

GRAND LODGE OF THE DEGREE OF HONOR IN SESSION AT OMAHA

Meeting at Chambers' Academy Last Night Furnishes Delightful Social Feature of the Session.

The following account of the doings of the Grand Lodge of the Degree of Honor, in session in Omaha this week, was taken from the Bee of this morning:

Exhibitions by drill teams of several lodges of the Degree of Honor and a splendid literary program, interpolated by numerous well rendered musical numbers and songs, was the entertainment given the delegates of that organization at Chambers' academy last night.

Some beautiful rhythmic drills were executed on the dancing floor in the basement of the academy by the Lashington lodge, No. 27, Ar-Sar-Ben lodge No. 173, and Upchurch lodge No. 2.

Superior lodge No. 193 of South Omaha, performed the Degree of Honor memorial drill with a reverence that touched more serious emotions of the spectators.

Following the drills adjournment was taken to the auditorium of the academy where the literary part of the program was carried out.

It was announced that Mayor James Dahlman, who was on the program to deliver the opening address, was unavoidably detained. Thomas Flynn was substituted for him.

"I realize," said Mr. Flynn, "that it has been a disappointment to the mayor as well as to you, that he was not able to address you tonight. I am sure it would have been his pleasure as a member of the Degree of Honor to take advantage of this occasion to say a word of commendation to this organization."

Mr. Flynn concluded his address with a glowing eulogy of the things for which the Degree of Honor stands.

Mrs. Margaret H. Cleaver, grand chief of honor, was stricken with a sudden illness shortly before the beginning of the program and was unable to make a response to the acting-mayor's address.

Frances Buell Olson, superior chief of honor, gave a brief talk in her stead, which was followed by a short discourse from Superior Recorder Elizabeth E. Alburn.

"This is my first visit to the Nebraska jurisdiction of the Degree of Honor," said Mrs. Olson, "and in explanation of that fact, I will say that I saved the best state for the last." Declaring that she wanted to corroborate what was said of the fraternity and its mission by Mr. Flynn, Mrs. Olson completed her remarks.

At the Paxton hotel yesterday afternoon the nomination of the officers of the lodge took place. There were 399 votes cast. As the Australian ballot system was used, it is expected that the returns will not be forthcoming until some time late this afternoon. The election board of the organization took charge of the ballots.

Most of yesterday was taken up in the presentation and reading of some twenty-five resolutions relative to the government of the lodge. These were referred to the various committees to be acted upon during the present convention. Many of the nominees were chosen by acclamation.

The following are the grand lodge officers for 1908 and 1910:

Mrs. Maria Smith, past grand chief of honor, Holdredge.

Mrs. Mayme H. Cleaver, grand chief of honor, Neligh.

BOY SCOUTS TO MEET FRIDAY

Will Organize Two Squads of Scouts Friday Evening.

The Boy Scout movement is taking definite form here, as is indicated by the following: Friday evening, October 14, at 7 o'clock, the Builders' class of the Presbyterian Sunday School will meet in their room and the organization of two patrols of Scouts will be effected, eight boys being necessary to form each patrol, or squad.

On Sunday, October 16, at 3 p. m. in the Sunday School room of the Presbyterian church there will be a general meeting of those interested in this movement, to which all boys between the ages of 12 and 18, are invited. The scout movement will be explained and discussed from various points of view. Rev. Mr. Gade will present the question, as viewed from the pulpit.

Mr. Milo C. Briggs will speak from a citizen's viewpoint.

From an educational outlook Prof. J. W. Gamble will discuss the question, and Mr. Thomas Darling will tell of his actual acquaintance with the Scout work in Kansas City, where, until recently, he has acted as drill master for the Kansas City troops.

It is specially desired that parents of boys attend this Sunday afternoon meeting and in this way inform themselves concerning the Scout movement, in which their son is sure to be interested.

It is hoped that active work will be taken up at once, and every boy in town of eligible age, be enrolled before winter sets in, and in training for good citizenship—the aim of the Scouts.

A Farewell Party.

The charming home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oltroge was the scene of a delightful farewell party last evening, when Mrs. Oltroge entertained a number of young people in honor of Emil Droege, who goes to Murphy, Idaho, and Clyde Adamson, who will accompany his sister, Mrs. Bertha Todd, to Long Beach, California, where they will join their parents and where the Adamson family expect to reside in the future. The evening was very enjoyably spent with various games, some little time being spent in telling fortunes. Music, both vocal and instrumental, was contributed by a number of the guests and assisted in making the evening entertainment such a splendid one. At the proper time dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and which were likewise thoroughly enjoyed. The only thing to detract from the joyousness of the evening being the thought that the guests of honor were soon to leave their midst, but the guests wish them the best possible in their new homes.

Those present were: Misses Mary McElroy, Mary McGuire, Anna Rys, Lillie Baranek, Irene Hartwig; Messrs. Carl Smith, August Cloldt, Emil Droege and Clyde Adamson.

ENTERTAINS "JOLLY EIGHT" CARD CLUB

Mrs. Jesse Wurga entertained the members of the Jolly Eight Card club in a very charming manner at her pleasant home on High School Hill yesterday afternoon. Before beginning the game Mrs. H. O. Beardsley entertained the company with several very fine selections on the piano. Six games of cards were then played and at 4 o'clock everyone counted their scores. Mrs. Kanka captured the first prize, a beautiful bon bon dish, and Mrs. John Lutz was given a powder box, as a consolation prize. After a short business meeting, a most delicious luncheon, consisting of ice cream, cakes, fruits and bon bons, was served in the dining room. The places at the table were marked with dainty placards done in water colors and bearing "Jolly Eight" and the names of the members of the club. During the serving of the luncheon, Miss Olga Sattler played several selections on the piano. During the afternoon another new member was initiated, which created considerable merriment.

Those in attendance were, Mesdames F. Waddick, C. Crosskary, J. Lutz, A. Kanka, H. Ofe, A. Kroehler, W. Mason, C. R. Burdick, Wm. Henrichsen, J. Wurga and M. Chrisinger. The out of town guests were Mrs. F. Newman, of Chicago, Illinois, and Mrs. H. O. Beardsley, of Red Oak, Iowa. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. Waddick, the 26th of October.

Visits Friends Here.

Colonel Thompson, of Martinsburg, West Virginia, is in the city, the guest of his cousin, Mrs. James M. Robertson, Mr. Thompson being enroute to Alaska, where he has a mining claim. He has been in Alaska previous to this time, but was called home on account of the illness of his father. While in the far northwest on his previous trip, Mr. Thompson was employed by the United States government in the assayer's office. He now goes on his own account, leaving Seattle next spring and will go over the pass when the days begin to lengthen next season.

A. S. Will and son, Robert, departed for Akron, Colorado, this afternoon, where they will ship from the ranch several loads of cattle, which they will bring to Cass county to feed this fall.

Celebrate 50th Anniversary.

The First Congregational church of Weeping Water celebrates its fiftieth anniversary for four days next month, beginning on Thursday, the 17th, and winding up on Sunday, the 20th.

A neat little booklet giving the principal events of interest in the history of the organization, accompanied with a program covering the four days is being sent out by the membership to the friends and former members of the church. A very interesting program has been mapped out, including talks from the former pastors of the church, including Rev. George Hindley, who was pastor when the present modern church building was erected, and Rev. C. S. Harrison, who was pastor at the time the mortgage on the structure was paid and burned, and Rev. S. I. Hanford, who succeeded Rev. Harrison and was afterward chosen to take charge of the educational work in Nebraska, and Superintendent Waterhouse, who presided over the destiny of the public school for some years, all of these gentlemen are to take part in the celebration.

Better Have a Care.

H. M. Wilcox, who resides on Winterstein Hill and has been working at odd times to raise a fine garden and "truck patch," and after having met with a reasonable degree of success, finds that some party too lazy to work and have a garden of his own, has been raiding his, Mr. Wilcox's garden, and stolen, beans, sweet corn, tomatoes and other garden stuff. Mr. Wilcox knows who the party is and unless he reform at once and refrains from crossing the fence into his premises, Mr. Wilcox will make him lots of trouble.
