TRADE REVIEW FOR WEEK

New York, Jan. 15.—Bradstreet's says: Reports as to trade and transportation reflect variations of weather irregularly affecting sales and movement of farm products and coal supplies and of spring goods to various markets. Retail trade in winter goods has been helped by cold, stormy weather and the usual January price revisions. A very fair volume of orders is reported by jobbers, while the volume of orders for spring reaching wholesale houses from travelers is fairly good. Transportation lines, particularly in the north and west, have been hampered by stormy weather and the movement of crops has been interfered with. Something approaching a coal famine still exists at many western points. Building operations have naturally been retarded by stormy weather and there is promise of some damage on western rivers from ice gorges. Indoor industries seem to be actively employed, notably iron and steel and shoe manufacturing. Best reports come from the west. Collections have been interfered with by interruption to crop movement, and are rather irregular, especially from country districts. The question of higher costs is being considered by many manufacturers, who are finding higher prices for raw materials and requests for advances in wages. Failures for the week were 291.

Wheat exports for the week aggregate 2,677,175 bushels. Corn exports for the week are 1,502,856 bushels.

SLUMP IN GRAIN PRICES

Prospects of Large Primary Receipts Caused Selling Pressure.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—The grain prices slumped sharply here today, owing to liberal realizing sales brought out by prospects of an increased movement from the country. Prices at the close were almost at the bottom, final quotations on wheat showing a net loss of 1/2¢. Corn was down 1/4¢ to 1 1/2¢, and oats 1/4¢ to 1 1/2¢. Provisions followed grain and closed weak. Closing prices: Wheat—May, $1.11; July, $1.02; Sept., 98¢. Corn—May, 68¢; July, 68¢. Oats—May, 48¢; July, 45¢. Pork—Jan., $22.00; May, $22.10. Lard—Jan., $12.72; May, $12.27. Ribs—Jan., $11.75; May, $11.60. Chicago Cash Prices—No. 2 hard wheat, $1.14; No. 3 white corn, 67¢; No. 2 oats, 49¢.

Chicago Live Stock. Chicago, Jan. 14.—Cattle—Receipts, 2,000; nothing choice was included in the supply; prices are back to the level of a week ago for all good steers; cows and heifers were bought up freely at strong rates, which makes sales 10@20¢ higher than at the close of last week; fair to good butcher cows and heifers, $3.60@5.00; bulls sold strong at $4.00@4.40; calves were taken readily at $9.50@10.00 for the good sellers; stockers and feeders sold strong at $3.00@5.15. Hogs—Receipts, 9,000; 10¢ higher; prices soared to $9.95, which is back to the high point of a week ago; bulk, $8.70@4.99. Sheep—Small supply was soon bought up at no quotable change.

South Omaha Live Stock. South Omaha, Jan. 14.—Cattle—Receipts, 800; 10¢ higher; native steers $4.00@7.25; cows and heifers, $2.50@5.00; western steers, $4.00@6.00; stockers and feeders, $2.75@5.00; calves, $3.00@7.50; bulls and stags $2.75@4.75. Hogs—Receipts, 4,500; 10¢ higher; heavy, $8.60@8.70; mixed $8.55@8.60; light, $8.50@8.55; bulk of sales, $8.55@8.65. Sheep—Receipts 1,100; 10@15¢ higher; yearlings, $6.50@7.25; wethers, $5.00@7.85; ewes $5.00@5.60; lambs, $7.40@8.40.

RED MEN HAVE A ROYAL TIME

Large Number From Nebraska City Present to Assist in the Initiating Candidates.

The Improved Order of Red Men last night held one of the largest meetings of their order held in years. In addition they had such a time as only Red Men could have. It was a time of gaiety and mirth after the impressive ceremonies of initiating a great big class into the mysteries of the order had been gone through with. The work of conferring the several degrees was put on by the team from the Nebraska City council, and it was most impressive to a degree. The members of the Nebraska City team arrived in the city last evening on the M. P. train and were taken in charge by a committee from Missouri tribe and given their supper at the Hotel Perkins. The team which is one of the best in the state later administered the several degrees to a big class of pale faces anxious to investigate the mysteries of the order. Bringing with them paraphernalia of the order and being equipped in every respect for the work, the Nebraska City team did themselves proud and earned an undying place in the affections of the members of Missouri tribe. The work was not alone beautiful but it was put on in its most impressive manner by the members of the Nebraska City team. The candidates for adoption could not but be impressed with the solemnity of the adoption and each one agreed that nothing more striking or beautiful had ever been their lot than this ceremony.

Immediately following the ceremony of the initiation there was a banquet served in the dining parlors adjoining which was a veritable feast. There was roast hog, sweet potatoes, celery and dog meat galore and any member of the order who failed to get in on this had no one to blame but himself. The Journal's representative, Charles Grimes, himself a brave of the order, was seized while at the feast and compelled to stand forth on the floor and extend the thanks of the Missouri tribe to their neighbors from the Otoe reservation for their timely visit and the good work which they did. He did the best he could in this respect and hopes that the members of Otoe tribe understood his words in the spirit they were intended. He was too full for utterance—full of eatables as everyone who saw his ignominious entree upon the floor can testify. It is hard for a man to talk when he has his mouth full of roast pork, sweet potatoes and celery as the writer can testify but he did the best he could under the circumstances and has no apology to make. Anyway Mr. Grimes tried to express the gratitude which the Missouri owed to the Otoes who are the best fellows ever in addition to being up-to-date Red Men. Their work during the initiatory ceremonies was of the highest order of merit and reflected brightly upon the members of the organization. They are real Indians and from campfire to wigwam, they deserving of the highest praise as the best type of Americans.

NORTHERN IOWA ROADS TIED UP

Milwaukee Freight Train Fled in Ditch Near Bassett.

Mason City, Ia., Jan. 15.—A broken rail near Bassett, on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road, wrecked an extra freight train, piling up the twenty-five cars and tearing up 500 feet of track.

Conductor Ben Negerdall and Brake-men Mike Johnson and Ed Ryan were slightly injured. It is one of the worst wrecks in years on this division of the Milwaukee. The break in the track, in addition to the heavy snow tying up trains on all other roads, has rendered the coal situation here and in towns throughout the northern part of the state extremely serious.

DEATH COMES TO AGED LADY

Mrs. Theodore Boedeker. Dies at Home in Louisville, Neb.

Mrs. Theo. Boedeker, one of the early pioneers of Nebraska, died at her home in the southeast part of Louisville on last Friday, January 7, 1910, after an illness extending over a period of several months. Having been a resident of this vicinity for so many years, Grandma Boedeker, as she was so well known, had a great many friends who will hear of her passing away with the most sincere regret.

DEATH OF PIONEER SURVEYOR AND STEAMBOAT MAN AT LEAVENWORTH

Jesse M. Worley, Who Helped Survey the City of Plattsmouth Passes Away at Home of His Son.

Jesse M. Worley, 78 years old, a resident of El Paso, Ill., died yesterday morning at the home of his son, Jesse M. Worley, Jr., 201 Fifth avenue. His death occurred following a brief illness occasioned by an attack of grippe Sunday night. The body will be sent to the former home in Illinois, accompanied by two sons, C. M. Worley of Cherokee, Kan., and J. M. Worley, Jr., of this city, both of whom were with him at the time of his death.

For the second time in fifty-five years, Mr. Worley came to Leavenworth last Thursday. He was accompanied by a son-in-law, Herbert Bassett of Macomb, Ill. His first visit was to Fort Leavenworth in the early "fifties" where he stopped while on one of the several trips on a boat between St. Louis and Plattsmouth, Neb. Last Saturday he revisited Fort Leavenworth to recall to mind the post as it appeared in the block-house and barricade days. Although nearly 80 years old, he completed the tour of the post as actively as the average man thirty years younger than he. He described the landing of the boats and the unloading of the government freight to be used in Indian campaigns in early days, and related the last of Colonel Monroe, who had stopped at Fort Leavenworth a few weeks before that time.

It was a life of extreme activity that was lived by Mr. Worley. His parents, dying when he was 5 years old, left him to be reared by relatives near Portsmouth, O., where he was born January 17, 1832. He followed by turns, steamboating on the Ohio and the Illinois rivers and wagon-making at Pekin, Ill., where he worked on many of the old freighting wagons being made for use on the Santa Fe Trail on a contract with the government. Following this work he went overland to a place that he helped survey as Plattsmouth, Neb., returning on foot in the winter to Quincy, Ill. He afterward made several trips on the Missouri to Plattsmouth. During the early years of the war he drove a stage line in Illinois between Delavan, Ill., Pekin and Fort Henry. He then settled on a farm which he purchased in Woodford county, Ill., from the Illinois Central railroad, the first railroad to build in that state.

Mr. Worley leaves five sons and two daughters, his wife and one son having died but recently.—Leavenworth, (Kas.) Times.

The Jesse M. Worley spoken of above was in the early years of Plattsmouth a well known citizen. Many of the older inhabitants remember him and have heard with regret of his passing. At one time he was in business here, having been a member of the firm of Slaughter & Worley, a firm doing business at a place almost on the site of August Bach's store on lower Main street. He is remembered here as a fine, and genial citizen, a man whom everyone liked and who merited their respect. In the years in which he made Plattsmouth, there was no better man than Mr. Worley and many of the old citizens have wondered what had become of him. The news of his death as imparted by the Journal reporter was the first they had heard of him in many years. He had a number of relatives in this section also.

Resolved that the members of this camp unanimously tender the widow and children of our beloved neighbor our earnest sympathy and sincere condolence, in this their hour of darkness and distress.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records, that they be published in the newspapers and a copy thereof furnished the family for our late neighbor, and that the charter of the camp be draped in mourning for thirty days.

When You Read This Ad

you can do it with the confidence that every single word of it is true—absolutely true. You can do that with all our ads. Not a single statement in them that will not square with the facts. Not a promise made nor a price quoted that you will not find just as stated if you will come here and test it. Just now we are advertising a JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE. Not everything in the store is included in this sale. We have some fine black suits, some fine blue serge suits, some staple fancy suits at $30 and $35, and some silk lined overcoats, medium weight, at $35 and $40, that we could not replace at the price we bought them. They are new late arrivals and just as saleable one month as another. To say that we are offering these at any great discount would not be true. We nor any other solvent firm that handles this class of goods could afford to do that. But we are doing this:—Every suit in the house, men or boys, that is the end of a line, we are selling for CASH at 1/8 to 1/2 off, according to the size, color and weight. Now this means that you can buy some suits as low as $8, $10, $12 and $14, that sold from $2 to $14 higher. Overcoats the same way; odd pants the same; other merchandise the same way. In some cases this does not represent the cost, but we are determined to close out this season's goods before getting in the next. A great many have already availed themselves of these low prices. You will only be doing justice to yourself to take advantage of them. We shall be glad to show you whether you buy or not.
