The Presbyterian choir met for reorganization last evening at the residence of G. L. Farley. All of the old members were present with one or two exceptions, and many new members will be found in their places.

It would be a good idea for the city council to purchase a street sweeper. They have them in other cities not as large as Plattsmouth, and why not have one here? The work could be done after closing hours, and the streets could be kept much cleaner. Let the business men agitate the question.

In a little advice to some of the citizens of that town the Pender Republic says: "The place that gives a man his living is entitled to his best efforts to advance everything calculated to benefit the place and community. No man has a right to live in a town who seeks to enrich himself and not actively identify himself with its interests.

Reports from Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bates are to the effect that they are feeling pretty well, and anticipate no very serious results from the ordeal which they will pass through. A picture of the Thornton & Minor hospital shows that it is a mammoth institution, and at the present time contains over 400 afflicted patients. Bob says he may be up in a week or ten days, but will have to return after a few days here. This will be practiced for perhaps three months.

Robertson, Attorneys.

The newest fashion in women's hats has been named "Dr. Cook." It is suggestive of the polar regions, two feet tall, made of brown fur, fuzzy and expensive. How many of these hats will be worn in Plattsmouth this winter? Don't all speak at once.

Miss Florence Felt, one of the efficient teachers in the Omaha schools, spent Sunday in this city the guest of her uncle, Mr. Hanks and family.

UNION.

(Ledger.) Lee Applegate has been a sick man the past several days, but at last reports he was improving.

A. L. Becker went to Peru Monday to make arrangements for his daughter Mary to attend school at the state normal this year.

The many friends of Mrs. Cynthia Freeman will be very glad to learn that she has almost recovered from her accident of a few weeks ago.

G. W. Saxon and wife and daughter Iva returned Saturday from Lincoln, where they had spent the week camping out at the state fair. Mr. Saxon was a member of the state fair police force.

Joseph Chidester moved his household goods to Nehawka last Saturday, where he and his family will make their future home. Joe has the position of section foreman for the M. P. at that place.

Mrs. T. J. O'Day and two sons changed cars here last Saturday on their way to Shenandoah, Ia., where they will make a visit with relatives before leaving for their new home at Malden, Wash.

M. R. Thorpe and family came up from Nebraska City Saturday evening with a complete camping outfit, intending to enjoy about two weeks of outdoor life at Springdale farm, John Larsh's beautiful home north-east of town. Mr. Thorpe is a mail carrier at Nehawka City, and he takes this way of enjoying his annual vacation.

Sunday evening this vicinity was visited by what may be called a little cyclone, something unusual at this time of the year. The wind was quite fierce for a short time and was accompanied by rain and hail. Several large trees were blown down here in town, but no other serious damage was done.

LOUISVILLE.

(Ledger.) A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sack Friday, September 10.

George Frater left Monday for Cleveland, O., where he will visit a couple of weeks at his old home with the object of regaining his health.

G. P. Meisinger of Cedar Creek, Democratic candidate for county commissioner, was in town last Friday and paid the Courier office a pleasant call.

Ed. Cline has secured a position as teacher in a district school near Stratton and left Friday to be on hand for the opening of school next Monday morning.

The little 2-year-old son of Ora Edwards swallowed a pin Thursday morning. A liberal dose of opac caused the little fellow to throw it up, however.

The mammoth contract of stripping for the Hugh Murphy quarries, east of town, is almost completed. It has required over a year of work with steam shovel, excavator and wheelers and has cost a large sum of money. All that is left now is to clean up, which will be completed in about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phelps were at Omaha Wednesday, where they went to visit Mr. Phelps' sister, Mrs. Paul, at the St. Joseph hospital, where she has been an inmate since July. It will be remembered that about one year ago Mrs. Paul's husband, Dr. Paul of Omaha, died very suddenly while having a tooth extracted, and it is thought that the shock of his sudden death was so great that it had much to do with Mrs. Paul's illness.

State Fair Deficit.

The state fair this year will show a deficit of about $16,000, according to the figures submitted by the board. The receipts this year from all sources were $55,858.34. The expenses of the fair will reach $63,000. The surplus of previous years amounted to $24,235.82. Added to the expenses, however, will be from $8,000 to $10,000 required to put the grounds in shape. The deficit occasioned by the immediate expenses of the fair is thus in excess of $7,000. To this must be added the expense of putting the grounds in shape. The total number of visitors fell about 11,000 short as compared with last year. This would have in itself merely cut down the profits of the fair. But instead of the fair costing $50,000 it cost $63,000. This occasioned most of the loss.—Lincoln Star.

THE ONLY WAY

At the Burwood, Omaha. Invited to Leave Town. Gill, the tailor, took on several too many Tuesday and as a result Marshal Hagan got him. After a night in the village bastille he was taken before Justice Lewis and drew a fine of $15 and trimmings. Gill is a foxy boy and reported that he had been touched for his roll, and Henry Pettif, who was seemingly with him, by some one at sometime, was under suspicion and accordingly searched. Henry had only acted the part of a good samaritan and endeavored to take care of the tailor, but Marshal Hagan, who has seen a few in his time, concluded that it might not be out of the regular routine of business to submit Mr. Gill to a search to ascertain whether or not his claim of being robbed was authentic. He found $55 neatly tucked away in one of his socks. Gill had expressed a desire to leave town and go to the coast, and Judge Lewis, who, up to this time, had borne the reputation of a stand-patter, took pity on the wayward one, and under the promise of getting out of town on the first train, remitted the fine and costs with the exception of $1 due the marshal. Louisville is again minus a tailor.—Ledger.

Asa Snyder, whose headquarters have been at Grand Island, spent Sunday with Mrs. Snyder and Leroy, who have been here at the home of her father, A. N. Sullivan, since the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Alice Towle. Mr. Snyder thinks he will probably make a change from Grand Island to Omaha very soon.

Corn is Ripening. C. T. Peacock, prosperous young farmer from Eight Mile Grove precinct, was in the city today, and reports the corn crop as ripening up nicely. He thinks his corn and that of the neighbors is somewhat better than last year, and will do to gather this year earlier than usual.

The last two weeks have seen a goodly number of our fall suits go out of the store.

The nobby ones are going first. You'll know ours when you see them. They fit different from the common clothes. The young men's line especially large, peg top trousers with a 3-inch turnup, broad shoulder coats, and the materials mostly of the new rough weaves in grays and blues, which are the most popular of this season's shades.

It'll pay you to look at our line first. We won't urge you to buy.
