The Resistant Power.

We all have a certain power which enables us to resist diseases; without this resistant power we would be easy prey for infectious diseases. Millions of minute germs are constantly fighting for supremacy in the human body. As long as the resistant power is normal, the body is healthy, but with the decline of it comes the victory of the disease-forming germs. The first sign of a decline of the resistant power is loss of appetite, followed by loss of bodily strength. Take at once Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine which will quickly restore your appetite, give you new vigor, remove all waste matter and help to build new blood. It should also be used by anemic ladies and debilitated people. In diseases of the stomach and the intestines it has no superior. At drug stores. Jos. Triner, 123-1339 So. Ashland ave., Chicago, Ill.
