He had made himself well known among railroad men there and had no trouble in securing another place when he concluded to return. Will Institute New Order.

J. J. Cassidy for several years yardmaster in the local Burlington yards and a well known and popular employee of that corporation, spent today in the city looking over the field with a view to instituting a lodge of the Woodmen Circle, the woman's auxiliary of the Woodmen of the World. Mr. Cassidy, the first of the year, stepped down and out of his position at Lincoln with the Burlington owing to illness, he being a sufferer from rheumatism and nervous trouble, and has since devoted his attention to working up insurance business in connection with the Woodmen Circle. He looked the city over and came to the conclusion that this was a good place for a lodge consequently he intends to have a deputy come down shortly and start the organization. Jack is well known here and he met many old friends who were glad to see him after his long absence and glad to note that he is looking so well. He does not seem to have grown any older and in fact, looks to be really younger if anything. He expects to return in a few days when further steps will be taken to institute the lodge.

The Stork's Visit.

Everybody down town this afternoon noticed the wild and reckless abandon with which Colonel Henry C. McMaken drove about the streets and everyone remarked upon the spirit of youthfulness which had so suddenly come upon him but few divined the cause. He was taken to task by a reporter who wanted to know what had happened so suddenly restore the germ of youth to his old friend. The colonel replied without batting an eye that he had a right to act up and the cause of it was the arrival at the home of C. W. Baylor of a brand new son. This opened the eyes of the reporter and when he heard people telling of the generous loads of coal which they had received this day the cause was more apparent. Grandpa McMaken feels mighty fine over the advent of the young man and Papa Baylor is not one bit behind grandpa. Mrs. Baylor and the boy are getting along fine and she thinks him the best boy ever.

Goes Back to Hospital.

R. J. South who was so badly injured some time since on the M. P. by the wreck of a hand car upon which he was riding, has suffered a relapse after getting well along on the road to recovery and had to be again taken to a hospital in Omaha last evening. He was very severely hurt at the time of the accident when he was caught under the car and dragged a good ways, a number of bones being broken and he being otherwise incapacitated for work. During the time he was in the hospital at Omaha he became much better and little doubt was entertained of his recovery. Yesterday his condition took a sudden turn for the worse and it was thought best to hurry him back to the hospital for further treatment. It is hoped by his numerous friends here that the trip will be beneficial and that he can again come home and this time as a well man.

The City of Chicago.

Through the courtesy of the Burlington railroad, the Journal has received a copy of a work of considerable importance issued by the Civic Industrial Committee of the Chicago Association of commerce. The work is entitled "Chicago." The work is a collation of facts regarding the city of Chicago and covers its location and growth, climate and health, its facilities as a central market, its transportation facilities, its supply of raw material, its labor supply, its wage earners and their wages, its business conditions, its internal transportation, its location as a city of homes, its moral and educational utilities, its economical living and lastly, the plan for a new city. The work is one of great interest and well worth examination. The Journal appreciates the work and returns its thanks for the same.

Representing Five Generations.

A photograph representing five generations of one family was recently taken by V. V. Leonard and he states it is the first of the kind he has ever taken during the long period of his work. The parties who represent these generations are S. S. Russell, living east of the river and a well known citizen of Mills county, Iowa; Mrs. C. W. Barker, his daughter of Pacific Junction; Mrs. J. R. Lee of this county, her daughter; Mrs. Charles Hraskey of this city and her baby Charles, Jr. The photograph is an excellent one and will be reproduced later through the columns of the Journal together with a brief sketch of this interesting family.

RACES AT NEBRASKA CITY

A Big Time This Week, and Many Excellent Race on Hand.

Yesterday the Journal made a short allusion to the Nebraska City races which are to take place in that enterprising city this week opening today. These races promise to be as good as ever held in Nebraska and the lover of good horse flesh will find it to his interest to attend. The fact that $6,100 in cash prizes are hung up is sufficient to indicate the character of the racing which can be looked for. In addition to the races the management have arranged for a treat for base ball lovers in the shape of a game between Mink league teams every day. Nebraska City today plays Falls City and tomorrow with the same team. On Thursday and Friday Nebraska City plays Clarinda and the four games ought to be fast ones as these three teams are playing great ball now. There will be fine music and plenty of it as an added attraction for music lovers. Bus fare from the city to the park is but 15 cents and admission to the park is fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for children with an addition twenty-five cents charge to grandstand and quarter stretch. Autos, teams and vehicles are admitted without extra charge.

Today's program includes the 2:25 trot with sixteen entries, the three-year-old trot with seven entries, the 2:12 pace with nine entries and a five-eighth mile running race, and Mystery, the guileless wonder against time. On Wednesday the program includes the 2:20 pace with twenty entries, the 2:15 trot with ten entries, the 2:30 pace with twenty-five entries, a one mile running race and Major L. et guileless wonder against time. Thursday's entries are the 2:15 pace with seventeen entries, the three-year-old pace with ten entries, the 2:22 trot with thirteen entries, a three-quarter mile running race and a great match race between the Mystery and Major L. guileless wonders. The closing day, Friday; has the 2:30 trot with twenty-two entries, the 2:18 trot with nine entries, a half mile running race and a three-quarter mile running race. All told this program ought to draw the crowds and there should be something doing all the time.

Father Hahn Resigns.

Father John Hahn, pastor of the St. Mary's Catholic church yesterday tendered his resignation and will leave next month for Orleans, Neb., where he was in charge prior to his coming here. He will be succeeded by a priest from Ohio. Father Hahn will preach his farewell sermon on August 7th. During his stay in this city he has made many warm friends who will regret to see him take his departure. He has labored hard for the upbuilding of the church and how well he has succeeded the church speaks for itself, being in a better condition than for years.—Nebraska City News.

Father Hahn is well known in this city and has many friends here who will learn of his departure from Nebraska City with the deepest regret.

To Visit Old Friends.

Fred Moldenhauer and wife of Peoria, Ill., came in this morning to make an extended visit with the Meisinger boys, who are brothers to Mrs. Moldenhauer. These estimable people formerly lived in this city where Mr. Moldenhauer was employed in the Burlington shops and they are quite well and favorably known. Mr. Moldenhauer worked for the Burlington for some twelve years and during that time proved himself a worthy and reliable worker. Their many good friends here will be glad to note their return for a visit and will try and entertain them in the best manner.

Painting the Rectory.

The work of painting the Episcopal rectory is being started now and within a short time it will have been completed. This will be quite an improvement and Canon Burgess will find his new home a very handsome and attractive place when it is finished. Andrew Campbell has taken the contract for the work as he intends to enter the field as a contracting painter. Mr. Campbell is an excellent workman and will give the best of satisfaction to the public. His work on the rectory can be depended upon to establish him as one of the best in the city.

THE HOME OF SATISFACTION

AUTHORITIES CAPTURE JOHN JONES

Poissall the Only One of the Men Still at Large

Sheriff Quinton last evening added another one to those who have been wanted for the trouble in an uptown saloon last Saturday night when he took John Jones into custody, Jones being taken at the grading camp of George Poissall near Cedar Creek. He made no resistance but came back to the city peaceably and was installed in a cell at the county jail for safe keeping. He is suffering from a bullet wound in the leg which he received at the time of the fracas.

When asked by Deputy Manspeaker why he was limping about, Jones replied that a horse had kicked him. That was last night but this morning he was anxious to have the deputy summon a surgeon to look after his injury. Manspeaker told him he had never had to have a surgeon for a horse's kick but his humor did not appeal to Jones for a minute. It is learned that Jones had the bullet removed from his leg by a surgeon in Omaha shortly after leaving here on Saturday.

Jones, Herold and Egan were all arraigned this morning in county court before Judge Beeson, C. H. Taylor appearing for the state in the absence of County Attorney Ramsey, and the complaint read to them.

There are three counts in the complaint including one charging drunkenness, one assault and another resisting and abusing an officer. The boys all entered a plea of guilty to the first count that of drunkenness and plead not guilty to the other two charges. Jones seemed in doubt as to whether to plead guilty or not but he finally made up his mind to plead not guilty. He stated that he didn't know whether he was guilty or not as about all he remembered was being knocked into a corner and getting the bullet wound in the leg.

Judge Beeson made the usual inquiries as to whether the boys were ready for trial and found they had no attorney and that the case could not be taken up until at least tomorrow. He therefore remanded them to jail until tomorrow (Thursday) morning at 10 o'clock and fixed the bond for the appearance of the boys at $300 each. They returned to jail in company with Deputy Manspeaker.

The only one of the quartette not now in the hands of the officers is Harry Poissall and the officers are confident that he will be taken before a very great while. A close lookout is being kept for him and his appearance will be the signal for his being put under arrest.

It is apparent that the boys are now commencing to realize the serious situation into which they have gotten themselves and that they stand an excellent chance of being severely punished for their foolishness. The determination of the officers to uphold the law means that there will be no let up in the prosecution and that a severe penalty will be asked for.

Hearing Divorce Case.

In district court today Judge Travis is hearing the divorce case of Nello Brittain against Walter Brittain and the case is being a hard fought one. There is quite a bit of acrimony displayed between the parties and the case is warmly contested. The case was brought by Mrs. Brittain who asked the custody of the two children of the union, Oda Doris, aged 3 years and Alta Pearl, aged 1 year. The ground on which the divorce was sought was non-support, the petition setting forth that the defendant was an employe of the Burlington road and earned sufficient money to take care of the plaintiff and the children but that he refused to do so. The defendant through his counsel, Judge Archer filed an answer in which he made counter-allegations denying that the plaintiff was a woman of loose habits but asserting that she associated with bad company and persons of ill-repute. The defendant also alleged that the plaintiff had been guilty of extreme cruelty to the defendant in that she had struck him at times and abused him and that she was a person of vicious temper and vulgar habits. The defendant also asked the custody of the minor children of the pair and alleged the mother was not a fit person to have their care and custody. The hearing of the case took up the morning and a good part of the afternoon, there being a great many witnesses present for both sides. This was the only matter which Judge Travis passed upon today.

Will Remain a Candidate.

Herman Dettman of Elmwood came in last evening and was an over night visitor in the city. It is understood that Mr. Dettman will remain upon the primary ballot as a candidate for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in the Third district, despite the efforts of the party bosses to force him off and that he intends to make a hard fight for the nomination. Mr. Dettman is a well known Republican of his section and a man who has many friends and doubtless he will receive a surprisingly large vote at the primary election. He is conceded to be a strong man but the faction of the Republicans who controlled the county convention would have none of him.

While here Mr. Dettman paid the Journal office a very pleasant call and in answer to a question, stated he intended to remain in the race for commissioner until the votes are counted. He believes that he has enough good friends in the Republican party to stand by him and secure his nomination and election regardless of the wishes of the bosses. Mr. Dettman is a man with broad views and if a Republican must be elected he is the one for the place.
