

HENRY DEARING PASSES AWAY AT HOME OF HIS WIFE'S MOTHER

Had Been a Sufferer For Over a Year From that Dreaded Disease Consumption—Formerly Lived in Council Bluffs.

Henry Dearing, who has been ill with consumption for the past eighteen months, died last evening at 6:30 o'clock, at the residence of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Billstine, in this city. Mr. Dearing came to Plattsmouth for the last time about five weeks ago, having been during the past two years, both west and east, in Colorado and Ohio and New York, seeking medical skill which could relieve him from the clutches of the dread malady.

Henry Dearing was born in Detroit, Michigan, March 8th, 1868, and was in his forty-third year, when death claimed him. When he was about two years of age his parents removed to Cleveland, Ohio, where he resided until he was about sixteen years of age, when he resided in Joliet, Illinois, for a time, afterward returning to Cleveland, Ohio, where he lived for some time. He was foreman of a bridge construction crew on the Northwestern railway for twenty-one years. Mr. Dearing removed from Ohio to Omaha and Council Bluffs in January, 1901, and came to Plattsmouth shortly afterward, and was in the employ of the Burlington and aided in the construction of the new bridge.

Prior to coming to Plattsmouth he met and won the hand of Miss Julia A. Billstine, having become acquainted with his wife in Council Bluffs. After the completion of the bridge, Mr. Dearing worked a year in the local shops as a carpenter, then went to Alliance, where he resided about three years, when his health gave way and he began his journey in quest of health. During this time he has been in Cleveland, Ohio, where his brother William resides, and not regaining his lost health, with his wife came to Plattsmouth a few weeks ago, to see if the climate here would not help him.

Mrs. Julia A. Dearing, the widow, and one brother, William, of Cleveland, Ohio, are the only relatives surviving to mourn his death. Mr. Dearing carried a $2,000 life insurance policy in the A. O. U. W. and he was a member of Plattsmouth Lodge No. 8. No arrangements for the funeral, which will be private, can be made until Mrs. Dearing hears from her two brothers, who are in the west.

Rev. W. L. Austin will conduct the funeral service, which will probably occur Saturday, the A. O. U. W. lodge No. 8, will have charge of the service at the tomb.

DOINGS IN THE DISTRICT COURT TODAY

The case of Beckwith vs. Samuel Johnson Estate has dragged along, since yesterday, through a night session and the greater part of the forenoon was occupied in taking testimony. The case was argued this morning, Mr. Delles Dernier opening for the claimant, and Jesse Strode making an opposing argument for the widow. The case was given to the jury after argument on instructions from the court for its decision, on the facts.

The next case for trial is Mrs. Vesta Clark against the Bankers' Accident Assurance company, of Des Moines, for the sum of $1,500.00. The petition sets out that the defendant entered into a contract of insurance on the 28th day of October, 1909, in Jefferson county, Nebraska, and received from her husband the sum of $3.00 advanced premium, and on the 30th day of October at its home office in Des Moines, issued its policy for accident indemnity with a death benefit of $1,500.00. That the policy was sent to the company's agent at Beatrice to be delivered to the insured, but never delivered. That on the 29th day of October, 1909, the insured, plaintiff's husband, received an electrical shock while in his usual course of employment, and while on a telephone pole in the village of Union, causing him to fall to the ground and immediately he died. For the loss of her husband's life, Mrs. Clark brings her action on the stipulations of the policy.

The plaintiff is represented by Matthew Gering and the company by Clark and Robertson.

MYSTERIOUS SHOTS BECOMING TOO NUMEROUS

Last Monday evening, about 8 o'clock, while Mr. John Wiles, who resides about two miles and a half northeast of Murray, was seated in his house near a window, he heard a shot fired from a nearby corn field and the charge struck the screen over the window and fell on the porch outside. Mr. Wiles heard the shot strike the window. He does not know whether the shot was aimed at him or not, he only knows that he was in range of the gun which was aimed at the window near which he was sitting reading his paper. It is not at all probable that at that time in the evening anyone could have accidentally discharged the gun, but it is altogether likely that some person bent on robbery did aim the charge at Mr. Wiles and misjudged the distance, and the first shot not carrying as strong as expected the criminal made his escape without carrying out his intent. The matter was not reported, by Mr. Wiles, to the sheriff and there has been no examination of the corn field or measurement of the track of the culprit who fired the murderous shot.

Funeral of Mrs. Claus.

The funeral service over the mortal remains of Mrs. Anna Margaret Claus was held this morning at 10:30 at St. John's Catholic church, of which the deceased was a consistent and devoted member all her life. The funeral service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. M. A. Shine, and consisted of the solemn ritual of the Catholic church. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, being silent mementoes of the purity of the life of the departed. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery, and the casket was followed to the grave by a large number of sympathizing friends and neighbors. The pall bearers were F. G. Fricke, William Hassler, Thos. Walling, Ed. Thrall, H. M. Soennichend and John Fight.

Jacob, the son residing at Ell, Nevada, could not be present, very much to his regret.

CLOSING IN ON DYNAMITERS

Los Angeles Officers Make More Arrests in Bomb Horror.

MANY SUSPECTS IN CUSTODY.

Attorney Earl Rogers Says It Has Been Discovered That Several Other Attacks Had Been Planned—Explosive Identified—Sixteenth Body is Found in Ruins of Times Building.

San Francisco, Oct. 6.—The net thrown out by the authorities appears to be closing in rapidly on the dynamiters of the Los Angeles Times.

"It is certain that the dynamite, which we know was secured at Grant, was taken to Los Angeles and that it was the same dynamite used in the destruction of the Times building and in the bombs found at the Zeehandelaar and Otis residences."

This statement was made by Attorney Earl Rogers of Los Angeles, who is in charge of the man hunt.

"We have ordered arrests," said Mr. Rogers, "and we have men now in jail at several points, both between here and Los Angeles and east of San Francisco."

He refused to divulge the names of the prisoners or the places where they are held.

"A reign of terror was planned for Los Angeles," Rogers asserted. "There were at least six jobs intended to be carried out with the 500 pounds of dynamite secured at Grant."

It is estimated that only 200 pounds of the total amount has been accounted for.

The sixteenth body was found in the ruins of the Times building. It was that of Grant Moore, a composing room machinist.

SURETY COMPANY MUST PAY

Supreme Court of South Dakota Decides Against Corporation.

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 6.—The supreme court affirmed the lower court in the case of the state against the Western Surety company, which was up on an appeal from Minnehaha county. It appears that one John Magnus was indicted on a charge of illegal selling of liquor, and that he gave a "Western Surety company" bond for his appearance in the circuit court to answer to the indictment. When convened Magnus had evidently decided that the surety company was better able to stand the strain than he was and he failed to show up in court, or anywhere else where he was known. The bond was declared forfeited, and the company declined to pay on several grounds, all of them more or less technical. The court holds that none of the technicalities can waive the provision of the bond, which said it was given for the appearance of Magnus in court, and that the company must pay.

Charles Philpot Has Apples.

Wallace Philpot, one of the jurors at the present term of court, relates that his father, Charles Philpot, residing in Mt. Pleasant precinct, is going to have a fair crop of apples this year, while no other orchard in the vicinity will yield many apples this season. The freeze in April last, no doubt killed the fruit blossoms throughout the county, and the only way Mr. Philpot can account for his father's apples not meeting the common fate, is that at that time on the north of the orchard his father had 200 head of steers in the feed pen, and on the west a large herd of sheep. The heat from the cattle and sheep probably acted in the same way that the smudge used by many Iowa fruit growers at that time, and prevented the frost from nipping the apples in the orchard adjacent to the pens.

A Sad Case.

Miss Minnie Plaguer, who has been acting queerly for the past few days, was before the board of commissioners of insanity today and adjudged a proper person to be restrained at the hospital for the insane at Lincoln. Miss Plaguer has been in the employ of the M. E. Smith Shirt Manufacturing company for some time, and until recently had been very expert in the management of her machine. And from being quiet and reserved, she suddenly became very voluble in language and very nervous. The young lady's many friends here hope for her speedy recovery.

Loses Two Fingers.

John McKay, of Weeping Water, while operating a corn harvester in his field near that city this morning, had the misfortune to lose two fingers by getting them entangled in the machinery. Mr. McKay is a prominent farmer and citizen, and has resided on a farm south of that city for many years, but lately has lived in the city. The details of the unfortunate occurrence were not given in the brief message which came over the phone. Mr. McKay was a member of the jury which convicted Ossenkop, and he is quite well known in Plattsmouth.

Ed. Tschirren and Lee Cole drove in from the farm and boarded the morning train for Omaha.
