Mrs. Myrtle Edmonds returned home yesterday afternoon from Glenwood, Ia., where she has been called by the death of her mother-in-law, a most estimable lady of that city.

Glenn Perry, wife and sons Virgil and Russell, were passengers this morning on the early train for Omaha, having driven in from their home near Murray in time to catch the train.

Henry A. Schneider came down this morning from Cedar Creek upon the sad mission of making arrangements for the burial of his mother, departing Tuesday for California where they will make a winter's visit with their son, a resident of the golden gate state. They were accompanied on their trip by Mr. Perry's brother W. E. Perry of North Carolina, who had been visiting them for some three weeks.

Mrs. L. A. Wilson of Council Bluffs, Ia., who has been spending several days in the city visiting with A. Baxter Smith and family departed this morning for her home. Mrs.

Smith accompanied her as far as Omaha.

Mrs. Miars of Creighton, Ia., who has been spending several days in the city visiting with her sister Mrs. G. W. McCracken, departed this noon on the mail train for Omaha where she will visit with relatives and friends for a few days previous to returning home.

John Wunderlich and W. R. Davis, two of the most substantial citizens of the Nehawka neighborhood, were in the city today attending to some business matters and while here took advantage of the opportunity to make a call upon their old friends in this office. It is quite needless to say that their visit was greatly appreciated and they have a hearty invitation to call once more and stay longer.

Mrs. Charles Spangler and little baby were passengers this morning for Omaha accompanying her sister Mrs. S. J. Unland and daughters Vera and Catherine on their way home to Arlington, Neb. Mrs. Unland and children had been visiting with her parents Peter Perry and wife near Murray. Mr. and Mrs. Perry departed Tuesday for California where they will make a winter's visit with their son, a resident of the golden gate state. They were accompanied on their trip by Mr. Perry's brother W. E. Perry of North Carolina, who had been visiting them for some three weeks.

Laty Latky Case.

From Saturday's Daily. The preliminary hearing of Levi Munson charged by Mrs. Mary E. Latky with criminal libel in connection with the suit which he instituted against her for board during the session of the last grand lodge of the degree of Honor at Lincoln, was on yesterday at Lincoln and will occupy this afternoon also. The evidence yesterday was very weak against Munson and while a motion to dismiss made by the defense was not sustained, the court stated it was not simply because this was a preliminary examination and further stated that there was not enough evidence to convict Munson offered. The case is very interesting but newspaper reports seem to indicate that Mrs. Latky will lose without doubt.

Local News.

From Thursday's Daily. Mrs. Isabel Richey departed last evening for Lincoln after several days in the city.

John Flight is in Omaha today looking after business affairs having gone on the early morning train this morning.

Mrs. Guy Burton and little child of Murray are in the city making a visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kennemann.

Jacob Lehnies, one of the best citizens of the Louisville neighborhood and formerly a well known police officer in this city, is in the city today looking after business matters.

Henry Hempel was in the city today from his home at Lincoln. He was accompanied by A. L. Taylor of University Place. Mr. Hempel had several important business engagements to look after during his stay in the city while Mr. Taylor was a prospective investor in lands owned by Plattsmouth parties.

Sam Long, the railroad contractor of South Bend is in the city today meeting old friends and renewing acquaintances of many years standing. Mr. Long is well remembered by the older residents of the city and he has been a noted character in railroad building since the time when Nebraska was a baby state. He came down from his home at South Bend this morning.

D. E. Seiver of Marquette, Neb., came in last evening for an overnight visit with the family of J. L. Thompson, returning home this morning on the early train. Mr. Seiver is a large cattle raiser near Marquette, and was down to Omaha with two car loads of fine steers which he disposed of in the market. He is the father of Mrs. Thompson and a business man of standing in his community. His brief visit was greatly enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson.

Louis F. Kohrell came in last evening from Fremont where he has been for several days looking after business matters. While there Mr. Kohrell completed arrangements for his removal in the spring from his present farm near Rock Bluffs to that locally, having leased a large farm near Fremont for the coming year. He felt that he needed more land upon his hands to use the services of himself and boys who have now become old enough to be useful members of the family, and for this reason snapped up a good opportunity which presented itself to him.

Population Increases Two.

The stork made several visits during the last couple of days and increased the population by the addition of two charming little baby girls. One of them was left with Mrs. Geo. Fort and Mr. Fort is climbing the poles of the telephone company with a gusto which good fortune alone could prompt. The other little one was left with Mrs. Frank Shopp and it is needless to say that Mr. Shopp is running alongside Mr. Fort in his good fortune. In all cases both mother and child are doing well.

BAD ACCIDENT AT WABASH

M. P. Brakeman Hit By Projecting Rod and Skull Fractured.

Last Saturday night a message came to Dr. Haugate notifying him to be at the depot when the freight 694 arrived, that a brakeman was injured. On the arrival of the train it was found that the brakeman was James A. Love, and he was unconscious from his injuries, and the doctor accompanied him to Kansas City that night for treatment at the hospital, going on the midnight passenger.

Conductor Griswold's train, No. 694, was pulling into Wabash where they expected to unload some freight. Love and Delaney were on top of the cars signalling, the speed of the train was about six miles an hour. Love swung over the side of the car and was looking back at Delaney when he passed the depot where an iron rod projected which holds the signal board. The board had been off some time but the rod projected so close to the train that the rod struck Love on the base of the head, back of his right ear, as he swung out with his arm to signal. He was knocked down and was later found beside the tracks unconscious.

Mr. Love is a married man, he resides in Lincoln, and his parents reside at Marysville, Kansas. He has formerly been breaking on the night passenger, but wanted to change. He was regarded by the railroad boys as among the best on the road.

The fracture of the skull is regarded so serious that his recovery is doubtful.—Weeping Water Republican.

SMITH SALE A BIG SUCCESS

Today's Event Brings Good Crowd And Much Sold.

From Saturday's Daily. The first free auction held at the Market Place, the barn of Smith & Smith on Sixth and Vine streets, attracted quite a large crowd of farmers and people intent on picking up bargains, to the city and the sale was an unqualified success and speaks well for the future. Mr. Smith acted as auctioneer and made himself known as a good one. There was an offering of nearly everything that one cared to own and the people who did not have their desires for goods treated right were few and far between. The stuff sold consisted of horses, cattle, wagons, buggies and nearly every kind of vehicle and farming implements. Most of the stuff brought good prices although there was some real genuine bargains to be had in animals.

Taken together the affair was a grand, big success and Mr. Smith is to be congratulated on his success in bringing together the people of this section for the sale. The merchants of the city also profited largely by the sale as there were many people who drove into the city from a distance with the object of taking in the sale and afterwards stopped to replenish their larder from the local merchants. The restaurants particularly profited by the deal as they nearly all had capacity crowds at noon. Barclay's had to turn people away when the noon hour came, and crowded tables were the rule at Henrich's and Barnes'. Another sale in the near future will be had to which everyone is invited.
