

If you find any substance in your baking injurious to health made from baking powder in this can there is—

Calumet has been backed for years by an offer of $1,000 for any substance injurious to health found in the baking prepared with it.

Does not this and the fact that it complies with all pure food laws, both State and National, prove that Calumet is absolutely pure?

With the purity question settled—then Calumet is undoubtedly the best baking powder. It contains more leavening power; it is more uniform—every can is the same. It assures better results—and is moderate in price.

NORTHERN EMIGRATION TO TEXAS

Homeseeker's Excursions of Daily Occurrence and Many People Buy Farms.

Yoakum, Texas, Sept. 17.
Editor Journal: When I recklessly contracted with you for a series of letters from this, the garden spot of America, I little votted of what I was doing. I have been so busy I couldn't get time to send these more or less interesting epistles, principally less. But no matter how busy, I always found time to read the Journal and note the occurrences, grave and gay, which have taken place in old Cass county since my departure.

And in the second class of these happenings I have read with horror of the terrible death of Mrs. Shera, at Rock Bluffs. I cannot conceive what manner of creature it was who could have committed this crime. In her lifetime I knew Mrs. Shera quite well, and seldom have I met with so pleasant and amiable a woman. She had reached that age when all who knew her cherished and loved her, so that her terrible taking away must have come to her friends as a great shock. It is to be hoped that in time her death will be avenged and the guilty perpetrator of the horror be brought to justice.

In another field, we have read of the triumph of Mayor Dahlgren, of Omaha, in the gubernatorial race, and this reached me most pleasantly. Mayor Dahlgren deserved to win just as he deserves victory in the election. He is a man whom the people can trust, and he will not betray their confidence. He believes in calling a spade a spade, and he has about him no trait of hypocrisy. Those who admire a real man should vote for "Jim" Dahlgren, for that is what he is—every inch.

By a curious coincidence Yoakum is situated in Dewitt county, Texas, partly in the county where the Dahlgren family many years ago and where they are known quite well. People here who remember the Democratic candidate, tell me he was in early life just as he is today—clean, honest and clear spoken. A man among men. They hope for his election by a large majority.

Politics down here is rather quiescent at present. The legislature adjourned a short time ago, after one regular and three special sessions, one of which was devoted principally to the liquor question in which prohibition was defeated, or maybe postponed. Next year Texas votes on state-wide prohibition, and it will be a great fight with the outcome in doubt, although I believe prohibition will be defeated handsily. O. B. Colquett who was named by the democrats for governor at the primaries in July, is an anti-prohibitionist, but this was only one factor in his nomination. The principal cause seems to me to have been the railroads and corporations. He ran on a "peace and rest" platform, which is construed to me, no legislation attacking railroads, corporations or the liquor interests, and he had close to 70,000 plurality over his nearest antagonist. Texas politics are peculiar and strange bedfellows are to be found among the Democratic factions.

Texasans are looking forward expectantly to the coming fall and winter. They look for a great influx of northern people here and the season does start in bravely. Last Tuesday was "Homeseekers" excursion day, and the Texas roads certainly had no grievance on their business. On Thursday six excursion trains came into San Antonio, five of which scattered to Texas points, while the sixth crossed the line into Mexico. Of the five several invaded the Laredo-Cotulla district where some Plattsmouth people now have land. Others went on down toward Houston and along the line of the Brownsville and Mexico. All this country has filled up wonderfully in the past few years and there is no prospect of a letup. Land has advanced by leaps and bounds and prices compared with a few years ago are scandalously high. But the income seems to pay dividends on the investment. The stories of fortunes made in onions are not exaggerated in the least, and even at the high price of land many have cleared their entire purchase price in a single year. And the most productive of the lands are those adjoining where Plattsmouth people have invested.

New is the season when the onions are being planted and the crop being gotten in the ground. These onions will enter the market in January, February, March and April of next year, the planters this year deciding to extend their season instead of concentrating in two months as heretofore. They expect to ship about 1,150,000 crates of Bermudas the coming season, which is some onions.

But aside from the practical side of this question there is another. San Antonio has long been known as one of the most delightful of winter resorts where roses bloom the winter through. And this year it promises more than ever. The city will present many more roses than ever before and the winter will be made more attractive for the visitor from the boreal north than ever before. This is a matter of public spirit with San Antonio, which prides itself on its climate, and which is making a bold bid for the northern visitor. And it is a city worth visiting. It has show places galore and it impresses its visitors mightily. Its great International fair takes place in November and this will be an occasion worth while, as it is made a great event by the live wires of that live city.

Now, I think I have taken far more space than my aimless, ambling pen is worth but when one gets to writing about Texas the end never comes for it is big, literally and figuratively.

THE LOG ROLLING AT, WEEPING WATER A BIG SUCCESS

Owing to the crowded condition of the calander, the base ball tournament, Cherokee Indians and other attractions, it was impossible for the M. W. A. membership at this point to send a delegation to the annual log rolling which was held in Weeping Water last Saturday. Nevertheless, the picnic was a great success and was largely attended by Woodmen throughout the county. Prominent Woodmen were present and spoke on woodcraft, among them being J. M. Leidy of Omaha, and Mrs. Kate Remington who spoke to the circle. Prizes were offered to the smallest, largest and the oldest Woodman. Wilson Gilmore of Mt. Pleasant precinct won easily as the biggest Woodman in the county, tipping the beam at 305 pounds, and Mr. Gilmore is not fleshy but well proportioned. Ed. Shepherdson got first money as the smallest Woodman present. George LaRue of Union was the oldest Woodman present. There were games and races, which amused the crowd. Three ball teams contended for purses, Weeping Water winning from Elmwood, and Elmwood from Avoca. The purse was $30.

New Boiler Going In.

The big new boiler for the light plant arrived last night and is being placed in position today. Joe McMaken with a team and force of men are doing the work. With this improvement the Plattsmouth Light company will be ready to furnish light and power to all consumers, and the usual high grade of service will be maintained.

A FINE SHOWING FOR ASSOCIATION

Plattsmouth Base Ball Tournament Pays Nearly Fifty Per Cent to Stockholders.

From Tuesday's Daily

The executive committee of the association met last evening and checked up the receipts and disbursements, and submit the following report:

Sam Archer, labor	14.25
J. McMaken, labor	3.00
Sundries	4.38
Total	$535.13

Leaving a balance of $238.62 to be distributed to the ninety-seven stockholders of the association, making the sum of $2.46 each, which will be paid to the stockholders on surrender of their cards to Mr. H. N. Dovey at the First National bank.

The foregoing report speaks for itself, and too much praise cannot be given the men who had the enterprise in charge. This is the first time in twenty-five years that the public has had an opportunity to see a real live series of ball games, and the public spirit of the gentlemen who took hold of the stock is to be commended.

For the first experience the above is indeed very satisfactory, as the stock has been made to pay back over fifty per cent of the outlay. Should the matter be undertaken another year, with the experience of this tournament there is no doubt the enterprise would pay back dollar for dollar.

CASS COUNTY JAIL IN A TERRIBLE CONDITION

Every recurring rain storm emphasizes the need of a building in which to keep Cass county's criminals. Mr. E. Manspeaker and family who reside in the rooms above the cages and cells of the building called the jail of the county, and the rooms are large enough to be comfortable, and would be if the roof was in shape to turn the water on the outside, instead of as it does, on the inside.

The last heavy rain seemed to go entirely through the east wall of the upper story, and the mold which accumulated on the sides of the walls and behind pictures during a week Mrs. Manspeaker was absent, produced an odor that was anything but agreeable to the smell. The paper on the walls became so thoroughly soaked that in places it is falling from the ceiling, and the rooms are almost uninhabitable. With proper repairs on the roof and with the expenditure of a small amount of money the matter could probably be put in passable condition. Something ought to be done with the whole structure and a new building erected in its stead, as it is a reproach to Cass county's civilization that men should be required to occupy such a den, no roof, no floor and hardly any side walls.

M. W. A. Orchestra Kept Busy.

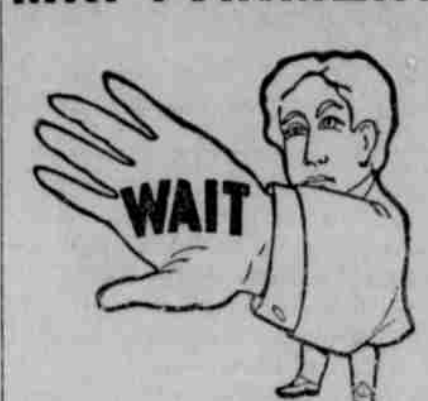

The M. W. A. orchestra has been kept busy of late with engagements. Last Thursday evening this musical aggregation played for the base ball hop at Coates' hall, Friday evening at Louisville and again Saturday evening for the Jolly Six dance at Coates hall. All of these dances brought out a large attendance and were a success in each instance, both socially and financially.

MANY DISLIKE PRIMARY LAW

State Officials Very Free in Expressions About the Act.

A special from Lincoln under date of September 18, says: "Nearly everyone around the state house is talking about the state wide primary law under which the present candidates for offices were nominated, and so far there is not a state officer who has one word of commendation for the present measure.

"Attorney General Thompson referred to it yesterday as a 'monstrosity,' while Governor Shallenberger has repeatedly condemned it, saying on one occasion that he should have recommended that it be repealed by the late Democratic legislature which was responsible for it in its present form.

"Other state officers, including those who were nominated under it, have expressed themselves as have the two officers mentioned. Some insist that the law should be repealed in its entirety, while others believe that the return to the old convention system should be by degrees and very gradual.

"Secretary of State Junkin is of the opinion that the legislature should amend the law so that it does not apply to candidates for state offices, but that delegates to a nominating convention may be selected at a primary and that other than candidates for state office be nominated as at present. It is his opinion that the legislature will not consent to repeal the law in its entirety, but that it will take the first steps which are to finally result in doing away with it.

"State officers realize that it will be a hard matter to repeal the law for the reason that those who have been nominated under its provisions and elected to the legislature have no very great protest to make at its operation. But on the other hand there will be many members of the legislature who spent sleepless nights worrying over a nomination due to the wiping out of party lines in the late election, who otherwise would have had little cause to worry. These will insist on a change."

County Judge's Office Robbed.

From Tuesday's Daily
At the noon hour while the deputy was at lunch, the county judge's office was entered and robbed of a fountain pen, a bunch of stamped envelopes, a whet stone, a pair of scissors and a fine tooth comb.

The thief was apprehended at J. C. York's barber shop with the property on his person. Chief Rainey happened to be in the barber shop when the man came in and offered to sell the scissors and some of the other property. Chief Rainey questioned the man and then searched him finding the envelopes with Judge Beeson's name on them, one of the envelopes was addressed with a business communication in it, going to some party at Louisville.

The culprit was taken to jail and locked up. Miss Beeson had no key for the door and while she was at dinner, she closed the outside door but did not lock it, hence the thief had not much difficulty in making the haul.

Returns From Europe.

Hon. Matthew Gering returned from abroad yesterday, looking in fine trim for the coming winter's work. Mr. Gering spent some time in London and attended the famous Dr. Crippen trial. While on the continent he met the famous Russian Sage Tolstol, also interviewed the Pope and his secretary, Merry Del Val. Mr. Gering has promised in the near future to give the Journal an account of his trip, which will be of much interest to its readers.

ATTEND THE COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Wednesday and Thursday, September 28th and 29th are the dates; Greenwood is the place, and improved methods is the theme of the coming county Sunday school convention. This is the age of improvement. The man or the institution that does not advance soon finds himself far in the rear. The automobile and the airship have arrived and other things must keep pace. The Sunday school that tries to "do business" on the old plan of 50 or even 25 years ago will soon go out of business. The youth that attend the Sunday school of today is accustomed to faster motions—to modern ways of living and he must have modern Sunday school methods to attract interest and hold him. There are a great many schools in Cass county that are awakened to this fact. Those schools are reaching out for anything that will increase their efficiency; those schools will be represented at the Greenwood convention next week. Is your school among this number? The program promises a feast of inspiration and help for every worker that attends. Dr. Hamill of Chattanooga, Tenn., who is the principal speaker, is acknowledged to be one of the strongest Sunday school instructors in the United States. Do not fail to hear him. Remember the dates, September 28th and 29th. The program can be had of the secretary, Edith Chize, Weeping Water. Entertainment provided all delegates free. Send names to Mrs. Arthur Stevenson, Greenwood, Neb.

Sheldon of Nehawka with his wife and daughter, Miss Isadore, motored to Plattsmouth this morning in Mr. Sheldon's forty horse power car, and Mrs. Sheldon and daughter departed for Knoxville, Illinois, where Miss Sheldon will enter St. Mary's Girls' seminary. Mrs. Sheldon accompanied her daughter and will remain with her until she has procured rooms.
