Short Items of Interest, From Monday Evening's Daily Journal

John Carmack and wife returned to their home at Omaha yesterday after a short visit with Carl Kunsman and family.

Rev. F. W. Brink, the United Brethren minister south of the city, is attending to business today in the metropolis being a passenger on the mail train for that city this noon.

Charles Williams living near Ashland in Lancaster County, was in the city for several days, the guest of P. D. Bates and family, departing this afternoon on the flyer for Thurman, Ia., where he will visit with Charles A. (Whitey) Miller.

August Franzen and wife of Scribner, Neb., who have been in the city for several days, the guest of H. M. Soennichsen and family and John Wichman, departed this noon on the mail train for their home. A number of their friends were at the train to see them depart.

John Osenkop, the well known and popular Louisville citizen came down this morning to look after business matters in the city. John paid the Journal office one of his pleasant calls and is duly appreciated. He is one of the Journal's old reliable friends and we are always glad to have him come in.

John McKay of Weeping Water paid the Journal a very pleasant and much appreciated call yesterday, having come in from his home last evening. Mr. McKay is one of the representative citizens of his home community and a reliable, upright man. The Journal is proud to know that Mr. McKay is one of its friends and his visit was much appreciated.

H. G. Falter came in for a visit with his brother Jacob P., councilman of the First ward. Mr. Falter is an old time Cass County boy and for many years lived in this vicinity. He is now a resident of Creighton, Neb., and has been doing well and prospering. While here Mr. Falter took occasion to drop into the Journal office and pay a visit. He also took the opportunity of placing his name upon the Journal's book as a subscriber. He had been asking another paper but concluded to get a real live one and thought the Journal filled the bill. Mr. Falter is one of the kind of men the Journal is proud to put on its list.

Mrs. Mark Iles and daughter Mabel, were passengers this noon on the mail train for Omaha where they will spend the afternoon with friends.

County Attorney William C. Ramsey came in this morning from Eagle where he has been looking after matters in connection with the Ossenkop case.

Mrs. Fannie Dickson and son Donald, and Miss Bertha Richey are spending the day in Omaha with friends going up on the early train this morning.

James Fisher, a prominent citizen of Greenwood, was in the city this morning looking after business matters returning to his home on the mail train at noon.

Charles Teipel of Creighton, Neb., is in the city on a visit to his folks. He will likely be here several days and when he returns home he will take his mother and sisters with him. During the time he has lived in Creighton, he has made much money and things have prospered with him. He is an old time reader of the Journal and we are proud to have him call and visit with us.

John B. Meisinger, Jr., came down Monday for a visit with his folks for several days. During his stay he made this office a very pleasant visit and was more than welcome. John is secretary of the Lincoln Lumber and Coal Company, a large corporation with yards at several points in the state. This company has done a tremendous business for several years past and one of the causes is the geniality of its proprietors of whom Mr. Meisinger is one of the best. His visit to the Journal was very much appreciated.

Col. J. F. Sweesy, representing the Journal's anniversary edition is spending today in Greenwood and vicinity. The Colonel can be depended upon to produce the goods as he is an old time newspaper man having worked on the Omaha and Chicago papers for years. The anniversary edition which the Journal will soon print is going to be the best paper ever issued in Cass County and Col. Sweesy is the man to work the matter up. Greenwood will have its due space in the paper and will be one of the live towns represented.

B. W. Hiatt departed this morning for Rising City, Neb., after a short visit in the city with his parents M. Hiatt and wife and brothers Charles and L. D. He was accompanied by his daughter Amony.

J. A. Whiteman, one of the jurors, came in last evening for a seance on the Ossenkop case. Mr. Whiteman is one of the steady, reliable citizens of Nebraska, and while here he took occasion to call upon the Journal. His visit was much appreciated.

Glenn Perry, one of the best and brightest of the young farmers in this vicinity, was a pleasant caller at the Journal office today coming in to get acquainted and incidentally, to join the ranks of those who read the old reliable. Mr. Perry is a welcome visitor at this office and his call was much appreciated.

Charles L. Graves, the enterprising and up-to-the-minute editor of the Union Ledger, made a record run into the city this morning to look after business matters and took occasion to pay the Journal a pleasant visit of a few moments. Everyone who has read the Ledger can appreciate the kind of a man the editor is—one of the best and most sociable fellows in the world, and he edits a bright and newsy paper.

In county court today the will of the late J. B. Meisinger was admitted to probate. By the terms of the will P. M., G. G., and W. G. Meisinger, sons of the deceased, were made executors and letters testamentary were granted them upon their filing the usual bond for the faithful performance of their duties. The several sons of this distinguished Cass County citizen were present in court and listened to the reading of the will.

Paul Johnson and son August, of Alvo, came in this morning to attend the Ossenkop trial. They were welcome visitors at this office coming to meet the proprietor and the editor. The elder Mr. Johnson is one of the pioneers of his section and an upright, worthy and excellent citizen. He has prospered much since his settling in this section and is now esteemed as one of the best citizens of Cass County. His son August, is one of the bright men of his community and a worthy son of his estimable father. The two gentlemen will be in the city for several days.

For Disease of the skin.

Nearly all diseases of the skin such as eczema, tetter, salt rheum and barber's itch, are characterized by an intense itching and smarting, which often makes life a burden and disturbs sleep and rest. Quick relief may be had by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It allays the itching and smarting almost instantly. Many eyes have been cured by its use. For sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.

Comes in From Lincoln.

From Tuesday's Daily.
Col. M. A. Bates, float representative for Cass and Otoe counties, came down yesterday for a brief visit with his Plattsmouth constituents. The Colonel is as chipper and gal as ever and is optimistic over the outlook for good legislation. He does not believe that the legislature will enact any radical legislation and thinks the prosperity and good times with which the state is blessed will not be interfered with by its legislators. The Colonel is much opposed to any radical legislation which will hurt or cripple Nebraska and his vote can always be depended on to be cast for the right side. The county option fight is expected to show up this week in the house and Col. Bates can be depended upon to make a fight against it. He is opposed to county option or to any interference with our present liquor laws which are good enough for everyone. He also hopes to see some legislation affecting the present road law and hopes to see the result in good roads. A general revenue bill will undoubtedly be passed and it is likely the county assessor in counties of less than 20,000 population will be returned to the old methods of precinct assessors. In counties having 20,000 or more the county assessor will be retained with elected deputies by the precincts. Col. Bates is well satisfied with the work of the legislature and especially of the able and impartial manner in which Speaker Pool looks after business. He returned to Lincoln yesterday.

Reported Change in Ownership.

It is reported about the city that the firm of Wilkens and Wurl has been discovered and that Bernard G. Wurl becomes the sole owner and proprietor, having bought out the interest of Mr. Charles Wilkens who is said to contemplate starting farming. Both gentlemen are very popular and Mr. Wurl who takes over the plant will make it an even better success than it was before. The fame of the Wurl Bros' cigars has spread over this section and everyone who appreciates a good smoke knows them to commend them. Mr. Wilkens during his connection with the firm has been very popular and many will regret to see him retire but they hail Mr. Wurl as a fitting successor to the business which both have done heretofore.

Jury is On Hand.

From Monday's Daily.
The jury in the Ossenkop case came in today and were all ready for business. Immediately after assembling they were given into the care of the sheriff and while they are not actively engaged in the case until tomorrow, they will be locked up together hereafter until the case is finished. It is probable the case can be taken up tomorrow and hurried to a finish as it is generally understood that the witnesses desired for the defense can be here at that time. The case is set down for trial tomorrow at 9 o'clock and doubtless will attract a large crowd. The defendant came in this morning accompanied by several relatives and a number of friends.

Excellent Show Coming.

R. W. Priest, advance agent for "The Lion and the Mouse" company, was in the city today arranging for the production of the play at the Parmele "The Lion and the Mouse" shows in this city on March 11 and it is one of the best shows to be seen on the road. It is a high grade show in every respect and worthy of a big house. Mr. Priest is a fine gentleman and one of the best type of men connected with the theatrical business. He paid the Journal a short visit this morning and it can be said that if his company is as fine as their advance agent, they deserve monster business.

Hands Him a Jolt.

Last Saturday Fred Dawson while reading a paper in Gering's drug store was rudely disturbed by a boy named Perry. Perry seized the paper and tore it to pieces. Dawson was somewhat wroth at such business and proceeded to give the young man a severe rebuke by beating him up a lot. This morning Freddie faced his honor, Judge Archer, in police court and told him how it all happened. In view of the provocation Judge Archer only dealt him a small chunk of his Celebrated Brand of Justice fining him $1 and costs which were paid and Freddie went hence rejoicing in his new found freedom and strong in his conviction that the wages of scrapping are expensive.

Good Lintment.

You will hunt a good while before you will find a preparation that is equal to Chamberlain's Lintment as a cure for muscular and rheumatic pains, for the cure of pains and soreness of the muscles. It is equally valuable for lame back and all deep seated muscular pains. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by F. G. Fricke & Co.
