The weather is trying to be good, so we'll let it go at that a little longer.

We are thinking that it would be a good riddance to the party if certain of those New York Democrats got caught in the Albany dragnet.

Just to vary the monotony, we wish the national administration could catch up with one trust and not be eternally "going after them."

The announcement of the discovery of another comet consorting along with Halley's comet leads one to believe that that comet is coming in style with couriers and outriders. Comet A. of 1910, seems to have been the advance agent with Comet B., as a satellite of the big show.

A RETROSPECT AND A PROPECY

With the recurrence of the birthday of Washington the mind instinctively turns backward to the marvelous story of the intervening years. They embrace less than two centuries. But what other two centuries in human annals can compare with them in the glorious accretions of progressive achievement?

That the chosen people of God did not dwell amid the twilight of the ages and in far-away Judea, but were reserved to a later time, and a region then undiscovered of men, and that the American republic was ordained of God to illustrate upon the theatre of the new world the possibilities of free government in contrast with the failures and tyrannies and corruptions of the old, we do truly believe. That is the first article in our confession of faith. And the second is like unto it, that Washington was raised up by God to create it, and that Lincoln was raised up by God to save it; also why the militia colonel of Virginia and the rail-splitter of Illinois, for no reason that was obvious at the time, before all other men? God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform. The star of the sublime destiny that hung over the manager of our blessed Savior hung over the cradle of our blessed union.

Thus far it has weathered each historic danger which has gone before to mark the decline and fall of nations; the struggle for existence; the foreign invasion; the internecine strife; the disputed succession; religious bigotry and racial conflict. One other peril confronts it; the demoralization of wealth and luxury; too great prosperity; excess of power. Shall we survive the lures with which the spirit of evil, playing upon our self-love, seeks to trip our wayward footsteps, purse-pride and party spirit, mistaken zeal and perverted religion, fanaticism seeking to abridge liberty and liberty running to license, greed masquerading as a patriot and ambition making a commodity of glory—or, under the process of a divine evolution shall we be able to mount and ride the waves which swallowed the tribes of Israel, which engulfed the phalanx of Greece and the legions of Rome, yea, which still beat the sides and sweep the decks of feudalism in England and Germany, in Austria, Italy and Spain?

We shall mount and ride them, please God!

The one-party power is imminent; but it is neither absolute, nor supreme. The one man power is not in sight. The stars in this course fight for us; the virtue and intelligence of the people were never so watchful and alert. Truth is mightier than ever and justice, mounting guard even in the hall of statues, walks everywhere the battlements of freedom!—By Henry Watterson in Courier-Journal.

It may have been said before, but it needs to be said again, that Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas ought to be named Ben.

Hogs are still climbing upward in prices. All due to prosperity. The shortage of three millions of hogs has nothing to do with it (?).

General prosperity is getting lax on his job. He has let eggs drop from thirty down to twenty cents. What's the matter with the general?

The west takes this view of the ship subsidy: "If shipping is profitable it doesn't need a subsidy; and if it isn't profitable let someone else do it."

Dolliver has affiliated with Democrats and insurgent Republicans long enough to get a little Democracy infused into his anatomy. He now threatens an investigation of the post office department, a thing the administration cannot afford to have.

Just why the administration will persist in claiming the postal shortage is caused by carrying second class mail matter is hard to understand. The government departments send out thousands of pounds daily, scot free, and much of this matter the people don't want.

The territory of Alaska was bought from Russia in 1867 for $7,000,000. Its gold output since 1880, when placer mining began, amounts now to $161,000,000, and the exploitation of its resources of copper, coal and other minerals has hardly begun.

Aldrich and Cannon and their allies in congress cannot "read the insurgents out of the party," even if they have the approval or co-operation of President Taft. The insurgents cannot be read out of the party unless a majority of the Republicans in more than a dozen states are read out of the party with them.

The New York Press, a leading Republican paper, touches up the ship subsidy bill as follows: "There are enough bad spots in the road ahead of the Republican party leading to the congressional elections in the fall without the deliberate digging of a dangerous pit on the way. The administration and the party are not to blame for any of the conditions which are causing popular dissatisfaction of the voters. But the American people will not accept any explanation for a measure which scoops the money directly out of the treasury to be put into the pockets of a few shipowners who want to be supported by the government. The public does not want to give up more without getting more for itself; it wants to give less and get more in this situation of costly living. The New York Press can think of no circumstances which would justify the subsidy scheme. It is past our comprehension how any one in his political senses could propose to open the treasury to the subsidy grabbers at this particular time." And yet Taft recommended it and urged congress to pass the bill. That is the kind of a man a big majority of the voters elected president. Fool 'em again.
