

BE SURE TO GET
Wescott Quality

when you buy clothes. The people of this community know what Wescott Quality is. 30 years of a "good clothes and nothing else policy" has established our reputation for quality. No other clothes are so sure to be dependable. You can buy them with your eyes shut or with them open and you are sure to get good clothes and good clothes are what you want. Our label in a suit of clothes or overcoat is a guarantee of its worth and quality. Our Quality Line—our best clothes $20 to $35. Other good ones $5 to $18. Our mirror and our clothes await your coming.

C. E. Wescott's Sons

THE HOME OF SATISFACTION

Friday, Saturday and Monday we will sell Boy's Shirts again for 25c. CASH ONLY!

Short Locals

From Saturday's Daily.

Miss Lillian Bookmeyer arrived from Omaha this morning and will visit relatives for a few days.

Mrs. Theodore Helm of Louisville was a Plattsmouth visitor today looking after some items of business.

Mrs. H. J. Schlutz returned from Cedar Creek this morning, having visited friends in that vicinity for several days.

W. L. Cook of Verdon, Neb., spent a few hours with Plattsmouth friends today en route to Hastings, Ia., on business.

Ray Smith who has been visiting friends in this city for a few days went to Pacific Junction on the early morning train.

Mr. J. L. Watson, telegraph operator, formerly of Richmond, Va., arrived this morning to take the place vacated by Mr. Howter a week ago.

Mrs. R. J. Dalton and sons, Lester and Carl, spent the day in the metropolis, going to that city on the early train.

Fred Dawson arrived last evening from Lincoln and will spend Sunday which his parents, returning to the university Monday.

Mrs. A. C. Smith departed for Carsons, Iowa, on the morning train today where she will visit a brother and sister for two weeks.

Miss Frances Kanka and Mrs. A. J. Kanka were passengers to the metropolis on the morning train today where they will spend the day.

Mr. Cline of Cedar Creek visited the county seat today, having come down on business.

Tom Ferguson departed for Lincoln on the morning train today to look after some business.

Miss Angie McCarroll was a passenger to Union this morning where she will spend Sunday with her parents.

Mrs. Matt Sulser was an Omaha passenger on the morning train today where she looked after some shopping.

Mrs. E. M. Pribble returned from Louisville this morning where she had visited Mr. Pribble's parents for a few days.

Adam Fornoff of near Cedar Creek transacted business in Plattsmouth today, having run down on No. 4 for that purpose.

John Hennings of near Louisville boarded No. 4 at Cedar Creek this morning, and spent the day with his Plattsmouth friends.

William Fablesen and wife and son, Axel, departed for Lincoln this morning where they will visit with friends for a few days.

Mrs. J. J. Emmers and daughter, Marion, of Slous City, Ia., arrived last evening and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Jackson and wife for a time.

Mrs. A. F. Seybert of Cullom was a Plattsmouth visitor today, having come down on No. 4 this morning to look after some business and visit with friends.

Henry Guthman and wife and H. R. Neitzel and wife arrived this morning from Murdock and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guthman over Sunday.

Mrs. O. G. Hale went to Pacific Junction this morning, accompanied by her son, Marvel, where they met Mrs. Hale's cousin, C. W. Kilburn who is a blind musician. Mr. Milburn will visit friends in Plattsmouth for a time.

Earl Barclay running out of Lincoln for the Burlington, arrived last evening to pay his parents, William Barclay and wife, a short visit.

Miss Lottie Julian returned to her home at Omaha on the morning train today, having been the guest of the Ed. Martin home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Austin were Omaha passengers on the morning train today where they looked after some business matters between trains.

Mrs. John Weyrich and daughters, Alice and Miss Clara, went to Omaha on the morning train today where they will visit friends over Sunday.

B. Smith of Henderson, Ia., arrived this morning to visit A. Smith for a few days.

W. H. Mann spent the day in the metropolis looking after some business affairs.

Charles Sitzman and wife came down from Cedar Creek on the morning train today.

James Jones visited his sister, Miss Hallie, at the hospital today, going up on No. 15 for that purpose.

Miss Crete Briggs went to Omaha on the morning train today where she called on friends between trains.

Mrs. Sadie Ellers of San Francisco, Cal., arrived last evening to visit her sister, Mrs. Judge A. N. Sullivan, for a time.

Mrs. G. Rapp and daughter, Miss Ruth, are in the city the guests of Mrs. Rapp's nephew, Rev. V. H. Steger and family.

Mrs. Herrin and children, Ray, Beatrice and Bernice, went to Omaha on the morning train today where they spent the day.

John Stokes and wife and son, Prokop, were Omaha passengers on the morning train today where they visited friends for a time.

John Campbell and Mr. Frank Campbell of near Murray were in the city this morning transacting business with Plattsmouth merchants.

Blanche Robertson, teacher in the South Omaha schools, came down last evening to spend Sunday with her parents, James M. Robertson and wife.

Mrs. John Lutz and son, Henry, accompanied by Mrs. Lutz's mother, Grandma Prettig, went to Omaha today to meet a relative coming from Oklahoma to pay them a visit.

John Janda of Lawrence, Neb., who has been looking after some business affairs in Plattsmouth for the past few days and visiting relatives, departed for his home this morning.

J. A. Libershall made a trip to Omaha on the morning train today from which city he may conclude to go on to Lawrence to visit friends and look after some business matters.

The mere announcement that the William Grew company will be at the Parmele Monday night should insure an overflow attendance. They are very popular in Plattsmouth, and open with "Out on a Lark."

Mr. and Mrs. John Brady departed for a trip to Missouri and Iowa this morning where they will visit their daughters. They will make a stop at Watson and Norborn, Mo., and Clarinda and Greenfield, Ia., and expect to be away about two weeks.

Mrs. J. W. Black visited her daughter in Omaha today, going on the early train. Mrs. Black also expected to call on Miss Hallie Jones at St. Joseph's hospital. Mrs. James McKinnle accompanied Mrs. Black to Omaha where she spent the day with Miss Jones.

W. F. Gillespie, the Mynard grain dealer was calling on his Plattsmouth friends today.

Master Charles Gradoville was an Omaha passenger on the afternoon train today.

A. Peistrup was called to Omaha on business this afternoon, going on the fast fall.

Miss Frances Likewise spent the afternoon in Omaha visiting friends between trains.

Mrs. Henry Tartsch and her sister, Miss Ballance, visited friends in the metropolis this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Don York went to Omaha on the afternoon train to look after some items of business.

Michael Martin departed for Valparaiso this afternoon where he will visit relatives for a short time.

Oscar Nelson who has been working with the local Burlington gang here was transferred to W. Savagreen's gang at Child's Point, this morning.

Miss Ethel Ballance who is teaching in the South Omaha schools, arrived last evening to spend Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ballance.

Miss Florence Hewett who has been visiting Joseph McMaken and family for two months, departed for Tulsa, Oklahoma, last evening on No. 2, the home of her parents.

Charles Matous and wife and children arrived last night to visit with friends, and incidentally, Mr. Matous will look after some important business matters today.

Chris E. Metzger was in the city today shaking hands with his many friends and looking after his fences. Chris is making friends every day, and growing in popularity as the election approaches.

Mrs. Bertha Todd and Mrs. J. McCaber departed for Shenandoah, Ia., this morning where they will visit relatives for a short time. They were accompanied by Mrs. Todd's brother, Clyde Adamson.

Ex-County Clerk W. E. Rosencrans went to his home last evening suffering from an attack of appendicitis. Dr. E. W. Cook was called to relieve the patient's suffering, and hopes to pull him through without an operation.

Just received a fine assortment of Lowney's candy, fresh and delicious. Can supply your wants either in bulk or in handsome packages in convenient sizes. We are Lowney agents. Ewd Rynott & Co., successors to Gering & Co.

W. H. Hell of Eight Mile Grove precinct was a Plattsmouth visitor today, and made the Journal office a pleasant call.

Mrs. Sarah Campbell and Mrs. Peter Clarence of Union were transacting business at the court house today.

George Berger of Eight Mile Grove and family were Plattsmouth visitors today, transacting business with the storekeepers.

Mrs. Maxon who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer McKay, was a passenger to the metropolis this afternoon.

Miss Beth Jackson who has been visiting relatives in Plattsmouth since Tuesday, returned to her home at Omaha this afternoon.

W. G. Meisinger and his brothers, P. M. and L. A., drove in from their farms this morning and did their week end shopping today.

Mrs. Bulger and son, Cecll, of Omaha arrived last evening and will visit Mrs. Bulger's parents, V. V. Leonard and wife for a short time.

John Gauer of Cedar Creek called on his Plattsmouth friends today and attended to some items of business.

Mr. A. McDaniel who has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. E. Tucey for a few days, departed for his home in Washington, this afternoon.

Robert Patterson, Walter Byers and Ed. Wilcox, of near Rock Bluffs, were Plattsmouth visitors today, dealing with Plattsmouth merchants.

Register of Deeds A. J. Snyder, wife and son, departed this afternoon for Ulyssis, Neb., to visit John Gilmour and family for a few days.

William Wehrlein was an Omaha passenger this afternoon on business.

J. J. Toman was an Omaha visitor this afternoon on important business.

Foreman of the paint shops, Geo. Lushinsky and wife, were Omaha passengers on the afternoon train today where they looked after some shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wescott who have been absent on the Pacific coast since June, are expected home next week. Mr. and Mrs. Wescott have spent most of their vacation at Long Beach, Cal.

The beautiful velvet quilt made and donated by Mrs. Nicholas Halmes to St. John's Catholic church was raffled off this week, and the lucky number (120) was held by Mrs. Will Meisinger, who is very proud of this excellent piece of work.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Halmes were in the city doing their usual Saturday shopping. Mrs. Halmes who is one of the Journal's staunch friends, brought us another handsome bouquet of flowers, for which she will accept our grateful thanks.

Grandpa Chriswiser.

Our esteemed friend, Bennett Chriswiser, is in receipt of a note from his son Ray, at Osmond, saying that the stork passed that way on the evening of the 22nd, leaving a fine eight pound boy who has taken up his residence with Ray and wife for twenty-one years. Congratulations, grandpa.

Stock and Grain Farm for Sale.

222 acres 1 1/2 miles east of Murray and 7 miles south of Plattsmouth. Good five room house with excellent stone cellar. Good $1,000 barn, and other out buildings. Three good, living springs, one right at the house, and everything comfortably situated. Will be sold for $110 per acre, one-half down, and balance to suit purchasers at 6 per cent. Call or address me at Murray, Neb.

F. M. Young.

FOR SALE—Pedigreed Duroc-Jersey male pigs.

V. E. Perry,
Mynard, Neb.

DUNLINGTON ARRESTS MEN

Trio Accused of Robbing Postoffices Charged With Robbery of Cars.

Beatrice, Neb., Sept. 24.—James Black, James Wilson and John Smith were arrested at Wymore by Burlington Detective John Schmitt on the charge of robbing Burlington boxcars at Lincoln and were taken to that place.

The three men were recently arrested on the charge of robbing a number of postoffices in Kansas and taken before the federal authorities at Leavenworth. The government failed to make a case against them and they were discharged. They have been making their headquarters at Wymore for some time.

Early Landholding.

Nothing is clearer than the fact that the system of landholding in the most ancient races was communal. Private right in land was for a long time unknown, the source of life being held in common between the members of the tribe. Not only land, but all property that in any way had to do with the general welfare, was looked upon as belonging to the whole tribe in common, no individual having the right to call it his own. Gradually and after a very long time, under the old regime, the right of private ownership began to creep in until at last it became the recognized rule pretty nearly everywhere.—New York American.

Want to Get More Cars.

Des Moines, Sept. 24.—The state railway commission has been asked by the people of O'Brien county to aid in compelling the Milwaukee railroad to give better service for grain handling at the towns of Max and Don, on either side of Hartley. The dealers at these two small towns insist that they are grossly discriminated against, and the company refuses to furnish cars as freely as it does at Hartley, the rival trading point.

Diphtheria at Children's Home.

Des Moines, Sept. 24.—It is reported that three new cases of diphtheria have developed at the Iowa children's home, in addition to the one case City Physician Saylor, with his assistants, left police headquarters prepared to thoroughly fumigate the buildings at the home and introduce a quantity of antitoxin among the other inmates.

When you make one mistake don't make another by trying to lie out of it.

GOV. CARROLL WANTS VERDICT

Attorneys Move to Have Court Instruct Jury in His Favor.

CLAIM LETTER IS PRIVILEGED.

Attorneys for Carroll Claim No Malice Shown—State Resists Motion and Denies That Governor Had Privilege to Publish Charges—Should Have Gone to the Senate.

Des Moines, Sept. 24.—The defense came to its turn in the Carroll libel case when the state unexpectedly rested. The defense immediately moved to have the jury instructed to return a verdict for the defendant.

Attorney Parker gave the following six reasons why the verdict should be a directed one for the defense:

Insufficient evidence had been introduced to warrant a verdict of guilty.

That Carroll's article was justifiable in that it was published in reply to an attack by Cownie upon the character and official conduct of the governor and that the reply did not go beyond those charges.

That the article was published on a privileged occasion and that no evidence had been introduced to show malice on the governor's part.

That the article is not libelous, inasmuch as the governor did not assert that Cownie was guilty of the charges in the affidavit.

That the governor merely stated as his opinion that the facts as disclosed to him of the purchase of supplies without estimates constituted a violation of the law and that this statement cannot be made the basis of a libel.

That the facts as set out in the indictment do not under the law constitute a crime.

The greatest stress of the argument was in relation to the letter of the governor being privileged because it was a matter which was in line of his duty and because it was in response to an attack which Cownie had started.

The state introduced the testimony chiefly as to what the governor said to various persons about the case and to show that he was talking about it to many persons.

Argue Directed Verdict Motion.

Immediately upon the opening of court in the afternoon Judge Howe dismissed the jury until Monday morning, the afternoon being devoted to arguments by the attorneys for and against the motion for a directed verdict made by the defense.

Following this Judge Parker added another section to his motion for a directed verdict, in its substance being as follows:

That Governor Carroll charged John Cownie with violating the law in making awards without first securing estimates and that such a charge was true, Cownie admitting it on the stand.

Attorney Parsons then opened argument to the court in support of the claim that the statements he made were not libelous in themselves, and that the governor did not act maliciously.

Attorney Parker then opened argument on the contention that the indictment does not charge a crime, and that the evidence thus far does not prove that he committed a crime.

Read Defends Cownie.

Attorney W. L. Read made the first argument for the state. He took exception to the claim of counsel for the defense that Carroll was acting within his rights in conferring with persons about the Cownie charges.

"It was a matter Governor Carroll was required to tell the senate of this state, and not politicians and editors," asserted Read.

Continuing, Attorney Read questioned the claim of the defense that Cownie provoked the letter of Governor Carroll upon which he was indicted.

He asserted also that Carroll had no right to coerce Cownie into a resignation. He said that Carroll had the right to do no more than suspend Cownie. And in forcing Cownie to resign and in telling of the charges against Cownie, Attorney Read asserted that Carroll overstepped his authority and also provoked Cownie to tell his story.

Reopens Estate of Minister.

Des Moines, Sept. 24.—The supreme court listened to an extended argument for the reopening of the celebrated Daniel Francis case, involving an estate of $30,000 given to the Des Moines Methodist Episcopal conference to aid in maintaining a home for superannuated ministers. Some time ago the court decided that Rev. Mr. Francis was not duly influenced in the matter of making this gift. This decision, which reversed the decision of Judge McHenry of the district court deprived the aged and invalid widow of Mr. Francis of all the property which would otherwise have come to her, and her friends have insisted upon asking the court to rehear the case. The argument for reopening was made by A. A. McLaughlin.

Two Charged With Arson.

Mitchell, S. D., Sept. 24.—Through the efforts of F. A. Craft, state fire marshal, N. P. Pittsenbarger and his sister, Mrs. M. F. Stunkard of Plain dreau, were bound over to the circuit court in the sum of $7,000 for the mar and $3,000 for the woman on the charge of burning a wheat granary.

ONLY ONE OF HIS KIND.

The Reason the Judge Refused to Hang on to the Horse.

During the second Cleveland campaign Colonel John D. Irish, the golden tongued orator, and Judge Kinne of Waterloo, Ia., the man with lungs of brass, were strutting town in behalf of the Democratic candidate.

They were driving in a buggy on the road to Sidney, a young city in the southwestern part of the state, when they came to a fork of the road where there was no sign board. Which turn to take was a question, as they had barely time to make the town anyway.

"There's a farmhouse over there a bit. You sit still, and I'll go over and ask questions," said Irish, and, climbing out, he started for the desired information. He got it and on his return saw the horse, evidently frightened at something, tearing down the road at runaway speed. Instead of trying to stop the horse, Judge Kinne dropped the reins, climbed over the seat and dropped off the back of the buggy into the road.

When Irish caught up to him the judge was busily dusting himself off after his roll in the roadway, not in the least disgraced by his acrobatic stunt.

"You're on the right fork of the road, all right, Judge, but why didn't you hang on to the horse?" asked Irish, laughing heartily.

"Why didn't I hang on to him?" rumbled Kinne in his deep subocular voice. "I'll tell you why I didn't, my Christian friend. There's lots of horses in this world, but there is but one Judge Kinne."—Los Angeles Times.

TEMPTING TABBY.

Ruse That Won a Satisfactory Poss For the Camera.

The repairs on the house were completed and the shavings swept out; also a new coat of paint added dressiness to the outside. What next but a photograph of its new angles? That being considered, the question of moment was how to pose Katusha.

Rolled into a ball every cat looks like every other cat; hence it was Katusha in action that must grace the foreground. Being abominably codded and fat, action was the last thing that appealed to Katusha. Coaxing and likewise prodding made no effect.

She had been known upon occasions to be stirred by a morsel of delectable food. But fancy an aristocratic feline pictured in the attitude of tearing at a chicken bone! Impossible for Katusha.

There arose an emergency and with it the mistress, who disappeared into the house and brought forth a branch of Japanese paper cherry blossoms. A wave of them before Katusha's eyes was like making some hypnotic pass. She got up, stretched her body, while her nose just reached the pinkish flowers. That was it! They appealed to her aestheticism.

Snap went the camera. It was perfect.

"How"—began the man of the house.

"Just the alluring fragrance of a silver of chicken secreted in the bough," said herself as Katusha rolled back into a ball.—Kansas City Star.

Tame Eagles.

A man living near Tronso, in Norway, is a great lover of wild birds and has succeeded in taming three eagles. He took them on the mountain side while they were young and, according to the London Field, kept them a couple of years in captivity. As their craving for liberty, however, grew stronger and stronger he at last let them loose, but they have settled down in the neighborhood of his home, and when he ascends the height which has become their favorite resort with fish or a newly shot seagull they quickly discover him from afar and come majestically sailing through the air, settling down beside him. Their meal over, they willingly allow him to pet and stroke them before they again make for the rocky islets, but they will not allow a stranger to approach them.

Etiquette.

The very high sounding word etiquette had a very humble origin. For etiquette meant simply a label. It derived its present meaning from the fact that a Scotch gardener who had laid out the grounds at Versailles for Louis XIV. was much annoyed at the courtiers walking over his newly made paths and at length had labels placed to indicate where they might walk. At first these labels were ignored, but a hint from high quarters that in future the walks of the courtiers must be within the "etiquettes" or labels was promptly attended to. To keep within the "etiquettes" came to mean to do the correct thing.

As It Used to Be.

Mildmay is a philosopher in his way. The other evening Mrs. M. gave him a scolding that would have made almost any other man crazy. But Mildmay said never a word in reply. He only murmured to himself:

"And that is the woman I used to hold on my knee and call my little tootsy wootsy!"

Generous.

First Beggar—What are you doing here, Pete? I thought your stand was on the bridge. Second Beggar—Oh, I gave that to my son as a wedding present.—Meggendorf Blatter.

Cheese It!

"What do boys mean when they say 'cheese it?'"

"It means that something mischievous has a curd and they want to get a whey."