

RED MEN ATTEND THE INITIATION OF SOUTH OMAHA PALEFACES

South Omaha Braves Treat Visitors Royally—Missouri Tribe Receives Many Words of Praise for Their Excellent Work.

Missouri Tribe No. 69 Improved Order of Red Men of this city sent a very respectable sized delegation of good Indians to South Omaha last night to attend the adoption of a class of palefaces into the mysteries of the order. The ceremonies were exceedingly impressive and the degrees were administered with all the solemnity and beauty which their dignity implies. The first degree was administered by the team from Onondage lodge at Fort Crook and the team did very fine work and work which was much appreciated by the braves and warriors present. The class consisted of 40 members. The attendance was very large including large delegations from Omaha and Fort Crook and a good sized crowd from this city.

Following the ceremonies of adoption there was an elegant banquet served in the council hall of the camp at which everything in the line of eatables were on the table. There was also refreshments of various kinds on hand to which all members were made welcome. Speechmaking was one of the features of the banquet, the principal speakers being Judge Sutton of Omaha, who presided as toastmaster and who made a strong and able speech upon the merits of the order and the wonderful progress which it has been making. Judge Sutton is the Great Junior Sagamore of the order and is recognized as one of the ablest officers. Great Sachem J. H. Grosvenor of Aurora, also spoke and made a splendid address bearing upon the work of the order and the duties and responsibilities of the members. Great Field Secretary R. Kemm was another speaker whose words sounded good to the warriors and who told of the progress of the order and of the good work being done all along the line. Nearly all the lodges in the state were being increased at a rapid rate and members are pouring in from every quarter. Missouri tribe received especially flattering mention from these speakers and much praise was heard for the energy and thrift which the Plattsmouth braves were exhibiting. In fact Missouri tribe was held up as a worthy example for all other councils in the state and the local braves were much pleased at the hearty words given them. William Hinrichsen of this city responded on behalf of the Missouris for the many good words said for that tribe, and made a well considered and able speech. Mr. Hinrichsen surprised his friends with his ready flow of language and received a warm welcome from the assemblage. Other speeches occupied the time until the late Missouri Pacific train came down.

A. H. Koubek of this city took along with him on the trip some advertising matter for the dance to be given by the Jolly Six Indians dancing club and was assured that large delegations would be here from Omaha, South Omaha and Fort Crook for the occasion. It was announced at the council last night that Aurora expected to initiate a class of 100 members on the 25th of this month, one of the largest classes ever adopted in this state.

The Red Men who attended from this city included R. F. Otterstein, Jos. Sveha, Wm. Budig, Wm. Hinrichsen, John Iverson, Frank Sabatka, McKinney, Gregg, Clyde Wilcox, John Gravett, P. F. Budig and Anton H. Koubek.

Many Days Ago.

A relic of the days when steamboating on the Missouri river was not theory but practice is in possession of L. C. McBride, chief clerk to the superintendent of the Lincoln division of the Burlington, in the shape of a bill of lading to a shipment of goods made in the old steamboat days. The bill reads as follows:

"St. Louis and Omaha Packet Line, Plattsmouth, Neb., June 20, 1868. E. F. Durke & Co., to Steamer City of Peoria, Dr. D. H. Silver, master, Thomas W. Shelds, clerk. 12 cask stoves and linings, 2,780 pounds, rate 40 cents, $11.12. Received payment. D. H. Wheeler & Co., agents."

Railroad men in Lincoln yesterday figured that the freight on this shipment now by rail would be $10.73, the present rate being 35 cents per hundred. Of the receiving agents for the payment D. H. Wheeler, the head of the firm of D. H. Wheeler & Co., went to Omaha a number of years ago where he is still a leading business man and a well known Nebraska pioneer.

Much Praise For School.

The school in district No. 30 presided over by Miss Mabel Root as teacher and generally known as the Cullom school, was visited several days since by several of the well known residents of that vicinity who have kindly informed the Journal of their observations and they are loud in praise of the excellent conduct of the school and the fine progress the pupils are making. All of them have children attending the school and they cannot say too much in praise of Miss Root's good work. One thing which impressed them particularly was that music is being taught in the school, there being an organ there and the children of Will Seybert doing the playing. They are said to be excellent players and do work which is better by far than many older pupils. Singing is also taught in the schools and while the visitors were present the children sang while the organ was played. Such progress in country schools is to be commended and it pleases the parents to know that so good a school is available for their children.

The Stork's Visit.

Last Sunday afternoon the Stork made a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Jahrig and left them a fine, bouncing baby girl who is considered by her father a little bit the best which ever came to town while the happy mother certainly re-echoes his sentiments. The young lady has been the cause of a smile on her father's face which won't come off but which gets larger as times goes on. The many friends of Mrs. Jahrig will be glad to know that both her and the little lady are getting along nicely, and they will extend their congratulations to the happy father.

DEATH OF MRS. PETER NICKEL

Long a Resident of Elmwood, Moving There in 1870.

Died—Nickel, Mrs. Peter, at her home at Elmwood, Nebraska, of pneumonia on January 22, 1910, aged about 60 years. Funeral on Saturday afternoon, January 22, 1910 from the home at Elmwood, Nebraska, at 2 o'clock p. m. Interment in the cemetery at Elmwood.

Word was received this morning from Elmwood, Neb., of the death at that place of Mrs. Peter Nickel for many years a resident of that place and one of the pioneers of Nebraska. Mrs. Nickel met her death from an attack of pneumonia, having been a sufferer from that complaint for several days.

Deceased will be quite well remembered throughout this section, she having moved to Elmwood with her husband, the late Peter Nickel in the year 1870, and having since resided there. She was about 60 years of age and spent the early years of her life in Pekin, Ill., where she was born, removing to Elmwood after her marriage as above set forth. She is survived by a son and three daughters, all of whom live at Elmwood and also by a niece Mrs. C. L. Herger of this city.

Her husband departed this life some seven years ago, one of the best known and most respected residents of Cass county.

Deceased was a woman of a most lovable character, a kind, loving and gentle mother and a friend to all who knew her. To the sorrowing children and niece the deepest sympathy is extended by all. To those who knew her in her lifetime her passing comes much as a great personal misfortune for to each of them she was that grandest of characters—a true friend.

The funeral of this beloved woman will be held on next Saturday afternoon (January 22) from her late residence at Elmwood at 2 o'clock, the interment being made at the cemetery near that place. Friends of the family in this city are invited to attend.

To a Sanitarium.

In the matter of the insane case of Vern Kiser which was on hearing yesterday before the insanity commission, a decision was reached between the members of the commission and the parents of the young man by which he is to be taken to a private sanitarium for treatment and kept there until a cure may be effected in his condition. In the event that it is found that he cannot be cured, he is to be taken to the asylum at Lincoln. This decision was reached after a full hearing in which the young man's actions were explained in detail by witnesses. This was a very sad case owing to the fact that it was recently found necessary to send his brother to the sanitarium for treatment for the same malady. The two boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Kiser who feel deeply the sad infliction. Their many friends extend their heartfelt sympathy in their trouble and trust that a cure may be effected very soon in both cases and the young men returned to their homes.

LAND ANOTHER NEW FACTORY

Commercial Club Secure Cotton Glove and Mitten Factory For This City.

"See Plattsmouth Succeed." It has succeeded in landing another factory for the city. This was made certain today when Mr. Schutz of Glenwood, Ia., who has been in active negotiations with the commercial club for sometime past, arrived in the city and announced positively that he would come here and open his factory and that, too, at once. The new factory will be devoted to the manufacture of men's cotton gloves and mittens and it will be located either in the building next door to the Smith factory or in the brick residence of the late Dr. Black in the north part of the city, the exact location not being determined at the hour of going to press. One thing is sure, however, and that is that Plattsmouth has added another factory to its string and President Falter is justly elated at the success which is attending the commercial club's efforts. The new factory will fill a long felt want in the city and the vicinity and, as it is in the immediate neighborhood of the big Omaha jobbing houses there will be a splendid market for all it can produce. It will employ twelve men at the start and that is not bad for that kind of work, it means twelve more families employed and probably fifty people to buy food and clothing in the city. This city is an ideal one for this factory and it is a sure success. The commercial club and its hustling officers deserve the greatest praise for getting after these factories and securing them for the city.

But this is not all. A Plattsmouth merchant is back of a movement which means a larger factory yet for the city. He is the right kind and he has agreed to put $5,000 himself into the enterprise. It is not yet ripe and for that reason the official announcement of its success cannot be made but it will come to Plattsmouth. The location has been secured already and all that remains is to complete the details of the transfer of the factory from its present location. It is sure to be located here and you will "See Plattsmouth Succeed." This means two excellent and well backed institutions for the city and they will mean something in the neighborhood of two hundred people to be fed and clothed by Plattsmouth merchants.

In addition a number of other prospective investors in the city are expected to be here today and tomorrow and the boom is now on.

Ossenkop Case Argued.

The case of the State vs. Fred Ossenkop came up for hearing yesterday in the supreme court at Lincoln where Ossenkop's appeal was argued. Attorney T. J. Doyle of Lincoln and County Attorney Ramsey of this city appeared for the state and resisted the argument of Matthey Gering of this city who argued for a reversal of the sentence of the district court. The case was taken under advisement by the court as is customary in such cases.

Unfair Discrimination.

In Eagle they have a telephone exchange, with stockholders who have been receiving service for fifty cents per month. They charge people who want 'phones and are not stockholders one dollar per month. The people who pay for the phones and keep up the lines pay one-half what those do who just have the service without investment. This seems fair, but the state railway commission says that it is unfair discrimination, and all must pay alike. This decision bids fair to terminate the company. It is a wise railway commission that can see justice in such a ruling.—Weeping Water Republican.
