Manager Warren of the Red Sox, is arranging for a game every afternoon during carnival week. Prizes will be awarded the champs. Teams will be here from different points in Iowa and Nebraska.

Iowa papers are discussing the advisability of reducing the width of country roads. In Nebraska it is just the other way. Autoists want the roads wider. In justice to the owners of buggies and carriages they ought to be for the safety of those who use the roads very much. Most owners of autos respect the right of way, but a few dampools go whizzing by a team as though they owned the whole earth, and care not for the safety of those who occupy the carriages and buggies.

Death of William Kroehler.

William Kroehler of Havelock died at 6:10 last evening from heart failure, believed to have been brought on by the excessive heat. Mr. Kroehler was a blacksmith's helper at the shops and had worked on Thursday, but laid off Friday because of the excessive heat. When on Thursday, but laid off Friday because to a fellow workman that if he had ten minutes more to work he could not get through it. He did not go to work Friday, but was up and around the town during the day. At 1:30 Charles Peterson walked with him to a room over Oliver's pool hall, where Kroehler laid down on a bed. Friends went back to the room at 5:50 p. m. and found him gasping for breath. Twenty minutes later he was dead.

Coroner Mathews held a conference with physicians at Havelock and came to the conclusion that no inquest was necessary. The body was left at Havelock at the home of the brother of the deceased, Fred Kroehler, former superintendent of the shops.

William Kroehler was born and grew up at Plattsmouth. He had worked for the Burlington most of his life at various places on the system. After an absence from Havelock for some time he returned there about two months ago and has since been working in the shops. William Kroehler was a very fleshy man and the excessive heat had affected him for several days prior to his death. —State Journal.

Mr. Kroehler's funeral will be held here tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon direct from the Burlington station, the body arriving here at 1:12 p. m. Rev. Randall will conduct the services.

Beat Matthew to It.

From all indications Matthew Gering will have to rely on criminal proceedings to get his money out of E. G. Belden, if any is got, as he has been beaten to all the available assets in sight in the shape of Belden's furniture, according to the Omaha paper this morning. The Bee has the following account of how Matthew was beaten to the assets:

Charles Rowe, a money lender, and Shotwell & Shotwell, attorneys at law, have filed attachments against the office furniture of the E. G. Belden company in the New York Life building, which closed down suddenly Monday.

As matters stand they have got in ahead of Walter Moise and Matthew Gering, who have claims against Belden, because their deals in Union Pacific were closed out by the Belden company without order.

Rowe's claim is for money loaned on a note and the others for legal services. Mr. Belden is in Omaha, but not "at home" to the casual inquirer. Service for the attachments was obtained "at usual place of residence," which is 1616 Willis avenue.

Moise and Gering are still breathing vengeance and Mr. Gering has gone far enough to draw up and sign a statement relative to the deal.

Belden has promised to meet Moise Saturday evening at 7:30 to settle up. Meantime Moise is watching Union Pacific stock soar toward the zenith and thinking unspeakable things.

Change at Telephone Office.

Miss Jessie Drost has accepted the position of operator at the central office of the Independent Telephone company in this village, entering upon her duties Tuesday, succeeding Mrs. Clara Davis, who has had charge of the office for several years. Miss Drost will no doubt be an accommodating and efficient "hello girl" in a very short time. Mrs. Davis resigned because she is in need of a vacation, but will remain "at the switch" for a short time to assist with the work until Miss Drost becomes thoroughly familiar with it.

Mrs. Davis states that she is very thankful to the public for the courteous manner in which she has been treated during the several years she has been in charge of the office. We are informed that the company will at once install a new switchboard in the Union office, which will add to the efficiency of the service.—Union Ledger.

Fred Carlson Injures Leg.

Last Sunday as Olof Lundberg and Fred Carlson were going down the hill just east of the Heebner quarry, west of town, in Olof's automobile, they met with an accident that put Fred on the "bad order" list for a few days. When about the middle of the hill they met a team and as the road is too narrow for two to pass Olof was forced to turn aside and run his car in the ditch on the side of the road, turning the car on its side. Fred jumped, and falling on his leg, sprained it severely. He was brought to town and Dr. Walker fixed him up. Mr. Lundberg says he did not see the team until he was upon it, as there was a slight turn in the road and the bad condition of the road caused the accident. Mr. Lundberg escaped injury and the car was not damaged. —Nehawka Register.
