Marriage of Miss Agnes Berry, of Omaha, and Mr. August Bach, Jr., of This City.

A quiet wedding was solemnized yesterday morning at 10:30 in St. Patrick's Catholic church in Omaha when Miss Agnes Berry of Omaha was united in marriage to August Bach, Jr., of this city. The wedding was quite an informal affair, there being present only the immediate relatives of Miss Berry and Mr. Bach together with a few friends.

The marriage was solemnized immediately after mass, the bride and groom being united in front of the altar in the Roman Catholic ceremony. Rev. Father Gleason performing the ceremony. The bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Berry, her sister, while the groomsmen were Mr. Charles Guthmann of this city. Both the bride and her maid were dressed in spotless white, the bride carrying a bouquet of bride roses, her veil being tastefully festooned with the pretty lily of the valley while the bridesmaid carried a bouquet of very pretty pink roses.

The ceremony was in strict accordance with the Roman Catholic faith, a beautiful and impressive one, and given with all the solemnity which that faith impels.

Following the ceremony at the church, the entire wedding party sat down to a magnificent wedding dinner served at the home of Miss Berry's parents. It was a repast exquisitely prepared and one which would tempt the most jaded appetite.

In the evening the happy couple departed for a bridal trip to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, and other points of interest in the Rocky Mountain region.

Those present at the ceremony from this city were Mr. and Mrs. A. Bach, father and mother of the groom, Mrs. Peter Welch, sister of the groom, and Mr. Charles Guthmann.

The groom is the well known and popular son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bach of this city. He is a Plattsmouth boy in every sense of the word having been born and raised in this city. His whole life here has been one of the most exemplary and his conduct has been such as to merit the utmost respect and esteem of the entire community. In business Mr. Bach has been a very successful man, one of the most upright and conscientious of the younger business men of the community, and to this fact he owes much of his great popularity. He is a man of sterling worth and high character and his great host of friends in this city and vicinity hasten to extend to him their best wishes for a long and happy married life.

The bride is a charming and accomplished young lady of Omaha, one of many rare attainments and a most pleasing personality. It has been her good fortune to have always signally impressed the grace of this personality upon all with whom she has come in contact with the consequent result that it has won her many friends. These all unite in extending to her their best wishes and congratulations and their hopes that the remainder of her life may be had under bright skies and sunny, and that only good fortune and prosperity make their home with her.

More Road Building.

The long expected activity of the Burlington in Wyoming will soon be in evidence. The company is now asking for bids on forty-five miles of track connecting Kirby with the Northwestern's Lander line at Shoshoni. Work was begun on the line between Kirby and Thermopolis.

General Manager George W. Holdridge yesterday made this statement in Omaha, immediately following his return from Chicago:

"Surveys have been made and we are now asking for bids for the construction of the line from Kirby, forty-five miles south to a junction with the Northwestern road, west of Shoshoni," said Mr. Holdridge. "The line will move south through the Big Horn gorge from Thermopolis and will pass over the top of the dam and power plant of the Big Horn Power Company and then follow the river to a point west of Shoshoni. We will begin the construction of the road at once if the bids for which we are asking are what we consider reasonable."

"No arrangements have been made for the use of the Northwestern tracks from Shoshoni to Orin Junction where the Northwestern joins the Colorado & Southern, owned by the Burlington," said Mr. Holdridge. "However, that the line will be built to connect with the Northwestern."

This link is a part of the second line to be built by the Burlington from Nebraska to Wyoming, and is destined in time to be the low grade freight line from Nebraska to the north coast country, via Hastings, Kearney, North Platte, Bridgeport, Gurnsey, Orin Junction, Shoshoni, Kirby, Fannie and Billings. This line was financed at the time of the panic, and plans were made to begin throwing dirt all along the line from Kearney to Wyoming and in Wyoming. In fact some grading was done along the line of the North Platte River when the first announcement was made.

The use of the Thermopolis canyon was at first intended but when the Burlington got ready to build Asmus Boyesen had begun the construction of the enormous dam at the entrance to the canyon and the railroad people thought they were shut out from using the canyon because of the height to which the dam was to be built. Several surveying outfits were put into the field and a strenuous effort was made to find a line that would permit the Burlington to cross the mountain without using the gorge. Although several surveys were made, it was found the necessary tunnels and cuts would cost the Burlington $1,000,000 more than if it used the gorge. After many conferences it was decided to use the gorge from Thermopolis to Boyesen's dam and so to make the grade that the road would pass over the dam. This route will give the Burlington one of the most picturesque roads. The rocks rise on each side of the river to a height of 900 feet and the road will be blasted along this cliff, high enough above the river to cross over the top of the dam. —State Journal.

Makes Pleasant Call.

James A. Walker, wife and little grandson, Walker Gilmore, were visitors in this city today, driving up from their home in Murray to do some trading and to visit with some of their friends. While here they called upon the Journal and it is quite needless to remark, they were heartily welcomed as the Journal appreciates having such good friends as Mr. and Mrs. Walker. Young Mr. Gilmore displayed commendable curiosity while here and looked the Journal's printing plant over to his entire satisfaction. Mr. Walker reports that Murray yesterday had a very heavy rainstorm, the same extending down the line of the Missouri Pacific for miles. The rain did some damage to fields and washed roads quite badly in places. It was one of the most severe rain storms of the year. The roads were quite muddy for several miles north from Murray although as the travelers approached the city proper it was scarcely noticeable. Mr. and Mrs. Walker and grandson will return to their home this afternoon.

The Equilibrium.

As long as every organ in our body does its work regularly, we say that the body is in its equilibrium, or in plain language, evenly balanced. Should any organ refuse to do its duty, this balance will be interfered with and the condition we call sickness. Taking in consideration that it is usually the digestive system where the bodily balance suffers first, it should be our aim to pay the greatest attention to this part of the body and as soon as the slightest irregularity is noticed, to use Trier's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. This remedy never fails; it stimulates them to an increased activity, healing and strengthening at the same time. It is a reliable remedy in diseases where a natural tonic is indicated. At drug stores. Jos. Trier, 616-622 S. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Former Mayor Henry Gering came down this morning from his wholesale business in Omaha to look after business matters in this city, and also to make a brief visit with his mother and sisters.

STAND UP FOR HOME

Commercial Club Brings Out Several Good Ideas at Meeting

The meeting of the Commercial Club held last evening at Coates Hall accomplished quite a good deal of work, especially in regard to lining up various matters which the Club has had under consideration for several months past. There was not the attendance which the importance of the meeting justified yet those who were there were well satisfied with the progress which was made.

A report was made to the club by the members of the Fourth of July committee from last year. This committee is adverse to holding any celebration this year as other towns in the county have arranged for celebrations and there is no desire to interfere with them. Celebrations are booked for Louisville, Murray, Elmwood and Greenwood which is ample for the county. The committee did favor having some music for July 5th, when the shops were closed. This is merely for the entertainment of those who stay at home that day and in no sense a celebration. The committee had funds left over from last year and concluded to use them this way. So there will be music on Monday, July 5th.

The matter of holding an annual fall festival was taken up and discussed by the members present and it was the opinion that such a festival be had. The president of the club was authorized to appoint a committee of five to arrange for this. It is not intended to have a street fair in the strict sense of the word but a regular fall festival backed by the merchants. The list of attractions and the like will be worked out and a date selected which will not interfere with other attractions. The prime object of this is to advertise Plattsmouth and to afford people from the neighborhood a place to go and spend a jolly week. This committee has not yet been named.

Another highly important matter taken up was the booming of Plattsmouth made goods. A Home Industry committee was appointed to formulate plans for encouraging the consumption of home made products. When it is borne in mind that the best cigars in the country are made in this city and local merchants still sell foreign manufactured goods, the field for work by this committee can be realized. The city also has a broom factory capable of supplying the local market with the best of brooms and the committee will do its best to promote the universal use of Plattsmouth made brooms. The city also produces as fine a grade of flour as any and the use of home made flour will be encouraged by the committee. The Plattsmouth steam laundry does as good work as the best and yet laundry is sent away from town. The patronizing of home laundry work is to be urged by the committee. Local ice cream manufacturers make as pure and fine flavored cream as the market affords yet some use foreign made cream. The committee will urge the patronage of local manufacturers. The field might be extended indefinitely but the committee will look after all the several interests of the local manufacturers. President Falter will appoint the committee shortly.

One of the best features of the meeting was a talk by Mr. L. D. Hlatt of the Olson Photograph Company. Mr. Hlatt reviewed the rise of this industry from one capitalized at $250 to a large business employing many people and paying out more money for help than any institution on Main street and second only to the Burlington shops. The stage of development of this enterprise had reached the stage where more room was needed and daylight power necessary. Steps will be taken by the club to aid in securing these things and to develop the enterprise as it should be.

Another highly commendable step taken was to secure a committee to advertise the city. This committee is to be appointed by President Falter and its duties will be to devise ways and means for getting this city before the people. It is a highly commendable idea and if the right parties are chosen it should accomplish much good.

Altogether the meeting made a good start toward helping Plattsmouth and its industries and if the pace is kept up the city cannot fail to benefit.

Farm for Sale.

160 acres 6 miles northwest of Clark, Neb.; 110 acres under cultivation, 10 acres alfalfa, balance in meadow and pasture. Good house, barn and granary, cribs, cattle shed, good shade and running spring at the house. No trade.

Geo. A. Agnew,
Central City, Neb.

River Still Rising.

The Missouri river continues to boom and today it has been steadily on the up grade. The water is now on the bar side of the river and in front of the city in considerable quantities and should it maintain the rate of raise which it has for the past twenty-four hours, it will soon be out of its banks and have the entire bar under water. Yesterday and today the water has raised about a foot and a half and it is now higher than at any time this year. It is now commencing to go into the sloughs on the Iowa side and floods the low spots. The Platte river is also rising now and there is no telling where it will stop. Heavy rains have been prevailing on the Platte water shed which has added to the snow water from the mountains and the river bids fair to touch the high mark. The Missouri above Omaha is rising slowly as far as Bismark, N. D., but whether it will reach the high point of last year is problematical. The Missouri is cutting steadily away at the sand bar north of the city and there is a chance of its eating its way back into the old channel along the city front. There is large quantities of drift running among it being many full sized trees which have been undermined at some point along to river as they are in full leaf and have evidently been toppled into the river in a very short time.

The government snag boat James B. McPherson went down the river this morning about 7:10 o'clock, returning after a trip to Sioux City.

The vagaries of the Missouri river are being strikingly exhibited during this rise. Above the mouth of the Platte and opposite the station of Henton the river has been making a heavy cut into the Nebraska side and is now within a few miles of LaPlatte. It is eating its way away through and will soon have the point of land which separates it from the Platte torn away when the current will cut into the sand bar north of the city and just east of the water works. If it does not again change there is every reason to believe it will come down through the bar east of the water works and swing in next to the west bank. The current at the bridge has been swung east by this last freak of the river and is now running on the east side of the center pier something it had not done in years. Usually the current has been between the center and west piers of the bridge. The current of the Missouri river swings from side to side and when it cuts on the west it is strongest on the east side below where it is cutting.

Mrs. H. N. Dovey Entertains.

Mrs. H. N. Dovey entertained a large number of her lady friends at her home yesterday afternoon in a most delightful manner in honor of her cousin, Mrs. W. A. Wilson of Detroit, Mich.

As this was a Kensington, the ladies brought their fancy work and for a time piled the busy needle as they engaged in social conversation.

During the afternoon, progressive high five was introduced, and the allurement of this game caused many of the ladies to put aside their fancy work. Each guest entered into the game with much interest and merriment and good cheer prevailed throughout the game.

The pleasures of the afternoon were further augmented when the guests were invited to the dining room where a dainty two-course luncheon was served.

For the occasion, the parlors and dining room of the Dovey home had been beautifully decorated in a color scheme of pink and white.

Those who enjoyed Mrs. Dovey's hospitality were Mesdames C. A. Rawls, E. D. Cummins, W. H. Newell, J. M. Roberts, Henry Boeck, Thomas, James Donnelly, Anna Britt, A. W. White, V. V. Leonard, O. C. Dovey, D. C. Morgan, Fred Morgan, W. A. White, Cornell, H. D. Travis, L. A. Moore, D. O. Dwyer, C. W. Baylor, W. K. Fox, G. Knapp, E. G. Dovey, Misses Cora Walker, Olive Jones, Atwood, Claire Dovey.

Making Improvements.

John McNurlin today had contractor Emil Walters busily engaged about his premises in the second ward putting in a fine concrete sidewalk along his property and as soon as that is completed he will put him at work on a system of walks about his premises so that there will be no occasion for mud being carried about the house in bad weather. Mr. McNurlin had been willing to put in his street walk for sometime but had been unable to get the grade for the same until just now when he got busy at once and had the work started. If the city had more people like Mr. McNurlin the problem of permanent walks would be easily solved. He realizes that the walk is a benefit to him as well as the public and for that reason he was anxious to have it in place.

Miss Pearl Woodward sprained one of her ankles quite severely one day last week in an effort to enter a top buggy.

The Cass County republican central committee meeting was held in the American Exchange bank hall Friday afternoon. A goodly number from over the county participated in the deliberations and we predict a good clean ticket for the next campaign.

S. Murray has purchased the residence in east Elmwood lately vacated by Mrs. John Kennedy, whose husband died but a short time ago. Mrs. Kennedy has gone to Nebraska City to live with her brother and Mr. and Mrs. Murray will move to town some time next fall.

A very severe electrical storm visited this vicinity Sunday night. Lightning struck the residences of Wm. Minford and A. A. Wallinger but no great sight of damage was done at either place. Considerable rain accompanied the storm.

The Eastern District G. A. R. comprising Cass, Otoe, Sarpy Saunders and Lancaster counties held their reunion at Weeping Water, August 24, 25, 26 and 27. #### The Fourth at Louisville.

Louisville will celebrate the grand and glorious Fourth of July this year on Saturday, the third. It is expected this will be one of the biggest celebrations on record.

The Nebraska State Band of Lincoln has been engaged to furnish the music, and there will be many other attractions. B. G. Hoover will superintend the shooting of the fire works in the evening.

The celebration will be held in the Hagen grove near the river, one of the most beautiful spots in all the country round. Plenty of fresh air and shade and a beautiful lake of clear water, sixty feet deep, full of all kinds of fish and an elegant place for boating. The lake covers about five acres.

Hon. George W. Berge of Lincoln will address the people, and will give one of his soul stirring orations. Mr. Berge is an orator of note and never disappoints his hearers.—Courier.

Any lady reader of this paper will receive, on request, a clever "No-Drip" coffee strainer coupon privilege, from Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. It is silver plated, very pretty, and positively prevents all dripping of tea or coffee. The doctor sends it, with his new free book on "Health Coffee" simply to introduce this clever substitute to real coffee. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee is gaining its great popularity because of: first, its exquisite taste and flavor; second, its absolute healthfulness; third, its economy—1½ lb 25c; fourth, is convenience. No tedious 20 to 30 minutes boiling. "Made in a Minute" says Dr. Shoop. Try it at your grocer's for a pleasant surprise. F. S. White, South Side Cor. Main and Sixth Streets, Plattsmouth, Neb.
