MISS MYERS

THE RIGHT KIND OF A MOVEMENT

North Sixth Street Residents Will Keep Thoroughfare in Good Shape

The people on North Sixth street are getting ready to make their street the finest in the city and they are going at it in the true spirit which makes for a larger and much better looking Plattsmouth. They have raised a fund among themselves and intend to have the street kept up in fine shape. For this purpose they have contracted with Sam Smith to drag the street at regular intervals whenever the condition of the ground will permit it, and they feel confident that they soon will have a street which will be a source of pride to the city. The new street when they get it in shape as they intend to have it, will be an excellent medium for automobiles and they have great hopes that it will become the automobile roadway of the city. They are firm believers in the efficacy of the split-log drag and believe that within a very short time the drag will more than repay them for what they spend upon it. Sam Smith who has taken the contract to keep the street in repair and in good shape, has had a great deal of experience at such work and he intends to give the people along that street something to speak about. The experiment will be watched with interest and there is no doubt but that the people on many other streets will soon see the benefits to be derived and will emulate the example set them. Keep your eye on North Sixth street.

Back at Work.

Frank Brinkman who had his foot caught several weeks ago while switching in the yards, and had the same badly crushed, is now back at his old place on the footboard. Frank suffered quite a bit with the foot and he is feeling mighty good to be able to once more use it without fear of injury. He had a mighty narrow escape from losing the foot altogether and he congratulates himself that the injury was no worse.

Arthur Sullivan, the popular young farmer from south of the city, is in the city this afternoon attending to business.

Delightful Birthday Party.

From Saturday's Daily. A very delightful birthday party was given Mrs. Wm. Hinrichsen yesterday at her home on North Fourth street, a large number of the close friends of the lady gathering there and spending the afternoon most pleasantly with her. The guests numbered some twenty-five and they had an afternoon which all will long remember. The day was passed in social conversation and games and each guest could not but enjoy all the pleasures of the occasion. A very delightful luncheon was served later in the day and it was such a one as only Mrs. Hinrichsen can prepare. That the guests did the luncheon full justice goes without saying. After the luncheon the farewells were said and the guests departed extending their hopes for many another anniversary for their popular hostess. One pleasant feature of the gathering was the presence of John Hinrichsen and wife of Calhoun, the father and mother of Mr. Hinrichsen who came down to attend the birthday anniversary. They departed this morning for their home.

Done Herself Proud.

Some time ago the Journal made mention of the success of Miss Etha Crabill of this city who entered a competition for photographers held by the Burr McIntosh Monthly of New York. Miss Crabill at that time received "honorable mention" for her work and this was esteemed a great honor. This month's copy of the magazine contains a copy of the photograph which is entitled "Rose Leaves" and which picture has been given the third prize in the competition. The picture is a work of art and the critics are quite right in awarding the prize to Miss Crabill who has done herself proud. The little child of whom the photograph is taken is little golden-haired Georgia Thomas, the pretty little lad of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas of this city and he forms a lovely subject for Miss Crabill's talent. Miss Crabill's many friends join in congratulation to her upon the signal success which she has attained.

Henry Pfeiffer of Philadelphia, Pa., who is in the city making a visit with the Gerings, departed this morning for Omaha where he will spend the day interviewing some of his traveling men. Mr. Pfeiffer is the head of the largest chemical company in the world and has a host of traveling salesmen in the country.

BIG BILL ALLEN GETS HARD LICK

While Discussing Johnson-Jeffries Fight Some One Hits William.

Whether Johnson whips Jeffries or Jeffries whips Johnson may be a mooted question in these parts but there will be no further discussion of the matter by "Big Bill" Allen, negro and embryo pugilist. "Big Bill" got his last night when he entered upon a discussion of the merits of the coming battle between the white man and the black in an uptown saloon. Bill opined that Johnson "suah am going to beat up that white man a whole lot" and his opinion proved displeasing to several white men present who entered into an argument about the matter.

One word led to another and pretty soon it seems, from what is said of the matter to come down to a question as to whether any white man could whip any negro. At this point of the argument some one—just whom the police cannot say—handed Bill a crack on the top piece with either a beer bottle or a pop bottle and he went down and out bleeding pretty much in large gobs. Bill who is a great big, burly negro, would look to be able to stop most any of the white men in this section but they sure took no chances and he hit the floor with a loud crash. Chief D. L. Amick heard of the row and was some peevish over this infraction of the peace and quietude which usually prevails in the city, descending upon the saloon with a rush and a roar and haling Rye McFarland into custody on the suspicion of being the man who cracked William on the nut. Rye went peaceably enough and then the chief started on a search for evidence to hold him on. He failed in this task for everyone who saw the fray suffered from lost memory and could not say who did do the deed to Bill. Rye was then released.

Later in the evening Bill started out on a rampage looking for the man who had cracked him and wandered into another saloon in his search. Herein and hereabout testimony varies as to what started the trouble. Some say that Bill remarked that he "am lookin for that white man what hit me," using an oath to emphasize his opinion of that white man. Others say he merely went into the saloon and wanted a drink. Anyway the facts remains that someone took another crack at him and nearly sent him to the happy hunting grounds. He was some beat up when the party got through with him and he didn't linger longer in the business part of the town but hied himself to his domicile to dress his wounds and cogitate upon the strange and unusual happenings of a busy life. It was said that John Lloyd who is some scrapper himself, put the finishing touches to Bill's pugilistic career, but no one could be found who could swear to this and the spectators seemed to have vague and misty ideas as to what really did take place. Be that as it may, Bill has no misty ideas as to being hit and his appearance after the fracas was some indication that he certainly had monkeyed with the buzz saw. He showed up for his regular job as porter at one of the saloons this morning but the proprietor met him at the door and gave him the wages due and requested him to make himself scarce. It is said he left this morning for Omaha, getting out on the M. P. train.

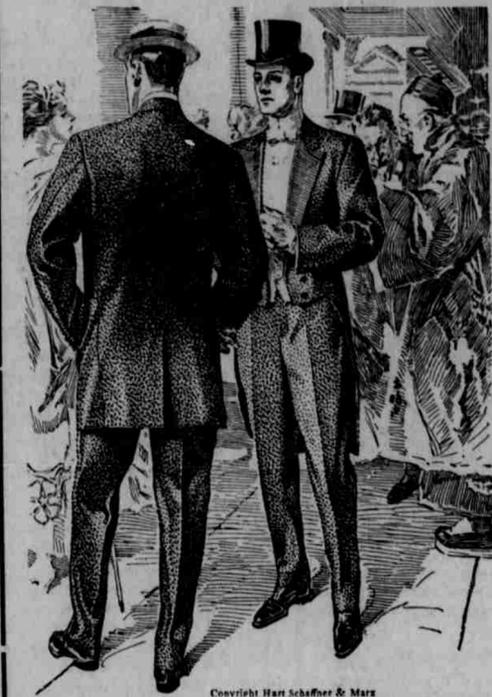

Thus, the great Jeffries-Johnson fight may end differently but the score at present favors a complete and sweeping victory for the white man.

Buy's Fine Stallion.

James Sage, not to be outdone by the other enterprising horsemen in this locality, this morning unloaded a mighty fine Belgian stallion. The animal was purchased by Mr. Sage several days ago from a firm at Osceola, Ia., and was shipped to this city, arriving this morning. It is a magnificent animal and attracted much attention when it was taken up to his large stables. It is a rich sorrel in color and is superbly formed and spectators and horsemen agreeing that it is one of the handsomest animals ever seen on the streets. This is another fine animal added to the large number already in this city and will be a material help toward improving the strain of the animals in this county. Mr. Sage always intends to keep in the forefront of the horse business and his purchase of this animal is a promise of what he can do in that direction.

P. H. Meisinger and daughter drove in this morning from their home in Eight Mile Grove precinct, to spend the day in the city and do some trading.

Grandpa Bailey Ill.

Grandpa W. P. Bailey is reported this afternoon as being slightly under the weather suffering considerable pain in his head and being generally indisposed. While the attending physician does not believe that he is at all in a serious condition, his advanced age renders such a condition possible. His son Charles H. Bailey who had expected to start for Chicago this afternoon has concluded to postpone his trip until the aged man is feeling better.
