

UNITED DOCTORS ARE COMING TO PLATTSMOUTH

Famous Specialists Will Make Short Visit to The Riley Hotel on Tuesday, May 31.

Word has been received that the Chief Consulting Physician of the United Doctors has decided to pay a short visit to Plattsmouth and while here will stop at the Riley hotel, where he will receive and examine patients.

The United Doctors are the specialists whose wonderful cures have caused so much comment by the press, pulpit and the public not only in Nebraska but all over the country. Those specialists have founded a new school of medicine which embraces all of the good points of the old schools and leaves out the bad. They use Allopathic drugs where they are needed; they use Homoeopathic drugs where they are needed, and Eclectic drugs where they are needed and in some cases they use a combination of Eclectic drugs with Homoeopathic or Allopathic drugs in the same case. Hence the name, United Doctors—they have united the various schools and "isms" of medicine to form a perfect system of curing disease.

The United Doctors have many Institutes established in the larger cities of the United States. Their Omaha Institute is located on the second floor of the Neville block, corner of 16th & Harney Sts., Omaha, Neb.

The object of the United Doctors in making this short visit to Plattsmouth is to secure a few of these cases to be only the most difficult ones. They know that if they cure a few of the worst cases here that others will hear of it and to their Omaha Institute they will go for treatment. A cured patient is their best advertisement.

While the Doctor is at the Riley hotel for this short visit on Tuesday, May 31, he will examine all patients free of charge and give free treatment except for the bare cash of the medicine used but will accept only curable cases for treatment, as it would not be good advertising to treat any cases unless we are sure of cure. To the cases selected for treatment a special reduced price will be made.

The diseases treated by the United Doctors are diseases of the nerves, blood, skin, heart, stomach, kidney and liver, including rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, loss of nerve force, gopher, constipation, catarrh, epilepsy, indigestion, dyspepsia, weak back, bloating, dropsy, eczema, acrofula, diseases of women and diseases of men.

The dailies throughout the country are continually publishing reports of the wonderful cures that have been made by the United Doctors. Recently an account was given in an Omaha paper of the case of Mrs. M. Bradford who lives on R. R. No. 3, South Omaha, Neb., in which she says in part:

"Ten years ago my health began to gradually fall and I grew worse until I was confined to my bed half of the time with terrible pains in my stomach and bowels and violent vomiting. For years I did not know what a well day was. Could eat no food that other people ate. Could get neither sleep nor rest on account of the awful suffering. I tried all the physicians in reach, but only got worse until a counsel of my family physicians decided that I had gall stones and that nothing would save my life but an operation and the surgeons could not promise even an operation would relieve me or save me.

"About one year ago I began to hear accounts of the wonderful work of the United Doctors in gall stones. With death and the surgeons knife staring me in the face, it seemed that I ought to see them anyway.

"After a careful examination they pronounced the case gall stones and said they could relieve me at once and cure me permanently. I thought that for such results their price would be very high and I would not be able to take their treatment but I found them very kind and considerate. Their price was a reasonable one. One fee paid for everything, including the medicine, until I should be entirely cured, regardless of how long it took.

"Now, for over six months I have not had an attack of my old trouble. I can eat anything I want and my digestion seems as good as ever. No more vomiting spells. No more awful pains. No more morphine from the family physician. No more starvation. I owe my recovery to the United Doctors and to them only. They have cured me. Since I have been cured a neighbor of mine also has been cured of gall stones. I want to say to all people who have gall stones go to the United Doctors."

Porter H. Beeson, of 940 N. 24th St., Omaha, Neb., who has nerve, bowel, stomach and kidney trouble for two years, says:

"I was simply wasting away and got so bad that I could neither work nor eat or hold anything on my stomach. I came home to my mother and a skeleton and am satisfied that I would not have lived to exceed two weeks if I had not been persuaded by my mother to go to the United Doctors for treatment. I commenced to improve at once and within a week after commencing their treatment was eating everything I wanted and digested it perfectly. In two weeks I went to work at my regular occupation, which is that of brick layer, and have been working ever since.

"I cannot speak in high enough praise of their treatment of my case, which I feel was practically hopeless when I put it into their hands."

These are only a few extracts of hundreds of testimonials on file in the office of the United Doctors throughout the country.

While the United Doctors will not accept any incurable cases for treatment, one should not give up hope simply because their doctor has failed to help them. It must be remembered that this system of medicine has quickly cured many diseases which could not even be helped by other doctors or medicines.

The United Doctors treatment is all home treatment, so that frequent visits to our office are not necessary. This treatment may be used in any home anywhere, without inconvenience, publicity or annoyance and without detaining the patient from his or her usual occupation.

This wonderful new treatment is what the Doctor is bringing to Plattsmouth. He will be here but one day, and while here will receive patients at the Riley hotel parlors.

(re-elected by acclamation): A. P. Young, Nebraska City; J. H. Lohmann, of Crete; W. M. Piepenstock, Stanton; members of the board of trustees; Dr. C. F. Stockert, of Nebraska City, grand physician, (re-elected by acclamation); C. A. Fritz, Fremont, grand guide; Ernest Enke, Emerson, inside watch; L. H. Rohmeyer, Auburn, outside watch.

Resolutions were passed extending thanks to Mayor Love and President Selleck, of the commercial club for courtesies extended.

Considerable talk took place concerning raising the rates of the assessment of the members of the organization. During the session yesterday there was much debate over the matter. The order has an insurance feature which permits its members to take out a death and accident policy of $500. After some time spent in a discussion of the advisability of raising the rates a compromise was affected by advancing the per capita rates from $1.20 a year to $1.60.

The salary of the grand secretary was increased from $400 to $600 a year, and the chairman of the board of trustees from $50 a year to $100. J. H. Lohmann, of Crete, is the chairman of the board.—State Journal.

WANTED—Amateurs for next Tuesday night. Cash prizes. Majestic theater. 11-6td

Short Locals

Clarence Staats is among those who are spending this morning in Omaha, going to that city on the early morning train.

John O'Brien of South Omaha was among those registered at the Perkins hotel last evening, coming in to attend to business.

E. H. Riggs, wife and baby of Brewster, Neb., who have been making a visit with the father of Mrs. Riggs, R. H. Fitch, living south of the city, returned home this morning.

Mrs. Levi Patton has been confined to her home for several days past with illness. She is now better, much to the relief of her friends who had feared her illness might be serious.

Dr. E. W. Cook, physician of the M. W. A. for this jurisdiction, returned this morning from Lincoln where he had been in attendance at the first big rally of the M. W. A., mention of which is made elsewhere.

Mrs. Rose Jensen and baby are in the city making a visit with her parents, H. T. Batten and wife, coming down from her home at Newman Grove Saturday evening and expecting to remain for several days.

Monte Streight came in yesterday afternoon from his express run, remaining over night and take some addition degrees in Masonry. He went east this morning on No. 4, resuming his run after the meeting here.

F. M. Baker, of Knox county, a brother of C. J. Baker, whose sentence for bigamy was recently reversed by the supreme court, is in the city today making arrangements for bail for his brother pending the second trial.

A large party of Greeks were passengers this morning for Omaha over the Burlington, they being employes of the Burlington who have received their pay for the past month, and who want to take their monthly vacation in Omaha.

Ola Fields and family of Pacific Junction have moved to this city and hereafter will reside on Rock street. They have been making a visit with Herman Fields, his brother, and family for several days and decided to move over here permanently.

E. H. Wescott, Mrs. Mae Morgan and her guest Miss Lucille Stewart, of Red Oak, Ia., were passengers yesterday afternoon for Omaha where they attended the May festival last night. They pronounced the music very fine indeed, and the trip was a treat for them all.

Don C. Rhoden and Wm. Troop of Murray drove up from that enterprising little city today, the latter bringing up a span of horses with him. While here Mr. Rhoden made the Journal a very pleasant call, remaining for a few moments chat with the proprietor and also to look over some business.

C. C. Wescott departed this morning for Nehawka, where he will attend the Cass County Sunday School Convention which is to meet there. Mr. Wescott is one of the principal movers in the organization and is now serving as vice president.

Rev. Ploetz and wife and Miss Louise Gorder departed this morning for the home of the former at Cozad, where Miss Gorder will make them a visit for some days. Mr. and Mrs. Ploetz have been making an extended visit here, having been called here by the death of the late Mrs. Gorder, Mrs. Ploetz's mother.

Earl Mayfield, the only one of the Mayfield family, it is said, who never embraced the noble art of printing as a profession, is in the city today visiting with friends and looking after business matters. Mr. Mayfield is located at Louisville where he is kept busy with the papering and painting business. He is quite well known here, and has many good friends who were glad to extend greetings to him.

In the Journal of several days since an announcement was made that the M. W. A. orchestra had been engaged to play for a dance at Cedar Creek on May 30th. This was in error as Manager Holly of the orchestra had his wires crossed when he gave in the date. It should have been Saturday evening, May 28th. Remember the date is the 28th, and go there and have a fine dance to the best music.

The Journal made brief mention of an accident at the Burlington lumber yard, where Oscar Green, a sub-boss of the yards was injured. The injuries were caused by his being caught under a pile of lumber which turned over. An examination by a surgeon revealed the fact that several of his ribs were broken and he is badly bruised and lacerated. His injuries are of a serious nature, but is not believed will result fatally. He will be confined to his home however for some time. He has many good friends in the city who will learn of the accident with the deepest regret and who hope for his speedy recovery.

W. A. Hittis of Hickman, Neb., is in the city, coming in last evening to look after business matters.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain cannot stay where it is used.

OFFICERS FIND LARGE AMOUNT OF STOLEN GOODS NEAR THIS CITY

Sheriff Quinton and Chief Rainey Believe It to Be Plunder From Missouri Pacific Freight Cars.

Sheriff Quinton and Chief of Police Rainey this morning were engaged in an attempt to solve what appears to be a box car robbery. They have their suspicions but have been unable yet to locate the men they suspect of committing the crime. It is not certainly known that the robbery was of the box car variety but all indications point to it. In the sheriff's office at the court house there is a miscellaneous pile of merchandise which he is holding for identification and which will lead likely to discovering the source of the robbery and the positive identification of the men committing it.

The merchandise is about such as would come from a merchandise car and consists of ladies skirts, ribbons, corsets, boys suspenders, collars in boxes, several of which have been opened and a portion of the contents taken out and overalls, besides a lot of other articles of wearing apparel for the different sexes. In addition, there are a number of bolts of cloth for ladies dress patterns. The entire collection has not been inventoried yet so its value cannot be fixed. It will amount to quite a sum, however, as evidenced by the quantity of it.

The first inkling the officers had of the goods was when "Dump" Blunt, a young man well known about town, approached Chief Rainey and wanted to find the whereabouts of the sheriff. The chief told him to see Deputy Manspeaker at his barn when Blunt explained he had seen Manspeaker and had tried to get a rig to go out and gather up some goods which he and Samp Karnes had found in a ravine north of the city and along the Missouri Pacific tracks. Sheriff Quinton was duly notified and he at once made his way out to where he had been told the goods were located, finding them hid under the wagon bridge just north of the slaughter house of Kunsman & Range. The size of the plunder, and its peculiar makeup impressed the sheriff and he, in connection with Chief Rainey started at once on the trail of the fellows who had been guilty of its stealing. They hurried to the city and wanted to have a further interview with Blunt about the matter but he was not then to be found. A similar quest for Karnes also resulted in the discovery that, he, too, had vanished or could not be located. Blunt was traced to the Burlington station where he was discovered to have taken a trip into Iowa, just why is not known.

The officers are content they will be able to locate the owner of the goods, the railroad having been notified of the discovery and that when this is done the location of the thieves will be easy. The story told by Blunt does not sound at all good to the officers just now but they are open to conviction and would like to have him come back and talk longer about it as there are some things they want cleared up. His tale of finding the cache in a ravine in the hills might be true but it did not impress the officers as being the real essence of truthfulness.

Blunt does not bear the best of reputation with the police and the sheriff's office. He has served a term in the reform school and also has been in the penitentiary according to Chief Rainey and for this reason his "discovery" is looked upon somewhat askance. He has also injured his own standing by his sudden departure for parts unknown. Karnes does not stand the best in the world with the officers either, although he has not the bad record that Blunt has. It is possible he might be able to explain his connection with the case to them satisfactorily if he would come up and talk.

The robbing of box cars along the Missouri Pacific is said to have been very frequent the past several years and in a number of cases, the parties have been caught but conviction is a very difficult matter owing to inability to prove jurisdiction as to where the robbery was actually committed. The company is making desperate efforts to break up the practice and undoubtedly will take up this case with interest if the goods can be identified as part of their shipment.

Names of Comets.

Owing to a number of inquiries as to the names of the different large comets which have been seen from time to time, the Journal below prints a list of them with the date of their last appearance and their period in years:

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment, 50 cents at any drug store.

Mrs. N. J. Richardson and Mrs. J. T. Davis residing south of the city, came in this morning and were passengers on the morning Burlington train for Omaha where they will spend today.

FAMOUS IOWA FARMER IS DEAD

Products Grown by L. G. Clute Took Many Premiums.

Manchester, Ia., May 19.—The funeral of L. G. Clute, one of the most prominent farmers in this section of Iowa, was held from his home in Honey Creek township, burial being made in the Greeley cemetery. Mr. Clute enjoyed a national reputation for his skill in raising products for exhibition purposes, and the exhibits grown by him have taken prizes at every agricultural exhibition of importance held in the United States during the past generation. His first exhibit was made in 1876 at the Centennial exposition held in Philadelphia. At the New Orleans exposition in 1895, at which gathering Mr. Clute was a member of the Iowa commission, his products were awarded fifty medals and 200 diplomas. The Iowa exhibits at the Chicago, St. Louis and Omaha exhibitions were arranged by him. He has had a large exhibit of farm products at every state fair Iowa has ever held, and invariably his display received a high classification.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Jealous Little Canary Bird

Tried to Peck at the Sparrow

YOU know, children," said daddy to Evelyn and Jack, "that in the city there are very few birds save in the parks. City life does not agree with most birds, and even if they happen to wander into the city they do not stay there very long. Once in awhile the city papers tell us an interesting thing of the finding of a song bird in the city."

"There is one sort of bird, however, of which there is a plenty in the city. That is the little brown English sparrow, which fills the streets and makes its nest in trees and on roof tops. Some of the city people like the sparrows and feed them, but some of them think the little birds are a nuisance. Your Uncle John thinks so. Near his bedroom window there is a large tree, and the sparrows gather there early every morning in the spring and make so much noise with their chirping that they wake him up.

"There is one family in the city that is very fond of all birds. They have a parrot and a canary in cages, and they feed the sparrows every day. In the morning the mother takes all the breadcrumbs they have and other scraps of food and throws them to the sparrows. The twittering and chirping around the house is something that can be heard a long way off. There is one sparrow, a little larger than most of the others, who is sure to be seen there every day, ready to get his share of the crumbs and to fight with any of the other sparrows who tries to push him away.

"Not long ago the little girl of the family coaxed this sparrow with crumbs to come into the dining room. It was very amusing to see the little brown bird make himself quite at home in the house as though he really belonged there instead of out in the street with the other sparrows. He was getting along splendidly when suddenly he looked up and saw the canary in a cage near the window of the room.

"Nothing would do this sparrow but to fly up to the cage and see what sort of a bird was locked up in the pretty brass house. But when he got near to the cage it was plainly to be seen that he and the canary bird would never be friends. When the little yellow bird in the cage saw the little brown bird outside he ruffled up his feathers and went quite close to the bars of the cage and tried to peck at the sparrow. It seemed as though he was very jealous of the sparrow and wanted him to leave the room.

"Now, sparrows are very bold birds, as a rule, and are not afraid of anything. But they really are afraid of canary birds, and as soon as this sparrow saw that the bird in the cage was quite willing to fight with him he flew down and out of the open window. Then the canary began to sing.

"Since that time the little girl has never been able to coax the sparrow into the room."

GRAND LODGE SONS OF HERMAN

Advance the Per Capita Rate From $1.20 to $1.60.

The grand lodge of Nebraska of the Sons of Herman closed its two days' session last night by a banquet and flag dedication on behalf of the local lodge at Plattdeuches Verein hall. At the banquet Rev. H. A. Fricke acted as toastmaster and Carl Rhode, Karl Kauf and F. J. Freitag responded. Over two hundred and fifty people sat down to the feast.

The next biennial meeting of the organization will be at Omaha in May, 1912. At the session just at end over ninety delegates were present from many parts of Nebraska and a number of visiting members who were not accredited to the grand lodge.

F. J. Freitag, of South Omaha, was elected grand president for the ensuing two years; Albert W. D. Heyde, of Grand Island, first grand vice president; G. F. Beschoner, second grand vice president; Carl Rhode, Columbus, grand secretary (re-elected by acclamation); Fred Volpp, of Scribner, grand treasurer,
