Camphor is the remedy used by Selbert. He injected it hypodermically. He believes from the experionce, he says, that the action of the drug is two-fold. It stimulates. It kills the germs. Until two years ago he employed the camphor solely for its stimulating effect. But since then he has used it regularly in all cases of pneumonia in the hope of killing the pneumococci, or pneumonia serms, circulating in the blood. He has used it, he says, not only in The constitution is mandatory on frank, uncomplicated pneumonia, but
