

PRELIMINARIES AT TENT SERVICES

Large Audiences Attend Both Morning and Evening.

The reception planned by the Christian church people to take place at the big tent, north of the court house, Saturday evening was carried out to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. A splendid program was given, though not just as announced in the papers. It was even better than anticipated. But one number was omitted, it being that of Mrs. William Baird, and it was deeply regretted by all that she could not fill her place on the program, having been called to attend the funeral of an old friend at St. Joseph, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Baird departed for St. Joe Saturday afternoon. With the one exception the program was given about as planned.

Mayor Sattler made a brief speech of welcome, in which he turned over the keys of the city to the managers of the meeting. After the mayor, Hon. R. B. Windham spoke of the church work in the city, and extended warm words of welcome to the evangelists, and hoped that much good work should result from their stay in the city.

At the close of Mr. Windham's address the entire audience sang "America," and Rev. Wilhite responded to the welcome of Mayor Sattler and Mr. Windham. Mr. Tuckerman then sang a solo, which was appreciated highly, while Mrs. Tuckerman responded with a reading which pleased every one and was enthusiastically received.

The receiving line was composed of Rev. Luther Moore and wife, Rev. Tuckerman and wife and Rev. Wilhite and many others. After the reception the ladies of the church served delicious refreshments.

The services yesterday and last night were well attended by attentive listeners. Evangelist Wilhite preached two powerful sermons, which were well received and left a deep impression on the audience. He made a strong appeal to the young people of the city to take a stand for a better life. The special music by Mr. Tuckerman and wife added much to the effect of the strong and able sermons delivered by the evangelist.

The M. E. people closed their church and attended the service in the big tent. As a result of the first day's effort, at the first invitation for those desiring to live a better life, nineteen persons came forward, and before the meeting closed twenty had signified their intention to unite with the church. Among those who signified such intention were some of the best young people of the city.

The meetings will continue right along and the interest will no doubt increase with each service, which will open every evening at 8 o'clock.

The Burwood Has Great Attraction.

Of the many brilliant dramatic successes achieved by the Messrs. Shubert in recent months, "The Great John Ganton," a play of American finance, is conspicuous. This drama was given its first performance at the Lyric theater in New York. Its success was immediate, and critics were unanimous in its praise. The announcement that the Shuberts are sending this attraction in its original form to the Burwood, Omaha, for four days, starting Sunday, September 19, will, therefore, be interesting news to playgoers in this part of the state. "The Great John Ganton" tells a story of tremendous power. The principal character is a man of relentless business methods, who has come into complete domination of the packing business of the world. How he throttles all competition, deals with labor disorders and dictates prices to both hemispheres, is grippingly told in the stage narrative. Mr. George Fawcett, considered by many critics America's foremost character actor, is the star of the production. His conception of John Ganton is said to be one of the most notable contributions to the American stage. Surrounding Mr. Fawcett is a company of Broadway players. The Shuberts have spared no cost in the preparation of this production. Many of the scenes are almost lavish, reflecting as they do glimpses of fashionable life in Chicago. There is an absorbing love story woven among the more sordid themes of the story. John Ganton's son has fallen in love with Miss May Keating, the daughter of an old-time business rival of the meat baron. Naturally the match is abhorrent to the old man and at a crisis in the play he disinherits his son and throws him out of the business. How the young woman beards the old stock yard lion in his den and succeeds in re-establishing her lover, forms the most thrilling scene of the drama. The entire production fairly bristles with interest and never fails to meet a most enthusiastic reception.

Again Changes Hands.

The Eagle Beacon has again changed hands, Mrs. Inez Brinkworth disposing of her interest in the plant to Charles E. Allen. The Beacon has had a sort of a checkered career from its infancy, but with the right man at its head the paper can be placed upon a good paying basis, and the Journal hopes that Mr. Allen will prove to be that man. Eagle has a live set of business men, who are liberal advertisers, and the town is surrounded by an excellent class of farmers, who will prove loyal to the support of the Eagle under ordinary circumstances, and stand by anyone who is disposed to do right by the town and community. The Journal wishes Mr. Allen all the success imaginable.

Coal! Coal!

I have just received a car load of excellent coal. Wm. Richardson, Mynard, Neb.

In Police Court.

Saturday night Fred Ohm and John Wesley Kalesek filled up on sour mash and proceeded to make themselves objectionable citizens.

The police officers allege that the young men were found in a beastly state of intoxication near the Riley hotel, where they were heard to use vile and indecent language in the presence of passers. Night man Trout warned the boys and started them on their way home, but they soon changed their minds and returned. Nels Jones and Policeman Trout ran them in. This morning the fellows were taken before Judge Archer and given the maximum of $10 each and costs. The boys were sober and desired the judge to let them get out of town. The sentence was suspended for an hour, while the boys hiked.

Cass County Product.

Frank E. Schlater of Plattsmouth is the Democratic candidate for treasurer of Cass county. He is now serving his first term in that office and relies upon his record of two years to recommend him and secure the support of the voters of that prosperous old county. The funds of the county are in good hands and the records of the office are open for inspection for the public any time. Frank is a Cass county boy, born in Plattsmouth about forty years ago, and has lived in Cass county all his life. He is most popular where he is best known and they run short of material to make better stuff about the time he was born. Wish I had an opportunity to vote for him. Anyhow, hope he will get a rousing majority.—Lincoln Herald.

Will Attend Harvard.

Harry Palmer of Louisville, Neb., is in the city on his way to Harvard, where he will take up a course of law. Mr. Palmer is a graduate of Wesleyan. After his school work there he took a turn at newspaper reporting and later went on the road with a chautauqua company. A month's experience in a bank at Louisville later helped to fit him, he says, for a serious study of law problems, which he will take up in a short time. On his way east he will travel via St. Louis, Detroit and Portland, Me., before reaching Boston.—Lincoln Journal.

Depart For the North.

H. G. Shedd, the Ashland real estate man, was in the city today looking after business matters. Tomorrow, in company with George L. Farley and some five or six Cass county men he will depart for Alberta, Canada, to look up some land propositions. Mr. Shedd says that prices of land in that country is steadily advancing.

James Chalfant, of near Murray, was in the city a short time this morning waiting for the Omaha train. He reports corn in his neighborhood as very good. Corn planted on clover sod, he says, is very fine and will make very nearly a full crop.

Cardinal Gibbons on Prohibition.

"Prohibitionists all over the country are making an effort to suppress the use of intoxicating liquors, and while I hope they will succeed, I don't think they will. Reform must come from within, not from without. You cannot legislate for virtue," said Cardinal Gibbons the other day. His remarks were made during an address following the pledge given to the main portion of a class he had confirmed in St. Mary's church, adjoining Doughoregan manor, on the historic old Carroll estate, near Baltimore.

"There is but one thing to do," continued the cardinal, "and that is to inculcate abstinence in young persons, so they may not become slaves to liquor. Its effects are found everywhere, sometimes even among churchmen. No church should tolerate a clergyman who drinks. If a tendency to drink is found among seminarians, they should be asked to leave off studying for the sacred ministry. Should the superior of St. Charles college, who is present, find among his students one or another with an inclination toward strong drink, he would at once have that student removed.

"Understand me, I do not mean to say that it is a sin to take a little refreshment, but it should be taken at the proper time, and once you are of age you are not to make up for lost time. The Catholic church does not advocate extremes, but wisely, safely, steers in the middle course."

Market Gossip.

Minneapolis stock wheat increased 275,000 bushels for two days against an increase of 650,000 bushels a year ago. Brosseau and Hellman bought 750,000 bushels of December on the decline. Findley-Barrell, John Barrett and Armour were best sellers. World's shipments: Wheat, 10,544,000 bushels; corn, 1,381,000. Broomhall cables: Wheat—Market at the opening was quiet with values 1-4@3-8 lower, being influenced by the disappointing American cables on Saturday. During the further pressure developed and values lost an additional 1-8@3-8, and resulted in heavy world's shipments, especially from Russian and Danube, which amounted to 7,176,000 bushels, against 6,384,000 last week and 3,768,000 last year. Good rains were reported in Argentine and offerings were cheaper here with cargoes 3 pence lower. At midday the market was easy and 3-8 to 5-8 lower than Saturday. Corn—Quiet at start and unchanged. Later values lost 1-8@1-1 on the cheaper LaPlata offerings and the easier American cables. John English says: Cincinnati to Chillicothe, 100 miles southeast, there is quite an acreage of low land which evidently could not be cut at the proper time. This corn is very poor, but on the other hand some bottom land is very good. From Chillicothe to Circleville the crop will go thirty-five to seventy-five bushels per acre, and much of it is cut. Quality good. Pasture still good; no feeding of corn like last year. C. H. Boedecker of Murray transacted business in Omaha today. Mr. Boedecker starts for Los Vegas, N. M., tomorrow, where he has disposed of a large tract of valuable land.

B. & M. LOSS BY FIRE

Round House at South Omaha Entailing a Loss of $50,000.

The loss to the Burlington railroad through the burning of its roundhouse at South Omaha Saturday night was approximately $50,000, according to the estimate of the chief of the fire department and the foreman of the yards. The roundhouse contained five stalls for engines. Three of these were occupied by engines. A new engine had been brought in from Havelock Saturday and had not yet gone into commission. It was rendered worthless. The origin of the fire is something of a mystery, but it is thought to be due to the accidental ignition of a quantity of oil and waste. One of the men had gone in to fill a torch with oil and a few moments after he came out the flames sprang up and filled the whole interior so quickly that no one could go in or save any of the three valuable engines. By the time the fire chief arrived the roof had fallen in and the loss was total.

A circumstance which caused some delay to No. 2 fire company was that house movers were moving a house in the street over which the company had to run to approach the fire. By good fortune the company avoided a collision, but it was compelled to retrace its course and was delayed several minutes.

This condition of affairs is a source of concern to the chief. He will ask that house movers be compelled to report to No. 1 fire hall each night where they leave houses in transit.

Fine Apples.

J. C. Brandon, while on a visit to his farm over in Mills county, Iowa, south of Glenwood, barreled 100 barrels of the finest apples we have seen this season. He brought a couple of specimens over when he returned to Plattsmouth to show the Journal what kind of apples they raise across the Big Muddy, and we want to tell you, they are dandies. It isn't any wonder that Mills county is so well known for her fine apples, if the ones Mr. Brandon left at this office are fair samples. Cass county ought to raise just as fine apples as Mills county, and we can, if we do not already.

Burlington Thieves.

Burlington detectives will go to Papillion today to attend the trial of two men, Walters and Adair, who are charged with receiving stolen property. This is the wind up of the raid made about a year ago, when Burlington sleuths worked out complaints about cars being robbed after leaving Omaha. It was found that cars were opened in Omaha and that the men got in the cars and rode them out to the Fort Crook line Junction, where the goods were thrown out of the car. A brother of Adair is now serving a term in the penitentiary for this work, after pleading guilty. The two men to be tried Monday at Papillion are merely charged with receiving property taken from the cars.—Lincoln Journal.

TAKE IT IN TIME

Just as Scores of Plattsmouth People Have.

Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect the aching back, urinary troubles, diabetes, surely follow. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve backache. Cure every kidney ill. Plattsmouth citizens endorse them. E. M. Buttery, Cor., Sixth & Walnut Streets, Plattsmouth, Neb., says: "It did not require a long use to prove to me that Doan's Kidney Pills are a remedy of merit. I often had pains in my hips, so severe that I could hardly work and there was also a lameness across my loins. I had reason to believe that these troubles were caused by disordered kidneys and hearing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly spoken of, I made up my mind to try them. I procured a box at Gering & Co.'s drug store and they brought me prompt and effective relief." (Statement given June 19, 1909.) On December 29, 1908, Mr. Buttery said: "I still have a good word to say for Doan's Kidney Pills. I heartily confirm the statement I made over two years ago in their favor." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. Mrs. J. Schullif and daughter spent the day in the Omaha, going on the early train.
