Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause a break down. You can't over tax a stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. ## MISS EVA PORTER WINS THE LITTLE RED AUTO

The News automobile contest has closed, the votes being counted last Saturday and the announcement is made that Miss Eva Porter wins the auto. This seems to be all there is to it. No statement is given out as to the number of votes she received or what majority she received over the other contestants. The judges simply say she wins and that is all. The News says as a money maker the contest was a failure, as they knew in the start but as a subscription getter it proved a grand success. Now, how can such a state of affairs be true. If they get the subscribers they certainly should get the money. In another column they claim double the circulation of any other paper in Cass county since the close of the contest, still as a money getter the contest proved a failure. For years the Journal has claimed the largest circulation of any paper in Cass county and we have never given away any pianos or automobiles either, and we still claim it today. We claim a larger circulation and are ready to place our list in the hands of competent and reliable judges any old time to prove our claim. The Journal is today reaching more people than any paper ever published in Cass county.

DAKOTA MAN SEARCHING FOR HIS RUNAWAY WIFE

J. J. Babcock of Elk Point, South Dakota, was in the city yesterday morning searching for his runaway wife. According to his statement she was in the city, having come to this city from Modale, Iowa. His story was that he had allowed his wife to go on a visit to her grandmother at Modale, and that a Plattsmouth citizen had gone there and persuaded the young woman to desert him and come to Plattsmouth to live. Babcock stated that if she consented to go back with him without trouble, he would not say much about it, but on the other hand, should she refuse to go home, then he would try the virtue of the law. It is supposed that his persuasive power prevailed, as we have heard nothing to the contrary.

NOT MUCH DOING IN PLATTSMOUOH LABOR DAY

Labor day passed off very quietly in Plattsmouth. Save the ball game nothing unusual occurred. In the afternoon most of the business houses were closed. In fact, it was very quiet for Labor day. Heretofore, with exception of last year the day has been appropriately celebrated, and the day for weeks previously looked forward with much interest. But somehow or other the day seems to have lost all interest to those who should make it a day for celebrating appropriately. The business men also assisted in making the day one which drew larger crowds to town than any other event during the year. Let us not see another Labor day pass without celebrating the event in a way that it should be celebrated.
