

Born and Reared to Womanhood in This City Where She Was Highly Loved and Respected.

Deceased was born in this city in the month of April 1883 and here she lived during the happy period of childhood and early womanhood. Always a frail and delicate little woman she grew up into a most lovely specimen of the handsome and attractive lady. She was endowed by nature with all the traits which go to make the perfect lady and these traits were such as endeared her to all with whom she became acquainted. In her life in this city, there was no more popular young lady than Sallie Agnew nor any who could number her friends by so large num-

The many relatives of the noble young woman in this city as well as the stricken husband, child and mother, have the sincere sympathy of all in their bereavement.

Chauncey Doty Dies at Home in East Plattsburgh

He was born in New York on May 7, 1834, and came west during his early manhood, finally locating in what was known as East Plattsmouth a great many years back. He was troubled with deafness for a good many years during his residence in that locality and on one occasion his defect caused him to be struck by a Burlington train and hurled from the track, up near the big cut. This accident very severely injured him but he was possessed of a wonderful vitality and survived the terrible injuries which were inflicted.

The deceased is survived by a widow and one son and three daughters. The son is Amos Doty who lived with his parents at East Plattsmouth and the daughters are Mrs. Olney Graham of Rulo, Neb., Mrs. Hattie Varner of Sassaena, Kas., and Mrs. Mate Graham of Big Timber, Mont. Owing to the long distance the daughters are away, it is not probable they can get home in time for the funeral. Mr. Doty came to Iowa in the year 1860 and has since resided there continuously.

Deceased was a resident of Cass county for fifty years, and on April 7th, last, her sister, Miss Lizzie Batcheledor, died at the farm of Philip Batchelder. On April 29, last, she with her husband moved to Bickleton. Her death came after an illness of two days. The funeral took place on Sunday, June 27, at La Granda, Ore. It being attended by all the children except one son George Parker of South Dakota, who was unable to make the journey in time.

Deceased was quite well known in this vicinity where she had lived long and she was a most highly respected and lovable woman. To her family she had been a loving and true mother. The many old friends and neighbors who had known the deceased knew her to love and respect her and their sincere sympathies go out to the stricken husband and children. The death of her sister preyed upon the later days of her life and in her letters to her children she often spoke of this event with great sorrow.

Adam Kaffenberger, the well-known farmer from west of the city is spending today in the city on business, having driven in this morning from his farm for that purpose.

Telephone Man Tries to Sever Artries With Penknife

Wilson seems to have been a right until recently when he commenced drinking and had kept up the campaign steadily until his nerve became shattered and he was on the verge of frenzy. The injury which he inflicted on himself was not of a dangerous character although rather severe and consisted of a cut several inches long extending clear across the wrist. This morning he was getting along all right and apparently regrets his action.

Bouncing Baby Boy.

Our good friend J. R. Rummefield is going about today with a smile which is some smile and which is warranted not to come off. The cause was some kind of a mystery to his friends until it leaked out that his home had been visited by the Stork and that there had been level with his wife a mighty fine baby boy.
This boy arrived this a. m., so to give the proud father a chance to display that winning smile. It is pleasant to note that both mother and son are getting along nicely and there is no doubt the boy will become the apple of both his father's and mother's eye.

Married in Washington.

The marriage is announced of Miss Winnie Robinson in Washington where she has been living since her family departed for that section. She is the handsome and respected daughter of Frank Robinson who works in the Burlington shops here for several years. She has many friends in this city who will extend their heartiest congratulations to her upon her matrimonial venture.

Gus Nolting is among those in the city today looking after business matters, coming in from his farm this morning.

Supposed Burglar Captured.

Chief Rainey this afternoon received a message from the Kip Shoe company in Deadwood to hold the man whom he took in until he received their letter. From this it would appear that the chief has landed a good one and if this is the case, he is to be congratulated upon his cleverness in catching the fellow. The letter will reach here probably tomorrow or Monday morning and it will help in clearing up the mystery surrounding the man and the property found on him.

Past Chiefs Entertained.

The Past Chiefs of the Degree of Honor were very pleasantly entertained at the hospitable home of Mrs. H. G. Van Horn yesterday afternoon. There were a large number of the ladies present, who spent a most delightful afternoon. The usual divisions were indulged in and furnished plenty of amusement and made the hours speed all too rapidly. During the afternoon an election was held at which time the following officers were elected: Mrs. Van Horn, president; Mrs. Rosencrans, vice president; Mrs. Burkel, secretary; and Mrs. Fred Ramage, re-elected as treasurer.

The pleasures of the afternoon were further augmented when the hostess invited the guests to the dining room where a luncheon which the hostess only knows best how to prepare, was served and which was a source of constant delight to the ladies. The table was beautiful with its decorations of sweet peas and hollyhocks, which were attractively arranged.

Nick Halmes and his estimable wife are spending the day in the city with friends and looking after business matters. These good people are always welcome callers to the club and it is a pleasure to see uncle Nick looking so well and hearty.

THE HOME OF SATISFACTION

Large Crowd on the Streets Last Evening to Enjoy Sights

Another show has been added to those at the carnival in the shape of the Alaskan Dog Team and wolves and a freak mountain goat, this show arriving in the city last evening and opened up at once. The parties putting this show on come from Dawson Alaska, and left that point on October 16th, last, enroute for New York City. They have eight dogs and four wolves and also a genuine novelty in the shape of a three horned mountain goat, also from the wilds of Alaska. The two men who are running the show are C. F. Moon and W. K. Gore and when they have completed the journey from Dawson to New York they expect to cross the ocean and show throughout Europe and complete a globe girlding tour.

The dogs which they have are genuine Alaskan animals and are trained to perfection. The wolves are a decided novelty in this part of the world being entirely different from those of this section. The animals are trained to give performances and the entire outfit furnishes a show which is attractive and worth seeing. In addition to the exhibition there has been given a lecture on Alaska by C. F. Moon who lived in that country from 1896 up to this last fall and who is fully informed upon its features and its good and bad qualities. He is a good speaker and worthy of being heard. They have circulated small bills over the city which set forth in detail the facts of their trip, hence further explanation is unnecessary. The show seems a good one and worthy of patronage.

The Nero show last night drew a good crowd and the tent was kept pretty well filled up. The big snake performed his part of the contract to make the show a success as he shed his skin for the delectation of those who never saw a freak of the kind before. He did this without much trouble and it was a most interesting process to see the reptile twist and turn himself about in an effort to part with the old skin. When he had done this he shone resplendent in a brand new skin which glistens and shines like it was new. The snake is a magnificent specimen of its kind and is a sight worth seeing. It does not seem to mind the presence of the young woman in the pit with it and permitted her to handle it as if it were a puppy. Tonight it is the intention to feed the snake if the rabbits upon which it is fed can be procured. There was to have been done last night but the manager of the show was unable to get the rabbits, those owning them refusing to part with them at any price. This is a very interesting unusual process and the public will be well repaid to see it.

There was a larger crowd on the street last evening than heretofore and it was far more orderly. The determination of Chief of Police Rainey to step the rough work which had been going on with whips bore fruit and his prohibition of the use of those articles worked a long ways toward making the evening pleasant. This order is on to be enforced and tonight the whip will have to be cut out. Too rough work will not be tolerated by the police and arrests will follow if it is persisted in. Confetti can be thrown tonight according to the authorities but flour and gritty substances must not be thrown at all. The Haymakers will run a stand for the sale of confetti and the public is asked to patronize it as it is the official stand.

The Ferris wheel last evening did a nice business and the big machine was kept on the move from early evening until late in the night. The merry-go-round also did a nice business as did the Dixie Land Minstrels.

Entertained at Bridge.

Misses Florence, Ione and Helen Dovey very informally entertained a number of their young lady friends yesterday afternoon at a bridge party in honor of Miss Stella Blakie of Racine, Wis., who is visiting at the Dovey home. The principal amusement was derived from the card games, there being several games played and each entered into with the usual interest and enthusiasm. Social conversation, music and the like also furnished plenty of amusement and occasioned a most delightful time. In the card contest Miss Lillian Cole carried off the prize. Prior to the close of this charming entertainment a dainty luncheon was served.

W. H. Puls and family from the Maple Grove neighborhood, are in the city today visiting friends and transacting business while Billy is putting in some time at the Democratic convention.
