Never forget to look behind the motive of the so-called "citizens" ticket. When men become so suddenly anxious to serve the people provided they can be nominated one certain way, it is time to inquire why?

The republicans of Plattsmouth have certainly fallen upon degenerate days when they are so few in number that they have to depend upon the democrats for material to win the fight with. What has become of the old war horses of the party?

The democratic candidates for councilmen are all excellent men, and a vote cast for them is one cast for deserving parties. Those who have served the people have always had an eye for their interests and those who have not been tried are known to be fully as earnest in the people's behalf.

The democratic city ticket is one of the best ever presented to the people for their support. The members are of the right kind and believe lieve in making Plattsmouth the best city in Nebraska. They do not stand for any special interest and are depending for their election solely on the support of the plain people. A vote for Sattler, Fricke, Elster and Archer is a vote for the best of city officials.

It must please the rank and file of the republican party to be reduced to the painful extremity of having to vote solely for democrats for office but to such a depth has their leaders placed them, it is all they have left. It is not pleasant for them, but there they are. The men who have been making their fights for years find themselves robbed of any chance of final success by an iniquitous deal and are compelled to accept the dictation of former democrats.

A Citizens Ticket.

For several weeks past there has been talk of nominating a citizen's ticket, but just why there was necessity for nominating such a ticket was never fully explained. It was agitated and advocated by certain individuals who were dissatisfied with the present administration and did not like the administration of Mr. Steinhart. One faction was opposed to the enforcement of the laws and the other favored a "wide open" town.

Those advocating the independent movement were some who held no allegiance to either party. They held that a great deal more could be accomplished by a non-partisan ticket than one nominated by either party. This argument is fallacious. There are only three parties in the field—democrats, republicans and prohibitionists with a small sprinkling of socialists—and they include almost every voter in town. To claim that these parties cannot nominate individuals of sufficient mental capacity to govern the affairs of the city is a mistake. A "citizens" ticket is supposed to be composed of individuals who are not allied with any party but on being placed in office will give us an administration far superior to that of any person who has been recognized politically and has loaned his services for the advancement of the town, both financially and politically. Will some of the advocates of the "citizens" ticket please tell the public why a non-partisan ticket is any better than one nominated in regular convention? Can more be expected from individuals who do not take sufficient interest in the city affairs to unite with a party than from those who are interested politically and for the best interests of the city? Is the man who neglects to register a better citizen than the one who always has his name on the list, and would you trust the former quicker in administering the affairs of the city?

The most expensive administration Nebraska City ever had was known as a "citizens" ticket.—Nebraska City News.

Vote for John P. Sattler. He will make the best mayor the city has had in years.

Vote for Carl G. Fricke. He will be a fitting successor to R. W. Clement.

Vote for Dr. W. B. Elster. His records as city clerk are the best kept of any in years.

What amazing virtue is there in a "citizens" ticket? Can not a rose by any other name smell as sweet?

Vote for M. Archer. His long record and time tried experience makes him easily the only man for police judge.

Vote for L. W. Lorenz for member of the board of education. He is a live business man and will give the position his attention.

Vote for J. W. Bookmeyer for councilman from the third ward. He has always represented the people's interests and is the best man for the place.

Vote for John Schulhof for councilman from the fourth ward. His record in the council is beyond reproach and he deserves to be rewarded for his faithful service.

In Wall Street.

We of the rude and unlettered west have been rebuked and ridiculed, times without number, by the superior morals who inhabit the New York editorial offices, for our silly prejudices against Wall street. Our sometimes passionate outcry against Wall street and Wall street influence, has been derided as due to provincial ignorance. Wall street people were not only as good as others, we were reminded, but quite a bit better. The atmosphere of the street was one of cultured business, so to speak, and its denizens were prosperous and reputable citizens engaged in arduous labor to support their families, not to mention their steam yachts and actresses.

The other day a naughty vagrant breeze lifted a young woman's skirts and exposed what she would feign have hidden before a Wall street crowd. We quote from the New York Herald the account of what happened next:

Young men forgot their manners and swarmed after the hapless owner of the shapely stockings. Old men followed and joined in the mob to a grand total of 1,000 men. With rude jest and shout the crowd, which gained accession every moment, swept the blushing woman along. Mounted police rode among the mob of men and boys, but did not succeed in dispersing them.

Twice the young woman attempted to escape. First she ran into an Exchange place entrance of the Mills building and entered a telephone booth. The crowd followed, jammed all the entrances, while the mounted traffic squad and the infantry of the police tried to check the riot.

Terrified and indignant the woman fled to a broker's office on the second floor. Thence the employes made an effort to help her escape in a cab. But the entrance had become congested and the hooting, yelling mob forbade egress.

The young woman, overcome by her embarrassment, fainted.

Yard after yard of ticker tape, tossed from the windows, after the Wall street manner of expressing its excitement, clung to cornices and fluttered over the heads of the crowd. The high buildings became packed amphitheaters, from which thousands of spectators, men, boys and girls, hung eagerly.

Down in Mexico twenty men fight one bull, and thousands of spectators watch eagerly the battling of the helpless and bewildered animal. They call it fun.

In Wall street a thousand male creatures, with not a single man in the bunch, torture and bait a lonely woman till she falls senseless at their feet. Thousands more watch this stirring spectacle and call it fun.

For ourselves, we prefer the superior refinement of the Mexican brand. And our prejudices against Wall street continue unabated.—World-Herald.

Vote for George E. Dovey for councilman from the first ward. He is a clean, representative business man and will make a good official.

Vote for Adam Kurtz for councilman from the second ward. He is a man thoroughly well known, clean, upright and honest and is with the people.

Vote for D. O. Dwyer for councilman from the first ward. Mr. Dwyer is a clean, upright citizen and in his short time in the council he has demonstrated he is with the people.

Vote for Fred M. Reznor for councilman from the fifth ward. Mr. Reznor is a clean, honest and businesslike man and he will make the people of his ward a fitting representative in the council.

Isn't it a bit curious that with all the excellent men the republican party has elected to office, none could be named for the head of the ticket and for the other important offices filled by democrats?

The state legislature is near adjournment and several of the pledges of the party have been filled while the rest will be before adjournment. This is what the people want and what the democratic party must do.

Not all republicans who are objecting to the "citizens" ticket are disappointed office seekers. In fact, most of the men who have never had an office or who have made successful officials and winning candidates.

Governor Shallenberger's message to the legislature yesterday relative to a bill prohibiting stock watering, was timely and good. Such a bill is in the interest of the public and the stockholders in corporations and should be passed.

Vote for John Hallstrom for member of the board of education. Mr. Hallstrom is a man of ability, the head of a family and one who has always taken a great interest in the best and highest type of citizenship.

He will aid in promoting the advance of the schools.

The republicans of Plattsmouth have lost their identity in the spring election. A few men there called a meeting to nominate a "citizens" ticket and one was named. The next night the republicans held a convention and instead of naming a ticket of their own endorsed the "citizens ticket," which was composed principally of men who have heretofore been classed as democrats. The republicans there must be badly disorganized.—Nebraska City News.

No wonder the real republicans dislike the ticket forced upon them by their present day leaders in this city. When they contemplate what the probable outcome of the election of this ticket would be they become heartily sick. After repeatedly rejecting for office, the leaders in this movement they are compelled to witness them in full control of the party and recklessly throwing away its mighty influence for a possible mess of pottage for themselves in the shape of minor appointments tossed them by disgruntled democrats for their support.
