenwood plant, and was besought by the citizens to enter the field as a competitor with the Glenwood plant and give them some decent service. He interviewed a great number of the merchants and business men there and comes back well satisfied that the light situation here so far as the commercial end of it is concerned is far superior to what they have to put up with in the Iowa town. He also examined the plant in that city and is amazed that competent judges should pronounce it a satisfactory one. It is manifest that the plant is much too small for the service asked and it is in bad condition besides. While there Mr. Clabaugh secured some interesting information regarding city lighting which he has placed at the disposal of the Journal. The city lighting system consists of four arc lamps of 1200 C. P., eight incandescent lamps 50 C. P., and forty in incandescent lamps of 32 C. P. For this service the town pays the following rates. For the arc lamps $72 per lamp per year, for the 50 C. P. lamps $21.00 per year and forty incandescent lamps $12 per lamp per year. This is for midnight service. The proposed offer of the local company was for an all night service of what is known as forty-five candle power gas lamps, which are in reality from forty-five to fifty-five C. P., for $29 per lamp per year, an offer far superior to the Glenwood rates, while upon the arcs a superior service is offered at $90 per year, this service to run, until one a. m., so as to light the city until after the arrival of the midnight train on the M. P. Taken all around the local proposition is far superior to that given Glenwood. These figures readily show that the supposed to be cheap light which Glenwood is receiving exists only in the imagination and when the quality is considered they are paying an exorbitant price for light. Supt. F. C. Weber of the water company accompanied Mr. Clabaugh and supports his assertions. In addition to the high price which Glenwood is paying, they also gave Bortenlanger a twenty year franchise which they would like to get rid of now.

Still Improving.

From Friday's Daily—
Our excellent friend, C. E. Cook, who resides immediately south of the city, was in town early this morning, looking after lumber for the erection of new corn cribs to place on his already most complete farm in Cass county. Mr. Cook does not need the cribs for his big crop this season, as it was very short indeed, and while Charley has very little faith in republican prosperity, he is taking them at their word, and expects a big crop next year since the defeat of W. J. Bryan for president.

Here With New Auto.

Sam Cashner and wife, from University Place, who arrived here in their new auto Wednesday evening, are spending a few days in the country, very pleasantly visiting among old friends. They have been visiting at the homes of T. W. Vallery, W. D. Wheeler, S. O. Cole, Jos. H. Cook and C. E. Cook.

AN EXCELLENT MAJORITY.

William C. Ramsey's Great Run for County Attorney.

From Friday's Daily—
A comparison of the vote cast in Cass county at the recent election, as shown in the officially tabulated vote published in yesterday's Journal, shows that William C. Ramsey or county attorney, received the largest vote cast for any candidate on either national, state, congressional or county tickets, his total vote being 2,591. Governor Sheldon comes next with a total vote of 2,581—just ten less than Billy received. But George Sheldon received 290 majority while Billy's majority was four less—286. This difference resulted from the fact that Billy's competitor received just fourteen votes more than Gov. Sheldon's competitor, Tidd receiving 2,305 votes and Shallenberger 2,291.

Billy's phenomenal vote as a democratic county candidate in a presidential year, has never been equaled in Cass county. In fact his total vote is only twenty-six less than that received by County Clerk Rosencrans one year ago, when the latter received 1,055 majority over Mr. Bricks.

Of the twenty-five precincts and wards in the county Billy carried fifteen or three-fifths of them by the following majorities: Salt Creek 2, South Bend 8, Center 33, Avoca 3, Mt. Pleasant 4, Eight Mile Grove 69, Liberty 54, Plattsmouth precinct 72, First Rock Bluffs 30, Second Rock Bluffs 57, Plattsmouth city, first ward 31, second ward 96, third ward 68, fourth ward 28, fifth ward 33.

The second ward, in which Billy was born and lived all his life, gave him his largest majority of any precinct or ward in the county—96. And Plattsmouth city, with every ward in line, gave Billy a phenomenal majority of 256.
