

GREEK ARMY AND NAVY IN BATTLE

Exchange Shots and Then Open Peace Negotiations.

TIBALDOS HEADS THE REVOLT.

Remarkable Situation Follows Lieutenant's Quarrel With the Government—Demands That He Be Appointed Minister of Marine and Threatens to Establish Dictatorship Unless It Is Conceded.

Athens, Oct. 30.—Fighting between the field batteries of the government and the torpedo vessels in the possession of Lieutenant Tibaldos, the leader of the revolt, has occurred. Shots were exchanged for twenty minutes, after which negotiations were opened.

An actual revolt in the navy has taken place, and the situation is acute. The band of naval officers which quitted the capital and withdrew to the island of Salamis, seized the arsenal there and are now entrenched.

The rebels are led by Officer Tibaldos and are reported to number 300 men. The government has proclaimed Tibaldos a traitor and ordered his arrest.

The Greek fleet is anchored at Keratsini, on the farther side of the island of Salamis, and has not yet had time to declare which side it will take. Great excitement prevails in this city and the ministry of marine is guarded by troops.

Lieutenant Tibaldos, who leads the revolt, is the commander of a flotilla of torpedo boats and submarines. It appears he demands that he be appointed minister of marine and threatens if this is not conceded that he will overthrow the government and establish a dictatorship.

If Tibaldos succeeds in winning over the fleet, as it is rumored he will, it is feared he will be in a position to carry out his threats.

Troops Sent to Surround Rebels.

London, Oct. 30.—A dispatch from Athens says that Lieutenant Tibaldos has seized the island of Leris, which is situated close to the arsenal. Troops have been sent by the government with orders to surround the position of the rebels and compel them to surrender.

TAMMANY IN BAD LIGHT

Alleged to Have Protected White Slavers in Philadelphia.

New York, Oct. 30.—Information was obtained in Philadelphia that Tammany influences had been used in that city to protect white slave dealers there.

Information of almost equal positiveness was obtained that when in 1901 the war in this city against the traffickers in girls in the red light district drove a number of those traffickers out of this city they were advised by men who are associated with Tammany to go to Philadelphia and they would take care of them until they could have established themselves in Philadelphia.

It was learned that when these white slave traders first fled from New York to Philadelphia they were supplied with funds by men they had served politically in New York until they had established police connection and arranged for such police protection there as they had enjoyed here.

MOB SEIZES BALLOTS

Breathitt County Feud Manifested in New Form at Jackson, Ky.

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 30.—The sheriff of Breathitt county and a posse are in pursuit of an armed mob which took the ballots to be used in Tuesday's election from the Jackson deposit bank, where they were placed for safe keeping. There is a hot fight between the Democrats and Republicans and County Clerk Hurst placed the ballots in the bank. At noon the mob entered the bank, seized the ballots and left for Middle Fork.

School Teacher Needed the Money.

Kansas City, Oct. 30.—Thaddeus Wilson, a school teacher of Garnett, Kan., was arrested here, charged with sending two letters to R. A. Long, a millionaire lumber dealer, demanding $5,000. The letters contained no threats, but said the writer needed the money badly and asked that Mr. Long mail it to him.

Croker in New York.

New York, Oct. 30.—Richard Croker, who arrived on the Mauretania, dined with a few friends at the Democratic club. Evidently he was in robust health. He talked of his horses at his Glencairn estate, but nothing under the sun could induce him to talk politics.

TROLLEY CAR RUNS AWAY

One Killed and Several Injured in Unusual Accident in Denver.

Denver, Oct. 30.—One woman was killed and ten persons injured when a Seventeenth avenue car got beyond control on the steep hill and jumped the track at Court place. As the car started on the descent of the Seventeenth street hill the brakes failed to work and the motorman shouted to the passengers to jump. Many of them did so, but there were fifty people left in the car when it reached the foot of the hill. Mrs. Roderick, the woman who was killed, was walking along the sidewalk when she was caught by the runaway car, which turned over upon her after striking the telephone pole.

After striking the telephone post the car crashed through a taxicab standing at the curb, killing a horse attached to a delivery wagon and turned over against a building. Arthur Packer, chauffeur of the taxicab, was sitting in his seat when the car crashed into his machine and was seriously hurt. Mrs. Burt Guiry was hurt internally and may die. Raymond Whitaker of St. Joseph, Mo., suffered a dislocated shoulder.

PRAIRIE FIRE IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Many Claim Holders in Tripp Lose Houses and Crops.

Tallas, S. D., Oct. 30.—A terrific prairie fire is raging in Tripp county. It started in the southern part of the county and was swept along by a high south wind. The entire population of Lamro county is out fighting the fire. The town of Lamro is entirely surrounded by flames to within a block of the town, but the town is considered safe. Mr. and Mrs. McGrievie were brought into town for medical treatment, terribly burned. Many claim holders' homes were entirely destroyed. Heroic efforts of the people in the vicinity of McNeeley stopped the end of the fire line two miles from town. The fire extended three miles east to west. Much loss to buildings and hay crops is reported.

TRADE IS SATISFACTORY

Improvement Promises to Make a Record for Current Year.

New York, Oct. 30.—Bradstreet's says: Trade as a whole is good, or better, the former word, in fact, being hardly sufficient to characterize the buoyancy and breadth of demand shown in many lines. Industry, in turn, responds with advances of manufacturers' order books full or overtime runs, and general reports of an insufficiency of labor to meet requirements. Altogether, the situation is very satisfactory, and the rate of improvement in the late months of the year promises to place 1909 close to the front in the list of years of prosperity. While mild weather has tended to retard retail trade in some sections of the northwest, the general report is that the advance of the season and the marketing of the year's crop is bringing out a large volume of trade in the country districts, while enlarging pay rolls, fall festivals and state fairs are all helping to stimulate distribution in the cities.

Our old friend, William Stockham of Nehawka, came up last evening to look after some business matters at the court house, and this morning called at Journal headquarters to renew his faith in the Old Reliable for another year. Mr. Stockham is one of the substantial farmers of that section of Cass county, and an awful good citizen. We are always glad to meet him.

Hay Rack Ride.

The members of the senior and junior classes of the High school enjoyed a hay rack ride last evening in and about the city. During the early part of the evening a number of the seniors and juniors captured Miss Travis and Miss Nichols, members of the faculty of the High school, as they were on their way to the sophomore class party. Two large hay racks were then chartered and they then drove down Main street. As they were coming down one of the hay racks broke down, and while it was being repaired they marched up and down the street, giving their own class wells. The entire party was supplied with tin horns and the residents were along the way were reminded of the fact that there was something doing. During the drive apples, peanuts and popcorn were served.

The Sophomores.

The home of Miss Adella White was the scene of much merriment and frolic last evening when the sophomores assembled at her home at a Hallowe'en party. The rooms were attractively decorated with autumn leaves, bitter-sweet, apples and streamers of royal purple, the class colors, and were lighted with candles placed in grotesquely carved pumpkins. The outside decorations consisted of howling freshmen and a telegraph pole across the front doorway. The various puns and pranks were entered into with much interest and enthusiasm and laughter and good cheer prevailed throughout the amusing tricks and tests indulged in. Refreshments characteristic of the occasion were served. Prof. J. W. Gamble and wife; Misses Johnston, Howard and Principal B. L. Harrison were guests of the class.

A Ghost Party.

The members of the sixth grade of the Central building, accompanied by their instructor, Miss Cleo Applegate, enjoyed a ghost party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Brown last evening. As per request a number of the little people were clothed in sheet and pillow case. The house was appropriately decorated with autumn leaves and grinning jack-o'-lanterns. The principal amusement was derived from various games and amusement which occasioned much frolic for the little people. The pleasures of the evening were further augmented when the guests were invited to the dining room, where a picnic supper was served in picnic style. At a late hour the happy company departed for their homes, having spent a most delightful evening.

Not only has he been a patron, but he pays for three others copies of the Journal, sent to relatives and friends in other sections of the state. Such patrons are highly appreciated. Mr. Stockham is an old resident of Cass county and his many friends will regret, with the Journal, his decision to remove from the county.

A Freshment Class Party.

The members of the freshmen class were delightfully entertained last evening at the home of Miss Gladys Duke. In deference to the season the decorations were largely of autumn leaves of bitter-sweet. Upon their arrival the Duke home the form clothed in sheet and pillow case. A few hours more of social conversation and music brought the enjoyable evening to a close.

Examining the Records.

Quinton, sheriff of Cass county. We trust he reviewed the records to his entire satisfaction, and that he will produce Quinton's report and deficiencies just as he found them. Will he do this? Not if he can find any way of squirring out of doing so.

BURLINGTON SHOP IMPROVEMENTS

William Butler Departs by the Side-Door Pullman Route, Same Way He Came

The Work on the Big Sewer is Being Rushed to a Finish.

Work on the new concrete sewer which the Burlington is engaged in putting in from the shops to the river, is being pushed forward with all possible speed. There is a large force of men now engaged in putting in the walls for the structure, a great opening having been made under the main line tracks of the company at a distance of several hundred yards south of the station. This excavation is being rapidly filled with concrete walls and within a very short time drainage for the hollow occupied by the shops will be complete. The new sewer is quite a good deal larger than the old, and will be capable of carrying off an immense amount of water. The only objection which the company has ever made to the location of their shops in this city was that drainage was inadequate and that the large territory which the hollow drained frequently caused floods in the shops and yards and resulted in damage to their property. With this evil obviated there can be no possible exception taken to the property and extensive improvements and extensions can be looked for.

The big storm water sewer which the company projects along Lincoln avenue is also among the things which are almost sure to be built. This sewer will cost, it is asserted, $10,000, and will take care of the flood waters which now rush down the creek in that valley. It is to be a very large one, with a capacity guaranteed by the company engineers to carry the heaviest of floods. The city stands ready to vacate all land needed for its construction, and the company has only to designate what it wants to have its wishes complied with. The Commercial club has several matters under consideration in connection with the Burlington and, while nothing can be given out officially at present, it can be safely said that vast improvements are in the air and that Plattsmouth is in an excellent position to reap the benefit of changes which are contemplated. The outlook is considered extremely favorable for the city.

James Sage was a passenger this morning for Glenwood, Ia., where he has business matters to look after. Mr. Sage has just concluded the purchase of the property formerly owned by A. F. Hunger, near Rock Bluff, and expects to be able to soon dispose of it to another purchaser, as he has had several inquiries in regard to it.
