SECOND MONEY

Plattsmouth Team Strong Feature at Malvern, Iowa.

Well, Plattsmouth didn't do so worse, after all. The local ball boys copped off second money at Malvern and just missed first by an eye lash. The first game was lost on a fluke—something which is liable to happen in any game and something which is quite unavoidable. The boys played fine ball in all three games and the unfortunate bobble which cost them first place and fifty simoleons of real money was merely one of the incidents which must be overlooked. The second game on Thursday with Carson resulted as told in last evening's paper in a slaughter of the innocents, Carson being taken into camp by the score of 6 to 1.

The great big feature of the tournament was the ruthless scalping of the Sidney team by the locals. The score when the swiftest was over was 17 to 1 in Plattsmouth's favor, something truly awful and warranted to remove any possible feeling that Plattsmouth couldn't play ball. Williams, the live Indian, pitched the game for the locals and had Sidney on his staff. They never at any time had a look-in and secured their one run merely as a gift, as it was quite unearned. In justice to Williams, it may be remarked that the first game which he lost could be charged up to a sore arm, as he complained of the arm before going into the game. Despite this he probably would have won out for an unfortunate error behind him at a critical time. But the game yesterday developed no sore arm. He was there, kiddo, with the goods, and had curves and shoots and things to beat Sidney and the band all put together. It is said one Sidney player complained to the umpire that the ball, when it passed him, was under size, but this is rumor merely. Anyway, it was too scarce for the Sidney batters, who were mowed down right and left.

In addition he was backed up by superb fielding. In fact, all three games demonstrated that the locals are some fielding team and they kept their opponents guessing at all times. Cope caught the three games and did excellent work, few bases being stolen on him. He was there with the quick snap of the ball and cut off many an unwary runner who thought second or third looked good to him. The games were also characterized by great work on the bags and the outfield, and the entire team acquitted itself in fine shape. The local pitchers who twirled the second game deserve great credit for their work.

The team this afternoon plays Baker Bros. of Omaha, and if they have anything like the crown they deserve the Chicago Avenue grounds will not hold the people. Turn out and give the boys the right kind of patronage. They deserve it, as they are, the greatest advertisement the city had had in many years. They expect to play every day during the carnival, and if the team is to be kept together it must be by liberal patronage. Remember, people, that Plattsmouth at one time was the live baseball town of Nebraska. Don't you all remember how we used to cheer the locals on to victory when Weeping Water, Wahoo, Columbus, Lincoln, Norfolk, Kearney, Beatrice and other towns played here. Well, we have the goods now, and all we need is the people and the cheer. Your place is out at Chicago Avenue park with your two bits and a loud hip, hip, hurrah. Make 'em play ball—that's what wins.

Opens a New Business.

George Horn came down this morning from Cedar Creek to look after business matters in the city. George has recently opened up an ice cream parlor in that city, and also has a fruit stand in connection therewith. He also handles all kinds of soft drinks. George is a well known and popular resident of the village of Cedar Creek and for many years has lived there. He reports that his business since he opened it up had been excellent, and that he is more than pleased with the reception he has been given by his old neighbors and townsmen. As George has been handling the business of the Woodmen Accident association for many years, he knows almost every man, woman and child in the community, and they are all glad to patronize him. He still retains the agency for this popular insurance company, and will write policies in connection with his other business. He is a thoroughly up-to-date business man, and the people of Cedar Creek and Eight Mile Grove precinct appreciate this fact. He expects to return to his home this afternoon on the Schuyler, and hereafter will be found serving the finest line of soft drinks, ice cream and fruits to the people.

Aged Lady Passes Away.

DIED—Conwell, Sarah A. at the Masonic home, Plattsmouth, Neb., at 9:45 p. m., August 6, 1909, aged 76 years.

Mrs. Conwell, who had no relatives in this immediate vicinity, departed this life after an illness of some little time. She was admitted to the home here on October 18, 1905, and had been an inmate of the institution for almost four years. Her remains were taken to DeWitt, Neb., for burial, she having a brother, Frank P. Baker, residing at that point. She also had a sister living there and another sister living in Chicago. A most delightful lady, her many friends at the home sincerely feel her loss.

Mrs. Sarah Conwell, who has been in poor health for some months passed on to the far country last night. She will be sadly missed at the Masonic home, where she has resided for the last three years. Her brother, Mr. Baker, from Iowa, arrived too late to be recognized by her, but not too late to see her eyes peacefully and painlessly close in the last sleep from which she will meet the dawn of that eternal day, to which we too hope soon to awaken. Her body will be taken on the 1 p. m. train to her old home for burial.

THE STATE FISHERIES

Nebraska Makes Good Showing Under Supt. Brien

H. P. Runion of Benkelman, who owns a profitable private fish hatchery, arrived in Lincoln yesterday from a visit to the state and government hatcheries in Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio and Illinois. He also attended the national meeting of state and government fishiculturists. The hatcheries in Michigan and Wisconsin are the best in the country, but Mr. Runion, after visiting them, said he had seen no better than the Nebraska state hatchery, near South Bend.

"The inspection of hatcheries in other states was a revelation to me," said Mr. Runion. "We saw some hatcheries that have better and more expensive buildings, but none is better equipped and stocked or is nearer up to date in methods or is doing better work than the Nebraska hatchery under Mr. O'Brien. He stands at the head of his profession in this country and has been doing wonderful work for many years on a modest salary, yet it is doubtful if many of the people of Nebraska realize what his services mean to the state. Mr. O'Brien could leave the service of Nebraska any minute and get several times the salary he is receiving, but he likes the state and has interests here, and no salary elsewhere tempts him."

There is no state appropriation for the payment of the expenses of the superintendent of the Nebraska hatchery to national meetings, and he was obliged to pay his own expenses. According to Mr. Runion the convention was like most other national conventions, more or less of a farce and little was learned there by experts. The principal object of the trip was to see the practical workings of state and national hatcheries that were visited. Mr. Runion has taken to fishculture for pleasure and profit. He has nine ponds covering four acres, fed by a spring, and makes a specialty of raising bass and crappies. During the present year he sold $1,200 worth of fish and has many orders yet to fill. He sells mostly to persons who desire to stock private ponds. The eggs of bass are adhesive, unlike trout and other fish of the salmon family, and cannot be hatched by artificial means. They are hatched in ponds by natural methods, and when the fish are six months old they are ready to be transplanted in other waters.

Superintendent O'Brien came to Lincoln to see about repairs on the fisheries building at the state fair grounds. His state exhibit at the fair this year promises to be a little better than usual. When the new building was erected for this exhibit ordinary glass was placed in the aquariums, but every time a big fish got restless and tried to get away the glass was broken like so much paper. Mr. O'Brien finds that in some hatcheries glass one inch thick is used. The state fair board has promised to use glass half an inch thick for the game fish and large specimens.

"Of course some hatcheries maintained by other states and by the government have salt water displays that Nebraska cannot have," said Mr. O'Brien, "but aside from that I do not think any citizens need be ashamed of our state hatcheries." While Mr. O'Brien has spent twenty or more years trying to protect and propagate game fish in Nebraska, the last legislature threw down the bars and passed a law permitting the seining and netting of catfish, under regulations issued by the chief game warden. The seining is not open to every one alike upon the payment of a license fee of $2. In addition a man must deposit a $100 certified check as a guaranty that he will not seine anything better than a catfish. Up to July 31 eighty-one persons had obtained permission to seine and use nets under these conditions.

The names of the seiners who obtained permits during June were published. The following are the persons who during July obtained permits to seine and net catfish: John Kresser, Orleans. T. C. Westenberg, Ashland. Charles Miller, Ashland. Louis Frick, Omaha. Gottlieb Sommerholden, Steinauer. G. L. Mumford, Wisner. Arnold VanJohn, Wisner. George Sess, Grand Island. Frank Hale, Fairbury. Andrew Olson, Colon. George M. Smith, Shelby. Joseph Stecher, Dodge. C. A. Larson, Bancroft. Clinton Pratt, Unadilla. C. D. Young, Eyracuse. Edward H. Hollister, Ashland. Ralph Dean, Ashland. George N. Guftason, Wakefield. William Lewman, Ashland. Peter Buntgen, Rising City. Anton Wirka, Prague. L. D. Smith, Valley. August Schellpeper, Pilger. Charles Bear, Alma. Luther Bonham, Fairbury. There are no Cass county men in the above list.

Taken Suddenly Ill.

Yesterday morning Thomas Troop was taken suddenly and violently ill with an attack of heart trouble and for sometime his life was despaired of. During the day he was troubled with sinking spells and only heroic treatment saved his life. A physician was hurriedly summoned and to this fact he can lay his speedy improvement. He was taken from his place of business where the attack occurred to the home of his brother Robert Troop last evening and this morning he is reported as much improved and it is believed he is now out of danger. This is the hope of his many friends at least.

Buys Mill.

Monday A. L. McDonald closed up a deal in which George Reitter became the owner of a large mill at Indianola. Mr. Reitter owned a half section of land in Pierce county, which he traded to A. A. Kannon for the mill. Milling is out of Mr. Reitter's line of business, so he is now looking for some one who does understand the work to lease the mill to. He says he will lease it at a reasonable price to any competent party.—Eagle Beacon.

Loses End of Finger.

E. F. Kelly, an employe of the brass foundry, a few days since suffered the misfortune of having the end of one of his fingers taken off by an emery wheel. He will be compelled to lay off for several days on account of the mishap, and will be on relief during that time. The injury is a painful one and he suffers quite a good bit from it.

Suffers Injury to Eyesight.

R. D. Dalton, an employe of the shops, is on the relief suffering from the effects of a cinder in his eye. The injury was looked after by a company physician, and he is feeling much better, as it was quite painful. He is liable to be off for several days, as the complaint will affect his eyesight for a few days.

It isn't a question anymore of how many suits we'll have to carry over. It's a question of who is going to be lucky enough to get one of the few remaining suits.
