Fifteenth Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. James Loughridge celebrated their fifteenth wedding anniversary last Wednesday evening. It was not the intention of this most estimable couple to make any great demonstration in honor of the event, and they were content to spend the day in quietude. But this was not the intention of their many friends in Murray, and as the shades of night were drawing near arrangements were being made to give Mr. and Mrs. Loughridge a complete surprise, which was carried out to the letter. At the proper hour their friends bunched in upon the unsuspecting couple and made the evening one of great enjoyment, not only for Mr. and Mrs. Loughridge, but for everyone present. Delicious refreshments were served, and when the hour of departure arrived, the entire party returned to their homes wishing Mr. and Mrs. Loughridge the return of many more such happy events, and all feeling that it was good to be there.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Davis, living west of Murray, celebrated their golden wedding on Tuesday, October 25, 1910. All their children and grandchildren were present to enjoy the event. Also, many of their neighbors were present. Mrs. Fitzpatrick baked the wedding cake, which is sufficient to know that it was most delicious. Mr. and Mrs. Davis are among the best people in Cass county, and their friends are legion. The day was very pleasant and the enjoyment of all present was perfect. The Journal trusts that Mr. and Mrs. Davis will live to enjoy the comforts of this life many years, and that the home-coming of their children and grandchildren, may be attended with as much pleasure as this event was.

Mr. Nickels Improving.

Mr. William Nickels, one of Cass county's most excellent farmers, residing near Murray, who has been in the hospital for the past two weeks, where he underwent an operation for his eyes, is getting along nicely and will be able to return home in a few days. His daughter, Miss Etta, who has been with him all the time, was in the city this morning, coming down from Omaha, and returning at noon. She says that Dr. Gifford has stated that they could return home the latter part of the week. This is about the first illness that Mr. Nickels has experienced during his life, and at his advanced age it becomes quite a task for him to be housed in a hospital for some two weeks. His many friends hope that he may return home entirely cured.

Come, Everybody.

Come one, and come all
Desert care and labor,
'Tis the chance of your life
To shake hands with your neighbor
They want, they need you,
Then do not betray
Their love and their friendship,
By staying away.

We know you are busy.

But do not forget,

There are others as busy,

Or busier yet.

We invite you to come,

'Tis the theme of our lay;

To greet one and all.

At the K. N. K. K.

If by chance we should meet,

You doubtless will say,

"What means this ado,

This K. N. K. K.?"

Content will be yours,

If lucky you be;

To guess out our secret,

With one, two and three.

Day in and day out,

We assemble together,

It matters but little,

If foul be the weather,

Our hearts are made cheerful

By each pleasant face,

All busy at sewing,

Each one in her place.

To our fair, and bazaar,

On Saturday night,

We invite you to come,

'Tis our greatest delight,

To eat toothsome goodies,

'Twill be a great pleasure,

Cakes, candies, and coffee,

We'll serve with good measure.

To the art needle work

We'll invite your attention,

By skilled hands prepared,

We need but to mention

For the "proof of the pudding"

Is not 'till we try it,

So the proof of our work,

Is not 'till you buy it.

Capes, aprons and dusters,

You'll see them galore,

'Till you'll think you've stepped

Into "St. Nicholas" store.

We hope to see you

At the K. N. K. K.

So we bid you adieu.

A Surprise Chival.

Last Monday evening the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Vallery gathered at Mynard and drove out to their new place of abode. The remainder of the evening was spent more quietly, in playing various games, popping corn and making candy. During the evening refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Eva Porter, Jennie Livingston, Anna and Mildred Snyder, Leta Lair, Janet Clements, of Plattsmouth; Pearl Henton, Rachel Livingston, Mayola and Edna Probst, Muriel Henton, Harriet, Lillian and Mabel Richardson and Helen Livingston; Messrs. MAKE THIS TEST

How to tell if Your Hair is Diseased.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. Ninety-eight per cent of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased, and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want every one whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and cure baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store—F. G. Fricke & Co, Union Block.

R. L. Probst Surprised.

Saturday evening, Oct. 15, friends and neighbors gathered at the home of W. B. Porter at Mynard and at an early hour all marched to the residence of Robert Probst, that gentleman having reached the fifty-sixth mile-stone in life's journey on that day.

About seven o'clock in the evening Mr. Probst not being aware that he was to receive callers in a short time, was sitting in the parlor, not in his evening dress, but in his two-piece suit, and the ringing of the front door bell failed to move him. However, the call was answered by some member of the family and returning to Mr. Probst informed him that a party at the door wished to see him. Arriving at the door he was amazed to find an army of friends. Needless to say, he made a hasty retreat and was finally captured by the crowd. After he was allowed to retire to the dressing room and don other garments hand-shaking in the true style occupied some time. Conversation, music and games made the evening pass in a pleasant manner. At the proper time supper was served by Mrs. Probst and daughters, and at a late hour all departed for their homes wishing Mr. Probst many more birthdays and declaring that they had never spent a more happy evening.

Those present were: Messrs and Mesdames S. D. Cole, Nelson Murray, C. L. Jean, W. B. Porter, Wm. Murray, Frank Marler, J. H. Adams, J. E. Menese, G. W. Snyder, Oscar Gopen, D. J. Lair, W. T. Richardson, Mrs. Mattie Miles, Mrs. Ida Cole; Misses Eva Porter, Gertrude Cole, Leta Lair, Buenita Porter and Pearl Henton, Messrs. Elbert Wiles, Lewis Crabtree and J. R. Meuer.

Mr. Ben Horning and his sister were Omaha passengers this morning, Miss Horning to look after some shopping and Ben expected to attend the short-horn sale at South Omaha, where Dr. Bremier, one of the most capable breeders in the state, will offer some good stock for sale.

Home From North Nebraska.

From Tuesday's Daily Mrs. F. L. Rhoden, who has been visiting with old Cass county friends in the northern part of the state, returned home last evening, being met here by Mr. Rhoden and drove to their home near Murray. Mrs. Rhoden has been gone about three weeks and visited with friends in Cedar, Knox and Pierce counties, where there is fully fifty families residing that at one time were residents of Cass county, and many of whom left here a good many years ago, bought land at a low price and have grown quite wealthy in the increased value of the land, while others have purchased at a well advanced price, but have made a good per cent upon their investments, and their lands are still on the rise. One old resident in this city, Mrs. Rhoden says this gentleman has grown quite wealthy from his investments combined with stock raising. She also says the people in and near Bloomfield are at present greatly excited over the prospects for gold being located while boring for oil. Several tons of this valuable ore has been taken out and is being tested at the various smelters. One ton shipped some time ago went $20.00 to the ton. A ton was shipped to the Omaha smelters on the same train that Mrs. Rhoden came home on. She reports the entire Cass county colony doing well, happy and prosperous, and the country generally is on the boom.

Ben Beckman Injured.

A very painful accident occurred last Saturday afternoon as Mr. Ben Beckman and daughter, Mrs. Lintner, and her little son were returning from Plattsmouth to their home, which might have been even more serious than it was. Mr. Beckman was driving a single horse "Little Fritize," and had proceeded out on Lincoln avenue to a narrow stretch of road on the hill northeast of August Gardner's residence, when he met Deputy Sheriff Manspeaker coming in from Elmwood with a pisoner in an auto, the machine was coasting down the incline and Mr. Beckman's horse became frightened and unmanageable and turned the buggy over, throwing the occupants to the ground. Mr. Beckman alighted on his head and was rendered unconscious for a short time. Mr. Manspeaker halted his auto as speedily as possible and went to the assistance of Mr. Beckman and his daughter. Mr. Beckman was badly shaken up and was assisted to a nearby house and Dr. Livingston summoned. He recovered sufficiently to be taken to his home that evening. Mrs. Lintner and son fortunately escaped without injury.

Glen Boedeker, Dr. Gilmore and Charles Herren, of Murray, and Dr. Newell, of Union, motored from Murray to Plattsmouth in 18 minutes this morning, which is a mile every 2 1/4 minutes; over the road as it is now, is going some.
