

Rev. Austin's Book.

From Saturday's Daily. Rev. Ward L. Austin, the pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Plattsmouth has written a large book, containing much deep thought, entitled "Pardon Versus Cleansing." The one point the minister seeks to make, and surrounds it with all arguments bearing on the question, is that justification and regeneration are separate elements of the Christian experience and may, or may not, occur at the same time. That great numbers of the members in the protestant churches, while having enjoyed the evidence of pardon, yet give no evidence of pardon, or feel none in their heart, or regeneration, or the new birth, and that this condition in the churches has become the basis of teaching the doctrine of holiness. He quotes from several authors of theological works, who are themselves Methodists, Wesley's sermons, Wesley's works, History of Methodism by Stevens and many others, giving due credit for the same. Our pastor writes in part: "I believe that thousands of believers in the church today will have to be born again if they ever see the Kingdom of God. * * * Regeneration in its very nature refuses to be partial. A Christian is either regenerated or unregenerated. It is impossible to accept the partial birth idea as presented by Mr. Wesley concerning the carnal Corinthians, to whom Paul wrote. A life is either right or wrong, it cannot be both right and wrong. Some church members (believers) say sin every day of their lives, and we have no reason to doubt their word, but the idea that a Christian, a regenerated person, cannot help sinning is absurd. It would be just as absurd to expect to find hot ice, an honest thief, a Republican prohibitionist or a truthful liar as a sinning saint."—A. L. Bixby, in the State Journal.

High Wind Last Evening.

From Friday's Daily. A high wind sprang up last evening about 4:30 o'clock bring with it a storm of dirt and sand which made life on the streets a burden. The storm was sudden in its formation and resembled a cyclone in its nature. The wind which had been blowing out of the south all day, suddenly turned to the north and within the space of a few moments its velocity had increased until a height estimated at forty to fifty miles an hour prevailed. No damage was done so far as can be learned but during the entire evening traveling was disagreeable, the sand, dust and dirt filling the air and blinding pedestrians while houses were invaded by the stuff and made dirty. The wind was accompanied by a fall in temperature which did not, however, reach the frost line. Farmers were much discouraged by the change as it seems to indicate a continuance of the dry weather, and something which they want broken. Rain is badly needed and it will take warm weather and south wind to produce it. Fields are very hard and the ground on top very dry and warm rain is the necessary article for the crops. The weather bureau holds out no hope for an immediate change the prediction for today and tomorrow being fair weather.

Conditions at Havelock.

From Friday's Daily. The effects of the Havelock strike are now commencing to be felt by the merchants and business men of that place. This morning's Lincoln papers state that a real estate man of that place is authority for the statement that since the strike commenced there has ceased to be any activity in real estate in the town and that transfers of property have ceased entirely. Business men make statements to the effect that they have not yet felt the effect of the strike but they are apprehensive that the next pay day will find a number of their credit customers unable to meet their obligations. That the strike is having a depressing effect on business in Havelock seems without question and that it is causing considerable uneasiness is quite evident. The strike coming right along with the closing of the saloons in that town has transferred it from a lively, bustling place to a very quiet little town. That the effect will be much worse is to be expected and is believed by all acquainted with the situation. It is said that a number of those first employed by the company when the strike took place have been found undesirable and have been let out, although the exact number is not stated. The men who have been put to work do not leave the shop yards and sleep in tourist sleepers which have been parked in the yards. The meals are furnished in boarding cars. The yards are guarded by special police maintained by the company. False Alarm. An alarm of fire sounded at the Burlington shops about 2:15 this afternoon created a great deal of excitement on Main street and brought the fire department out in a hurry. The wind was blowing a gale and the department did not take any chances on fire being quickly underway toward the scene of the supposed blaze. As it turned out to be practice, the carts were returned to the central station. This was one occasion on which people were glad the alarm was a false one as the high wind made them apprehensive of great loss should flames get started. It was wonderful how many people were on Main street within a few moments after the alarm sounded.

Meet at Newell Home.

The Ladies Auxillary of the Presbyterian church were entertained at the newly home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Newell yesterday afternoon with their daughter Miss Bernese, Mrs. G. L. Farley and Miss Olive Cass as hostesses. A missionary program, which included both home and foreign missions, had been arranged for and during the afternoon this was rendered. This program was most highly enjoyed and appreciated by the large number of ladies in attendance, there being about forty, and consisted of readings, papers and vocal solo. It was opened with the reading of the 76th Psalm by Mrs. W. H. Newell. The entire company then joined in the singing of a missionary hymn. Mrs. Dr. Baird then gave an interesting paper on the Freedmen's board, which was following by entertaining papers on India by Mrs. Wise, Mrs. D. C. Morgan, Miss Johnston, Mrs. E. D. Cummins, Mrs. J. M. Roberts and Miss Bernese Newell. This very interesting and entertaining program was concluded by a beautiful solo rendered by Mrs. J. W. Gamble. The ladies were then served delicious ice cream and cake which very materially aided in the pleasure of the afternoon.

At the M. E. Church. The platform of the Methodist church last evening resembled that of a convention or general conference by reason of the out of town ministerial talent seated there. Besides Evangelist Campbell and his talent son, Alva Campbell, the singer, there was district superintendent George I. Wright of Nebraska City, former pastor J. E. Houlgate, Rev. W. O. Harrel, pastor of the Mynard and Eight Mile Grove churches and Rev. Austin of the local church. The singing was spirited and most enjoyable and was led by an unusually large chorus under the direction of Mr. Campbell. The text for Evangelist Campbell's discourse was taken from Isaiah "As a mother comforteth her child, so will I comfort you." The evangelist emphasized the characteristics of a good mother and said that was only a faint analogy of the tenderness and love of the Holy Spirit in dealing with God's children. He asked for an expression from those who knew this comforting power and was gratified at the result. The services will be held tonight at the usual hour and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

Wedding at Weeping Water. Last Wednesday evening at Weeping Water occurred the marriage of Miss Mabel Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Day of that city to Mr. Osmore M. Card of Logan, Ia. The occasion was a social event of much importance in that city, the bride being one of Cass county's fairest daughters. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Andrus of the Congregational church of that city, it being the ring ceremony and one beautiful and impressive. The wedding march was played by Miss Anna Wilkinson of that city while Mrs. G. W. Noble, well known in this city, and a resident of Omaha, sang "O, Perfect Love." The best man was Harold Day of Denver, Col., a brother of the bride, while Clinton Wilkinson and Albert Pool of Weeping Water acted as groomsmen. The bridesmaids were Misses Winfred Abernathy, Anna and Edith Hitchman while the ring bearer was a little brother of the bride. The bride is very well known in this city and has made many friends here who will extend their congratulations to her. She is a very charming and accomplished young lady of much worth and great talent.

A Pleasant Evening. Last evening Miss Hattie Hofman pleasantly entertained the members of the U. N. C. club. The evening was spent in social conversation, music and games. In an "ice contest" Gartrude Morgan and Villa Gopen tied and in the drawing the latter captured the prize, a china piece. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening which was thoroughly relished by the guests. At a late hour all departed for their homes, thinking a pleasant evening had indeed been spent. The members of the club who attended were Misses Leona Asemissen, Gertrude Morgan, Elsa Theirolf and Villa Gopen. Miss Jennie Tuoy was a guest of the club.

Mrs. Henry Blust of Avoca, Ia., and Mrs. Peter Merrance of Omaha were guests yesterday of Mrs. E. L. Polln for the day, coming in yesterday morning and departing last evening for Omaha. The ladies are old friends of Mrs. Polln, having been acquaintances of many years standing and they stopped off here on their way home after an extended visit in Canada. Mrs. Blust is a licensed embalmer, her husband being an undertaker and funeral director in Avoca and having an excellent business.

Our Congratulations, Bart. Well; what do you know about this? The Northwest Post of Belle Fourche, S. D., is at hand containing the results of the election in that city, and the Journal is proud to note that among the victims was our old Democratic friend, Bartholomew L. Kirkham, who is elected police judge of that city unanimously. Hats off to Judge Kirkham! Bart's many friends in Cass county will be more than pleased to learn of the mark of confidence which the people of Belle Fourche have bestowed upon him. That he is worthy of it, goes without saying as he is a splendid, upright and capable young man and he will give to the good people of that community an excellent and able administration free from partisanship, bias or prejudice. In addition to being an excellent citizen generally, Mr. Kirkham is a rattling good newspaper man and, in company with his partner, Rush O. Fellows, he is giving Belle Fourche a mighty good paper. Speaking of the success of the Post in annexing the police judgeship, attention might be called to the fact that the city editor's office is Belle Fourche is filled by R. O. Fellows which pretty near gives the Post a monopoly on the municipal business of the city. From past acquaintance the Journal knows that Fellows makes a good clerk and we also know that Kirkham will prove a veritable terror to malefactors who happen to fall in his clutches. His experience in collecting for a newspaper constitutes a useful training for his new job. Mrs. E. E. Hilton who has been spending some time in Omaha came in this afternoon from the north.
