START MAKING WAR ON DOGS

Police, Armed With Shotguns Get Busy on Canines.

The silence of the still night was burst at intervals all last night by the heavy discharge of artillery not alone in the beautiful dales of the city but on the towering heights above. Strangers who might have been passing through the city could easily have imagined that war and rebellion had reared its fearsome head here but such was not the case. It was the city officers armed with shotguns and side arms attacking and destroying the wild animals which have been ravaging the city over the past several days. A large number of dogs have been slaughtered during the past night and there are brilliant prospects that many more will bite the dust before the crusade is ended. This is to be hoped to say the least. The action of the city administration meets with general approval although there were some who raised a howl because the dogs were killed inside the city limits. These misguided mortals seemed to labor under the misapprehension that the animals could be coaxed out of the limits and there slaughtered, something well nigh impossible. Now that the good work is underway, it is to be hoped it will proceed and that an end will be made to them. This morning's papers state that South Omaha is in the throes of a similar trouble to that of this city. The police there are killing dogs right and left as they have been actually attacking woman and children and not confining their assaults to live stocks.

To Many for Him.

Clerk of the Court Robertson is engaged today in compiling a set of statistics for the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Health Department, touching the divorce problem. The report is a very voluminous one and wants matters of family history which the worthy clerk finds it impossible to give save from a treacherous memory. For instance the report should show the color of the several applicants, their age, previous condition, probable name, whether they were married or single, when they were first wed, whether they liked it as far as they went and whether their parents were sorry of it. Many of these things are entirely beyond the province of the clerk and while he does his best, he cannot supply all needed facts. He does know that ten divorces were granted last year and three divorce cases dismissed. Many of the other questions would have to be filled out by the parties or by the marriage license record.

The tender leaves of a harmless lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its marvelous curative properties. Tight, tickling, or distressing coughs, quickly yield to the healing, soothing action of this splendid prescription—Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is so safe and good for children, as well. Containing no opium, chloroform, or other harmful drugs, mothers should in safety always demand Dr. Shoop's. If other remedies are offered, tell them No! Be your own judge! Sold by all dealers.

Will Have a Sale.

George P. Meisinger, one of the best men who ever graced Cass county, was a business visitor today in the city, making the Journal a very pleasant call. Mr. Meisinger while here made arrangements for the printing of an announcement of a big farm sale which he will hold on February 11th. He intend to dispose of some of his stock, farm implements and the like and this sale means an excellent chance to pick up some good bargains.

The Main Rule.

In order to make life more comfortable and to prolong it, we have to follow the main rule, that is, to avoid all excesses, no matter what their name is. Every excess leaves a mark somewhere in the body, but most commonly it is the stomach that suffers. We feel either pain or weight in it, we have no appetite, in short, we feel indisposed. It is then necessary to give the stomach absolute rest and to use Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine. This remedy will give new strength to the overworked organs, will stimulate the glands to new activity and will make the body able to accept and digest nutritious food. It should be used whenever we feel weak, tired, despondent, in loss of appetite and in indigestion. It can be borne by the most delicate stomach, because it does not contain the least particle of a deleterious drug or herb. At drug stores. Jos. Triner, 1333-1339 So. Ashland, Ave, Chicago, Ill. Beautiful wall calendars for 10 cents in postage.

If your Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys are weak, try at least, a few doses only to Dr. Shoop's Restorative. In five or ten days only, the result will surprise you. A few cents will cover the cost. And here is why help comes so quickly. Dr. Shoop doesn't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the weak and failing nerves. Each organ has its own controlling nerve. When these nerves fail, the depending organs just necessarily falter. This plain, yet vital truth, clearly tells why Dr. Shoop's Restorative is so universally successful. Its success is leading druggists everywhere to give it universal preference. A test will surely tell. Sold by all dealers.

Death of Mrs. Scovill.

Mrs. Z. T. Brown this morning received the sad intelligence of the death of her mother, Mrs. S. A. Scovill at Topeka, Kas., at the ripe age of 83 years. No particulars were given as to the cause. The death of the lady occurred last evening at 6:30. According to the message received the funeral takes place Sunday morning at the former home of the deceased at Nemaha City, Neb.

The news of the passing of her mother has been a great shock to Mrs. Brown, coming as it did so unexpectedly. Her many friends in this city will deeply sympathize with her in her sorrow and she is assured of their sincere condolence in the dark hour of her grief. She will depart tomorrow morning for Nemaha City to be present at the obsequies.

Land $163 Per Acre.

Harry Smith, the rustling farm salesman, this morning made another good sale. He sold the fifteen acres just west of the city belonging to J. W. Tulene to Louis Schutz for the sum of $2,450, or at the rate of $163 per acre. While this seems a high price for land, it is an unusually good piece of property which brought it and has a fine location. Mr. Smith has been very successful in making his sales and he is confident that he will be able to turn some of this land in for $200 per acre before he gets through.

PORTLAND, MAINE, CHILD

Ill, Weak and Emaciated, Restored to Health by Vinol. "Our little daughter, six years of age, after a severe attack of the measles, which developed into pneumonia, was left pitifully thin, weak and emaciated. She had no appetite, and her stomach was so weak it could not retain food. She lay in this condition for weeks, and nothing the doctor prescribed did a bit of good, and we were beginning to think she would never recover."

"At this time we commenced to give her Vinol, and the effect was marvelous. The doctor was amazed at her progress, and when we told him we were giving her Vinol, he replied, 'It is a fine remedy, keep it up.' We did so, and she recovered her health and strength months before the doctor thought she could." J. W. Esseg, Portland, Me.

Vinol cures conditions like this because in a natural manner it increases the appetite, tones up the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body.

DEATH OF A FORMER PLATTSMOUTH NEWSPAPER MAN

John E. Marshall, Well Known to Older Residents of This City Passes Away at Boulder, Colcrado.

John Edgar Marshall, a former well known resident of this city, where he was employed upon several of the newspapers, died in a sanitarium at Boulder, Col., on Sunday morning, Jan. 23, after a long illness. At the time of his death he was forty-three years of age, having been born in Dallas county, Ia. He was the son of C. A. Marshall, living at 1535 North Twenty-Six street, Lincoln, Neb. He is survived by three sisters now living in Lincoln, Neb., and a wife and a young son. The funeral and interment will be held at Boulder.

Deceased for many years was an employe of the Plattsmouth papers, learning the printing trade upon them and during the later years of his residence here, being foreman of the News office. He was married in this city to Miss Hattie Shipman and after his marriage he removed to Lincoln where he entered the service of the State Journal. He was a man with many friends and was genial to a fault. The news of his death was received with the utmost regret by his many friends, although it had not been unexpected as he was known to have been in ill health for many years.

It was on account of his failing health that he removed to Colorado several years ago when he went into the newspaper business in the mountainous part of the state. Later his health showing little improvement, he removed from the mountain part of the state to Boulder, where he again embarked in the newspaper business, continuing the paper until his death.

As a newspaper man Mr. Marshall was a shining success. In addition to being a writer of much ability, he was also a thorough master of the mechanical part of the work and had turned out as fine work as any printer who ever worked in this town. He was one of the older class of newspaper men of this city and nearly every man who has worked at the case throughout this section will remember him. He was one of the best of men and it is certain that his reward is that of all good men and true who sink into rest.

PRaise PLATTSMOUTH GIRL

Brilliant Success of Miss Alice Dovey, Who is Rapidly Rising in Fame.

Another good sendoff for Plattsmouth is given this month in Hampton's magazine, a New York publication, the young lady being Miss Alice Dovey the leading lady and in fact, the redeeming feature of "Old Dutch," Lew Field's latest production. The magazine also contains a handsome picture of Miss Dovey surrounded by the chorus in which she makes a very attractive picture. There is also a picture of Lew Fields below Miss Dovey's. The magazine has few words of praise for the play of "Old Dutch" and in fact, all the good things said in the article is for Miss Dovey. The magazine says "Alice Dovey who does the pretty work and the singing, is a very pretty heroine for a naval lieutenant instead of any army lieutenant to fall in love with."

Miss Dovey's many admirers in this city will rejoice to see her steady rise and to note her brilliant successes in the face of the failure of all others in the cast and to note that she can make good even with a play which is universally condemned. It is a mighty fine tribute to her ability and worth as an actress and singer.

War Against "Wreckage Sale."

The latest move in the war which the merchants and the commercial club is waging against the "railroad sale" and fly-by-night stores, took a move this afternoon when Chief of Police Amick placed under arrest N. Greenberg, H. Canton and Wm. Warsaw, who are charged on two counts with having distributed advertising matter over the city without having a license therefor, contrary to one ordinance and with having scattered advertising matter about the city contrary to the ordinance recently passed by the council prohibiting this.

Chief Amick took the men into custody this afternoon at about 2:30 p. m. Their counsel, Matthew Gering was out of the city, having been called to Omaha and the men asked for a continuance, making arrangements for a bond for their appearance.

So far no steps have been taken toward closing the men up if they open and try to sell their goods which they are firm in their announced intention of doing. Mayor Sattler is not disposed to order the police to arrest the men as he believes they violate no ordinance in selling, providing they pay their license fee and he has serious doubts about the right of the city to arrest them under the present ordinance, even if they do not pay the license. He contends the city's only remedy is to collect the license the same as other like taxes and licenses are collected, by suit. In order to get the matter straightened out, he has proposed that the commercial club directors together with the city counsel and the judiciary committee of the council meet tonight and thresh out the matter. This arrangement will doubtless result in formulating some plan by which the operations of the odds and ends store can be stopped. The aim of the city officials is to avoid any needless litigation if it is possible.

Chicken Pie Supper.

The chicken pie supper given by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church last evening was, as usual, largely attended.

It is needless to say ought of the chicken pie, salads, mashed potatoes, coffee, cake and the like. They were prepared by the members of the Auxiliary and were thoroughly up to the standard which this splendid organization has produced in the past.

After having enjoyed this most delicious supper, a number tarried for several moments and spent the time in a social way.

The various tables were prettily decorated with cut flowers, ferns and candleabra. All in all the supper was a vast success, socially and financially and the ladies realized a neat sum.

As the guests entered their attention was attracted to a prettily decorated booth, at which was to be found choice home-made candles, which the members of the Christian Endeavor society had for sale. This booth was in charge of Misses Mattie Larson and Ruth Chapman. This booth was quite liberally patronized. The proceeds will be used in making up the amount subscribed by the local society for state work.

Funeral of Mrs. Campbell.

The funeral of the late Mrs. T. M. Campbell, mention of whose death at Belpre, Kas., was made in the Journal several days since took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ida Campbell on Elm street.

There were a large number of the immediate neighbors present to pay a last tribute to a good woman of whom many had known her as a friend and who loved and esteemed her. The services at the residence were very simple consisting of a short talk by Rev. W. L. Austin after which interment was made in Oak Hill be side her beloved son C. D. Campbell who died here several years ago. The pall bearers consisted of several near neighbors and several members of the Masonic lodge of which her husband was a member.

Fall in the Market.

Bert Flickler, who has been raising stock and farming out near Stanton, Neb., came in last evening for a brief visit over night with his folks, returning to his farm at Stanton this afternoon. Bert brought down a load of cattle to the South Omaha market, and states that he can feel the effect of the anti-meat crusade. He was something over a dollar per hundred shy on prices as compared with a week ago, the buyers laying the fall in the market to the boycott on the meat. He fails to see where the boycott is hurting the packers any as they merely take the price off the stock raiser without giving the consumer any corresponding benefit.

Jos. Tubbs, the well known farmer and stock raiser of the precinct, was in the city today and while here he called and renewed the subscription of his son-in-law C. W. Jones at Peru, Neb., to the Journal. Joe is one of the best friends the Journal has in this community and it is always a pleasure to be able to enjoy a good visit with him. He drove out to his farm during the afternoon.
