

SUPERINTENDENT GAMBLE STAYS

School Board Persuades Superintendent to Remain With Us.

At a meeting of the school board last evening the matter of selecting a superintendent came up.

Prof. Gamble was present and the situation was carefully gone over between him and the board and the resignation which he had tendered discussed by all the members and Mr. Gamble. The board hesitated in accepting the resignation and urged upon Prof. Gamble that he withdraw his resignation and consent to remain another year with the schools. His good work during the time he has been in the schools was commented upon by all the members of the board and they were unanimous in asking him to reconsider his resignation. After a lengthy discussion of the matter and a full statement of the reason why he had resigned by Prof. Gamble, he consented to withdraw his resignation and remain with the schools provided he was allowed a vacation of two months this summer. This the board cheerfully consented to and in fact, urged upon him so he will be at the head of the schools for another year at least.

In connection with Prof. Gamble's resignation it is stated authoritatively that there has been positively no friction between him and the members of the board on any question whatever. In fact, the board has not had a superintendent with whom they have gotten along more harmoniously than with Prof. Gamble. There is no question of policy between the board and the superintendent nor has there been the slightest disagreement between them in any respect. The reason for Prof. Gamble's resignation was stated to the board very frankly and it was purely personal and did not relate to school management or to any disagreement with the board. It is a matter of congratulation to the board and the city that Prof. Gamble has consented to remain and devote more time and energy to the schools. He has made them among the leading schools of Nebraska and with another year, they will rank even higher. Prof. Gamble occupies a very high position in educational circles and has done as much as any one man in the state to build up the standard of scholarship and his loss would have been felt very severely no matter how able a man had succeeded him. He is thoroughly familiar with the local situation and intimately acquainted with the ins and outs of the conditions surrounding the schools, hence he can give far better and more important service to the schools than a new man could. He expects to spend several months during the summer taking a needed rest and vacation and will return to the schools next fall in fine shape for another school year. The action of the board is retaining him and in inducing a reconsideration of his resignation is commended on all sides and those interested in the schools are pleased with the outcome.

Vandervort Brought Back.

Sheriff Quinton last evening brought to this city a man whom the officers have been seeking since along in April last. Oklahoma Vandervort is the man whom he apprehended. Vandervort was caught at Pender, and is wanted here on the charge of wife desertion. On March 23, he deserted his wife and children who were living at Pender, disappearing and leaving a trace behind of his destination. The family were left helpless until a complaint was made on the behalf of the county attorney who at once investigated the matter and filed a complaint against Vandervort under the statute. The complaint was filed about April 14, since then a quiet hunt has been on for the man, the result being that he was located at Pender and taken into custody. He is at present in jail here and will have a preliminary examination within a few days. Under the wife desertion statute in this state now a severe penalty can be inflicted and the situation in which Vandervort finds himself is a rather bad one.

Pleased With Country.

James Archer departed this morning for Standing Rock, S. D., where he hopes to secure a fine farm at a low price to be had there. His son James, Jr., who is well known here, has been located at Aberdeen, S. D., for some time past and writes his father that he is greatly pleased with that city and that part of the country. He urges his father to join him there. Both of the gentlemen have chances in the drawing which soon takes place and it is the hope of their many friends that they both are among the winners and carry off a good farm as their share. Mr. Archer expects to be gone about a week this trip.

Evening Band Concerts.

The project of band concerts during the summer is now under way and doubtless will take well. The M. W. A. band is going to make an effort to secure signers to an agreement to pay so much per month to the band for two concerts a week, one week day and the other on Sunday. The boys have been encouraged to start the ball rolling by a number of the business men of the city who want some attraction on the street during the summer days or evening and it is believed enough can be gotten up to have two concerts each week. A paper to this effect will be started in circulation in a few days and everyone will be asked to help it along. It is a good thing and will help Plattsmouth to succeed.

A Pleasant Outing.

J. E. Wheeler and wife of Omaha came down Saturday to spend Sunday in the city, the guests of R. A. Bates and wife, returning to their home this morning. During their stay they enjoyed a very pleasant outing, driving out to the home of C. E. Metzger near Cedar Creek where the day was spent very pleasantly, a merry fishing party being the result with more fish than they knew what to do with. They pronounced the visit one of the most pleasant they ever had and hope to return again soon.

Wm. Stohlman, road overseer for Center precinct, is in the city today on business with the county commissioners. Mr. Stohlman is a sufferer from bad teeth and today was feeling quite bad but he had to be here. He paid the Journal one of his pleasant calls and was made welcome. He went to Omaha at 2 o'clock to look after business for a few hours.

Fourth of July Celebration Sure.

The Fourth of July celebration is a sure go. The committee which was to solicit funds for the affair consisting of Messrs. A. H. Koubek and William Egenberger, were out this morning and found that enthusiasm for the affair was great and contributions were liberal. Within a very few hours $225 was subscribed and this is not nearly what will be raised as many are yet to be seen, in fact, the subscription list is barely started. The unanimous sentiment is to raise enough to make the celebration a rip-roaring one from start to finish. It is the intention to secure all the attractions possible and with plenty of funds on hand which looks likely now, this will be done and the people given a show worth while. The paper will be circulated until everyone is seen and contributions no matter what size are earnestly asked for to aid in making the day the biggest and grandest ever held here. The committee should meet with success and if the 280 Red Men do their share it will be such a celebration as will reflect credit on the order and the city.

In Police Court.

Judge Archer used up some of his celebrated brand of justice this morning when he soaked John Kelly to the tune of five simoleons and costs for being jagged. John looked upon the rum demon when he was red and the result was that Chief Rainey took him to the cooler or as the English have it, the goal. Here he rested up until this morning when he got said amount of justice. This was suspended provided John make himself a fadeaway which he seems to have done, going on to Nebraska City or Omaha or some other uncouth place. John will know better than to tempt the fates by getting loaded in this man's town in the future as it surely is some offense and amounts to near malefaction.

The hearing of Grand Blunt charged with grand larceny was to have taken place this morning but was continued one week on account of the absence of material witnesses. It will be heard before Judge Archer on Monday, June 13, at 9 a. m.

The Jolly Six Dance.

The dance given last Saturday night by the Jolly Six at Coates' hall was another one of the brilliant successes which their dances have grown to be. There was a large crowd in attendance and a fine time had generally. The music was furnished by the M. W. A. orchestra and it was of the usual high class which that organization always puts up. The dancing continued to a late hour and merriment reigned supreme. All who attended were more than pleased at the fine time shown them and have been loud in praise of the management for the splendid manner in which they carried the affair out. There will probably be many another dance given by this excellent organization before it concludes its dancing season.

Deserved Promotion.

Mrs. Leon Burton spent Sunday in the city, the guest of G. F. S. Burton and wife, returning to her home in Omaha this morning. Mr. Leon Burton left several days since for Los Angeles, Cal., having in charge a McKeen motor car which he is to deliver to the San Pedro road. Since his connection with the McKeen Motor company, Mr. Burton has received two promotions which is a most excellent record. This has all taken place within a few months and is certain evidence of the ability of the young man and the value placed by the company on his services. His friends in this city will be pleased with his advancement.

In District Court.

The divorce suit of Nellie vs. Walter Britton was to have been heard this morning before Judge Travis but owing to failure to notify the defendant and his counsel of the fact, the latter Judge M. Archer made such a showing that the case went over until the next term of court. There were a large number of witnesses on hand to testify in the case, a number coming down from Council Bluffs for that purpose. The case promises to be a bitterly contested one and more or less salacious in its details.

Pollard Boys a Steamboat.

Ernest M. Pollard has just returned from Mobile, Ala., where he purchased a steamboat 135 feet long for the use of his company in Haytien waters. At noon yesterday he took luncheon with a company of his local business associates. In about a week he will return to Hayti to put his timber exporting business on its feet. He will remain there for some time, but no indefinitely.—State Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Dill were passengers to Murray yesterday morning, where they will spend a few days with relatives and friends in that vicinity.

CONSTABLE BRINGS IN HIS PRISONER

One Roberts at Greenwood Gets Overdose of Red-eye.

Constable Jerome Andrus, Greenwood's doughty marshal, was in the city yesterday, bringing down one Roberts who visited in his town Saturday and tried the brand of red eye which is on sale there. Roberts took on many and divers drinks of the extract of chained lightning and then developed Johnson-Jeffries tendencies. Roberts became strong yea, as strong as horse radish or stronger and resolved to put the saloon, Marshal Andrus and the entire male population of Greenwood to the bad. This was his boast and this he came near doing. Jerome is some brave man and he assailed Roberts when the latter was at the height of his glory and he came near re-creating said assault as Roberts looked to be a winner in one round of three seconds. However, Jerome prevailed upon many a bystander to come to his assistance and a grand struggle ensued. Roberts had a thumb some jammed up by being caught in a door according to reports but finally was thrown, bound, gagged and strapped by the sum total of seven strong-armed men who upheld the peace and dignity of the state of Nebraska and the village of Greenwood. He was deposited in the city calaboose after considerable exertion and later arraigned before Justice Hand who heard evidence of the many malefactions and transgressions of Roberts. Now be it known to all men that Justice Hand is some man who opposes such unseemly and riotous conduct in his ballwick and especially so by parties claiming other towns as their residence, hence he was indisposed to deal leniently with Roberts. Roberts it can be remarked, en passant as the poet might say, claims Plattsmouth as his abiding place all of which did not serve to make his sentence any lighter. Justice Hand commented severely upon Roberts' reckless disregard of the edicts of the law and sentenced him to come down to jail and stay here for sundry and divers days until he could learn to look upon the strong drink with a more considerate eye. And it was to start Roberts on the straight and narrow path via Hotel Manspeaker, that Andrus was here.

First District Meeting.

There was to have been a meeting of the Loyal Mystic Legion lodges of the first district held in this city today but by some miscarriage on the part of the executive officers of the order in the state, the local lodge does not seem to have had much information as to the matter. In consequence there was no preparation made for the meeting and only one delegate arrived that being Dr. Townsend of Lincoln who came down only to find himself alone and among strangers. F. H. Steinkler was the local delegate to the meeting and was at the train to welcome any stray delegates who might drop in. As neither he nor Dr. Townsend had on badges or buttons or other emblems of the order they passed one another by and it took some time to get them together. They finally met at about eleven o'clock and went through the formality of electing delegate to the state convention to be held at Hastings. Dr. Townsend was an avowed candidate for that place as he wanted to get an opportunity to stir up the management of the order in the state and prevent any more such failures as has taken place in this case. None of the gentlemen who were down town and who are members of the order had any idea of how many lodges existed in the district and in fact, seemed to be decidedly in the dark on all matters connected with it. The local lodge of the L. M. L. A. is in good shape and if all other lodges of the state are as well managed as this there would be no trouble.

The order is a good one but it surely needs some changes at the top so as to bring some sort of system into operation. Among the prominent members of the order locally are Dr. E. W. Cook who took a great deal of pains in getting the mixup untangled this morning, J. C. Peterson, the secretary and F. H. Steinkler, the delegate to the district meeting. Dr. Townsend was chosen as delegate to the state convention at Hastings and promises to do something toward jarring the head officers up.

In District Clerk Robertson's office this morning a suit in for enclosure was filed, it being entitled the Livingston Loan & Building association vs. Frances Skoumal et al. The property covered by the mortgage is fractional lots Nos. 16 and 39, in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 13, township 12, range 13. Messrs. Thomas Yalling, Matthew Gering and W. A. Robertson appear as counsel for the plaintiff.

ST. LUKE'S CHOIR SONG SERVICE

A Fine Program Given Under Direction of Choirmaster Austin

Lace of space yesterday forbade an extensive mention of the very excellent closing song service of St. Luke's choir given last Sunday evening at that church. This service was far and away one of the best ever given in this city and reflected much credit upon the choir and the fine training which it has had at the hands of Prof. Austin who has been choir master for several years past. St. Luke's choir has attained a most enviable reputation in this part of the state for its superb work and this reputation is due in a great measure to the untiring efforts of Prof. Austin. During the past winter there has been a number of very fine song services rendered, these services being one of the attractive features of Sunday service at the church.

That of last Sunday evening was a very carefully selected and splendidly given one. The program was so arranged that the individual members of the choir had a chance to give several numbers as well as the choir as a whole. The opening number of the program was "Behold, the Days Come," by Woodward, a fine selection for exhibiting the beauty and strength of the entire choir. This number was very excellently rendered and showed well the steady work which the choir has put in at practice and the care and attention which the members had given to Prof. Austin's training. "If God So Clothes the Grass," a splendid bass solo was given by Prof. Austin who was in excellent voice and whose rendition of the grand melody was superb. In times past comment has been made so much upon the excellent work of the choir master that further comment here would be superfluous. The choir gave "Comes at Times a Stillness as of Even," also another number of Woodward of superior merit. Again the choir exhibited the masterly handling of the melody and gave this number excellent execution. C. W. Baylor who has been forging to the front in this city as one of its most worthy singers gave "The Choir Boy," by Armstrong, a very fine and much appreciated selection. Mr. Baylor's voice was in good condition and his rendition of this air was highly appreciated and enjoyed by all. His singing is decidedly of a high order and always is received with close attention from his audience. Hymn No. 12 was given by the choir assisted by the congregation and quite well given. Glen Scott, one of the city's most promising singers, then pleased the congregation with Needs Attention.

There will have to be some work done on the foundation for the old civil war cannon mounted on the court house lawn soon or it threatens to fall to the ground. The brick foundation which has been under the big piece of iron is slowly disintegrating and falling apart caused partly by the foundation settling and partly by the mortar between the bricks crumbling and falling out. The cement base under the cannon is badly cracked and gives evidence of soon giving away. The foundation should be strengthened in some manner and made sufficiently heavy to hold up this relic of the bravery of the old soldiers. The cannon has become a landmark in Cass county history and it should be preserved carefully. The cost of repairing the foundation now would be small and later it may have to be entirely rebuilt at considerable more expense.

The Majestic last night held an amateur night and several very good stunts were put on by local talent. First prize went to Messrs. John Maurer and Emil Droege, who did the wrestling turn. This was a very good act and both the young men deserve much praise for their work.

CALUMET
Baking Powder
Received Highest Award
World's Pure Food Exposition
Chicago, November, 1907
What does this mean?
It means that Calumet has set a new Standard in Baking Powder—the standard of the World.
Because this award was given to Calumet after thorough tests and experiments, over all other baking powders.
It means that Calumet is the best baking powder in every particular in the world.
And this means that Calumet produces the best, most delicious, lightest, and purest baking of all baking powders.
Doesn't that mean everything to you?
