

THE BAZAAR GIVEN BY THE LADIES OF ST. MARY'S GUILD

Coates' Hall the Scene of Great Pleasure and Much Merriment, and the Entertainment a Pronounced Success.

The annual bazaar and entertainment given by the members of St. Mary's Guild of St. Luke's Episcopal church, opened last evening at Coates' Hall and it promises to rival that of last year which has been conceded to be the best ever given in this city. The attendance last night was not as large as hoped for, owing to the inclement weather but still it was flattering and made a handsome return to the ladies for their work and outlay. In fact, they are more than encouraged over the receipts and are sure that tonight will bring them in a better income than even last year.

There were many features last night of much excellence. To start with the hall was very handsomely decorated and the several booths represented a great outlay of time and money. To enter the hall was almost an approach to fairyland, owing to the handsome design of the several booths and the artistic effects of their decoration.

The theme of the bazaar is the "Seven Ages of Women," something novel and out of the ordinary. It was proposed to have seven different booths representing the seven ages but one booth was necessarily postponed owing to the illness of Mrs. George H. Falter, who was to have been in charge of it. This booth was that of the spinster. It is a matter of general regret that Mrs. Falter was taken ill as her booth would, without a doubt, have been one of the handsomest in the hall.

The first age Babyhood, and the sixth age Motherhood were combined together and occupied one booth. This was a very pretty design, being in the form of a cradle with colors of white and blue—something well worth witnessing. In addition to the cradle there is a huge doll at this booth which is also handsome and especially attractive to the little folks. At this booth is sold various articles of baby wear and anything connected with infancy can be found here. Mrs. C. W. Baylor and Mrs. E. W. Cook have charge of this booth.

Childhood is represented by a very pretty booth, erected in the form of a gingerbread house, and here all the toothsome delicacies of childhood are to be found. Ice cream, candy, pop corn, and the like and a grab-bag, where you never will know what you are going to get, from just a few of the attractions at this booth which is in charge of Miss Kittle Cummins. The little folks, who were at this booth dressed in the quaint German costumes of Hansel and Gretel—the little German lad and lassie of romance and they were quite charming in their make-up. The little ladies included Misses Helen Gass, Nora Livingston, Margaret Donelan, Edith Dovey and Lillian Dwyer.

Girlhood was a booth in form of a garden party with pretty flowers and dainty green foliage which delighted the eye. This booth was a very tastily gotten up affair and attracted much attention. It was in charge of Mrs. T. P. Livingston, whose youthful appearance was not the least attractive feature of a handsome booth. At this booth the odor of delicious coffee was much in evidence and also the appearance of Boston baked beans.

Maidenhood was the booth in charge of Mrs. Edith Donelan, and it was much of a novelty, being built of what was supposed to be fish nets, into the meshes of which were woven handsome flowers. Mrs. Donelan was assisted at this booth in serving oysters, cold slaw and the like, by a number of handsome young ladies who were dressed in white and who attracted much patronage to the booth.

The matrons booth was in charge of Miss Barbara Gering and Mrs. Walter Scott. They were dressed in the quaint matronly costumes of many years ago and presented an appearance at once pleasing and homelike and a genuine picture of domesticity. At this booth is found all kinds of fancy needle work, embroidery, pillow covers, aprons, towels, and the list might be extended indefinitely, all the products of the members of the guild.

St. Luke's Guild had charge of a porch party which represented old age and comfort—a pretty little scene properly staged and quite in place. Here the old folks of the congregation held forth while the younger members did the business of the evening at the several booths.

As a pleasing feature of the entertainment, a minstrel show was given on an improvised stage, a number of the young ladies appearing in a genuine blackface act and making about the handsomest colored population ever seen in Nebraska, or anywhere else. The program was a typical minstrel one, and solos, gags, jigs, reels and every-thing including singing, both ensemble thing which goes to make up a real minstrel performance. The opening chorus was a medley of popular songs which had been especially arranged for the occasion by Mrs. H. S. Austin and it was a pleasing effect. Solos were given by Miss Gladys Sullivan, who scored a distinct hit, and mention of whose work as an endman or woman, as it might be, should be made. Miss Sullivan seemed thoroughly at home in her gags and also in singing and carried off much applause. Miss Gretchen Donnelly also favored the audience with a solo which took exceptionally well. Miss Donnelly having a sweet voice and one well suited to the show. Miss Helen Kline, who is also well known as a splendid singer, rendered a solo of much beauty and also met with her share of approbation. Miss Edna Petersen is also deserving of special mention for her work which was high class and which divided the honors with the others. Miss Mollie Seivers favored the audience with a dance which made a distinct hit. Miss Seivers is a handsome young woman, and proved last evening that she was a dancer of more than ordinary ability. The generous applause which greeted her from the audience served to emphasize her success. Mrs. H. S. Austin also gave a solo in her own inimitable manner, and carried away her share of the honors, as is usual. All told, the minstrel was a huge success and aided largely in making the entire entertainment a big one. So great was the success of the performance that a second rendition was necessary to accommodate all who wished to enjoy it. In addition to the songs spoken of above, Misses Florence Dovey, Varna Hatt, Bernice Newell and Dorothy Britt deserve special mention for the excellence of their work in the performance. The young ladies were dressed in white shirts and black dress coats with large white, paper chrysanthemums as button hole bouquets, something very distinctive and out of the ordinary.

It may be said in connection with the bazaar that it has been intended to hold the market at the spinners' booth but this was changed owing to Mrs. Falter's illness and it was held at the girlhood booth. It was a grand success in every way and netted a fine sum of money.

The bazaar and entertainment is repeated tonight, and there is every prospect that it will draw a record-breaking crowd. It surely deserves to do so.

ENTERTAINS THE KENSINGTON

Mrs. Henrichsen Demonstrates Her Qualities as a Hostess.

One of the most pleasant entertainments held in the city in some time, was that tendered the members of the Kensington club, a local organization of ladies, by Mrs. William Henrichsen at her charming home on North Third street. The entertainment took place from two to five o'clock and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. For the occasion Mrs. Henrichsen had the house handsomely decorated, especially the dining room where an elegant collation was served the guests during the course of the entertainment.

The afternoon was spent at cards and music, the latter consisting of both vocal and instrumental selections while various games of the former were indulged in. Just previous to the close of the entertainment the dining room was thrown open and the dinner served. It was such a repast as Mrs. Henrichsen knows best how to serve and was a constant source of delight to the guests. After the dinner had been served the guests departed for their homes, extending their warmest thanks to their hostess for the splendid entertainment she had afforded them.

Those who were present included Mesdames Olga Crokary, Flora Waddick, John Lutz, George Bruhl, Andrew Kroehler and Fred Reznar.

FOR AGED PEOPLE

Old Folks Should be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.

With advanced age comes inactive bowel movement and sluggish liver. Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance. Otherwise, there is constant suffering from constipation and its attendant evils. Old folks should never use physic that is harsh and irritating.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitution who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorder. We are so certain that it will completely and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them with our personal guarantee that they shall cost the user nothing if they fail to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called REXALL ORDELLIES.

Rexall Ordelettes are eaten like candy. They have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the dry mucous lining and the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel. They produce a natural, successive contraction and relaxation of the muscular fibres of the bowel walls, generating a wave-like motion which forces their contents onward and outward; thus simulating nature in perfect bowel movement. They tone up and strengthen the nerves and muscles and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They may be taken at any time without inconvenience; do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, puffance or other disagreeable effect. Try Rexall Ordelettes on our guarantee: 36 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Plattsmouth at our store—The Rexall Store, F. G. Fricke & Co., union block.

It isn't so difficult to strengthen a weak stomach if one goes at it correctly. And this is true of the Heart and Kidneys. The old fashioned way of dosing the stomach or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is surely wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. "Go to the weak or ailing nerves of these organs," said he. Each inside organ has its controlling or "inside nerve." When these nerves fall then those organs must surely falter. This vital truth is leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. A few days' test will surely tell! Sold by all dealers.

If you suffer from backache—From urinary troubles—From any disease of the kidneys, Be cured to stay cured. Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Plattsmouth people testify. Here's one case of it:

Herman Tiekotter, corner Ninth & Day Streets, Plattsmouth, Neb., says: "I never used another medicine that brought as great benefit as Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys caused me such suffering and there was a dull, tired ache across the small of my back that distressed me a great deal. If I stooped, my back pained me severely and in the morning when I arose, I felt as tired as when I went to bed. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills so highly praised, I procured a box at Gering & Co.'s drug store and it was not long before I was thoroughly relieved. (Statement given June 8, 1906.)"

On December 29, 1908, Mr. Tiekotter said: "I cheerfully confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no trouble from my kidneys since this remedy cured me."
