

THE ELMWOOD CHAUTAUQUA

Enormous Crowds and a Most Successful Affair

Elmwood, Neb., Aug. 19.—(Special to the Journal.)—The biggest chautauqua ever held in Cass county is now well under way, and it is a great success in every particular. The crowds this year have been enormous and the opening days have greatly encouraged the managers of the enterprise. The events of this week have been of a high order and every one has enjoyed the splendid program provided. On Monday the Cass County Teachers' Institute opened and there has been a large enrollment of members from all parts of the county. The ladies' dining hall was crowded this day by guests at the reception tendered the teachers by the Park association, this being one of the social events of the chautauqua. In addition to his other lectures Dr. H. M. Parkhurst this day gave another fine lecture, which was greatly appreciated by a large audience. The Chicago Ladies' orchestra gave a fine concert also. An interesting discussion was had at the church congress in the morning. Taggart, the comedian, entertained large crowds and kept them in a constant state of laughter.

Tuesday was also a great day and had a marked increase in attendance. The program as mapped out for the teachers' institute was carried out very successfully. Dr. Parkhurst's lecture was attended by the usual interested crowd. The Eva Bartlett Macey company gave two concerts, which were well attended. The Elmwood cornet band furnished some fine band music to large audiences. Father P. J. McCorry, in the evening, delivered an impressive and

For the Weeping Water Reunion.

An automobile party struck town this morning, advertising the old soldiers' reunion at Weeping Water, which takes place on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 24 to 27 inclusive. The party consists of P. S. Barnes, W. W. Jameson and George H. Olive, all prominent citizens of that city. Mr. Olive being the editor and publisher of the Republican there. The gentlemen made a number of calls on our business men and left many advertisements of their gathering, which will be one of the best ever given in the county and will include many things which are attractive to old and young alike. There will be balloon ascensions, athletic sports of all kinds, baseball games, including one on August 26 between Weeping Water and Plattsmouth, and other events too numerous to mention. It is to be hoped a good attendance turns out to this affair from this city, as it is quite deserving of as big a crowd as possible.

The City band of this has been engaged to furnish the music for the occasion and that assures them of a high quality of this as well as a plentiful quantity. In connection with this Manager Ed. Donat of the City band begs to state that the band will positively attend. Owing to a misunderstanding between the band boys and the management of the shops here, it was reported that Superintendent of Shops Baird would not let the members of the band away for the occasion. Manager Donat yesterday held a conference eloquent address to a large audience. The ball game in the afternoon was attended by a large crowd and was a red-hot contest. Alvo defeated Elmwood by a score of 2 to 1, both teams playing fast and snappy ball and winning applause from the large crowd.

Wednesday's program had as its attractions the Eva Bartlett Macey company and Dr. Parkhurst, who met with their usual success in interesting and entertaining large audiences, and in the evening Edward Amherst Ott delivered his lecture, "Sour Grapes," to a crowd which taxed the capacity of the speaker's voice. Ott is one of the best lecturers ever heard here and made a distinct hit. The ball game in the afternoon was an exciting and lively contest, ending in a score of 7 for Elmwood to 5 for Murdock. A great crowd saw the contest, which went thirteen innings, and cheered on their favorites. The game was one of the best seen in years in this section. Both teams fought stubbornly and Elmwood finally won.

Every one here looks for Plattsmouth to send a big train full of people to hear Rev. Ernest O'Neill speak Sunday, and anticipations of a great treat run high. With charming grounds, superb attractions and everything to draw a good crowd, it is hoped Plattsmouth will show its friendly feeling for the success of the chautauqua by sending a record breaking crowd. Every one attending will be pleased with the trip. The special leaves Plattsmouth at 8 a. m. and will leave here, returning home at 10 p. m.

with Superintendent Baird and makes a positive statement that the trouble all arose over a misunderstanding of the situation and that Mr. Baird at no time had any intention of refusing the men the vacation. He was only too glad, as a matter of fact, to furnish any assistance in his power to the band and cheerfully acquiesced in their desire to lay off for this occasion. Manager Donat feels that a public statement is necessary to put Mr. Baird in the right light before the people, and for this purpose makes the above statement. This assures Weeping Water of good music.

To All Pioneers of Cass County.

Prof. Ed. Schulhof Hurt.

Prof. Ed. Schulhof this morning ventured down town for the first time in several days, having been severely and painfully injured in a runaway near Louisville some days ago. In company with William Pankonin, with whom he had been stopping for several days while he looking after the piano tuning in that neighborhood, he had started out to go to a neighbor's home about a mile or so distant. In going down a hill a short distance from Mr. Pankonin's the tongue of the buggy in which they were riding came down and the buggy ran down on the horses, causing them to run away. They ran a short distance when they upset the buggy in which the two gentlemen were riding, throwing them both out. Mr. Pankonin escaped without injury, but Prof. Schulhof sustained two very severe cuts on the left leg, which resulted in laying him up. One cut was down the calf of the leg and a long, deep one. The other, which was also of a deep character and quite long, was across the back of the thigh. Prof. Schulhof bled profusely and a surgeon was hurriedly summoned, who stanching the flow of blood and bound up his injuries. He was brought to this city and at once quietly taken to his home. Owing to his desire to escape publicity his friends were not aware of the accident until several days after it happened. It is thought now that he has reached such a stage that he will get along nicely in the future, and that he will soon be able to return to his work.

It has been Prof. Schulhof's custom for several years to spend his vacation from his duties at Glenwood in the country tuning pianos, and he has always made his home for a time with Mr. Pankonin while engaged in this work. This is his first serious accident while in the occupation and driving over the country, and he trusts it will be the last to befall him.

Lesson in Civic Pride.

A lesson in civic pride has been taught Plattsmouth citizens by Mrs. Henry Martens. This most estimable lady became disgusted with the high weeds which had been permitted to grow on the west side of Garfield park, and yesterday took a sickle and proceeded to cut them down. Not being able to complete the job in one day, she went at it this morning and finished it. This is a highly commendable spirit, but it is to be regretted that it was necessary for her to do this. Some arrangements should be made by which such matters can be taken care of without compelling ladies to do this work. If the weeds were on the park side of the street the commissioners should have seen that they were cut down. As it is the result is a vast improvement in the appearance of the street and a big improvement in the general aspect of the park.

New House Numbers.

On September 1 every house in Chicago will have a new number. In order to prevent any mistakes we wish to announce to our friends that the factory of Mr. Jos. Triner will bear the numbers 1333-1339 South Ashland avenue, Chicago, Ill. The excellent quality of Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine will remain unchanged and will, as always before, be the standard remedy in all troubles of the digestive system. As soon as you will notice that your appetite and your strength are declining you should use Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. You use it also when you are pale, sickly, indisposed, when your digestion is poor and your nerves weak. At drug stores. Jos. Triner, 1333-1339 South Ashland avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Card of Thanks.

To the many kind friends and neighbors, we desire in this way to express our grateful thanks for the many kindly expressions and the beautiful floral offerings given at the death and burial of our beloved daughter and relative, Anna Catherine Leis and you may rest assured your kindly deeds will never be forgotten.
