

ASKS FOR DIVORCE FROM HER HUSBAND, C. A. HOSPENTHAL

Mrs. Frances Hosenthal Wants Law to Free Her and Grant Her Custody of Child

A divorce case has been filed in the office of Clerk of the Court Robertson by Frances Hosenthal, who seeks divorce from her husband, Casper A. Hosenthal. Matthew Gerling appears as counsel for the plaintiff. The petition sets forth that the plaintiff has been a resident of Cass county for the past eight years and was married to the defendant at West Plains, Howell county, Missouri, on February 13, 1895, and that ever since her marriage she has conducted herself toward the defendant as a faithful, chaste and obedient wife; that the defendant on March 17, 1908 deserted and abandoned the plaintiff and her child and is now a resident of North Dakota, and that he has totally failed and refused to provide food, clothing, maintenance or schooling for the child of plaintiff and defendant and food and clothing for the plaintiff, and since defendant left plaintiff has been compelled to earn her living by manual labor to support herself and daughter Gracie; that the defendant has been guilty of extreme cruelty toward the plaintiff in March, 1908, by threatening to and attempting to take poison and in other ways frightening plaintiff. The petition further alleges the defendant is not a fit and proper person to have the custody, care and nurture of the female child of the parties and alleges the plaintiff is a proper person for such custody. The prayer of the petition is for divorce, the custody of the child and other relief.

Will Begin Work Monday.
It is positively announced today that on Monday next, M. E. Smith & Co., will have a force of men on hand and commence the work of cleaning up their new factory for business.

They intend to send down men who are experienced in the work and who understand just exactly what is required in such a factory.

The work will be under the personal supervision of their Mr. Dobeck, who is himself a mechanical expert and who understands the erection and operation of the machines which they will put into service. Mr. Dobeck will have the installation of fifty machines at once on his hands and this work will take place on Tuesday next. The machines were ordered direct from the factory in New York and will be here by the first of the coming week. They are brand new machines, and there is not a second-hand or old one in the number. Secretary Wescott states that this pleasing information was given him this morning by the management of the company incidentally. He was informed that the construction of the new Platte river bridge would be hailed with delight by the firm as it would put them into a position to personally supervise the work of the factory enabling them to run down to this city at any time in their automobiles and return as soon as their business was transacted. As the Platte river bridge is an assured fact, it can be said their desires will be taken care of. This being the case, it is reasonable to suppose other factories want the advantage of cheap operation such as this city affords together with convenient access to the business office.

Mrs. Claus Breckenfeldt Married.
On Wednesday, October 27, 1909, Mr. Henry Rulofz and Mrs. C. Breckenfeldt were united in marriage, the ceremony occurred at the home of Mrs. Charles Shavely, a daughter of the groom. After the ceremony the couple departed on a wedding trip, after which they will return to Elmwood to make their home. Mrs. Breckenfeldt is the widow of Claus Breckenfeldt, deceased, and is well known in Plattsburgh, where the family resided for a number of years. The groom is a widower and a man of considerable means. The Journal joins the many friends of the couple in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous career through life.

A clergyman writes: "Preventives, those little Candy Cold Cure Tablets, are working wonders in my parish." Preventives surely will check a cold, or the Grippe, in a very few hours. And Preventives are so safe and harmless. No Quinine, nothing harsh nor sickening. Fine for feverish, restless children. Box of 48 at 25c. Sold by all dealers.

MME. STEINHEIL FACES COURT

Woman Accused of Killing Husband and Mother on Trial.

ALL PARIS IS IN A FRENZY.

Thousands Ask for Admission, but Presiding Judge Limits Attendance to One Hundred—Prisoner Declares Her Original Account of Crime is True—Examination of Defendant is Dramatic.

Paris, Nov. 4.—Not since 1902, when Frederic and Therese Humbert were convicted of a $12,000,000 swindle, has a trial in Paris excited the intense interest exhibited in the case of Madam Adolphe Steinheil, which was opened before Judge De Valles in the Seine assize court.

Mme. Steinheil is on trial for her life, charged with the murder of her husband and her mother-in-law, Mme. Japy. The alleged motive is found in the defendant's hatred for her mother-in-law and a desire to rid herself of the husband in order that she might marry Maurice Bordel, a wealthy merchant, who had become infatuated with her.

The talent and attractiveness of the woman, combined with the mystery of her career and her connections with persons high in the public life of

MME. STEINHEIL

France, have fed the popular imagination and led the public to believe that the most startling disclosures are imminent.

Judge De Valles had received 2,000 applications for seats in the court room, but he arbitrarily refused all with the exception of those made for members of the press, the bar and others directly concerned with the trial.

To these were added the first 100 persons who, standing in line, sought admission to the court room. The law provides for public admission to the trial of any case not heard in chambers and the admission of the hundred mentioned met this requirement of the law.

In the hope of securing one of these coveted places, many men and women stood before the court entrance throughout the night, and places of vantage commanded as high as $200.

In refusing the many applications for seats Judge De Valles declared that he did not propose to tolerate a repetition of previous scandals by turning the present proceedings into a music hall performance.

Most of the session was occupied with the selection of a jury and the reading of the indictment.

During her examination, which was dramatic, Mme. Steinheil protested her innocence and declared repeatedly that her original account of the crime, to the effect that it had been committed by three men dressed in long flowing coats, with the assistance of a redhaired woman, was true.

She explained the stories told by her subsequently, in which she accused various persons, on the ground that she was in a nervous condition at the time and the victim of auto-suggestion on the part of the journalists, police officers and others.

FUNERAL OF SLAIN OFFICER

Big Four Employed Admits Shortage After Being Ousted.

New York, Nov. 4.—Albert H. Harris, vice president of the Big Four railroad, declared that C. Warriner of that railroad's passenger department had admitted a shortage in his accounts. Warriner, who was removed from office Monday, was summoned here and at a conference in Mr. Harris' office in the Grand Central station with several officials of the road he admitted, according to Mr. Harris, that he was responsible for a considerable loss of the railroad's money. Warriner who is under a $50,000 surety, returned to his home. Mr. Harris said that the amount of the loss had not yet been ascertained.

"Dry" Bill for Washington.

Anderson, S. C., Nov. 4.—Believing that prohibition in the south has been beneficial, Congressman Wyatt F. Aiken of South Carolina declared he would introduce a bill for prohibition in the District of Columbia at the next session of congress.

Shoots Wife for Burglar.

Admore, Okla., Nov. 4.—While entering a window at their home here Fred Dawson was shot and probably fatally wounded by her husband who mistook her for a burglar.

WILD NIGHT AT JACKSON

Bullets Fly and Dynamite Bomb is Exploded in Kentucky Town.

Jackson, Ky., Nov. 4.—Although a dynamite bomb was exploded and thousands of shots were fired during the night, only walls and plaster were damaged. Several persons in their homes had narrow escapes as bullets ploughed through walls and windows.

D. B. Redwine (Dem.) apparently has carried the county by 350 votes for circuit judge over J. P. Adams the incumbent. The other Democratic candidates for all offices also appear to be in the lead.

During the night's wild celebration the soldiers from Cynthiana were stationed on the public square here, but it is reported that they possessed not a round of ammunition. They expect supplies from Lexington.

The military here was reinforced by the arrival of Lexington soldiers who were stationed at Crockettsville. The band of celebrating mountaineers was also reinforced.

TO FIGHT FOR DAUGHTER

New York Society Woman Opposes Girl's Petition for a Guardian.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—That Mrs. Grace Chadbourn, society woman of New York and Chicago and divorced wife of Dr. Joseph Wassall, who was drowned in Lake Michigan, Sept. 18 will fight for the guardianship of her daughter, Ellen Wassall, became known when Attorneys Levy Mayer and W. W. Gurley entered their appearance in the superior court in behalf of Mrs. Chadbourn.

Shortly after Dr. Wassall, one of a yachting party, was washed overboard in a storm, his fifteen-year-old daughter filed a petition to have Agnes L. Hellmuth, Dr. Wassall's housekeeper, appointed her guardian. Mrs. Chadbourn's counsel will combat this petition.

SCIENTISTS O.K. PEARY'S CLAIMS

Committee of Geographic Society Says He Reached Pole.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The report of the subcommittee of the National Geographic Society, to which was referred the task of examining the records of Commander Peary in evidence of his having reached the North pole, have completed their task. Commander Peary submitted to this subcommittee his original journal and records of observations, together with all of his instruments and apparatus and certain of the most important of the scientific results of his expedition.

"These have been carefully examined by your subcommittee," says the report, and they are unanimously of the opinion that Commander Peary reached the North pole on April 6, 1909.

"They also feel warranted in stating that the organization, planning and management of the expedition and its complete success and its scientific results, reflects the greatest credit on the ability of Commander Robert E. Peary and render him worthy of the highest honors that the National Geographic Society can bestow upon him."

The report is signed by Gannett, C. M. Chester and O. H. Tittmann.

The resolutions adopted by the subcommittee were as follows:

"Whereas, Commander Robert E. Peary has reached the North pole, the goal sought for centuries;

"Whereas, This is the greatest geographical achievement that this society can have opportunity to honor; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That a special medal be awarded to Commander Peary;

"Resolved, That the question of whether or not any one reached the North pole prior to 1909 be referred to the committee on research with instructions to recommend to the board of managers a subcommittee of experts who shall have authority to send for papers or make such journeys as may be necessary to inspect original records, and that this action of the society be communicated at once to those who may have evidence of importance."

Accidentally Kills Friend.

Pittsburg, Kan., Nov. 4.—W. R. Rambo, a prominent citizen of Mulberry, near here, was accidentally shot and killed by William Tracy, his friend, while the two were hunting ducks on the Manhattan river.

RYAN WOULD ABOLISH GAME

Catholic Archbishop Objects to Football as Now Played.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—"Football is barbarous and ought to be abolished," said Archbishop Ryan of this city. "Instead they should play association football. It is the kind we played when I was at college, where the players kick the ball and not each other."

Archbishop Ryan's comment was brought out by the death of Michael Burke, a student at the Medico-Chirurgical college, who received fatal injuries in a game last Saturday. Burke, whose home was in Shenandoah, was a member of the Cathedral team while attending college here, and was known to the archbishop. Mr. Burke's funeral was held today at Shenandoah.

ESCAPES MEAT TRUST

London Gets Cargo of Chilled Beef From Australia.

London, Nov. 4.—The arrival of a cargo of chilled beef from Australia, said to be in tiptop condition, is heralded here as foreshadowing the relief of the British meat market from the danger of being throttled by the American trust."

Previous attempts to bring chilled beef from Australia have failed, the meat invariably being condemned. This meat brings scarcely half the price paid for American chilled beef.

EXPERTS MEET FOR WAR ON PELLAGRA

Columbia Conference to Plan

Campaign Against Disease.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 4.—Almost completely baffled as yet by one of the most mysterious diseases with which it was ever confronted and which already has assumed alarming proportions in this country, especially in the south, medical science began here to grapple with the new problem.

This strange disease is "pellagra," concerning which medical authorities know but little, either of its etiology or its cure. It is for the purpose of throwing light, if possible, on pellagra that experts on the disease from this and other countries assembled here in attendance on the national pellagra conference, which will continue its sessions for probably three days.

Every effort will be exerted to ascertain the cause of the peculiar disease and seek a method of treatment that will check the progress of its ravages.

Indicative of the profound interest that is manifest not only in this but in foreign countries in regard to the disease is the fact that from what was at first proposed as a purely local gathering of physicians for the discussion of pellagra the present conference developed into one of national and international character.

The federal government is keenly alive to the importance of the conference, being represented by officers from the public health and marine hospital service and the army.

TWO KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

Webb City, Mo., Nov. 4.—As a result of a premature explosion, Claude Harrison and Floyd Newton were killed while preparing a blast at the Electric zinc mine here.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Day's Trading and Closing Quotations.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Wheat prices broke severely, owing to general liquidation based on the weakness of the cash situation in this country and on the favorable outlook for the Argentine crop. The December delivery declined 2½c from the high point of the day. At the close prices showed net losses of 1@2½c. Corn and oats were slightly affected by the slump in wheat and closed easy, but provisions were strong. Closing prices:

Wheat—Dec., $1.02; May, $1.02½@1.02½c; July, 95½c.

Corn—Dec., 58½c; May, 60½@60¾c.
