CURED TO STAY CURED.

How a Plattsmouth Citizen Found Complete Freedom From Kidney Troubles.

If you suffer from backache—From urinary troubles—From any disease of the kidneys, Be cured to stay cured.

Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Plattsmouth people testify. Here's one case of it:

Herman Tiekotter, corner Ninth & Day Streets, Plattsmouth, Neb., says: "I never used another medicine that brought as great benefit as Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys caused me such suffering and there was a dull, red ache across the small of my back that distressed me a great deal. If I stooped, my back pained me severely and in the morning when I arose, I felt as tired as when I went to bed. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills so highly praised, I procured a box at Gering & Co.'s drug store and it was not long before I was thoroughly relieved. (Statement given June 8, 1906.)"

On December 29, 1908, Mr. Tiekotter said: "I cheerfully confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no trouble from my kidneys since this remedy cured me."

Appointment Delayed.

By wireless information we learn that the appointment of a postmaster to succeed Mr. Smith was delayed until after election on account of a political and disreputable trade made by the Republican committee, the details of which will soon leak out. By the way, Mr. Pollard, at the time of the struggle for the appointment of our postmaster, gave "Slippery Elmer" Burkett the wink and Mr. C. D. Clapp, the henchman of Mr. Pollard, was sent here to settle the controversy. The report wanted by Pollard & Co. was known to Clapp before he left his home in Elmwood and, of course, when he reported to Mr. Burkett he recommended that H. A. Schneider, Pollard's bosom friend, should be Mr. Smith's successor. So Mr. Clapp was worked in as a scapegoat. Selah!

A Card.

Now that the election is over and the returns show the magnificent work done in my behalf by my many friends in Cass county, I want to extend to them my sincere thanks and appreciation. To those in the county and the city whom I did not have an opportunity of meeting during the campaign but who so generously voted for me, I am especially grateful. I can assure the voters of Cass county that as long as I am register of deeds I shall try to administer the duties of the office fairly and impartially and every citizen of the county is invited to call and make my office their headquarters at any time. ANDREW J. SNYDER.

John M. Fowler of Weeping Water was among those spending yesterday in the city attending to business matters.

SHOOTS AT HIS SON-IN-LAW

James Williams Takes a Shot at Thomas Sherwood, Bullet Lodging in Ankle.

What might have been a very serious shooting affray took place this morning when James C. Williams, a well known citizen, shot Thomas Sherwood through the left ankle. The shooting took place about 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. Williams, in the Third ward, and was the outgrowth of family troubles of the Sherwoods, he having married a daughter of Mr. Williams'. The couple had separated some time ago and suit for divorce had been at one time commenced by Mrs. Sherwood. This had afterwards been dismissed.

The couple have been separated and Mrs. Sherwood was living at the home of her parents. Sherwood last evening went up to the Williams home, which is on Pearl street, between Eighth and Ninth, and wanted his wife to come out and meet him. This she would not do, the front door being locked. This door, which faces the street on the north, had a glass upper sash in it and this Sherwood proceeded to break after the refusal of his wife to meet him. The Williams family immediately alarmed the police and Chief Amick was notified, hurrying to the place, but Sherwood had fled. Chief Amick left word with the night police to take Sherwood into custody as soon as possible, but they did not do so, and this morning he ran across him on the street and informed him that he expected later to place him under arrest if a complaint should be filed.

Sherwood asked Amick to go with him to the Williams home, as he wanted to talk to his wife a few moments, and this the chief consented to do after obtaining Sherwood's solemn promise to behave himself. They went up to the house and Chief Amick stated that the house and Chief Amick stated that he promised and made no threats or vicious statements of any kind. After talking with Mrs. Sherwood for several minutes they started to leave, when Sherwood turned back and stated he was going to tell his wife where the baby buggy was. At this time Williams drove up on the delivery wagon of Zuckweller & Lutz, which he drives, and when Sherwood turned back, Williams ran around the house toward the rear door. Amick saw him and surmised that he intended to do violence of some nature to Sherwood, running after him, but being too late to prevent him seizing a twelve-gauge shotgun, which stood inside the basement door. Williams fired once at Sherwood, but his aim was poor, and the shot merely entered the man's ankle, inflicting painful, but not dangerous injuries. Amick then succeeded in placing Williams under arrest, and brought him down town, where he later was released on his own recognizance. Williams was much excited, and according to the chief, did not seem to realize what he had done. He hummed and sang all the way from the house to the station, a distance of several blocks and apparently did not have any conception of the dangerous act he had been guilty of.

The injured man was removed from the Williams home to a surgeon's office, where the shot which had entered the ankle were removed and he was made as comfortable as possible. It is not thought any dangerous complications will ensue and the belief is expressed that Sherwood will be able to be about before a great while.

No Complaints Filed.

There was no complaint filed today in the Williams case and it is not announced that any further action will be taken. The matter is still under consideration by County Attorney Ramsey and he is making a most careful and searching investigation into the facts. It is understood that Thomas Sherwood who was injured by the gunshot of J. C. Williams is opposed to prosecuting him and the entire matter may be said to be in abeyance pending a final decision on the matter. Williams is still at large and the officers have no fears of his leaving even should a complaint finally be filed.

It is so difficult to strengthen a weak Stomach if one goes at it correctly. And this is true of the Heart and Kidneys. The old fashioned way of dosing the Stomach or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is surely wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. "Go to the weak or ailing nerves of these organs," said he. Each inside organ has its controlling or "inside nerve." When these nerves fall then those organs must surely falter. This vital truth is leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. A few days' test will surely tell! Sold by all dealers.

THE THIRTEENTH GENERAL CENSUS

The Farmers Should be as Much Interested in This Enumeration as Others.

The thirteenth general census of the United States will be taken next year, beginning April 15. About 65,000 enumerators will then engage in the task of counting every man, woman and child in the country, and of ascertaining for each individual the color, sex, conjugal relation, place of birth, place of birth of parents, number of years in the United States, citizenship, occupation, etc.

More than 7,000,000 farmers are conducting operations on separate farms at the present time. Their products are marketed at all seasons of the year, under all sorts of local conditions, and at a widely varying range of prices. New lands, new crops, new methods and new processes are constantly affecting the net result to an unknown extent.

Therefore, while the department of agriculture keeps in close touch with every phase of farm life, so vast is the industry and so intangible are many of the elements and conditions affecting farm operations that the crop and other estimates of the department would become practically valueless if not regularly revised in the light of the census returns.

The farm census is taken primarily for the benefit of the farmer, but it is of interest to all classes, and especially just now. To what extent the very marked increase during recent years in the cost of living, and especially in the cost of certain kinds of farm products, is due to shortage in production is a question of vital moment.

A complete and accurate census of farm areas, products and values will furnish data which, in connection with the revised population figures, should throw much light on the great question of our national food supply. It lies with the farmer to provide this information, and the census department is making a special appeal to him to get ready for the enumerators. By preparing an accurate account of his farm operations during the year ending December 31, 1909, and by making an inventory on April 15, 1910, of all his farm possessions, the farmer can render the country a great service.

The schedule which the farmer will be asked to fill may be divided into five parts, as follows:

1. Personal information regarding the farmer.
 2. General information regarding farm acreage, values and expenses.
 3. A statement of the acreage, yield and value of all farm crops harvested in 1909, and of all animal products—that is, dairy products, eggs, live stock, etc.
 4. An inventory of all live stock, including poultry and bees, on hand April 15, 1910.
 5. Miscellaneous information.
- With the practical co-operation of the farmers of the county in preparing in advance accurate records of their products and property the census of 1910 should contain the most interesting statistics of agriculture ever published.

James A. Walker, the Murray veterinarian, is in the city today making a visit with friends.

Dr. J. M. Donelan Assaulted.

Dr. J. M. Donelan, the well known Glenwood, Ia., physician, last Monday afternoon was the victim of a vicious assault at the hands of James A. Briley, a farmer living two miles southwest of Glenwood. Mr. Donelan was taken by surprise by Briley while talking with a friend and was knocked unconscious, being struck in the face and knocked down after which he was kicked several times in the head.

The cause of the trouble is stated by Dr. Donelan to be unknown to him but the understanding in the community there, is that the trouble grew out of the quarantining of Briley's family for diphtheria. Dr. Donelan being the physician who ordered the quarantine. Dr. Donelan recovered consciousness shortly after medical attention had been given him and no serious damage was done him. Briley was placed under arrest, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily injury, and waived preliminary examination, being held to trial in the district court in $500 bonds which he gave.

Dr. Donelan is well known in this city, being one of the old residents of Glenwood. He has many friends who are glad to note that the assault did not result more seriously and who trust his assailant will be punished. The serious feature of the case is the defiance of the law governing quarantine as Dr. Donelan acted under the State Board of Health's authority, who had made culture tests of the Briley children and found the disease to exist in the family.

Will Take Several Months.

One of the most interesting sights about the city these days is to see the pile driver crew and the workmen engaged on the new Burlington sewer at work hauling out the heavy iron rings which composed the strengthening portion of the old sewer. This work is being done under the main line tracks south of the depot. The old sewer was composed of very heavy and massive iron rings which were set into the ground and which, from lapse of time and the soggy condition of the ground around them, had become firmly imbedded in the earth. The pile driver is backed up on the track below the rings and converted into a derrick. Heavy steel cables are attached to the rings and they are torn from their mired bed and deposited on a flat car standing over the excavation. Occasionally the cables cannot move the rings and in such a case, it is necessary for the workmen to take heavy jacks and place them under the crown of the ring supported by massive timber blocked and in that manner gradually work the ring loose from the mud and mire. One was raised this way this morning, it taking some half an hour or more to get the ring out and on the flat car and rendering the work very tedious and slow. From the present rate of progress, it will be several months before the work will be any where near completed and the gang engaged in it will likely be stationed here for five or six months.

Herman Kletsch, the Weeping Water miller, came over last night and has been spending the day taking orders for his excellent flour from our local merchants. Mr. Kletsch reports that the old town on the little creek is drifting along peacefully and that matters are generally quiet.
